Other Days

by JEAN AUTUMN

(Some years ago the Guardian published a series of interesting reminiscences of early days in Prince Edward Island, submitted by an esteemed correspondent in Crapaud. This gentleman, now in his 89th year, has written a further series for the Guardian, under the pen name of Jean Autumn. The first number appears in this issue. Apart from some minor changes in spelling and punctuation, we have retained our correspondent's charmingly original method of expression. A pedant in grammar might find fault with the structure of the sentences but such criticism would be beside the mark in the present instance. The writer is not a "literary" man. Neither, for that matter, was John Bunyan. Some of the world's greatest literature was produced by men who possessed no other qualifications than native wit and imagination, a seeing eye, a well stored memory and a healthy curiosity as to the events and personages with whom they came in contact. Of our correspondent's qualifications in these respects we shall leave our readers to judge. We confess to having read his articles with great interest and appreciation and trust they will find equal favor with the public. Our correspondent entitled his contributions "A Little History of the World," and it will be noted, in the first article that he goes back a considerable distance in order to get a "flying start" at his real subject, which is his reminiscences of early days in this Province. We have discarded the title but retained the introduction, which serves admirably to prepare the reader for the good things to come.—Ed. G.)

Tignish

Professor Taylor, who has been entertaining the people of Tignish with his movies and novelty performance closed on Saturday night with a generous attendance. His many acts received general applause.

His Honor, Lieut. Governor Dalton is spending a few days in Tignish, the guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnston. He appears in the best of health and is enjoying meeting his numerous friends in Tignish and vicinity.

Rev. G. J. McLellan D. D. who has been pastor of Tignish for over eight years is moving to Summerside on Dec. 1st, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rev. J. J. MacDonald. During his stay here he has made many improvements to the Church property and has always taken a keen interest in the welfare and advancement of the community. He has made many warm friends and all will be very sorry to bid him good bye.

One Wednesday the eighteenth, fifteen double teams from St. Mark's Lot 7, laden with a fox pen each and containing the Silver Black foxes of Rev. J. A. MacDonald, left home in the morning and arrived at Tignish a distance of about eighteen miles, at two o'clock in the afternoon. The long procession was in charge of Mr. Peter Gallant and the teams were driven by the following parties of St. Mark's: Messrs Mathias Griffin, Thomas Griffin, Leo Griffin, Peter Griffin, Merris Dalton, Francis McCarthy, Clement Connors, Peter McPherson, Arthur Rogers and Harold MacGregor, Edward Holleran, Bennet Howard, Edward Gullian, Edward Griffin. On the way they attracted much attention and on arrival at Tignish a great crowd was on hand to witness the unloading of such a valuable cargo. The animals were kept in the dens throughout the trip and all arrived in perfect condition. The enclosures are about ten feet long five feet wide and six feet high with wood floors and heavy fox wire side and tops. They were all unloaded at their future home about three o'clock. Rev. Father MacDonald who takes charge of Tignish Parish on Dec. 1st, will have many more loads of stock and furniture to come up this week.

Evening when Highfield Hockey team presented a very pleasing entertainment in Wheatley River Hall. The proceeds were to be divided between the Highfield team and the Wheatley River Hockey Players and went to help pay for the new rink built last winter. Candy and baskets brought by the ladies were sold readily and brought a considerable sum no basket going at less than fifty cents. The program consisted of music dialogues, reading, solos, etc., none of which were familiar to the audience, and consequently more appreciated. Mr. Phillip Matheson at the close of the entertainment moved a vote of thanks on the part of the Wheatley River Stars which was heartily given to the Highfield Granites. Mr. Lemuel McKinnon then very capably auctioneered the baskets whose contents were thoroughly enjoyed.

Every one considered that the small price of twenty-five cents spent for admission was well spent for such an enjoyable evening.—L.

The building is 349 ft. 10 in. long by 282 ft. deep with dome rising to a height of 150 ft. above street level. Involved in its construction were the pouring of 13,500 cu. yds. of concrete, the placing of 600 tons of reinforcing steel, the erection of 760 tons of structural steel and the laying of 1,500,000 brick and tile. The rink surface measures 200 ft. by 85 ft. and the ice-making plant is stated to be the most modern yet installed in any rink in the world. The Arena has been equipped with a sound system for the amplification of music and announcements so that every one in the audience may hear clearly. It will be used principally for hockey matches and so popular has this sport become that full houses are anticipated throughout the season.

Shown In Aid Of Charity

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 23.—The people of this city and visitors can thank hard times for opportunities presented them to view the works of some of the world's most noted old masters. On exhibition here in aid of charity are paintings valued at more than a million dollars.

The Rembrandts, portraits of the artist's brother and his wife, are being displayed to art lovers for the first time in 33 years. The portraits are from the Porges collection in Paris and are valued at $500,000. They date from 1650 to 1654, just before the period when the painter, then in middle age, faced bankruptcy. It was in 1654 that he painted the famous "Portrait of Jan Six."

Just 33 years ago these paintings were exhibited to the public in honour of Queen Wilhelmina at Amsterdam at the Stedelijk Museum. They have not been seen in public since. Prior to being in the Porges collection they were in the collection of the Marquess of Ely in London.

A painting of the Madonna and Child, believed to be the original work of Raphael, the famous Italian painter, has been on exhibition here like the Rembrandts in aid of the unemployed. A well known art collector owns the Raphael which is valued at $500,000. Two years ago he sent it to Berlin for cleaning and restoration. It has just been returned. The painting is said to have been identified by Professor Oskar Fischel, an authority on Raphael as the "lost Peruzzi Madonna."

Sir Henry Raeburn's portrait, "The Lady Charlotte Hope," recently sold for $25,500, is also on exhibition. The painting formerly belonged to the late Gifford A. Cochran, wealthy sportsman and patron of the arts.

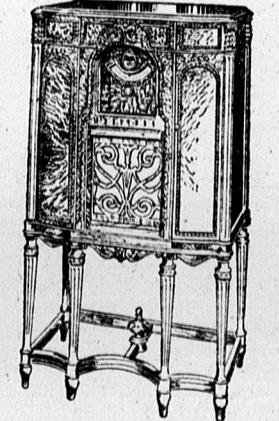

Don't be without Douglas Egyptian Liniment. Keep it always handy. Relieves toothache, neuralgia, sore throat, quinsy and croup. Invaluable for burns, sores, Barber's Itch and Ringworm.

Stubborn Coughs Ended by Recipe, Mixed at Home

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs due to colds. It takes but a moment to prepare, costs little, and saves money, but it gives real relief even for those dreaded coughs that follow severe cold epidemics. From any druggist, get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16 oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. Thus you make 16 ounces of better remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times the cost. It never spoils and tastes so good that even children like it. Not only does this simple mixture soothe the inflamed throat membranes with surprising ease, but also it is absorbed into the blood, and acts directly upon the bronchial tubes, thus aiding the whole system in throwing off the cough. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and eases chest soreness in a way that is really astonishing. Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe cough and bronchial irritations. Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.
