Credit Union Chapter Meets At St. George's

Credit Union members from the St. Teresa's, Georgetown, Cardigan and St. George's Credit Union Chapters met at St. George's Hall last night in the annual meeting of the Central Chapter. Mr Aubrey Hughes, the President, was in the chair and Mr. Louis F. Campbell was secretary.

Dr. J. T. Croteau, Managing Director of the Credit Union League, delivered an illustrated lecture entitled, "Neighbors Help Each Other."

The main address of the evening was delivered by Rev. George McCormack of Charlottetown who said it would be hard to estimate the amount of good that the Credit Unions have accomplished, yet there is still much to be done. He urged the need of study clubs which are the basis of all co-operative organization. "Cooperation must be based on more than dollars and cents — understanding through the study club is necessary," he stated. The speaker traced the history of the development of cooperative movement and concluded with an inspiring message of encouragement to the Credit Union members assembled.

A most interesting feature of the meeting was the open forum discussion on the work of the Supervisory Committee. Those taking part in the discussion were Mr. Eugene Delorie, Rev. J. B. Croken, Mr. Louis F. Campbell, Rev. Owen Higgins, Mr. D. M McLean.

Mr. T. E. Hickey, Inspector of Credit Unions outlined the workings of the Supervisory Committee. This, according to the Inspector, is the vital centre of Credit Union operation. He announced that the provincial department has recently completed a "Manual of Procedure for Supervisory Committees." This is an explanation of the new audit form and is intended to improve the operation of the Credit Unions Audit.

Mr. Aubrey Hughes delivered a stirring address in his annual report on the relationship between management and the cooperative movement.

Committees elected for the coming year were: Georgetown Credit Union, Messrs. Daniel McKinnon and McQuillan; St. Teresa's, Rev. J. B. Croken and Mr. Aubrey Hughes; St. George's, Messrs. Louis Francis and Eugene Delorie; Cardigan, Messrs. Henry Bagnall and James Sharkey.

A lunch was served by the ladies of St. Georges.

MacDonald - O'Hanley Wedding

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Peter's Church at 9 a. m. yesterday when Mary Gladys, daughter of Private Ronald and Mrs. MacDonald of St. Peters became the bride of Lieut. Joseph, son of Mr. and Mrs. O'Hanley of the same place. The ceremony which took place in the presence of relatives and friends, was performed by Rev. A. McAuley.

The bridesmaid was Miss Anastasia O'Hanley, sister of the groom, and the best man was Sgt. Mercier O'Hanley of the North Nova Scotia Highlanders.

The bride was attired in a blue ensemble for the occasion while the bride maid wore a rust colored dress and hat and a tweed coat.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at the bride's home at which immediate relatives and friends were present.

The bride and groom afterwards left on a short motor trip.

The groom is a member of the North Nova Scotia Highlanders and a former St. Dunstan's University student.

200 Trainees End 30-days In Local Camp

Their 30-day training period completed, over 200 trainees were back in civilian clothes last night, and will return to their homes in various parts of the province today. Their training at the Military Training Centre at Beach Grove Inn, as members of the Non-permanent Active Militia in the 21-year-old class, concluded officially with inspection by Lt.-Col. A. W. H. Landon, G. C. O., Halifax, yesterday morning.

Col. Landon, who visited the training centre when the trainees arrived, was greatly impressed with the amount of work accomplished in the 30 days. He took the salute in front of the inn as the unit in charge of Major A. S. Robertson, V.D., marched past at 10.15. Lt.-Col. F. L. Andrew, commanding officer, accompanied him. The Charlottetown Community Band was in attendance.

The afternoon was taken up with the checking in of uniforms and equipment. Only blankets were kept by the young soldiers, and these will be turned in today before the boys leave for home.

The majority of the trainees have expressed regret at having to return to civilian life, and upwards of 50 per cent of them have expressed the desire to join the active service forces. Some of their number have already joined the Royal Canadian Air Force; many more have signed with the Navy and Army.

Now that their drill days have been finished the trainees will be placed on the nominal role of the Prince Edward Island Light Horse, which is part of the Non-Permanent Active Militia.

