Leader Of Pearl Harbor Attack Dies Defeated

PEARL HARBOR, July 16 — (AP) — Death amidst humbling defeat at Saipan of the Japanese admiral who led the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941 added weight today to Nippon's Western Pacific reverses even as Tokyo betrayed increasing concern over Guam.

Admiral Nimitz disclosed last night that Vice Admiral Chuichi Nagumo, who directed the blow which opened the Pacific war, perished along with 16,000 other Japanese on Saipan.

Nimitz in an earlier communique announced the ninth straight day of task force attacks on the former U. S. outpost of Guam and last night the Tokyo Radio reported battleship and carrier plane blows extending these into the 50th day.

The enemy admiral died the day before Saipan was completely conquered and the day after thousands of Japs were slain in a suicidal counter-attack on Tanapag.

"On the same day (July 7), one Rear Admiral Yano lost his life," the communique added.

"Vice Admiral Nagumo was in command of the Japanese forces which attacked Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941 and was in command of the Japanese carrier task force that was destroyed in the battle of Midway. Prior to his present duty, he was commander of the Sasebo naval base (in Japan, recently raided by B-29s.)"

Meanwhile, hungry, determined vanguards of 45,000 trapped Japanese troops in British New Guinea were smashed with heavy losses in a preliminary attempt to break Allied encirclement, but a well-planned enemy offensive appeared imminent today.

Headquarters announced the bloody checking of a Japanese assault in force Wednesday at dawn against Allied outposts, 21 miles east of Aitape. The conflict, on a jungle-choked battleground, produced some of the most savage fighting of the entire New Guinea campaign.

A headquarters spokesman said the attackers were checked after severe fighting, and fragmentary battlefield reports made no mention of a break through.

W. M. S. Rally at Wiltshire

The Women's Missionary Society of the United Church of Canada held a rally at North Wiltshire on July 6th, under the direction of three Presbyterial officers, Mrs. Wm. Clarke, Mrs. W. J. F. Easton and Mrs. J. F. Easton.

The devotional exercises were conducted by the Wheatley River Auxiliary, the theme being "The Bible, our Guide."

All joined in singing "O Word of God Incarnate." It was pleasing to have this new Auxiliary take this period and to hear the young ladies do their parts so reverently. These exercises closed with the hymn, "Unto The Hills" and prayer.

Mrs. Wm. Clark then took the chair. Mrs. Bruce Deacon kindly welcomed the delegates and Mrs. Stanley Newman, Kingston, graciously read a resolution commending Mrs. E. R. Woodside, auxiliary from the surrounding districts were represented with a good attendance.

Mrs. W. Livingstone read a message from the Presbyterial President, Mrs. E. R. Woodside.

Reports were heard from the different Presbyterial officers regarding the activities of this Society.

Mrs. L. Murray and Mrs. S. Newman conducted a dialogue, "They Tell Me", which was very instructive.

The treasurer reported that the Dominion Board is asking for $100,000 more to carry on the work, which is about $8,000 more for the Maritimes.

If each member would increase her giving even a little, this could be accomplished.

The literature was displayed by Mrs. Murray and many free leaflets were on hand. The Question Box was conducted by Mrs. Easton and interesting discussions held.

A committee of five was appointed to call on the Attorney-General, to discuss the temperance situation. Meeting closed with the benediction by Mrs. Seaman.

The ladies of Wiltshire served a delicious lunch in the vestry of the church, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the visitors.

At the evening meeting the Cornwall Auxiliary conducted the devotional exercises. Mrs. W. Livingstone in the chair. All joined in singing "Breathe On Me Breath Of God."

After the scripture reading and prayer Mrs. F. Howatt gave a reading on "Love." Mrs. J. F. Easton then took the chair.

