A correspondent from French River, says:—Several districts in this province have recently been boasting of the longevity of certain persons living in them, but French River on the contrary can boast of rejuvenescence, in the person of Joseph D. Harding, who though eighty years of age, shot two foxes, a few weeks ago, and was only absent from his home one hour, can any one beat this.—Com.

The following is an extract from a letter received by T. C. James, of this City, from Rev. A. D. McKenzie:—

Georgetown Demerara,
Jan. 21, 1909.

About our town work I am pleased to report progress, especially in the vicinity of our new lot; in two Sundays more I expect to have a building opened there. I am dividing the lot into two equal parts. Your half is left free in the meantime. On the other a small building, 22x20, is in course of erection. The money I receive from Sydney I put into it, and the balance will be covered by the amount received for rent, The half of the lot on which this building is erected, I think I can see my way clear to finance year by year. As soon as we can see our way to put up the main building on the other half of the lot, we shall put out catechist into the present one and thus save rent. I am superintending contractor of the building myself — drew the plans, and have to see they are carried oue. We have no master mechanic. We shall get it cheaper in this way, and just as good a building. Of course if it were out of town, I could not spare the time to give it this kind of attention. I opened a church two Sabbaths ago at Triumph, two miles west of Better Hope. I shall write you later about the opening of our building in town. I rejoice greatly over the interest taken in our work throughout the Presbytery. I trust this will grow and deepen. There is a wide field here to develop, and much may be done to extend the Kingdom of our Master. I hope ere long to receive assurance of sufficient support to warrant me in commencing our church and school building. As you know, it is not my intention to run into debt, but just to build as funds are supplied, and so to plan that we shall be able to use the building from the first, and add to it as money is available. We are both enjoying good health. Please convey our kindest regards to all friends.

The funeral of the late Joseph Wise, City, took place yesterday afternoon. The body was conveyed from his late residence to the People's Church about noon and the funeral service was held there. A very large number of friends and relatives from the City and country assembled at the Church, the service commencing at 2 o'clock. The procession was one of the largest ever seen in this City. It was headed by a number of Orangemen from the neighboring lodges. The Rev. D. McLean assisted by Rev. William Harrison and Archdeacon Reagh officiated. The floral tributes were numerous and very beautiful. The pall-bearers were John Bell, Murdoch Morson, John R. Hooper, David Hooper, Andrew Dollar and J. T. McLeod.

—The report of the congregation of Kensington and New London North is before us. This congregation stands among the highest in our Synod in its missionary givings. This year the weekly envelope system was adopted for missions, and the amount received for all missionary purposes was $1149.49. The total for all purposes $2882.00. The minister's salary is nine hundred dollars. A new furnace was placed in the Kensington church and the debt on the new Sabbath School building was reduced to one hundred and twenty five dollars. The congregation recognizes with thankfulness the goodness of God in the past, and hopefully looks forward to larger services and richer blessing in the days to come. —Presbyterian Witness.

—Seldom does the death of a little child call forth so much expression of sympathy as did the death of Lillian McGougan, the only daughter of John and Mrs. McGougan, Kensington. She was taken ill at Georgetown, where her parents are spending the winter. Everything was done in the way of medical skill to save her life yet the disease proved fatal. Although but five years old she was endowed with such sweet old fashioned ways, that she was much beloved, not only by her parents but by the many friends of the family. A void is felt in the hearts and home of the parents that can never be filled. An appropriate funeral service was conducted by Rev. E. J. Rattee assisted by Rev. Mr. Gough, and Evangelist McKay in the Presbyterian Church which was crowded with the friends of the sorrowing parents. The school children of the village marched in the procession which followed the remains to their last resting place in Kensington Cemetery.