Outside of the regular training centre staff, consisting of eighty members all ranks, only one member of the trainees will not go home today. He is the one remaining patient in the hospital who became ill recently. This young soldier will be confined to his bed until he is recovered enough to be sent home.

The next group of trainees which will include the remainder of the 21-year-old and those of the 22-year old class will report to the centre on Nov. 22 for their 30-day training period.

In the meantime the permanent staff will be kept busy preparing for the next class. The equipment will be checked over and uniforms will be dry cleaned. In addition to this the staff members will take a course of instruction in advanced training work.

Lt.-Col. Andrew said last night he was particularly pleased with the progress made by the young trainees while they were in camp. They proved to be a very desirable type of recruit and were keen and willing to do their part on any occasion," he declared. He was also pleased with their conduct while away from the training centre, as "not one complaint reached me of any serious misconduct on the part of the boys during their visits to the city," he said.

World-wide Reaction To Re-election Of President Roosevelt

By The Associated Press

Around the world, from the upper levels of the Yangtse to Tokyo, London, Ottawa, Berlin and Rome, the re-election of President Roosevelt evoked reaction ranging from total Italian indifference to Democratic gratification and Chinese jubilation.

Japan took the occasion to urge upon Mr. Roosevelt a "reorientation" of the United States' far eastern policy.

Berlin and Rome professed no surprise at the result nor any disappointment expressing the view that as between United States Democratic and Republican policy on aid to Britain short of war, they had no preference.

The British press saw the result as a sign of a turning world tide against totalitarianism.

". . . The blackest day Berlin has known since the beginning of the war," declared Lord Beaverbrook's London Evening Standard as part of the splash which the Roosevelt success made in the British press.

Britain's response was virtually a roll call of the Empire. The re-election crowded the war and domestic news from front pages in the Union of South Africa. Bermudans were jubilant, New Zealanders pleased.

"The great American Republic has ratified before the world its resolve to let nothing stand in the way of Mr. Roosevelt's policy, which the axis powers hate," said the Auckland Herald.

"We know Roosevelt better than the other candidate," was a typical comment in the London press. Another: "It would be ticklish business to change governments right now." And in the London Evening News:

"Every vote cast yesterday was a vote against Hitler . . . we ourselves can be thankful the campaign is ended. America will quickenher stride again and without any of the delays that might have come from the sending of a new man to the White House."

The London Evening Star: "Germany cannot mistake its (the election's) implications. It is one of a growing number of signs the tide is setting against tyranny and will finally engulf it."

The traditional attitude of impartiality toward United States domestic affairs was maintained at Ottawa, but it was expected Prime Minister Mackenzie King, a close personal friend of the President, would send a message of congratulation to Mr. Roosevelt

No Interruption

It was the feeling at Ottawa that regardless of the presidential election result Canada and the empire would continue to receive full material war aid from the United States, but that this would be carried out without interruption now that Mr. Roosevelt was back in the White House

At Toronto, Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario, said "great rejoicing should arise in Canada over the President's re-election.

Most official and diplomatic quarters in the major South American nations regarded the re-election as the "Go" signal for a widened program of continental co-operation—an alliance involving economic as well as defensive understandings.

Chinese in the central government capital at Chungking thronged the streets and cheered the news that Roosevelt had won, and Finance Minister H. H. Kung gave a party in honor of United States Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson.

French Press Discreet

The press of conquered France discreetly gave secondary prominence to the Roosevelt victory—preferring to dwell on Marshal Petain's current tour of Southern France—and the only official comment was that France was more concerned with "building of Europe."

Authorized quarters in Berlin pictured Germany as merely "an interested bystander," with "an almost sportive interest" in the result which, it was said there as well as in Rome, the Axis powers had anticipated.

High Fascists in Rome indicated they had accepted Mr. Roosevelt's re-election as foregone; that they regard him as hostile to Italy, but consider his pledge of American neutrality as reflecting the desire of the American people.

Newspapers in Rome refrained from printing any reports on the election on the grounds that "the figures available in Rome are still contradictory," the Rome radio explained in an evening broadcast.

The Berlin press dealt at length with the election. Boersen Zeitung credited the Roosevelt victory in part to the new deal's "vast propaganda possibilities" and to those benefitting from United States armament orders.

