WORD RECEIVED AT LAST

Dr. Morrison Describes The Terrible Situation at Pekin

AN IMPERIAL EDICT CALLS ON THE BOXERS

To Render Loyal and Patriotic Services in Exterminating The Christians' in China A Vivid Description as Written by the London Times Correspondent.

LONDON, Aug. 2. 4 a. m—At last the story of Pekin has been told. Dr. Morrison, in to day's Times, holds up the Chinese government before the world as guilty, and to a degree of infamy and duplicity that exceeds the surmise of its worst detractors. In the same despatch he gives a more hopeful view of the prospects of the besieged than has been expressed by any of the others who have been heard from.

Simultaneously there comes from the Belgian charge d'affairs at Shanghai, an official statement that the allies are expected to reach Pekin in about a week, they being eighteen miles from Tien Tsin yesterday.

Another letter has been received at Tien Tsin from the British minister, Sir Claude Macdonald, dated July 24. "We are surrounded by imperial troops," he writes, "who are firing on us continually. The enemy is enterprising but cowardly. We have provisions for about a fortnight and are eating our ponies.

"The Chinese government, if there be one, has done nothing whatever to help us. If the Chinese do not press the attack we can hold out say for ten days. No time should be lost if a terrible massacre is to be avoided."

Yet a Shanghai special says Li Hung Chang has received a decree, dated July 28, commanding him to inform the consuls that the ministers were safe on that date. Evidently Sir Claude Macdonald was over pessimistic, as Dr. Morrison, under date of July 21, announces the arrival of supplies in. In view of this, it is quite within reason that the edict announcing the safety of the ministers on the 28th is correct.

Sir Claude MacDonald's latest letter, while a strong indictment of the Chinese government, is not nearly so much so as Dr. Morrison's despatch. That correspondent, with the imperial edicts as authority, declares that as late as July 2 the imperial government urged the Boxers to continue their "loyal and patriotic services in exterminating the Christians."

He explains those marvelous changes in the Chinese attitude which have so puzzled the world. It appears that all the appeals for intervention and all the protestations of friendship have been due entirely to the victories of the allies of Tien Tsin. The ministers in Pekin owed their safety up to July 21 not to government protection, but to scarcity of Chinese ammunition and to the fear which the Tien Tsin victories inspired.

When it is remembered how great reliance is placed upon Dr. Morrison in England, the importance of his exposure of the Chinese government can scarcely be overestimated. It seems to banish all hopes entertained by Lord Salisbury that the Chinese government might yet be proved not directly responsible for the outrage and it may result in an entire cessation of the negotiations with Chinese diplomatists if not in an open declaration of war on the part of the powers.

Gen. Sir Alfred Gaselee is quoted as saying on July 28 that he was ready to advance, although lacking in artillery. Col. Daggett, commanding the Americans at Tien Tsin, is also credited with a similar statement on the same date although utterly without transportation, not even having a horse for himself.

Reinforcements are reported to have been sent to the Chinese at Yang Tsun, where strong entrenchments have been thrown up to bar the advance of the allies.

DR. MORRISON'S DESPATCH.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—At last Dr. Geo. Ernest Morrison, the famous Pekin correspondent of the Times, has been heard from direct. The Times this morning printed the following despatch from him dated July 21.

"There has been a cessation of hostilities here (Pekin) since July 18, but for fear of treachery there has been no relaxation of vigilance. The Chinese soldiers continue to strengthen the barricade around the besieged area and also the batteries on top of the imperial city wall, but in the meantime they have discontinued firing probably because they are short of ammunition.

"The main bodies of the imperial soldiers have left Pekin in order to meet the relief forces. Supplies are beginning to come in and the condition of the besieged is improving. The wounded are doing well. Our hospital arrangements are admirable and one hundred and fifty cases have passed through the hospital.

"The Tsung Li Yamen forwarded to Sir Claude Macdonald a copy of a despatch telegraphed by the Emporor to Queen Victoria, attributing all deeds of violence to bandits and requesting Her Majesty's assistance to extricate the Chinese Government from its difficulties. The Queen's reply is not stated, but the Chinese minister in Washington telegraphs that United States Government would gladly assist the Chinese authorities. This despatch to the Queen was sent to the Tsung Li Yamen by the grand council on July 2, yet the day before an imperial edict had been issued calling on the Boxers to render loyal and patriotic services in exterminating the Christians. The edict also commanded viceroys and governors to expel all missionaries from China and to arrest all Christians and compel them to renounce their faith. Other decrees applauding the Boxers speak approvingly of their burning out and slaying converts. Their leaders are stated in a decree to be princes and ministers.

"On July 18 another decree made a complete volte face due to the victories of the foreign troops at Tien Tsin. In this decree, for the first time, and one month after the occurrence, an allusion was made to the death of Baron Von Ketteler, the German minister, which was attributed to the action of the local brigands, although there is no doubt that it was premeditated and that the assassination was committed by an imperial officer, as the survivor, Herr Cordes, can testify.

"The force besieging the legation consists of the imperial troops under General Tung Lu and General Tung Fuh Siang, whose gallantry is applauded in imperial decrees, although it has consisted in bombarding for one month defenceless women and children cooped up in the legation compound, using shell, shrapnel, round shot and expanding bullets. The Chinese throughout acted with characteristic treachery, posing proclamations assuring us of protection, and the same night they made a general attack in the hope of surprising us.

"There are still no news of Pei Tang cathedral. The wounded number 138, including the American surgeon Lippit, severely wounded, and Captain Myers, who is doing well. Seven Americans have been killed.

"All the ministers and members of the legations and their families are in good health. The general health of the community is excellent, and we are contenplty awaiting relief."

After enumerating the casualties already reported and giving the total of deaths, including Americans, as fifty-six. Mr. Morrison proceeds as follows:

"The Chinese undermined the French legation, which is now a ruin; but the French minister (M. Pichon) was not present, having fled for protection to the British legation on the first day of the siege.

"The greatest peril that was suffered during the siege was from fire, the Chinese in a determination to destroy the British legation by burning the adjoining Han Lin Yuel (national college,) one of the most sacred buildings in China, sacrificing the unique library."
