SELECTED NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST FROM EUROPEAN CENTRES

MILAN, Oct 16—(Special)— The Italian Labor League has proclaimed a general strike throughout the Carrara marble district,, in sympathy with 9,000 marble workers, who had already struck work in consequence of a dispute with the local commune over its scheme for workmen's pensions.

The origin of the conflict is an interesting one. Until 1910 Carrarra was a Socialist stronghold; but its representatives were compelled to relinquish office because the municipal finances were on the verge of bankruptcy. The incoming Monarchical majority, desirious of discovering a remedy that might prove popular, obtained authority from the Italian Government to revive an ancient tax on the marble quarry owners and employers of industry. The Government, moreover, joined to its assent a distinct supplementary grant.

BERLIN, Oct. 16 (Special— The Berlin policeman, who has been making himself extraordinarily unpopular lately through his excessive use of the sword for mastering quarrelsome arrests, is the doubtful hero of an extraordinary tragedy last night within a short distance of the Bourse.

Two laborers who were slightly intoxicated had a few words with a couple of policemen outside a beer-house. One of the laborers jostled a policeman, knocking him off his feet, and then shook his fist. Seeking no further excuse, the policeman, although a comrade was standing near, drew his revolver and mortally wounded the drunkard, who expired on reaching a neighboring house. The scene so shocked and angered the passers-by that the policemen were surrounded by threatening groups all the way to the police station, where the authorities were so impressed by the spirit of the civilians tnat it was thought necessary to call out the guard.

BERLIN, Oct. 14—(Special)—Berlin is to begin its interesting work in the direction of obligatory continuation schools for girls during the coming winter.

It is estimated that about 30,000 girls will be liable, and that every half-year 1,250 girls will be turned out fully trained in trade subjects and 1,350 in commercial subjects, and that 1,900 unskilled workers will be prepared for accepting better employment.

Berlin is to be divided into ten districts, so arranged that unskilled working girls will be sent to the school that is nearest to their dwellings, and skilled working girls to the school that is nearest their workshops. For sales girls there will be one school as near to the centre of the city as possible.

Much discussion has been carried on with regard to the subjects to be taught in these schools, and the advocates of a purely commercial or trade education and those who favor domestic training are pretty equally divided. In the end a compromise has been effected which will combine both, and spread the domestic teaching, which is to be of a very thorough kind, over the whole period of education.

For the commercial side of the undertaking teachers have already been engaged.

WHAT MAKES A COMPLEXION?

The season's programme of evening parties, social events, etc., is before you. Why not look your best? Why not ensure a good complexion? Matter of time and petseverance only if you will use Zam-Buk.

Zam-Buk is a skin food, and complexion is purely a matter of skin health. Zam-Buk smeared lightly over the face, each night, acts as a skin tonic. It stimulates the cells beneath the cuticle to healthy action, makes the capillaries and blood vessels work, and the vigorous circulation, thus started, carries away secreted impurities. Waxy, sallow deposits are thus removed. That yellow, tinge gives place to the pink of health.

Isn't this wiser than relying upon talcum powder and cosmetics? Zam-Buk builds up a complexion from blood and tissue. It lasts!

BERLIN, Oct. 16—(Special)— Four young Roman Catholic chaplains belonging to Alsace-Lorraine have been found guilty before a court-martial of military insubordination and have been sentenced to six months' detention in a fortress.

The offence consisted in refusing to obey the orders of a captain when commanded to assume an attitude of deferential salute, and in joining in a letter of complaint in which they threatened to bring their grievance to the attention of Parliament.

BUDAPEST, Oct. 16—(Special)—A terrible story of revenge is reported from Bacs-Almas. An engine-driver, named Alexander Csollan, had long been on terms of enmity with a fireman, Michael Horvath, when by chance the two were assigned to duty on the same locomotive. Horvath, fearing something might happen, begged to be given another engine, but it was too late, so the two men started on the journey together. Csollan decided that the time had come to get even with his enemy, and when Horvath was at work under the engine raking out the ashes, he started it in motion, and the wheels went over the hapless fireman, killing him instantly. Csollan was arrested.