Deutsche Allegmeine Zeitung said Mr. Roosevelt had introduced himself to the voters as a man seeking to establish a "new order" in the United States and "a mere business man type as represented by Willkie had little chance against that argument."

Propaganda Money Stopped By Mexico?

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 6 —(AP)— Mexican customs authorities reported to have acted on a tip from the United States government that a large sum was being sent here for Italian and German propaganda activities, discovered $2,000,000 in United States currency today in a diplomatic pouch borne by a special courier from the Italian embassy in Washington.

The courier was allowed to retain the money and Italian legation sources said that Count Alberto Marchetti, Italian Minister to Mexico, had protested and obtained an apology for the search.

The Mexican government explanation was that an "inexperienced" official was responsible for the search, but a responsible government source said actually the United States government furnished the information that led to discovery of the cash.

During the meeting of the Local Association, Mrs. Rowe submitted the annual report, the text of which appears below. The secretary-treasurer's report, read by Mrs. Helen Thompson, showed a satisfactory balance on hand.

The Provincial Commissioner of the Girl Guides Association, Mrs. John Reay, read her annual report at the session of the Provincial Council. The text of this appears below, also.

This was supplemented by the reports of the District Commissioner for Queens County, Miss Ina Gillan, Charlottetown, and the District Commissioner for Prince County, Miss Carrie Holman, Summerside.

Miss Gillan, in her report, announced that there was one Ranger Company, two Guide Companies, and two Brownie Packs in Queens County. She told of the activities of the Marshfield-Dunstaffnage Ranger Company, which consists of ten members. During the spring, summer and fall meetings were held and in the past year they have done considerable war work. Among the work done by them is the completion of 16 sweaters, six pairs of socks, 48 bandages, six infant nightgowns, 24 sock patterns and 13 Afghans. They also donated $5.00 to the Ambulance Fund.

The East Royalty School Company consists of ten members, and have been carrying on successfully. The 1st Rustico Guide Company was welcomed into the organization during the year, and has made wonderful progress. The 1st Mount Stewart Brownie Pack are quite active, Miss Gillan continued. The 1st Parkdale Brownie Pack with 24 Brownies, has also been very active.

Prince County

Miss Holman, in her report of Prince County, said that they had a successful year in Guiding, although they have not yet a first class badge. There are 18 units, six Brownie Packs, 11 Guide Companies and one Ranger Company in the County. This includes the new units being organized— a Brownie Pack in Borden and one in Ellerslie, the 4th Summerside Guide Company and the 1st Tignish Company. There will be over 230 Guides when the new ones are enrolled.

The new Tignish Company has a membership of 35, and is doing good work, Miss Holman said. The Alberton Guides and Brownies had an unsettled year due to the loss of their leaders. The same is true of Kensington. In Tyne Valley and Ellerslie, three of the Guiders have left home. However, Roberta Hayes has remained faithful and has been the greatest help in obtaining new Guiders. She is now District Captain for West Prince.

The Summerside Ranger Company which was organized a little over a year ago has a membership of 35, the District Commissioner reported. They provided a lunch and movie for about 200 poor children last Christmas and have knitted outfits for refugee children.

She also spoke of the war work being carried on by the Guides and Brownies and Ambulance Fund, as well as providing articles of clothing for the refugee children.

The report of the Camp Adviser was given by Miss Jessie Fullerton. She outlined the various camp activities during the year, making special reference to the work done for the refugee children in this direction.

Referring to the latter camp, she spoke as follows:

"I should like to mention in closing, the camp of British Guest children of which I, together with Mr. John Denny, had charge, and at which we were ably assisted by Miss Phyllis Reay and Miss Helen Lawson. It was a unique and happy experience and at times quite pathetic. As a group of campers, the children differed from our own in accent only. Everything ran very smoothly. The children themselves were extremely happy with only occasional fits of homesickness. A camp of boys and girls whose ages ranged from five to 15, was more or less of a novelty to us, as it was also for the children who had never seen each other until the day they arrived in Prince Edward Island. To the many friends in the Guide family who helped to make things easier for the staff, and pleasant for the children, we extend our sincere thanks."

The report of the Extension committee was read by Mrs. J. E. Harris and the financial report of the Provincial Council by Mrs. E. S. Townsend.

