—Y'S MEN'S MEETING— The first supper meeting of the Summerside Y's Men's Club for the season was held Thursday evening with the President, Mr. George T. Clarke in the chair. P. O. Neave is a fluent and interesting speaker and showed himself to be completely familiar with his subject, which was his own country. He reviewed the history of New Zealand tracing it from the time of its aboriginal inhabitants to the present day. New Zealand leads the world in social legislation and he spoke with pride of the work done in the fields of public health and education. At present there is a Labor Government in power. The people have responded splendidly to the defence of democracy and even the Maori tribesmen have enlisted in large numbers. A vote of thanks was moved by H. T. Holman Jr., and seconded by W. A. Currie and tendered by the President. Before the meeting dispersed all joined in a sing-song. During the business session considerable correspondence was dealt with.—S.

Clerk's Report At Meeting of Maritime Synod

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Oct. 9—Rev. Dr. Baird, Clerk of Synod of the Presbyterian Church, submitted the following report at the Maritime Synod yesterday which was received, and approved, and ordered engrossed in the minutes.

Total ministers: 87; last year: 88.

Membership — Familes, 11,040, 136 loss

In Sunday Schools, 8369, 620 loss.

The Synod:— Budget $23,456, $3780 increase.

Synod Budget Allocation, $38,000.

Amount raised, $23,465.

Am't short of allocation, $14,535.

Percent of allocation raised, 61.75 making the Synod third among the Synods of the Church, British Columbia being first with 76.65 per cent and Alberta second with 63.54 per cent.

Budget Givings and Grants for 1941

The Synod as a whole raised, $23,465, grants, $12,977, $10,488 surplus.

Checked and compared with last year, in this matter of giving to the Budget on the one hand, and getting back in grants, the Synod's position is greatly improved. Our surplus of giving over getting a year ago was $5484; this year our surplus of Budget givings over amounts received back in grants is $10,488, an improvement of $5004. The total grants a year ago were $14,191 this year $12,977, an improvement of $1214. It is to be hoped that this healthy and hopeful trend will be maintained. The dangerous downward slope to which I referred a year ago has been decisively checked; we have reversed the practice of former years, and are now giving more and asking less our giving being up $3780, and our asking down $1214.

The amount received in grants is distributed over 49 Mission Fields and Augmented charges, there being of these 2 in the Presbytery of Newfoundland; 3 in Prince Edward Island; 5 in Cape Breton; 6 in Miramichi; 6 in Halifax and Lunenburg; 12 in Saint John; and 15 in Pictou the smallest grant being to Pictou Island, $19.00, and the largest to Fontenelle, $750.00.

Touching the slight decline in membership from 20,170 to 20,118, a loss of 52, it can easily be explained by appeal to figures in another column namely that showing additions on profession of faith. As a rule our membership is recruited largely, in many churches almost wholly, from the older members of the Sabbath Schools and Young Peoples' Societies. In many congregations Young Peoples' Societies have lost their entire male, and in many cases many of their female members, through enlistment and in acceptance of war service positions which have taken them away from home. Hence the stream of new membership which has carried us upward from 16,802 in 1925, to 20,170 in 1941, has been, owing almost entirely to the war, dried up at its source. The wonder is that our loss is not greater than it is. And indeed it is a loss that occasions in us some measure of pride.

Presbyterianism and Pacifism

Presbyterianism has never been guilty of the heresy of pacifism. No Presbyterian minister can preach pacifism, or be a pacifist except at the peril of losing his place in the church. The Confession of Faith, which he must accept at his ordination, and by which his Presbytery exercising its episcopal functions can discipline him, expressly declares that Christians "may lawfully, now under the New Testament, wage war UPON JUST AND NECESSARY OCCASIONS."

This steadying and noble declaration, true alike to Scripture and to reason and common sense, so far as I am aware has no parallel in the standards of any other Christian communion. Controversy as to the rightness of war, cannot arise in the Presbyterian church, when it can be shown that it is to be waged "upon just and necessary occasion." With this as their standard and background it is not to be wondered at that we have had a falling off in the number of our young men joining the church, and I repeat that it is not without some measure of pride and satisfaction that we mark and record the loss.

As to the number of ministers, that figure also is down, it will have been noted in the summary given. Not a few of our congregations are shepherdless; but this, too, is due to the war, and to enlistments are chaplains or as combatants, by several of our younger ministers. But in this also we give thanks and take pride.