MADRID, Oct. 14—(Special—A terrible love tragedy, resulting in the death of three persons, has occurred near Torrijos.

A young man named Dionisio Fernandez had fallen in love with Restituta Serrano, the daughter of a farmer living at Fensalida. The girl, however, had several times declined his attentions, and her parents had requested him not to attempt to see her again.

The girl's father and brather were walking in the neighborhood, when Fernandez, who had been lying in ambush, rushed at them and battered in their skulls with the end of a gun.

The noise and the cries quickly brought some neighbors on the scene, among them being the girl Restituta. On seeing her, Fernandez seized a scythe, and with one sweep cut off her head.

BERLIN, Oct. 12—(Special)—Death has come in pathetic circumstances to Alwin Hupack, a broken-down old comedian, who had been living in semi-destitution after a once prosperous career on the stage. As his hair grew whiter, Hupack found it increasingly hard to get employment, and after playing small parts in the lower-class provincial theatres he returned to Berlin to starve.

His younger comrades, hearing of the old actor's plight, found him an engagement and secured him an "advance" of $25. His joy at this engagement was intense, but he succumbed yesterday from a nervous crisis brought on by the excitement of his sudden good fortune. He leaves a widow and four children.

BERLIN, Oct. 15—(Special)— Physicians and surgeons who specialize in diseases of women held an International Congress in Berlin recently. Cancer figured conspiciously in their discussions. It was the consensus of opinion that "operative interference" remains the only effective panaces for the scourge, and that suffering womankind cannot for the present place the slightest reliance on the myraid of "cancer cures" exploited from time to time. If cancer is attacked early enough it can be almost invariably baffled by the arts of surgery. Professor Schaefer's "Origin of Life" theory attracted no attention at the congreca. Members dismissed it as belonging "too much to the realm of speculative and imaginative theory to be worth the consideration of medical men."

PARIS, Oct. 15, (Special)—The report addressed to the President of the Redublic on the administration against property show a slight decrease, crimes of violence are steadily increasing; but the most disquieting feature is the extraordinary increase in juvenile crime.

In fact, the report concludes, "the maximum of criminality, both for males and females, was found among the prisoners from 18 to 21 years of age, though the figures of feminine crime are proportionately much smaller. Among the men of from 18 to 21 there are 301 prisoners for every 10,000 inhabitants of the same age and sex. This ratio is three times greater than that established among those who have reached their majority."

E. A. Foster, Druggist.

We have been in business in this town for some time, and we are looking to build up trade by always advising our patrons right.

So when we tell you that we have found the effective eczema remedy, you can depend upon it that we give our advice, not in order to sell a few bottle of medicine to skin sufferers, but because we know it will keep our business if we help our patrons.

We keep in stock and sell the well known skin remedies, But we will say this: If you are suffering from any kind of skin trouble, eczema, psoriasis, rash or tetter, we want you to try a full size bottle of D. D.D. Prescription.

Again and again we have seen how a few drops of this simple wash, applied to the skin, takes away the itch instantly, And the cures all seem to be permanent.

D. D. D. Prescription made by the D. D. D. Laboratories of Toronto is composed of thymol, glycerine, oil of wintergreen, and other healing, soothing, cooling, ingredients. And if you are just crazy with itch, you will feel soothed and cooled, the itch absolutely washed away the moment you apply this D. D. D.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this remedy to a skin sufferer here and there and we want you to try it now.

LONDON, Oct. 16—(Special)— A woman who was arrested while walk- medium for printing and writing German is about to be issued, signed by six hundred University professors and other men eminent in German literature and science. As far as can be judged from the extracts seen, this appeal is rather directed to the patriotism and national feeling of the people than founded on any alleged superiority of Gothic over Latin. The signatories state that for Germans to give way to the advocates of Roman type would be a weakness of an inexcusable character, a concession to foreigners, to whom too many concessions have been made already, and "a neglect of the inherent force of the Germanic idea."

bacco to season his coffee and cognac it was refused him. "You are a little tipsy, Armand," said M. Scoffer gently. "I don't think smoking would be good for you."

