LEADER OF OPPOSITION SPEAKS.

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—Before a crowded audience last evening, R. L. Borden, Leader of the Opposition spoke with great deliberation and evidently weighed his words carefully. He unhesitatingly reaffirmed his adherence to the National Defence Policy, at outlined in the House of Commons resolution, last March with one single modification, providing that in sudden emergency Canada should be prepared to make grant of money to assist Imperial Defence. "So long as we fly the Empire's Flag in Canada," said the Conservative Leader "We cannot hold aloof from Empire in time of Danger." Loud cheers greeted this statement.

The largest and most inspiring of the Union Evangelistic Prayer Meetings preparatory to Dr Elliot's coming was held in the Basement of the First Methodist Church last evening. The numbers present and the lofty tone of the meeting showed deep and genuine interest in the King's Business Campaign. Rev J. F. Floyd delivered an earnest and helpful address. Eighty ushers and assistants had been invited to meet the executive and receive instructions and almost every one of these was on hand.

It is said that this will probably be the last season the steamer Bonavista will be engaged on the route between St John's and Montreal. She is getting a pretty old ship and several times there has been talk of her being disclassed, but nothing has been done in it heretofore. Her steaming capacity is diminished, as her latest survey proposed a reduction in the boiler capacity, so that she will probably be converted into a collier. It is not yet known what steamer will be subsituted for her on this route.—Sydney Post.

What looked like a practical Hallowe'en trick happened at the home of one of the residents on Elm Avenue, Saturday evening. Just as the shades of night were falling, the lady of the house opened the kitchen door, leading to the porch, when she noticed a small box with the cover partly removed, and through an opening the head of some live animal kept bobbing up and down. Presently there was a noise and a very familiar barn yard sound of quack, quack, then the discovery was made that some one had left a fine large live duck. Later on the lady solved the mystery when it became known that her husband had just returned from the country and a good lady had sent this beautiful bird from Tryon to try its fate in City life. Comfortable quarters are now being provided and after a few weeks of careful stall feeding this bird will end its career and it is hinted that some of The Guardian staff will have the extreme pleasure of participating in the closing scenes.

New Wonderland certainly gave an abundance of entertainment last evening. The old Army Chest was simply exquisite—the story one of unusual interest; the photography the work of an artist. The other pictures were equally good, and the song by F. Louise Tufts a gem. Bess Lyle was perfect; the acme of grace and beauty, and has never been equalled here in her rendition of the Butterfly and Serpentine dances. She is a beautiful and complete entertainment in herself.

It has recently come to the attention of the Post Office Inspector that the number of infractions against the Postal Regulations have of late assumed serious proportions and strict scrutiny has been ordered of all newspaper packets and other parcels passing through the mails in this Province. The offences discovered consist of enclosing letters and other matter inside of newspapers and pre-paying them at the transient newspaper rate of postage, also letters are found in a number of parcels. The penalty for offences of this nature is a fine of not less than ten dollars and not exceeding forty dollars. These parcels are all being sent to the Dead Letter Office and the Inspector warns the public that prosecutions will be instituted in every case in order ;to at once stop these illegal practices.

Prof C. M. Wright arrived Monday evening on the Northumberland from Halifax, to take up his work as Organist and Choir Master of the First Methodist Church, and Director of The Charlottetown School of Music. Prof Wright was chosen from among a great number of applicants for the position, and the high credentials which he presents would justify his appointment. As Fellow of Incorporated Guild of Church Musicians, and Licentiate of Victoria College of Musicians, Mr Wright has been most successful in piano, voice, violin, organ and theory. In speaking of his work at St George's Church, Halifax, the rector, Rev H. W. Cunningham, says: "We have always had professors of the Halifax Conservatory of Music as our directors, but though coming here to Halifax with a great musical name, they have never done the work or take the personal interest that Mr Wright has. As an organist and teacher of organ it may suffice that I say that we have a pupil of Mr Wright's as our organist—a lad of sixteen years of age—the very best we ever had; and was chosen by us from among seven or eight other applicants last Easter. If he resigns St. Paul's, we cannot pay him enough to keep him." Mr Wright specially excels in voice culture and certainly the First Methodist Church and the community at large are to be congratulated on his appointment.

The regular monthly meeting of the P. E. Island Poultry Association was held in the Prince of Wales College last evening. It was announced that the services of A. T. Gillurt had been obtained to deliver lectures at the coming winter show, Mr Gillurt is one of the greatest experts on standard bred poultry raising in Canada, having charge of the Poultry Department of the Central Experimental Farms, Ottawa. His lectures will be both interesting and instructive. The matter of going to Summerside with the birds exhibited here in January was discussed, and all present at the meeting agreed to allow their birds to go, could suitable arrangements be made with parties in Summerside. Twelve new members were elected before the meeting adjourned. The entries for the show opened November 1st. All intending exhibitors must join before the first Tuesday in December, as the entries close on the 15th of the month. It was emphasized at last night's meeting that no exception would be made to that rule.

Characteristic Millinery

EVER THINK OF IT? You do not want to wear the same sort of millinery as every other lady on the street. You may want something along the same general lines as most ladies are wearing, but you want your own hat to be individual, to have a something about it that no other has, to express your own taste, your own identity.

Skilful, trained, artistic designers help you to this result here, and you pay no more.

Mattress Making

I have the only power machine in the Province for picking and dusting old hair, wool, flock and other mattresses. Any kind made over equal to new a moderate cost.
