Opening lead — jack of diamonds.

One of the important items in good dummy play in about maximum pressure on the defenders and give them every opportunity to make a mistake.

To show what we mean, let's take a look at this hand. Declarer wins the diamond lead with the ace and tackles trumps. Two rounds of spades reveal West has a trump trick coming.

So first let's suppose we hand West his trump trick right at this point. He takes it and returns a diamond. Eventually, South loses a club trick and goes down one because the hearts don't break and the jack doesn't drop.

Now let's try another tack. Suppose after leading the AK of spades we first cash the diamond king and then give West his queen of spades.

This is only a slight deviation, but let's watch the effect on West. He can't lead a diamond now because it gives declarer a ruff and discard, eliminates the club loser, and makes the slam.

So West has to decide whether to lead back a heart or a club. Of the two, the club return would certainly look more dangerous to most players. This is because declarer might easily have KJ or K10 of clubs among his treasures and thus avoid a club loser because of the lead.

More than likely West will return a low heart on the basis that, is his partner has either the ten or queen of hearts, nothing would be lost by the return, where as a club return requires East to have two club honors or the king.

But the effect of the heart return, as matters turn out, is that it gives declarer an extra heart trick and a vulnerable slam contract as well. And that ain't tin!

The point is that by cashing the diamond king first, declarer removes an important exit card from West's hand, and at the same time provides West with an opportunity for error.

A trick gained by a defensive slip counts just as much as one scored by sheer power.

Senator Suggests Holding '67 World Fair In Montreal

By KEN METHERAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

BRUSSELS (CP) — Senator Mark Drouin, Speaker of the Canadian Senate, said Monday Canada should mark the anniversary of Confederation by holding a world fair in Montreal in 1967.

The senator said a brief outlining of the advantages of such an affair now is in the hands of Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

"I believe a fair would be a grand thing for our country and I intend to do everything I possibly can to help bring it about," the tall, handsome Quebec lawyer said in an interview at the Canadian pavilion at the Brussels World Fair.

The senator was attending the fair as the official representative of the Canadian government for the special ceremonies Monday marking Canada's national day.

PROPOSES MONTREAL SITE

Senator Drouin said he believes Montreal would be an ideal site for a world fair because it is in the centre of a large population area and easily accessible to visitors from the United States. Toronto also met these requirements but "naturally my personal preference would be Montreal."

He said he is convinced a world fair would prove of "tremendous" benefit to Canada. "I believe in publicity and certainly a fair would be the best publicity possible. It would be of immense value to our trade and would of course benefit the tourist industry."

The senator congratulated Glen Bannerman, commissioner - general of the Canadian pavilion, for doing an "immense" job in telling the complex story of Canada within the bounds of a limited budget.

"The story of Canada is difficult to tell but I believe the pavilion succeeds in its main purpose of telling a complete and honest story."

PROGRAM SKIMPY

He recalled that considerable criticism had been expressed in Canada about the display and he agreed that he personally would like to have seen a more elaborate program. "For one thing I'd like to see more working models in the pavilion but that is an expensive undertaking."

Senator Drouin spent about 90 minutes touring the Canadian exhibits and speaking with the 48 university students who are acting as pavilion guides.

Sees Need For More Roads In Newfoundland

OTTAWA (CP)—The ferry William Carson can't operate efficiently until Newfoundland has more roads, James McGrath (PC—St. John's East) said in the Commons Friday.

Mr. McGrath welcomed the news that the ferry had completed a trial run into Port aux Basques, Nfld., but suggested that its use as an auto ferry between that port and North Sydney, N.S., will be hampered by the island's lack of roads.

If the Carson can't operate efficiently out of Port aux Basques, he suggested to Transport Minister Hees, the Newfoundland port of Argentia should be used. More people would benefit.

The Carson has been using Argentia while Port aux Basques has been put in condition to take the big vessel, a project hampered by many delays.

Mr. McGrath added that since the government-owned CNR is the only rail transport system in Newfoundland, profit should not be the main consideration for additional services. He also urged th[illegible] additional landing strip be [illegible]out 30 miles from Torbay [illegible]t, which services St. John[illegible]

Later, C[illegible]esley W. Carter (L—Burin-Burgeo) said the Carson had been built specially for the Port aux Basques run and should stay there. Argentia was an American naval base requiring special permission to gain exit or entrance. That was not a proper situation for CNR terminal.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
