Was Not Able To Walk For Three Months.

Was Given Up to Die. The Doctor Said So.

Burdock Blood Bitters

Saved Her Life.

Read what Mrs. Wm. Castilloux, Newport, Quebec, has to say about Burdock Blood Bitters:—"Last December I fell very sick after confinement. I was not able to walk for three months, and was given up to die by the doctor. My husband read of the many wonderful cures made by Burdock Blood Bitters, so procured me two bottles. After using it for about ten days, I was able to get around, and could mind my baby without help from anyone, and am now well, and able to do my own work. I told a lady friend of mine who was troubled in the same way, and she used it with equal success. I cannot too highly recommend your medicine, for I know just how good it is, and hope and wish that anyone suffering as I did will give it a trial."

Japanese Playing Cards.

"Japanese playing cards," writes a correspondent who has given some study to the playing cards of different countries, "are unlike those of any other country on earth. In shape they resemble those used in France and other countries on the continent, but they are very much smaller than ordinary cards, being but two inches in length by one in breadth. The backs of the cards are almost invariably black and with true Japanese artistic instinct are pasted over the edges of the cards so as to leave a narrow rim to form a frame on the face of the card. The symbols are stenciled and the card varnished or enameled, thus causing it to be extremely slippery. The pack consists of forty-nine cards, the extra one, which has a plain white face, being used or not at option as a 'joker.'"

HEART DISEASE

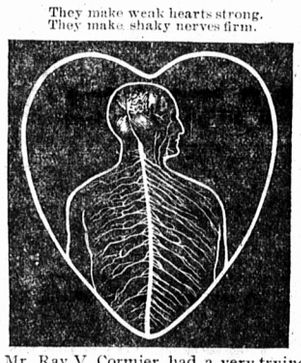
Palpitation of the Heart—Nervous Prostration—Cured by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

They make weak hearts strong.
They make shaky nerves firm.



Mr. Ray V. Cormier had a very trying experience while at College; but, thanks to Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, he has been restored to health. He tells his experience in the following letter to us:—

"Wellington Station, P.E.I., Dec. 3rd, 1903.
"Messrs. The T. Milburn Co., Limited,
"Toronto, Ontario.

"Gentlemen,—Having been cured of a very troublesome disease, I find it my duty to write you a few lines. I was troubled with a very great palpitation of the heart and nervous prostration. I was attacked with it at College, and could not follow up the games of the University without being overcome with fatigue. I could not descend the stairs without resting half-way. I have left College, and am working in a general store, where I found your famous pills. I used three boxes, and am now completely cured; I cannot thank you enough. You may use this letter for the purpose of benefiting anyone who is suffering as I did. My home is in Sackville, N.B., but at present I am on Prince Edward Island.

"I remain, dear sirs, RAY V. CORMIER."

PUTTING IT STRONG.

But Doesn't it Look Reasonable?

This may read as though we were putting it a little strong, because it is generally thought by the majority of people that Dyspepsia in its chronic form is incurable or practically so. But we have long since shown that Dyspepsia is curable, nor is it such a difficult matter as at first appears.

The trouble with Dyspeptics is that they are continually dieting, starving themselves, or going to opposite extreme, or else deluging the already overburdened stomach with "bitters, "after dinner pills," etc., which invariably increase the difficulty even if in some cases they do give a slight, temporary relief. Such treatment of the stomach simply makes matters worse. What the stomach wants is a rest. Now, how can the stomach become rested, recuperated and at the same time the body nourished and sustained.

This is a great secret and this is also the secret of the uniform success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. This is a comparatively new remedy, but its success and popularity leaves no doubt as to its merit.

The Tablets will digest the food anyway, regardless of condition of stomach.

The sufferer from Dyspepsia, according to directions, is to eat an abundance of good, wholesome food and use the tablets before and after each meal, and the result will be that the food will be digested no matter how bad your Dyspepsia may be, because, as before stated, the tablets will digest the food even if the stomach is wholly inactive. To illustrate our meaning plainly, if you take 1,800 grains of meat, eggs or ordinary food and place it in a temperature 98 degrees, and put with it one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets it will digest the meat or eggs almost as perfectly as if the meat was enclosed within the stomach.

The stomach may be ever so weak, yet these tablets will perform the work of digestion and the body and brain will be properly nourished, and at the same time a radical, lasting cure of Dyspepsia will be made because the much-abused stomach will be given, to some extent, a much needed rest. Your druggist will tell you that of all the many remedies advertised to cure Dyspepsia none of them have given so complete and general satisfaction as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and not least in importance in these hard times is the fact that they are also the cheapest and give the most good for the least money.

The Worst Wind of the World.

"What is the worst wind of the world?" said the captain of a trading ship that pokes her nose in almost every spot of the world during her curious wanderings. "Well, I'll tell you first of other winds, so as to lead up to it artistically. I've been through a Kamchatka, which is what they call the storms of that country, and I've seen it blow drifts fifty feet high in an hour. I put in three days in a typhoon, which is the great-grandfather of all the hurricanes. It blew every sail out of the bolt ropes and swept the deck so clean that it looked as if it had been scraped. Down in St. Vincent, in the West Indies, I lay on the beach during a West Indian hurricane, the black storm that sweeps over the Caribbean, and I had to dig my hands into the earth to hold tight.

"But worse than all these is the wind that they call the woolly, or the willy, or the willy willy, according to locality. You get it at its best in the strait of Magellan, but a great part of the country around the southern end of the south temperate regions enjoys its blessings."—New York Press.

Couldn't Find It.

A young man having evolved what he considered a good joke forwarded it to a comic paper, but received no answer. Desirous of ascertaining the fate of his contribution he sent the editor the following letter:

Sir—I have carefully read your paper for the last month, but fail to find any trace of the joke I sent you on the 5th ult.

In due course he received this reply

Sir—In reply to your letter, I deeply sympathize with you, for, since I received your MS. on the 5th ult. I have carefully read it several times, but up to date I, too, have failed to find any trace of the joke referred to.

Beecher and the Medium.

While in England Henry Ward Beecher was entertained by a gentleman who believed in spiritualism and was himself a medium. One day he asked if Beecher would like to talk with the spirit of his father, Dr. Lyman Beecher. Mr. Beecher replied that it would please him immensely. After the seance was over he was asked how it had impressed him, at which, with a twinkle in his eye, Beecher responded, "All I have to say is that if I deteriorate as fast for the first ten years after I am dead as my father has I shall be a stark naked fool."

C. C. RICHARDS & CO.

Dear Sirs,—A few days ago I was taken with a severe pain and contraction of the cords of my leg, and had to be taken home in a rig. I could not sleep for pain, and was unable to put my foot to the floor. A friend told me of your MINARD'S LINIMENT, and one hour from the first application, I was able to walk, and the pain entirely disappeared.

You can use my name as freely as you like, as I consider it the best remedy I have ever used.