It is to be hoped that the various Presbyteries, and especially our ministers and elders, will make close study of the figures herewith presented. We should all strive to strengthen the things that remain. That it is a crisis time for the church as well as for the nation and the Empire we do not need to be told; all must recognize that Christian Philosophy, and Christian truth, as well as the Christian church, and Christian civilization, are challenged and are on trial as never before. At the beginning of the war, several ill-advised clerics, blind to this fact, publicly declared their opposition to participation, and quite recently in our midst a church leader of another communion has been inadvertently apologizing for German atrocities and Japanese treachery by blackening Britain through crying sin leth at the door, thus heartening our enemies and discouraging our friends and ourselves.

A Call to Courage and Devotion

Fortunately our clergy have seen with clearer eye, and have more truly apprehended the Christian ethic and its implications. It is to be hoped that they, and all to whom they minister, will continue to do so. The days are great days—great with opportunity for service, for prayer, for faith, work and worship, for sacrificial giving and self-surrender. True the number of our workers, and naturally of our worshippers, may have been diminished through our having sent so many to the front, but this should mean that their work, and activities, and offerings, should if possible, be taken over by those of us who remain at home. Can this be done? There is no saying it cannot, until we have tried and failed.

Victor Hugo in his immortal discription of the battle of Waterloo, says of Napoleon's cuirassiers who so nearly broke the centre of Wellington's army: "They belonged to that class of men who, when diminished in number, increase in courage."

May that be our spirit as a Synod today, and through all the days to come.

Presbyterianism in Saint John

In closing a word on the origin of Presbyterianism in Saint John, where the Synod meets for the first time in fifteen years. It is a fact not without interest today when we have been speaking of the need of the church lending its aid to our armed forces, to recall the fact that the first Presbyterian church in this city, if not in the Province, had its origin in a meeting of a company of Militia associated with the British army. The meeting and the action taken is a matter of record, and record is as follows:

Saint John, October 28th, 1783.

"Proceedings of the 22nd Company of Saint John's Militia, Captain Horton in the Chair.

"RESOLVED.— That as a considerable number of the inhabitants of this place are educated in the Principles of the National Church of Scotland, application be made, for ourselves and others, for public grounds to be laid out for Burying Grounds, and erecting a church for those of that persuasion, with every other encouragement to the National Church of that Loyal Kingdom."

Pioneers

It will be seen by marking the above date that slightly more than five months had passed from the time of the landing of the Loyalists. Among these, as well as in the Army, were many of Scottish and Presbyterian background and training. The grant of land asked for was made in June of the following year, but previous to this date, on the 18th of May the first anniversary of the landing of the Loyalists, the Presbyterians of the city had convened a meeting and formally organized themselves into a congregation. From that day until the present, a period of 158 years, Presbyterianism has been a factor in the life of the city and of the Province. The church originally founded, it is true, in later years, swung away from the original standards, and chose to associate itself with a new organization but prior to this event, children of the parent church had been born and had grown strong in the form of other congregations throughout the city, and these, not willing to let the old flag fall, and cleaving still to the Confession of Faith of the pioneer fore-fathers, and to the Presbyterian name, catechisms and form of Church Government, have carried on to the present day. The shining entail is therefore, notwithstanding defections, unbroken, for as the Lord Chancellor of the Privy Council in giving judgment in one of church cases said, it is not a majority vote or a show of hands in an Assembly or other church court, but the acceptance and the maintenance of certain doctrines and standards of belief that make a church.

Official Recognition and Growth

Ecclesiastically we are, we feel as a Synod, in the line of a great succession. We have a goodly heritage. We have no desire for change. We have made some progress since meeting in Saint John fifteen years ago. At that time our claim to use the name The Presbyterian Church in Canada was in dispute. It is no longer so. The high courts of the realm settled that issue, and Parliament felt constrained to alter and did alter, in view of the court decisions, the section of the Act, which had unjustly laid restraint upon us in the matter of the use of the name. We are no longer fettered in this respect, and no longer ago than last March, the Legislature of the Province of New Brunswick has granted its incorporation for this Province of all our churches, not as individual units, or as congregational churches, but as congregations bound in a common bond and fellowship, as associated with, and as part of The Presbyterian Church in Canada.

In the matter of our membership growth we have also cause for thankfulness. Meeting in Saint John in 1927, it was 16,927; it is now, with the slight shrinkage due to the war already noted, 20,118, a gain of 3,291 in the fifteen year period. We await the announcement of coming Census bulletins with expectance, but whether these show that our numbers are up or down in the Dominion and in the Synod, we shall hold to the old standards, and walk in the former ways, seeking always to merit and deserve the blessing of Him whose we are and Whom we strive to serve.

