At a recent London wedding the bride wore oyster panne velvet with gold lame train, and her bridesmaids were in Tudor frocks of crimson velvet and gold, with the headdresses of that period.

IMPROVED TEMPERANCE

Sir,—The reports from Ontario and New Brunswick indicate improvement in respect to the temperance of the people; and never a whisper do we hear from Alberta, Saskatchewan, etc., of any desire to return to so called Prohibition. As the majority in this Province has decided to hold on to the Prohibitory Liquor Law, made more workable, it is to be hoped that the Prohibition Government will get busy and show good reasons why P. E. Island should not follow the lead of the larger provinces when Premier Saunders decides to submit the question of Government Control.

'FOR THE COUNTRY BY PARTY'

Sir,—Your advice to the electors of this Province to make a careful study of the policies of both parties, to support strongly the party of whose policy they approve, and to change their minds if they should discover that the policy of their choice is a wrong one, is good. It contrasts favorably with the constant senseless partisanship and continuous abuse of which I see an illustration, day after day in your "esteemed contemporary." Every reader, man or woman, Conservative or Liberal, who reads, thinks and decides independently must approve the attitude of The Guardian.

For my part, I try to get all the information I can from all sources. The speeches of the Leader of the Opposition (Hon. Mr. Bennett) appeal to me. He is "for the country, by the Party," and he criticizes the policy on acts of the Government in a reasonable way, from the Canadian point of view. If we want to maintain and develop Canada, as an integral part of the British Commonwealth of Nations, the policy of the Conservative Party, as presented by the Leader of the Opposition seems to be reasonable and practicable.

HOW IT IS DONE.

Sir,—I see by the papers that after the 20th of this month we will all have to pay interest on our taxes. I have asked the people around here who this person is, who has threatened to do this, but no one seems to have ever heard of him. Then I began to wonder if he was the person to whom "Curiosity", referred in a recent letter in your paper. That writer mentioned an official, a brilliant fellow who only worked part time for the government and he wished to know if he should be paid for full time. Well, if they are one and the same, the answer no doubt is that he spends the forenoon's figuring up the amount of interest we will each have to pay, and that being nearly as hard a job s making us pay will be he will of course be paid for full time. The late government reduced our taxes, but the Saunders government having obtained power by promising us prohibition, and finding that all they have done is to switch a great part of the revenue from liquor into the hands of the bootlegger, and needing money seem determined to make us pay for their mistakes.

Well, we farmers put the Liberals into power and we can just as easily put them out.

NEW COUNCIL AND LIBRARY

Sir,—We all endorse The Guardians congratulations to Dr. Yeo and the candidates for seats in the City Council. At the same time many of us regret that the honorable ambition of all those who did not obtain enough votes, was not gratified. As it is, however, they have this consolation; they have escaped all the responsibility their election would have imposed and the criticisms of which they would, if elected, have been the objects. DAILY WORSHIP—I will extol thee, my God, O King; and I will bless thy name for ever and ever. Every day will I bless thee; and I will praise thy name for ever and ever.—Psalm 145:1.

PRAYER—Lord, I would prevent the dawn of the morning for my hope is in Thee.

BELIEVE ME

Believe me, if all those endearing young charms,
Which I gaze on so fondly today,
Were to change by tomorrow, and fleet in my arms,
Like fairy gifts fading away,
Thou would'st still be ador'd, as this moment thou art,
Let thy lovliness fade as it will,
And around the dear ruin each wish of my heart
Will intwine itself verdantly still.

It is not while beauty and youth are thine own,
And thy cheeks unprofan'd by a tear,
That the fervor and faith of a soul can be known,
To which time will but make thee more dear;
No, the heart that has truly lov'd never forgets.
But as truly loves on to the close
As the sun-flower turns on her god when he sets,
The same look which she turn'd when he rose.

—Moore's Irish Melodies.

MRS. THEOPHILUS MacDONALD

Mrs. Theophilus MacDonald of Kingsboro, Kings County, departed this life on Dec. 28th, in the eighty first year of her age. The close of the earthly life of this good woman is a distinct loss to the community in which she lived during the greater part of her days. The announcement of her passing away brings a pang to the hearts of old and young alike, for all recognized in her a type of true and noble womanhood.

Mrs. MacDonald's maiden name was Ann Leet and in th edays of her early womanhood she made that name a synonym for goodness. Early catching the heavenly vision she realized the truth of the words:

We are not here to dream, to drift
We have hard work to do and loads to lift
Shun not the struggle face it 'tis God's gift.

And with faith in God and good will toward man she lived a life of courage, devotion and love. The poor and the sick found in her a sympathetic friend and a ready helper.

In the records of the first missionary society organized on Eastern Prince Edward Island, her name appears as one of the charter members. To her husband she was a helpmeet in the Divine sense of the word. To her family, she was an ideal mother.