A vote of thanks moved by Mrs. R. H. Rogers, and seconded by Mrs. C. G. Duffy, was tendered Mrs. LePage for her generosity in placing Government House at the disposal of the Association for the meeting.

Following the meeting, the ladies had afternoon tea.

PROVINCIAL GUIDE REPORT

Following is the text of the report submitted by the Provincial Commissioner, Mrs. John Reay:—

"After hearing the excellent reports of Mrs. Rowe and the two Division Commissioners, you will not need much of a report from me. This year, for the first time since this province was organized as a Guide entity, we are meeting without our former Provincial Secretary, Miss Mona Wilson, who has been sent to Newfoundland as Director of Red Cross activities, resigned her position in September. We felt as though the bottom had dropped out of everything, and for a time were quite lost without Miss Wilson to turn to.

"However, fate was kind and sent us Mrs. Townsend, who has been prevailed on to take the position with Miss Betty Large's assistance. Mrs. Townsend was a valuable worker on the Local Association in Sydney, C. B., and has been for two years on our Provincial Executive. Miss Large will handle the Guide equipment for the province— acting as provincial shop-keeper.

"At a luncheon before Miss Wilson's departure, attended by about 35 of the Provincial and Local Association members, Guider's Club Executive and a few personal friends a Medal of Merit — a Provincial Guide award for good service—was given to Miss Wilson by the Provincial Council. The presentation was made by Mrs. LePage, our Honorary President, who had graciously honoured us by her presence. Presentations were also made by the Local Association and the Guider's Club.

Other Changes in Personnel

"Another blow was struck at Guiding when our Queens County Division Commissioner, Miss Ina Gillan, found she was obliged to resign, owing to pressure of work. Miss Gillan was the first Division Commissioner to be appointed after the Island had been made into three divisions, corresponding to the three counties. Under her direction Queens, and especially Charlottetown, made rapid strides. In fact, it soon became apparent that Miss Gillan would need help, so Mrs. Rowe, as District Commissioner, undertook to see to Charlottetown. Miss Gillan also acted for two years as the popular Captain of the Charlottetown Guider's Club. The Guides and Brownies will miss her genial visits at their meetings, however, it is comforting to know that Miss Gillan is not leaving the province and that she will remain on our Provincial Executive.

"In Miss Gillan's place we are fortunate in securing Mrs. Paul Murray. Mrs. Murray who has been on the Provincial Executive for the past year has been nominated by them as the new Division Commissioner for Queens.

"A further addition to our Guide family is a new District Commissioner already mentioned in Miss Holman's report. We are very glad to welcome Mrs. Alice Hunter Smythe for West Prince District.

"Miss Gillan, retiring Commissioner; Miss Carrie Holman, Commissioner for Prince County, and Mrs. Rowe for the District of Charlottetown, are all busy women, yet they manage to find time for Guiding as well as various phases of war work.

"I am more than grateful to them for their loyal support. To raise funds for organization work, we sponsored local films showing the Royal Visit to Charlottetown and interesting scenes from Confederation Week.

"A grant of $25 to the Provincial Commissioner from Dominion headquarters for travelling expenses was gratefully received.

"You have heard from the other Commissioners how Guide Day was observed this year in different parts of the province.

"In February, 'Thinking Day,' the birthday of both the Chief Scout and Chief Guide, was celebrated as usual in Charlottetown by a joint Guiders' and Scouters' Banquet.

"Mrs. Harris, in her Report on Extension Work, is again going to ask for a Captain for Lone Guides. There must be a large number of girls of Guide age in this province who are living in isolated districts too far away to attend the nearest Guide Company meetings, who would be delighted to become Guides. This can only be done by letters which take the place of ordinary Company meetings. I therefore make a further appeal for someone to direct this work, and at the same time for Rangers, older Guides, or former Guides to help whoever takes it on.

"The visit of our new Governor-General and his charming wife was one of the highlights of our Guide year. The Charlottetown inspection by Her Royal Highness, Princess Alice, at Government House, has already been mentioned in a previous report.

"As a Guide representative, your Provincial Commissioner was honoured by being presented to the Earl of Athlone and Princess Alice, and was asked to appoint a Guide to present a bouquet from the Government. Jean Bevan, the only Gold Cord Guide in the province, was the choice.

