Twenty Rinks of All Members Will Compete Saturday Afternoon and Evening

ST JOHN Jan. 7.—A bonspiel will be curled on St. Andrew's ice tomorrow afternoon and evening, and every meinber of the club is expected to be present, as each and every one will have the chance to play. The rinks will curl in the afternoon and a similar number in the evening. In addtion to this opportunity for a great get-together union of the curlers there will be a curlers' supper running from 6 until 7.30 o'clock, and when it is stated that Harry Simmons is chairman of the entertainment committee it can be taken for granted that all members will be well looked after.

The bonspiel is the first of the season, and undoubtedly every member of the club will be on hand to take part. The prospects are excellent for good, keen ice, and the first real start of 1921 for St. Andrew's members will undoubtedly be taken advantage of by all.

ELLERSLIE SCHOOL

The semi annual examination of Ellerslie school was held on Thursday Dec. 23. Despite the inclemency of the weather, 35 visitors were present including the secretary and two trustees, showing the co-operation between the parents and teacher. The school was very artistically decorated with flags and evergreens The pupils were examined by Miss Grigg, Miss Sullivan, teacher of Tyne Valley, Horace Walsh student of Pine Hill College and their teacher, Miss Bessie Linkletter, and by their prompt and ready answers showed the careful training they had received. A choice program was carried out including songs, recitations and dialogues. Santa Claus appeared in his cheery manner and treated pupils and visitors to candy and nuts. Erma Dystant read an address and presented the teacher on behalf of the pupils with a substantial sum of money. The teacher though greatly surprised thanked the pupils for their gift. Speeches were then given by Joshua Millar, W. E. Dystant, Colin Smith, Horace Walsh and William Burleigh, all of whom spoke very highly of the good work being done in the school. The singing of the National Anthem brought the examinaton to a close.

Following is the address to the teacher:

To Miss Bessie Linkletter.

Dear Teacher:—We the pupils of Ellerslie school desire to take this opportunity of expressing to you our appreciation of your work in our midst. During the short time that you have been among us you have ever been found at duty's call, ready to take a leading part in anything, regardless of time and trouble and have been an enthusiastic supporter of all which tended to the welfare of the community. In the school you have done your part faithfully and well. We know that at times we have been very often neglectful and thoughtless in our tasks and many times merited your mild rebukes. But your cheerful disposition, your personality and ready encouragement has urged us on to greater effort.

And now dear teacher accept this purse as a tangible proof of the esteem in which you are held by your pupils. We hope it will be our good fortune to have you wise counsel and guidance in the greater part of our course. We wish you A Merry Xmas and A Happy New Year and our earnest prayer is that you may be long spared with health and strength to perform those duties which will devolve upon you.

Signed upon behalf of the pupils of Ellerslie school.—Erma Dystant.

BISHOP MACDONALD OF VANCOUVER, ON IRELAND.

(Vancouver Province)

On the subject of Ireland and Home Rule, Rt. Rev. Alexander MacDonald, Bishop of Vancouver Island (formerly of Antigonish, N. S.) has issued a statement which he has directed to be read in every Catholic church on Vancouver Island. The statement reads River cemetery.

"I wish to define our position as Catholics and as citizens of Canada in regard to the question of self-determination for Ireland. Briefly, it is this. If you mean by self-determination a full measure of Home Rule, within the Empire, that is what we stand for both as Catholics and as Canadians. But if you mean by self-determination complete severance from Great Britain and from the Empire, then, however great our sympathy with the people of Ireland, we are not prepared to go as far as that. The Parliament of Canada has put itself on record by an unanimous vote, in favor of Home Rule for Ireland—real Home Rule, not a half measure, but a full measure of Home Rule as I take it such Home Rule, in short, as we enjoy ourselves. Thus far we can go in support of the cause for Ireland at this time, but no further.

"I am here defining for the people of this diocese—I have no right to go beyond its limits—their duty in regard to the movement that has been inaugurated for the independence of Ireland.

"That duty I conceive to be this. As loyal citizens of Canada and of the Empire, we are bound to yield unfaltering allegiance to our King and Parliament We Canadians have no quarrel with the Mother Country, nor cause of quarrel. On the contrary, we have every reason, both on religious and patriotic grounds, to remain steadfast in our loyalty. England is a true Mother to us, and nowhere is the Catholic church freer and more untrammeled in carrying out her God-given mission than under the British flag.

"Let me say, in conclusion, that for myself I am quite satisfied with Kipling's statement of our status as Canadians, in his well known poem,

Our Lady of the Snows:
A nation spoke to a nation,
A queen sent word to a throne.
Daughter am I in my mother's house,
But mistress in my own.
The gates are mine to open,
As the gates are mine to close,
And I abide by my mother house,
Said Our Lady of the Snows:

"We are a nation indeed; we have bought the title and paid for it, with the blood of our best sons. But every motive of loyalty and interest bids us but strengthen the ties that binds us to the Motherland.

"I am not unaware that there are today many patriotic Canadians who no longer accept our status as above outlined. Their ideal is a commonwealth of nations within the Empire, wherein Canada shall stand as a sister nation on a footing of absolute equality with the Motherland. The time may have come when we are to assume that position for, as the poet has it, "The old order changeth, yielding place to new." But, as for me, I have lived the greater part of life under the old order and the new has no attractions for me."

MACDONALD'S CUT BRIER

¶ MACDONALD'S "BRIER" has become a Canadian institution. Smoked by the men who made history. In the bush, on the trail, in mining camps, prospectors' huts, factory yards, on trains, steamships, in the luxurious homes and downtown clubs of our Canadian cities—Macdonald's has always been recognized as the smoke.

¶ MACDONALD'S CUT "BRIER"—the same tobacco but in new form—maintains every Macdonald tradition since 1858, and gives to smokers—more tobacco for the money.