—In the death of Robert McC. Stavert, which occurred at his home at Tyne o'clock Saturday morning, Summerside loses one of its most prominent and best known citizens. The deceased was in his usual health until a short time ago, and the announcement of his death came with an inexpressionable shock to the whole community. Strong and active in body and mind, his seventy-nine years sat lightly upon him. He was closely identified with the early history of Summerside and has occupied a large place in the business life of the town. The deceased was born at Wilmot. In his early life he taught school and engaged in farming. For about thirty-five years he was cashier of the Summerside Bank and under his very able leadership, that well known institution became a great success. He also took an active part in farming and gardening. He was a business genius, and a man of sterling worth and integrity. He leaves besides a widow, four sons Henry W. B. Manager of the Bank of New Brunswick, Summerside, Edmond P. at home, William H. of the Bank of Montreal, and Leslie in New York, and one daughter, Mrs. A. R. Hudson of Brockton, Mass. The funeral took place yesterday morning to St. Paul's Cemetery, Summerside.

The following extract from a Vancouver paper has been sent by a Provincialist to this city. With cooking eggs at from 65 to 70 cents a dozen, and new laids at 75 to 80, Vancouver is beginning to realize that she is in the midst of an egg famine. Farmers dealing in poultry are selling all their hens will lay. There are no case eggs whatever and unless eggs come from the east and south the situation will doubtless be serious.

Then, after wishing him a safe journey and speedy return, the party dispersed to their homes.

The members of the Farmer's Institute at York have been very active of late. On Saturday the twenty-sixth a very interesting debate was given upon the subject, which is the most profitable a milk cow or a cow raised for beef. The judges Pope Cooke, Dr. McDonald and Rev. E. Bell decided in favor of beef. On Wednesday last the Institute held their annual banquet and about one hundred and twenty persons sat down to an excellent supper. After all had partaken of the good things, speeches were made. The president, Mr. Gibson of Marshfield, presided and a very enjoyable and profitable time was spent.

Mr. Clark has been in the Railway employ for upwards of fifty years, having worked for many years on the mainland before coming to this Province. He has been section foreman at Charlottetown for thirty—three years and retired under the Provident Fund Bill a little over a year ago. By his faithful record Mr Clark has fairly won the honor which has been conferred on him.

Ferguson, of Hampton, by Fred Cameron, whose keen eye for speed selected her as a coming record-breaker at a trot on Churchill ice on Saturday last. This is but another added to the list of good ones that have gone forth from Mr. Ferguson's stables.—Pat.

Morrison. Also of D. P. McNutt's "Gamy" mare which has also made a good hit this winter. It is understood if the weather continues favorable the above named gentlemen are going to trot a one mile heat on March 5th. The prospects are good, and a goodly time is in store for all who may take the pleasure of seeing a good all round trot.

Acute Indigestion

Cured Through the Timely Use of Dr, Williams' Pink Pills.

There is no medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for stomach troubles. These Pills are not an artificial appetizer nor a stimulant. They act in nature's own way by making rich, red blood. This new blood gives vigor to all the organs. When it flows through the tiny veins in the stomach it stimulates them and creates that craving which people call "appetite." Then when the appetite is satisfied with food the blood gives the stomach strength to digest it. The nourishment is absorbed by the blood, and carried to every organ in the body. That is how Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure stomach troubles and all blood diseases. That is how they give health and strength to weak, worn out people.

Mr. H. Thomas Curry, Port Maitland, N. S., says:—"About three years ago I was attacked with what the doctors termed acute indigestion. The first indication was a bad taste in my mouth in the morning, and a sallow complexion. Later as these symptoms developed my tongue was heavily coated, especially in the morning, and I felt particularly dull. My appetite began to dwindle, and even a light meal left me with a sense of having eaten too much. As I grew worse I ate barely enough to sustain my body, but still experienced the most acute pains. A wretched languor came over me which I could not throw off. It seemed as if I were always tired, with but little strength and frequent violent headaches. The remedies given me by my doctor, as well as many others failed to restore me, or even to relieve me. I was in this very unhappy state for almost a year when I read in a newspaper one day of the cure in a case similar to mine through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This decided me to give these Pills a trial. It was not long before I felt some relief from the distress after meals, and as I continued the use of the Pills all languor and drowsiness and headaches left me and I began to enjoy increased energy and new strength. To-day I am a well man, enjoying the best of health, with never a twinge of the old trouble, and I attribute my cure entirely to the fair use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

These Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or you can get them by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

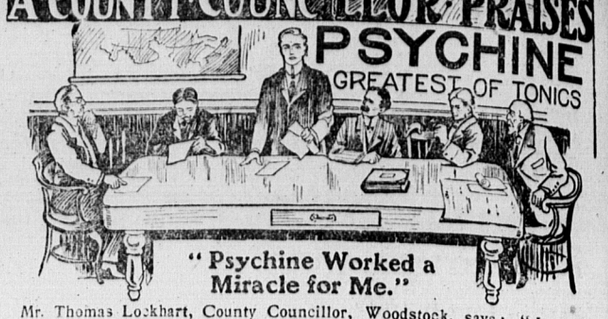
The marriage took place at Calgary, Alta., on Feb. 24th of R. L. MacMillan, son of Donald MacMillan and brother of J. Frank MacMillan, manager of the Royal Bank of Canda, this city, to Miss Zoe LeBelliggins of Fort Huron, Mich. The ceremony was performed in the Cathdral of the Redeemer, (Church of England) Rev. S. Ryall officiating. The wedding was a quite one and the bride and groom were unattended. The happy couple remained a few days at the Yale Hotel, receiving the congratulations and good wishes of many friends in Clagary, where the groom was very popular, before proceeding to their home at High River.

Alnfred Elmer McWilliams, beloved and youngest son of Amos and Mrs. McWilliams, of Cape Wolfe, on Feb. 5th passed to his eternal reward, after a lingering illness of about twelve months. He was a model of patience and when he realized that there was no recovery for him he welcomed death. He was a most worthy young man, and although only nineteen years of age he was a great favorite among all classes of good people. From child hood he was highly esteemed for his excellent qualities. He despised anything low or unprincipled in word or act. He could never see any pleasure in actions or conduct which were not of the highest principle. He was thoughtful, kind and generous. He was most faithful in attending the preaching and prayer services of the church. Everything that the best of physicians, the kindest of parents, brothers and friends could do, had been done for him. Through his prolonged illness God greatly blessed him so that he enjoyed the divine consciousness of his acceptance in Christ. He fully trusted in Christ as his personal Saviour and died in full hope of a glorious immortality. His funeral notwithstanding the condition of the roads, was very large. An impressive and solemn service was conducted at the home by his pastor, Rev. A. D. McLeod, who preached from St. Matt. 24:44. The remains were laid away in the Bethel Methodist cemetery. Com.

The farmers of North Wiltshire were treated to a very instructive address on Friday evening by Prof. Ross of the Department of Agriculture on the subject of "good seeds." The meeting was called to order and L. L. Jenkins was elected chairman. Mr. Ross then proceeded with his very interesting address. He dwelt very trongly on the importance of sowing only the largest and plumpest grain free from weed seeds. To show the importance of procuring good seed, Mr. Ross pointed out that last year he value of the total farm products of P. E. Island, was nearly thirteen million dollars, of which nine million dollars was credited to field crops. If the yield of grain could be increased four bushels per acre, it would mean to the farmers of P. E. Island an extra two hundred thousand dollars. He also had charts showing the increased yield of grain as the result of seed selection, and showing also the number of weeds found in samples of timothy and clover seeds bought from seed merchants in the Province and bought by them in Ontario. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Ross at the close of the meeting and a resolution was passed to hold a seed judging class next morning. Quite a number were present at this class in the morning and they found it very interesting indeed. The forenoon passed so quickly that some of the work could not be taken up. Mr. Ross had a sample of all the different weed seeds found in this Province which was all identified by those in attendance, by means of magnifying glasses. He then brought out samples of clover seed which were xamined to find if they could be sold without violating the "Seed Control Act." Mr. Ross urged every farmer to make himself familiar with weed seeds and with the "Seed Control Act" so that every man would be his own seed inspector. Prof. Ross evidently understands his work. It is too bad that he cannot devot more of is time to this work. If the government could be prevailed upon to let im devote all his time to this work of helping farmers in this way it would be a great boon to the farmers and they have a right to demand it.—Com.