A solo, "Far Around the World Thy Children Sing Their Song" (Dr. Mathew) was sung by Rev. L. M. Murray, Hunter River. Mrs. L. M. Murray was the guest speaker and took as her theme, "Blessed Faithful." She gave an inspiring address on the Conference Branch, held recently in Sackville, N. B. She compared it to being on the hill-top, as it was such a spiritual uplift. She told of the work of Dr. Ida Scudder, a noted medical missionary, who is counted among the leading surgeons of India. She also spoke of Dr. Florence Murray, who, for years did medical missionary work in Korea, but at present is working in Halifax. The following resolutions were presented by the committee: Whereas we at this Rally feel the tremendous need of more religious education among our girls and boys— Be it resolved that we stress the use of the programmes which our church has prepared in Trail Ranger programmes for boys and O. G. T. programmes for girls. Whereas the liquor traffic is fast becoming a problem which must be squarely faced and whereas we feel the enforcement of our present Prohibition Law would go a long way towards the betterment of conditions on Prince Edward Island— Be it resolved that this Rally ask our Attorney-General to make a special effort toward the enforcement of same— And whereas we feel that temperance education will help greatly in curbing the drinking of alcoholic liquors and the smoking of cigarettes among our young boys and girls— Be it resolved that every day school and Sunday School see that temperance is taught regularly— Be it resolved that the thanks of the Rally be extended to the ladies of N. Wiltshire United Church for their very kind hospitality, also to the speaker, who brought us a message which was both helpful and inspirational, also to the choir and Rev. Mr. Murray for his solo. Meeting closed with the benediction. COLOR IS FEATURE BY DOROTHY ROE Associated Press Writer NEW YORK, July 14 — (CP) — Within a radius of two blocks on New York's teeming Seventh Avenue buyers, designers and the fashion press are deciding on next winter's styles. In crowded showrooms weary models are parading the future Sunday best dresses while designers suffer from the well-known "first night" stage fright of playwrights, while buyers nibble their pencils and fashion writers scribble furiously to tell the folks back home — all about it. Preview of the fall modes, as interpreted by America's increasingly conservative designers, show that color will be rampant this winter, with softly tailored suits in high shades adding gaiety to the landscape. There's a luxury note about the new fall clothes, which are increasingly feminine, slimmer than ever, with a tendency toward back bustle bows and the "vertical" silhouette. Suits depart from the mannish cut and go to the dressmaker type, with jackets slightly longer, deftly fitted and cut often without revers, but with scolloped detail at the neckline. They are shown in such light-hearted shades as heather pink, heather blue, sinia gold, mauve and clove green, all in superb tweeds and virgin wools, usually worn with collared blouses of matching jersey, hats and gloves of matching tweed.

Junior clothes, for the college set, make a valiant effort to get the girls out of their beloved blue jeans and into smart trouser pleated skirts and less sloppy sweaters, knee-length shorts and skirts, with skirts that can be buttoned on in a hurry for going to class, trick pinnafore and smooth date dresses. CHELTON PERSONALS Mr. Frank Murray of Sackville has been spending his vacation at his home in Chelton. Mrs. Edgar Doull and daughter, Laura, left recently for U. S. A. where they will visit friends and relatives. Miss Winnie Burns of Charlottetown is visiting here, guest of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pearson. The many friends of Mrs. David

Pearson have regretted to learn of her illness. Mrs. Charles Schurman of Chelton is visiting at the home of Mrs. James MacQuarrie, Searletown. Miss Areta Gardiner has left her home here for Summerside where she has accepted a position with R. T. Holman Ltd. Mrs. Calvin Clark of Halifax is visiting here, guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clark. Mrs. Fred Court and daughter, Rita and Gwen, are spending some time here, guests of Mrs. Court's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pearson. The Clemeth Nickerson spent a short furlough at his home here. Miss Lucille Nickerson of Halifax is spending some time here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nickerson.

"I guess it's up to me!"

Now that I can go I'm not going to stick around and let the other fellows do it.

Bill and Jack went over last week, and Fred's been over there a year. Now it's my chance.

It's going to take months of training before I can get fighting fit, so I'd better get moving today.

Yes sir! I'm going now, to tell Dad and Mom that I'm on my way to sign up.