Armand, on whom wine has an unfortunate effect, was inturiated by this gentle reproach. "What!" he cried; "you refuse your brother-in-law a miserable pipe of tobacco? Then take that, you skinflint!" "That", was four blows of a knife in the chest. The scene was over in a moment,before the other guests could interfere. Armand Vaulleau then took to his heels, and the police have not yet laid hands on him. M. Scoffer was carried to the hospital, rather seriously wounded.

LONDON, Oct. 10—(Special)— The New London daily paper, which has been foreshadowed for so long, is to be issued early in the New Year. It is the property of that energetic American newspaper-owner, W. R. Hearst, and is to be run- presumably -on strictly American lines. The title is as yet undecided, The price will be one half-penny, and there will be many illustrations.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 17—One term for President and the necessity of selecting Governor Woodrow Wilson for the office in November was the central thought of the campaign addresses delivered yesterday by William J. Bryan.

He emphasized this point and scored Roosevelt for asking for a third term. "Roosevelt is an eleventh hour convert to progress principles, and should not be trusted until he has proved his sincerity." He said Roosevelt never had fought the battle but had opposed the progressive, both republican and democrat, in congress. He charged that the Roosevelt campaign is being financed by the trusts. "Mr. Taft distrusted the people and is dead politically," was Bryan's characterization of the President, whom he charged with having failed to reduce the traffic in keeping with campaign pledges.e

LONDON, Oct. 15—(Special)— A propaganda of violence is promised by the militant Suffragists during the winter, and Mrs. Pankhurst and her army of political amazons seem to be more determined than ever. A big demonstration is to be held at the Albert Hall this month, for which ten thousand seats have already been sold, and a large sum of money is expected to be realized. Mrs. Pankhurst is confident in the fact that her party, aided by the powerful financial support promised, will become a greater force than ever in British political life.

LONDON, Oct. 16—(Special)— The keepers at the Zoological Gardens have had a very busy and dangerous time during the last few days unpacking a consignment of rattlesnakes which have arrived at Regent's Park. Long iron rods have to be used to transfer the reptiles from their tin boxes to the cages prepared, and as the snakes were unceremoniously hauled out, their rattles produced a noise which reminded bystanders of the clicking of a child's clockwork train.

PEKIN, Oct. 15—(Special) From all accounts gun-running in Mongolia appears to have been carried on very extensively of late, as a Chinese bandit, who calls himself the "Field-Marshall of the Hutukhtu," has under him a force of Mongols adequately equipped with modern rifles and ammunition, and finds himself in a positues in and around the metropolis.

LONDON, Oct. 15—(Special)— A travelling piper who has just met with an untimely fate in the Caledonian Canal recalls memories of a famous prototype—the Wandering Piper who, in the early thirties wagered Court Bender the sum of $25,000 to determine the extent of the hospitality displayed by different nations. Each set out in disguise, the Count, as an itinerant fiddler, proceeding through France and Belgium, and the other through the United Kingdom in the garb of a piper.

The main condition of the contest was that each was to start without money, and that whichever, as the result of unsolicited charity, had the most at the end of the journey, was to be adjudged the winner. In the United States alone the Wandering Piper collected no less than $27,000., the whole of which was devoted to charity. The vicissitudes of the rivals were many and great, but there is no record of the wager having been actually awarded to either of them.

BERLIN, Oct, 9 (Special)—A strict investigation has been ordered into the death at Auerbach of a boy named Speckhard, nine years old.

It is alleged that his death followed a whipping by a teacher at school. Deaths in similar circumstances are said to be frequent in Germany.