A COUNTY COUNCILLOR PRAISES PSYCHINE



"Psychine Worked a Miracle for Me."

Mr. Thomas Lockhart, County Councillor, Woodstock, says: "In 1906 I caught a severe cold which brought on a bad attack of Bronchitis. I was downright ill and totally incapacitated from doing my work on the farm or attending to my duties as a County Councillor for Oxford. My lungs also seemed to be affected, and I got lower and lower, until my friends thought that I would never get better; I also got very discouraged myself and began to lose hope."

"Needless to say I had, what was supposed to be, the best medical advice and treatment. All sorts of remedies were tried and suggestions followed, but all to no purpose. At last my doctor plainly told me that he could do nothing more for me, and that the only thing that would benefit me was to move to a milder climate. I got much worse; gradually lost all my strength, and was reduced to a shadow of my former self. I could not move out of the house, and was useless for anything, having to give up all my business."

"I honestly believe at this time that my days were numbered. Then I came across an 'Ad' in the 'Sentinel-Review' telling what PSYCHINE had done in similar cases to my own, and I determined to give it a trial. I sent for a bottle and it worked wonders for me in a very short time. The pain in my chest disappeared; my breathing was easier, and I could soon get out of doors again. My strength came back, and it is surprising how rapidly I put on flesh and gained in weight."

"I cannot help to say that PSYCHINE worked a miracle for me. I was a marvel to all who saw me, and I can not sufficiently praise this wonderful medicine which restored me to health when all else failed. PSYCHINE brings immediate relief from the most distressing symptoms of Bronchitis and Lung trouble, and soon makes one feel strong and well again." I am 67 years of age now, and since taking PSYCHINE have had no return of illness at all; indeed I never felt better in my life."

If you have not tried PSYCHINE you should do so at once. It keeps the healthy well and restores strength to the weak—enriches the blood and generates a healthy vigorous action throughout. Psychine is without doubt the greatest Life-giver known. Sold by all druggists and stores at 50c. and $1. Free pamphlet on application to the proprietors, Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited, Toronto. A telegram was received in this city Monday night, announcing the death in Boston, on the same day, of Dennis Murnaghan, of Donagh, Lot 35. No particulars were given, but as his father had a letter from him a few days ago, and he was then quite well, it is supposed he met with an accident. The remains accompanied by two cousins, left Boston Monday night. The deceased is a cousin of John Murnaghan of this city.

A painful accident occurred at Margate on Feb. 27th in which Floyd, youngest son of Wm. M. Howard, got his arm broken between the elbow and wrist. Both bones were broken one of them penetrating through the flesh. Medical aid was immediately summoned the bones being skilfully set by Drs. James and Erskine Kier. The accident occurred while threshing, his mit coming in contact with the pully of the drum which at the time was running at high speed. He has the sympathy of his many friends and schoolmates.

There was a good attendance at the City market yesterday, the principal change being in pork which sold at eight and one half to nine cents per lb, eight dollars per ton was asked for pressed hay, forty cents per bus. for white oats and forty two for black, butter per lb twenty-three to twenty four cents, pressed straw per ton five dollars and loose straw per cwt. twenty-five to thirty, geese one dollar to one twenty-five each, chickens and ducks seventy-five to one dollar per pair and turkey per lb sixteen to eighteen cents.