A loyal member of South Lake Christian Church, she loved the house of God, the fellowship of the godly and the precepts of the inspired word. Many ministers of the gospel can testify of her generous heart and her open hand for she delighted in adding to the joys of the men who preached the gospel of life and love.

In her home, we found the old-fashioned type of hospitality, a home of high ideals and of genuine culture. Her last days were unclouded by sickness or pain. In the home of her son, Mr. Joshua MacDonald she was tenderly cared for, beloved and revered. Her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Stewart, was also a frequent visitor at her mother's home. These and the members of the family living abroad have the sympathy of many friends. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. R. H. Morton, pastor of the South Lake Christian Church.

MRS. MARY ANNE McKAY

On Dec. 31st, 1927, at 12.30 there passed to the Great Beyond Mrs. Mary Anne McKay, King Street, Shelburne.

Her maiden name was Mary Anne Squarebriggs, daughter of the late Henry Squarebriggs of Stanley Bridge. She was born on Nov. 7th, 1832 and was the third member of a family of eleven children.

The late Mrs. McKay was unusually blessed with a splendid constitution and enjoyed good health until a short time previous to her death when she began to fail.

Until the last she was ministered to with loving care and devotion by her daughter Cassie who resided with her in the home.

Deceased was a member of the United Church and possessed all the virtues which combine to make a beautiful character.. Death held no fears for her and she would calmly speak of her passing away as of a journey she intended to make and in this case the words, "O Death where is thy sting, O grave where is thy victory" are truly applicable..

During the days that the body lay in the home all creeds and classes were represented in the great throng which paid a last tribute of respect to the memory of one they loved. In evidence of the high esteem in which the deceased was held by the relatives and friends many lovingly manifested their heartfelt sympathy in the presentation of beautiful flowers and telegrams of sympathy.

A short funeral service was held at her home, King Street, Shelburne at 11.30 when the large funeral cortege left for the church in Middle Ohio, Shelburne Co., where the service was held at 2.30 after which she was laid to rest beside her husband and children who predeceased her some years ago.

Two sons and one daughter are left to mourn: Cassie May McKay, Shelburne, N. S., Dr. Gordon McKay Boston, Mass., Henry S. McKay architect, who was on his way from Australia to California and received word of his mothers death by radiogram at sea. Also two brothers: James M. Squarebriggs, Rosuindale Mass., Capt. Henry Squarebriggs, Bridgetown, P. E. I.

Hush blessed are the dead.
In Jesus arms who rest
And lean their weary head
Forever on His breast.

MR. ALBERT SCHURMAN

There passed peacefully away on January 31st at his home in Central Bedeque, Albert Caswell Schurman. The late Mr. Schurman was of Royalist descent, being a great grandson of William Schurman, the first settler of name in Bedeque. Born July 1853, he was in his seventy-fifth year and his long life was lived in the same community, in which he was born, and strange as it may seem from the very room and house in which his birth tock place, he entered into the Great Beyond.

His father was the late Solomon Schurman, of beloved memory, who lived and worked the farm that later passed into the hands of his son. Following in the steps of a Father, so well respected, and vitally interested in the progress of the Bedeque Community, it is not to be wondered at that Mr. Albert Schurman was interested in all things that had the welfare of the Community at heart. He was a great advocate of popular education, and also community industry. For many years he was one of the leaders in the Egg Circle, and also Director of the Dunk River Dairy Co.

Perhaps in his religious life Mr. Schurman's example and piety marks him as one of the stalwarts of the Christian Faith. He was a member for years of the Central Bedeque Baptist Church, and after the death of his Father in 1902, he was ordained a Deacon by that Church. Since that time he has been a consistent officer of the Church, assisting in all its functions, holding its most important offices. In Church affairs his death will mean a real loss to the cause of Christ, for he was broad in his views, and wide in his sympathies. To him the cause of Jesus Christ, under whatever name it might be organized, was very dear, and he was jealous for its success and progress.

In November 1883, he married Miss Phoebe Sproule of Liverpool, Nova Scotia. Five children were born to them, all of whom, save a little baby girl are still living: Irene, now Mrs. A. Baker of Charlottetown, P. E. I.; Helen, now Mrs J. Wade of North Adams, Mass.; Jennie, now Mrs John Lewis of Freetown, P. E. I. and Howard living at home.

On Friday, February 3rd, he was laid to rest in the Baptist Cemetery at Central Bedeque. Although the weather was unfavorable, hundreds of people gathered at the homestead where the funeral service was conducted by his pastor, Rev. Dr. J. J. Sidey, assisted by Rev. Alfred Reynolds of the Centerville United Church. Beautiful floral tributes testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held by the community, and a large company followed his remains to the grave. The pall bearers, were Rufus Bagnall, Colin Schurman, Artemas Schurman, P. McBride, Clifford Wright, and Jonah Lewis.

The sympathy of the entire community and of many people outside the community, has been extended to the bereaved widow, and family. The loss of a good man, is a community loss, and all mourned with the immediate family, the loss of their loved one.