MILAN, Oct, 17—(Special)— Pius X. is pressing his campaign against Modernism in the Roman Catholic Church with renewed vigor, his latest move being the summary banishment from Italy of the famous scholar, Padre Giovanni Semeria, of Genoa.

Padre Semeria enjoys the reputation of being the most cultured pulpit orator in this country. He is a great favorite in Court circles, and, like the Liberal Catholic Bishop Bonomelli, of Cremona, is a frequent guest of Queen Margherita. He is the author of numerous works relating to the early history of the Christian Church, which were originally published with the especial sanction of the Vatican during Leo XIII.'s Pontificate, and have since been translated, under the patronage of the Roman Catholic Episcopates, into most of the European languages.

PARIS, Oct. 14—(Special)—Lieutenant Mortenol, a negro, who is a native of Guadeloupe, has just been promoted captain in the French army.

There are several Chinese officers in the French army, but Captain Mortenol is the first negro to attain high rank in the navy.

It is noteworthy that one of the most brilliant officers in the French army aviation corps is Lieutenant Do Hu, a Chinaman.

LONDON, Oct. 14—(Special)— The M. Vaulleau demanded a pipe of to- defence of love at first sight and love matches by Sir James Crichton-Browne in his address to the Sanitary Inspectors Association at Sheffield has roused opposition in eugenic circles, and his advice to medical men to advise their patients not to marry into bad or diseased "stock" is meeting strong criticism.

PARIS, Oct. 12 (Special)—The practice of "doping" race horses, introduced from America, has lately been occupying the attention of the authorities, as in spite of the rule forbidding it there is a suspicion that it is still frequently resorted to.

During the last two years, Professor Fraenkel, of Vienna, has been experimenting with a view to finding a scientific infalliable test, and has succeeded finally by analyzing the saliva. His method was applied to the Austrian race course and led to frequent fines and punishments, and the French Racing Society commissioned Professor Kauffmann to study the method on the depot and report. The result having been favorable the society decided to enforce the rule, according to the Austrian method, and recently at Longchamp four winners were subjected to the test. It has been resolved to continue the test at the next few Longchamp meetings, and other societies are already following the lead thus given by the French Racing Society.

MOTHERS NEED CONSTANT STRENGTH

To Care for the Growing Family, and Her Houshold Cares.

When there is a growing family to care for and the mother falls ill, it is a serious matter. Many mothers who are on the go from morning to night whose, work, apparently, is never done, heroically try to disguise their sufferings, and keep an appearance of cheerfulness before their family. Only themselves know how they are distressed by headaches and backaches, dragging down pains and nervous weakness; how their nights are often sleepless, and they arise to a new day's work tired, depressed and unrefreshed. Such mothers should know that these sufferings are usually due to a lack of good nourishing blood. They should know that the thing above all others they need to give them new health and strength is rich, red blood, and that among all medicines there is none can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for their blood-making, health restoring qualities. Every suffering woman, every woman with a home and family to care for should give these pills a fair trial, for they will keep her in health and strength, and make her work easy. Here is strong proof that these Pills do what is claimed for them. Mrs. Henry Thomas, Dryden, Ont., says:—"When my second child was born I was so weak and run down that I could scarcely walk across a room. My baby was small and weak also, and cried and worried night and day until I discovered that the child was starving, as my nurse had turned almost to water. My husband got me a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I began taking them. The first beneficial effects were noticed in that my child began to thrive, as my nurse began to improve, and baby slept better and nuturally. It was not long until I began to feel the improvement myself, and I daily gained new strength, and baby was growing very rosy and fat. I continued using the Pills while I was nursing him and found myself with all the vigor of good health, and able to easily do my housework, which had been so greater a drag on me before. I am now never without Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the house, and take an occasional dose when I feel tired. I can strongly recommend these Pills to all nursing women, especially if weak or run down."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PARIS, Oct. 16—(Special)— The other night the Salle Wagram was crowded with Socialists in order to hear the public recantation of "General" Herve, the once famous anti-militarist. Herve had been condemned to two years' imprisonment for inciting the army to mutiny, but was released a couple of months ago by M.Briand, Minister of Justice, who was repaid by Herve with a letter of foul abuse, Herve's fame rested largely on his declaration that the "proper place for the flag was a dung-heap," and also on his accustomed signature, "Sans Patrie." He was wont to say that he would as soon be a German as a Frenchman under the all-covering banner of Socialism. Since his release, however, he has been converted by M. Jaures, and it was already known that he had returned to the fold of the Unified Sociglists as a political party, and was opposed to the Anarchists, the anti-militarists, and to what are known as the "Libertaires," who claim liberty from laws.