Air Ambulance Fund

"Prince Edward Island went over the top with its contribution of $215.00 to the Air Ambulance Fund. Almost every unit subscribed. The Division reports show what different Companies and Packs are doing, also how Guides and Guiders helped with the National and Women's Voluntary Registrations.

"A most helpful piece of war work was undertaken by Miss Jessie Fullerton in conjunction with the Carry On Canada Corps when 25 young evacuees from England landed here and were placed in quarantine for ten days. Miss Fullerton suggested and undertook that they spend that ten days in Camp. She, with two other Guiders, one of whom was a nurse, and a Scouter took charge of the 25 young guests until they were placed in their foster homes.

"Now for the appeals:—

"I am in receipt of a letter from the Convener of the National War Service Committee at Dominion Headquarters asking if our province wishes to co-operate in a National Guide War effort. The decision reached at the last Dominion Executive meeting was to adopt as our Dominion-wide War Service, the making of children's garments for distribution among children in the distressed areas of Great Britain. It was felt that such work was definitely along Guide lines, and that through it Guides might be qualifying for such badges as sewing and knitting. This request has not yet been brought before our Executive Committee, but if they approve we shall need some volunteers to oversee Guides and Rangers chosen for the work.

"If there are people here today who are not too swamped in war work, and who would like to help out a bit, may we call upon you for assistance?

"Another letter from Dominion Headquarters contains a recommendation from Saskatchewan for Air Ranger Companies. These ought to be very popular in this province. This scheme which has been endorsed and unanimously approved by our own Provincial Executive has been brought up in several provinces. Guides and Rangers have been working on Air Badges so the project will doubtless go through. If any of you have daughters of Ranger age or Air-minded husbands, sons or brothers, please keep this in mind as we shall have to call on these good men for Aeronautical instruction.

"I have already thanked the Commissioners! Now a word of commendation to the Guiders. There is nothing very spectacular about Guiding. At times I am quite sure there does not seem to be anything very inspiring about showing a group of girls how to bandage, signal, or how the Union Jack should be flown. However, when Guides and Brownies, too, rise to the occasion such as the Inspection by Princess Alice, Empire Gift Week, and recently the marvellous sale of War Saving Stamps on National Guide Day, it really does seem worth while.

"On behalf of our Provincial Council, I should like to thank the press for their unfailing courtesy; the Red Cross Society, the Legion, and the I.O.D.E. for the use of their rooms, and the I.O.D.E. for their generous donation of a flag.

"I wish to thank the Dominion Headquarters for their help, and our own Provincial Council and the members of our Guide family for their loyal co-operation in a year so full of difficulty.

"On behalf of Guides of all ranks, I wish to thank His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. LePage for allowing us the use of Government House for this meeting, for the use of Government House grounds for the inspection at the time of the Vice-Regal visit, and for their unfailing kindness and hospitality at all times."

Enrollment

The instructional staff consists of Major D. F. Tierney and Sgt. J. C. Emslie, both veterans of the last war.

Major Tierney has had wide experience in military affairs. He joined the artillery in 1911 and received his commission in 1914, but at his own request was seconded and served overseas in the ranks with the 3rd Division Trench Mortars. He was gassed in March 1918 and after three months in hospital, served at Artillery Headquarters in England until the end of the war.

On re-organization of the artillery in 1919 he was posted as a lieutenant to the 2nd Field Battery and by subsequent promotions took command of this unit in 1925. In 1931 his battery won the Gov.-General's Cup for general efficiency as well as the cups for 1st place in Battery Gun Practice and Efficiency of Personnel among all the batteries in Canada. In 1928 Maj. Tierney took the staff course for militia officers and during the following summer completed this course at the Royal Military College at Kingston, receiving the qualifications of Brigade Major.

Granted Leave

He has been employed for the past twenty years with the Department of Transport at Charlottetown and is in charge of Stores at the present time. The department has granted him leave of absence for the duration of the war.

Major Tierney was educated at Prince of Wales College and the Union Commercial College at Charlottetown, and previous to the Great War taught school for several years in different parts of the province.