The latter resolution reads as follows: "Whereas we are disgusted and disillusioned with the attitude of our present political leaders relative to the liquor traffic, therefore be it resolved ,that we as a district urge our Baptist people to join with other religious bodies in using their political privileges and responsibilities to support any political party which will take the strongest definite action in removing the menace of the liquor traffic from our country;

"FURTHER, that copies of this resolution be sent to the leaders of the C. C. F., Conservative and Liberal Parties."

Eastern Kings Carry On-Canada Corps

The regular monthly meeting of the Eastern King's Carry-On-Canada Corps was held at Souris on salvage committee reported that September 28th with the president, Mr. A. F. MacQuaid, in the chair, the car loaded at Elmira under the supervision of the eastern section of the Corps netted the sum of $191.36. Mr. W. C. Wright, chairman of the entertainment Committee in submitting his report of the warehouse dances held during the summer announced a profit of $679.78 with several small bills yet to be paid. Mr. Wright was congratulated on the splendid report of his committee, and the thanks of the Corps go to all who helped make these functions so successful and especially to Matthew & McLean Ltd for the free use of their new warehouse.

To continue its money raising campaign the Corps decided that their weekly card parties for the fall and winter months would be resumed in MacQuaid's hall beginning on October 13th.

The acknowledgement by the Red Cross national War Appeal Committee of the donation by the Corps of $100.00 was read by the secretary, as was also a communication from the president of the Souris branch of the Red Cross acknowledging receipt of $110.66, the proceeds of the first car of salvage loaded by the Corps.

The matter of sending smokes to the boys overseas was discussed. But inasmuch as many of the addresses had changed since being used last year for overseas parcels from the Corps it was decided that the list should be revised. All relatives of soldiers serving overseas who were residents of Eastern Kings are requested to send or bring the overseas addresses to either Mr. M. C. West of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Souris, or Mr. M. J. MacQuaid, Souris.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned with the singing of the National Anthem.

Polish Diplomat Gives Interesting Address

Tells Story of Poland; Was greatly interested In Visit to Scene of Anne Books.

A large crowd of people attended in the High School Auditorium last evening to hear Mr. Victor Podoski, Polish Minister to Canada, tell the story of the tragedy of Poland. The first country to be attacked in this war and completely overrun by two powerful enemies, Poland has never surrendered and today although geographically conquered she has a fighting force of two hundred thousand men.

In spite of everything Poland has produced not one traitor who will act as the head of puppet government. Poland had lost her body but she has saved her honor and her faith in God.

Mayor Lidstone was the chairman of the evening and called on Premier Campbell who introduced the distinguished speaker. Premier Campbell said Mr. Podoski's speaking tour had been arranged by the Canadian Clubs and as there were no Canadan Clubs on the Island this Province was not included but when he heard Mr. Podoski was to be in the Maritimes he wired him and invited him to come here. Premier Campbell said the speaker's story of Poland should make us aware of our good fortune in being spared so far and that each civilian should realize the least he could do would be to contribute to the success of the coming victory loan."

At the first of his speech, Mr. Podoski spoke of his trip to Summerside from Charlottetown with Mr. B. Graham Rogers. He spoke of the beauty of the Island and of its apparent prosperity judging from its fine homes. He was particularly interested in his visit to Cavendish and to the scenes of the novels of L.M. Montgomery. Every little girl in Poland before the war had one of the Anne books. He had gone in for a swim at Cavendish and found it quite invigorating and not at all cold.

Mr. Podoski is the first minister of a foreign country to visit Summerside. Yesterday evening he was entertained at dinner by the mayor and town council at the Clifton. At Summerside Mr. Podoski met two of his own country people, Dr. and Mrs. Bandler of Alberton. After the lecture two motion pictures were shown "the blitz" and "Poland will never die." S.

Buck After Seat On Control Board

TORONTO, Oct. 8—(CP)—Tim Buck, Canadian Communist party leader, will seek a seat on the 1943 Toronto Civic Board of Control, he announced today, less than 24 hours after his release from Don jail here where he had been held with 16 other Communists.

They had been in jail since Sept. 25 when they surrendered to Royal Canadian Mounted Police here after having been sought since 1940 as members of an illegal organization, the Communist Party of Canada.

Release of Buck and his companions came yesterday on orders from Justice Minister St. Laurent.

In the 1939 civic election, Buck ran sixth in a nine-man board of control field, polling 45,112 votes.