BERLIN, Oct 9 (Special)—It is stated that there are now 175 qualified medical women in Germany. They are distributed in the cities of Germany as follows:—Berlin, 30; Munich, 7; Frankfort-on-the-Main, 5; Hamburg, 3; Dusseldorf, Breslau, Karlsruhe, Heidelberg, and Bad Elster, each 2; while a number of other places have one each. Most of the women docotrs in Germany practice as specialists, especially in diseases of women and children. During the last few years, the chances of medical women have steadily become more favorable in Germany. They often secure posts in hospitals, institutes, and asylums.

Prince Aage is not a stranger to flying, as he has already been several times in the air as a passenger. When he had finished his course he will be granted a certificate as aviator, and in that capacity be attached permanently to the navy. So far as known he will be the first Prince of royal blood to be certificated as a practical aviator.

LONDON, Oct. 12 (Special)—Mr. Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, delivered a somewhat remarkable speech at Dundee recently in which he tentatively outlined a scheme of federalism for the United Kingdom, making it clear that he was expressing his own views. His speech was frequently interrupted by women among the audience, and there was some disorder as the interruptors were ejected. The following are a few points from Mr. Churchill's speech:—

The Government advocated a Federal system for the United Kingdom as a means to end a long and miserable quarrel, which had for generations distracted the relations between the two islands. They advocated it also because they believed and intended it to be a forerunner and a preliminary to a genuine system of self-government in all the four countries which must always remain united under the Crown and the Imperial Parliament. —

Scotland and Wales would gain immensley from being able to manage their own national affairs, and there federal system to them as well as to Ireland, but when they came to England a very real difficulty arose. England was so great and populous that an English parliament, whatever its functions or limitations might be, could not fail in the nature of things to be almost as powerful as the Imperial Parliament, side by side with which it would have to live.

MADRID, Oct. 14—(Special)—A telegram from Castellon de la Plana a maritime village belonging to the Burriana township. The incident recalls the scenes of Shakespeare's "Macbeth." A few days ago the rumor circulated throughout the village that a pretty young girl, Teresa Sanchez, and become the victim of the envy of an old woman who had succeeded in bewitching her. Teresa's father confided his fears and suspicions to his family and to intimate friends; and subsequent observations seemed to confirm the suspicions of witchcraft.

The beautiful Teresa was undoubtedly the victim of some spell. She was bewitched, suffered hallucinations, and had strange attacks of "ecstasies," during which phantasmagoric visions and demonical sarabands defiled before her distracted imagination. Teresa pronounced incoherent words, and invoked imaginary legendary beings, which she saw depicted upon the walls of the houses. "Poor Teresa, she's bewitched and spellbound," said the neighbors.

Near the village dwelt the old woman credited with the exercise of powers of witchcraft upon which fell suspicion. The entire village decided to visit the woman, conducting Teresa into her presence. The latter prostrated herself before the "witch" demanding, in suppliant fashion, release from the spell.

The story relates that the "witch" was deeply affected, and shed tears, but with astute prudence promised solemnly to undue the results of the witchcraft. This oath pronounced, the inhabitants, with guileless ignorance, returned home satisfied. This incident has occurred in Spain in the twentieth century, and is agitating the large town of Burriana.