Sgt. Emslie was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, and when very young joined the Gordon Highlanders. He proceeded to France with them on Aug. 6, 1914, and took part in the battles of the Marne and Aisne. He was taken prisoner and was in a concentration camp for nearly four years. He came to Canada some years ago, and settled on a farm in Nova Scotia. On the outbreak of war he joined the Veterans' Guard and proceeded to Sydney, and during the past summer has been Sgt.-Instructor with the Prince Edward Island Light Horse, and when they completed training, was posted to 6th Division Signals as instructor.

The Board of Governors and Faculty of St. Dunstan's University are to be congratulated on this forward step which fills a long-felt want in the province.

HOUSE DISCUSSES JAMAICA EXCHANGE

LONDON, Nov. 6—(CP)—Authorities in Jamaica as in other colonies have instructions to make exchange available to pay for any supplies which it is essential to import from Canada, George Hall, under secretary of state for the colonies, told Sir Leonard Lyle in the House of Commons.

Sir Leonard had asked earlier "whether in view of the substantial Canadian exchange profit by shipments of Jamaican sugar to that Dominion would the secretary arrange for the exchange authority in Jamaica to take a broadminded view in regard to the purchase from Canada of commodities indispensable to sugar production, at present unobtainable in this country."

"The Canadian dollar resources," Hall replied in a written statement, "are under the control of His Majesty's government, which include those embraced by sales of colonial produce, are strictly limited and must be used to the best advantage to promote our war effort."

He added "that it is not compatible with this over-rising consideration to give specially favorable consideration to a particular colonial sugar industry, because its sugar goes to Canada and not, as does most colonial sugar, to this country."

An editorial in the Evening Star said "all the influence which Hitler was able to bring to bear was thrown against him (Roosevelt)," and added:

"We heartily welcome the American decision. Germany cannot mistake its implications. It is one of a growing number of signs that the tide is setting against tyranny and will finally engulf it."

The Evening News, whose front page proclaimed "Roosevelt Victorious," declared editorially: "Every vote cast yesterday was a vote against Hitler. . .We ourselves can be thankful the campaign is ended. "Roosevelt is a great Democrat," the paper said. "He is more than a great believer in democracy. He is its great exponent. . .

"The industrial power of the western hemisphere dedicates itself to our cause because the American people have learned from their leader his own faith in freedom, his spirit of daring, and his knowledge of the vast ramifications of this conflict."

Of special interest to the meeting was the excellent report of the 1940 National Convention of the C. W. L. held in Saint John, which was presented by Mrs. Frank Murray, delegate from Charlottetown Sub-division.

A concise and clear resume of the program carried out during the five day period of Convention, which covered the spiritual, educational business and social activities associated with it, was heard with rapt attention by the large number of members in attendance.

Referring to the holding of the National Convention at a time when the Empire was facing the gravest crisis of the war, Mrs. Murray stated that, although the duties of the League are many, with its members Patriotism is a religious duty, and never before had its call been so pressing. The Convention was held to help solve these problems.

As the first step in war preparedness, Voluntary Registration had been carried out by members of the C. W. L. throughout Canada at the beginning of world hostilities. A concrete proof of the patriotism imbuing members, was the voting during Convention of $25,000 to the Government of Canada for its war needs.

Worthy of note was the marvellous amount of work accomplished by the many and varied National Committees, especially those associated with its missionary, charitable and educational endeavors.

Intensive discussion was given during Convention, to the Child Refugee and other war questions. Special committees were appointed in this connection, entitled British Child Guests and War Work.

A committee was formed to prepare a brief on the resolutions adopted concerning immoral radio programs, salacious literature, birth control, divorce and other social evils, and present same to the Federal Government

In closing, Mrs. Murray stated that the 1940 National Convention of the Catholic Women's League of Canada was pronounced one of the most important in the history of the organization. Members must meet the problems of the day with courage even greater than ever, for they now recognize in the motto of the League, "For God and Canada," the battle cry of our beloved country and of the British Empire.

A hearty vote of thanks to the speaker was moved by Mrs. F. J. Casey, in terms of sincere appreciation. This was seconded by Mrs. J. Trainor and supported by Mrs. Henry Curran. The President, Mrs. W. T. Coady presented the vote of thanks to Mrs. Murray, who replied in a fitting manner, after which the meeting adjourned.