—On Feb. 12th, the Rev. A. A. McAulay of Hope River, gave an interesting address before the members of St. Patrick's Institute of Lot 14. Rev. Father McAulay gav a very fine address on the dignity of the farmers calling and the facilities afforded the farmer in this beautiful Province. By special request he gave his experience in poultry raising. A few years ago Father McAulay imported the finest strain Holsteins ever brought to this Province and now he is doing the same in poultry in his own quiet way. The address was pronounced by those present to be the best they had ever listend to.

The funeral of the late Hon. Matthew Smith, speaker of the Legislative Assembly, took place from the residence of H. J. Worth, Kent street, at one o'clock yesterday afternoon Rev. H. E. Thomas officiating. A short service was held, and appropriate music rendered by Professor Watts. The attendance was both large and varied, as all classes seemed desirous of showing their last respects to a man who was a man in every sense of the word. The pall-bearers consisted of the following well known gentlemen: Premier Haszard, Hon. George E. Hughes, Hon. J. H. Cummiskey, J. A. Mathieson, John MacLean, Mr. MacInnis. The remains were taken to Pleasant View, Hampton awaiting the arrival of the sons Edgar and Stewart, who were notified by telegraph of their fathers death and who are expected to cross to this Province today.

On Tuesday evening of the 23rd about thirty of the young people of Long River and vicinity assembled at the home of Jasper and Mrs. Bell, where a most enjoyable evening was spent in games and music and other amusements. At about ten o'clock the guests sat down to a well filled table of good things. In this part of the evening's fun all took part and all were pleased to be present.

The lovers of turf sports in French River can be seen every evening enjoying a drive behind their speed marvels on the good ice. Among those worthy of mention are Elmer McLeod's pacing filly Park Rita and Edward Stewart's trotting colt Lost Heir, both of these colts show extreme futurity speed at their respective gaits. Of the matured class some speedy ones are now to be seen and feared; in the Whirl-wind trotter Happy George owned by Geo. Campbell, the sensational Lady Sims owned by Jas Sims, and the grandly gaited trotter, Brazallan Boy owned by Boyce Harding, last but not least is the pacing Stallion Parkmonts, the property of George McKenzie, and the sire of the above mentioned colts. These horses will be looked upon to uphold the equine speed reputation of this place, in the events of a meeting of the local horsemen taking place on the ice in the near future. Com.

The following clipping is from the "Statesman Index" printed in Colville, Wash. Mrs. Acorn is well known in the Province, having taught for some time at Pownal. She married J. H. C. Acorn and resided in Pownal for several years. Sometime ago they moved to Colville where the above interesting event took place. Among the contestants were teachers, lawyers, editors &c., 11th and 12th Grade Pupils, but they all had to go down before the P. E. Islanders. The prize was a souvenier spoon. The Guardian heartily congratulates Mrs. Acorn and her little daughter on their success. "Well, the "poverty social" happening at the high school building, and a very enjoyable as well as profitable affair it was too, something over $30 being cleared for the piano fund. "Biled shirts" and baked boots with all sorts of jewelry and fancy articles of dress paid roundly for their presence there. A new amusement called a "hold up game" by the gentleman fortunate enough to be chosen "it," was indulged in by a number of the young ladies. It consisted in the young ladies surrounding some fellow whom they imagined had a nice fat pocket book. When they had his attention fixed and he was innocently laughing and joking with his fair captors, a member of the "kompetent kommittee" arrived on the scene and demanded of him 5c for ach "old maid" with whom he was flirting. About ten o'clock a ten cent lunch consisting of hot coffee and a doughnut was served. A short program was rendered. Then came the event of the evening when the Misses Mary Ide and Leonora Thomas chose up sides and an old fashioned spelling bee was on. First honors in the Match were won by Mrs. Cameron Acorn in the "grown ups" contest and by little Lilian Acorn in the children's contest held down stairs.
