Keep the Moths Out.

The surest method of preserving furs, woollen goods, etc., from the attack of the moth pest is to use a

LePiage Moth Proof Bag.

These bags are constructed so as to keep moths out. They are strong, convenient and large enough to take several fur coats, etc. We have two sizes 50 and 75 cents each. We would like to show you how they do it. See window.

CHARLOTTETOWN GUARDIAN

SATURDAY APRIL 27, 1906.

THE HARDWORKING SENATE.

The Dominion Parliament assembled at Ottawa on March 8th. From that date to April 26th inclusive was a period of forty-one days. During that period the Canadian Senate sat for fifteen days. This fact will be somewhat assuring to those who fear that the venerable Senators may not allow themselves sufficient repose during their autumn labors. To further assure any who may be in doubt as to the danger from overwork in the Red Chamber we give below the full official record of the fifteenth day's sitting as printed by "S. E. Dawson printer to the King's Most Excellent Majesty." Here is the record:

Second Session—Tenth Parliament.
No. 15. Wednesday, April 25, 1906.
SENATE.

Ottawa, Wednesday, April 25, 1906.

The Speaker took the Chair at 4 o'clock p. m.

Prayers and routine proceedings.

The Senate adjourned until tomorrow at 3 p. m.

The history of the day is told in these seven brief paragraphs. The first paragraph tells that this is the second session of the tenth Parliament. The second paragraph gives the number of the day's sitting and the date. The third paragraph is the one word "Senate," a word which none the less expresses much of wisdom. The fourth paragraph is a repetition of the second with the important difference that "Ottawa" is substituted for "No. 15." The fifth paragraph reports the important fact that the Speaker took the Chair. It will be a source of satisfaction to the country that the Chair is still there, that no one has purloined it and that its rightful occupant sat in it at 4 o'clock. The sixth paragraph tells of prayers and routine proceedings. The seventh paragraph reaches the climax of the adjournment.

There were last session some 82 Senators. They received for indemnity and mileage $211,404. They are served by 24 permanent officers, whose salaries range from $800 to $4,000 each, the average being $1000. There are also 15 permanent messengers on yearly pay like the officers, their salaries averaging about $700. Besides there is a sessional and extra staff of 22 pages, messengers, official and synoptic reporters. The staff thus consists of 56 persons. It will be seen that the Senators are not left entirely without assistance in their arduous labors. Last year the cost of the Senate in indemnity to its members and for salaries to staff and contingencies was $354,231. This is equal to the entire revenue of the Province of Prince Edward Island. But then we must remember how hard the Senators work!

One result of the San Francisco fire is to be a general advance in the rates for fire insurance in the United States at least.

All Canadians would be loyally gratified if the King could accept the invitation to visit Canada, but we fear this is more than doubtful. A visit to Canada would almost certainly involve the necessity of visiting the United States, if only to avoid a seeming discourtesy. Then India and Australia would be sure to demand a like royal recognition. His Majesty's domains are too large to be visited by the King in person, especially now that he is no longer young.

CANADA'S OFFERING DECLINED.

Very shortly after the earthquake in San Francisco the Canadian Parliament on the recommendation of the Governor General in Council unanimously voted $100,000 towards the relief of the sufferers. The donation was dictated by humane and generous impulses and also by fraternal feelings toward the Government and people of the United States. Hon. Mr. Fielding has now informed Parliament that the offered contribution is declined by the Government of the United States on the ground that it is not needed. In other words the great Republic is abundantly rich enough to care for the sufferers.

Still the incident is an awkward one. The people of San Francisco are gratefully accepting contributions from Canadian cities, and San Francisco had liberally helped St. John, Ottawa, and other Canadian cities when they in the past had suffered from fire. So we see that what a Canadian citizen or city may do the Canadian Government may not do in this case. It is regrettable that our ministers of state had not first inquired of the Washington authorities whether a donation in aid of the San Francisco sufferers would be acceptable. This would have saved the situation and prevented Parliament from having committed to what now appears almost a breach of international courtesy. But Canada is not alone in this matter. Germany made an offer to send money which the President declined to accept.

It is given out that Sir Wilfred Laurier was four years ago offered a peerage with a seat in the House of Lords. He preferred to remain Premier of Canada, which is at once a more influential and a more lucrative position.

At a recent meeting of the Royal Colonial Institute Hon. J. G. Jenkins, Agent General for South Australia read a paper on the financial position of the Commonwealth. He said it was true that Australia had borrowed $2,135,000,000 but she had great assets, among them being 15,000 miles of Government railways which had cost $670,000,000 and last year earned $60,000,000, being over 9 per cent interest on all the capital, after paying all repairs, renewals and all other expenses. This is a fine showing compared with Canadian Government railways, which do not pay their operating expenses none without the interest.

HE FEELS LIKE A NEW MAN

He Tells How Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Braced Him up, Cured His Indigestion and Made a New Man of Him.

"If I could only live without eating I should be perfectly happy," says the poor dyspeptic, "but the moment I put a morsel of food in my stomach the trouble begins." That's just it. So long as the stomach is empty there is no pain, but the moment it is filled with food, then all the trouble begins. Now this is just where Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets score. They assist in digesting the food thereby giving the tired, worn out stomach a rest.

"I was troubled with indigestion for years," writes Mr. Charles W. McBeth, of Riggles, Sheffield, Sunbury Co., N. B., "and could find nothing to cure it. Everything I ate seemed to lay like a weight on on my chest and made me feel real bad. But I was advised to try Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and I found them a wonderful medicine for they cured me completely."

EDITOR'S MAIL.

TUBERCULOSIS.

New York State Asylum for Incipient Tuberculosis.

April 23 '06.

DEAR SIR,—I have noted with interest, the accounts given in your paper from time to time of the progress being made by the Anti Tuberculosis Association. I was especially interested in the resolutions passed at a recent meeting, account of which I read in The Guardian dated April 18 regarding disinfection of houses where patients have died and forbidding expectoration on streets.

If the physicians and people in authority really get interested in the matter and educate tubercular patients so that they won't have expectorate anywhere but in a receptacle provided for the purpose, which shall be burned at least after being used for twenty four hours—(never longer than that,) then the work of prevention will be well established.

I am enclosing under separate cover a half dozen reprints of an article written by our Superintendent which the officers of the Anti T. B. Association might be interested in. I haven't their addresses or I might mail them direct, but I notice most people get what they want by applying to The Guardian. I am simply falling in line. I wish you continued success in all the good work you are doing.

The Guardian is always a welcome visitor here.

Yours Truly

MACADAMISING.

SIR,—Some one thinks that Brighton Road should be macadamized adding to the pleasure of those taking advantage of the Park, drives, etc., etc., etc.

If the authorities would take a pointer and do necessary work first they would not be so severely criticized for adding to their borrowing power. Fitzroy Street, west of Weymouth, is in a disgraceful condition.

No doubt our City Councillors are aware of the fact that every patient taken to the P. E. I. Hospital has to be conveyed over this almost impassable thoroughfare. I think the trustees of the P. E. I. H. and our city doctors are very lax that they do not bring their influence to bear and have this work placed first on the list.

The approach to the Charlottetown Hospital is also in need of immediate attention. If any of our Councillors wish I will give them a drive over said streets in my ambulance which will give them some idea what hospital patients have to endure.
