BIRTHS

DUNCAN.—In this city, July 17, 1917, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Duncan, Edward Street, a daughter, still born.

TWO THIRDS OF CANADA FOR TIMBER CROPS

One of the surprises to those visiting Europe in peace times is the method by which all lands are carefully examined and put to work according to their capacity. No farmer is permitted to locate on non-agricultural soil, and at the same time good farming cannot be retained under such a crop as timber. Canada has only made a beginning at applying such a policy of business efficiency in the use of the nation's natural resources. Thousands of farmers are today tied to farms that produce only a few dollars an acre, their efforts and ambitions practically wasted in a time when man-power is at high premium. Taking the whole of Canada's area, more than two thirds will never produce field crops, and the bulk of the two-thirds will prove profitable under only one crop, namely lumber.

All efforts for the protection of the forests against fire and other forms of needless waste aim to keep in a productive condition those millions of acres that can never grow field crops. Canada holds a tremendous national advantage in her forests, but from the beginning of the last century about two thirds of the original inheritance has been destroyed by fires. Nearly all modern countries have put an end to forest fires by carefully organized protective systems.

::Miller's Worm Powders are a pleasant medicine for worm-infested children, and they willl take it without objection. When directions are followed it will not injure the most delicate child, as there is nothing of an injurious nature in its composition. They will speedily rid a child of worms, and restore the health of the little sufferers whose vitality has become impaired by the attacks of these internal pests.

A WAR MESSAGE

Stephen Leacock Appeals for National Saving

"Save every cent. Live plainly. Do without everything. Rise early, work hard, and content yourself with a bare living. The man who does this—if he uses the saved money properly—is doing war work for his country. He may wrap his last year's coat about him and eat his bread and cheese and feel that he, too, is doing something to show the world the kind of stuff that is yet left in it." Such is the declaration of Stephen Leacock in "National Organization for War." Save every cent and save it properly! The way to save it properly is to invest it in War Savings Certificates. By such investment your dollars will be utilized directly for war purposes. The National Service Board is urging such investment as a means to the financial mobilization of the country. It asks you to practise thrift, save your money and give it to your country. Are you doing so? Or are you still indulging in luxuries and betraying the men at the front by your carlessness and indifference at home. B. 18. 1848-7-25ME1i

HOW BRYAN HELPED GERMANY

Among his other titles to fame Mr. Bryan will be remembered as the high American official, the peerless leader, who lent himself unwittingly to the machinations of his country's enemies. His first grave offence was in privately telling the Austrian Ambassador to the United States that a strong note he had written to Berlin was merely compiled for political effect at home, and that Germany ought to take no particular notice of it. That was his first offence as Secretary of State; but in 1906, not understanding what he was about, he put in the hands of Indian agitators a weapon which they had turned against Great Britain, and which has been used ever quite lately by German plotters in the United States. It is a fine record that Mr. Bryan has established, but when one reflects upon it he sees a great hope for democracy. The American people always instinctively distrusted Bryan and though they had many opportunities to advance him to a position of great responsibility, they always declined to do so. If the decision had been left with them Mr. Bryan would never have had a chance to disgrace them as Secretry of Foreign Affairs.

Bryan in India.

A year or so ago Mr. Bryan's paper, The Commoner, was barred from circulation in India, not because at that time it contained matter reflecting upon the British Government, but because Indian plotters, plentifully supplied with German gold, were circulating in India and elsewhere, copies of the Commoner of 1906, in which most vicious attacks upon the Indian Administration were printed. At that time Mr. Bryan was making a tour of the world. He was away for eight months; he spent one month in India, and the impressions he received he communicated to the Commoner. Here one might pause to consider the taste displayed by Mr. Bryan. As a prominent American citizen, a perennial candidate for the Presidency, he was treated with every consideration by the Government of India. He was entertained by the Viceroy and handed on from one high official to another. He was taken behind the scene; everything was explained to him. White men treated him like a white man in great a world of brown and yellow men.

Worse Than Russia.

In the Commoner Mr. Bryan gracefully responded with such remarks as these: "The Government of India is as arbitrary and despotic as the Government of Russia ever was, and in two respects it is worse. First, it is administered by an alien people, whereas the officials of Russia are Russians. Secondly, it drains a large part of the taxes out of the country, whereas the Russian Government spends at home the money which he collects from the people. A third disadvantage might be named, since the Czar has already created a legislative body, whereas England continues to deny to the Indians any form of representative or constitutional government. The people of India are taxed, but they have no voice in the amount to be collected or the use to be made of the revenue. They pay into the government nearly $225,000,000 a year, and of this nearly $100,000,000 is expended upon an army in which Indians cannot be officers."

Plotters in United States.

It would be quite in keeping with Mr. Bryan's character to have given private assurances to his Indian hosts that they were not to understand that what he wrote in the Commoner represented his own views, but rather what he thought would be acceptable to a considerable British-hating element in the Democratic party. At the time of the publication of his strictures upon Indian administration Mr. Bryan was answered. The anonymous "Letters of a Chinese Official" provoked him to give another lambasting to perfidious Albion, and then his interest in the subject waned, and probably he forgot all about it. The matter was called to public attention a few days ago when Dr. Ernst Sekunna and "Dr." Chanera Chakraberty were arrested in San Francisco and with about seventy other Hindus and Teutons indicted for carrying on a plot against Great Britain in American territory. Sekunna is a Prussian and was an agent for von Papen, who is said to have spent at least $60,000 of good German gold in financing Chakraberty and others in the plot for a rebellion in India.

Caused Administration Trouble.

A great deal of this money was invested in compiling a book from the back files of the Commoner. This was then circulated with the following title: "William Jennings Bryan (Secretary of State of the United States of America) on British Rule in India." The inference was that these strictures had been passed by a leading official in the American Government instead of being the mere vote-catching device of an American journalist and politician, years before he held any office. The Commoner was a rich mine, as may be gathered from the sample submitted. Hindus reading it might well be pardoned for believing that a prominent American pacifist considered them to be thoroughly justified in opposing by force of arms the tyranny that Britain had imposed on them. Just what effect the book, had in India is not known; but it must have contributed to the anxieties of the Administration there. This is only natural since Mr. Bryan's specialty is in contributing to the anxiety of administrations. For further particulars apply to President Wilson.

Doctor Says Nuxated Iron Will Increase Strength of Delicate People 100 p.c. in Ten Days

In many instances—Persons have suffered untold agony for years doctoring for nervous weakness, stomach, liver or kidney disease or some other ailment when their real trouble was lack of iron in the blood—How to tell.

NEW YORK N. Y.—In a recent discourse Dr. E. Sauer, a Boston Physician who has studied widely both in this country and the great European Medical Institutions said: "If you were to make an actual blood test on all people who are ill you would probably be greatly astonished at the exceedingly large number who lack iron and who are ill for no other reason than the lack of iron. The moment iron is supplied all their multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear. Without iron the blood at once looses the power to change food into living tissue and therefore nothing you eat does you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. As a result of this continuous blood and nerve starvation people become generally weakened, nervous and all run down and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is too thin; another is burdened with unhealthy fat; some are so weak they can hardly walk; some think they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble; some can't sleep at night, others are sleepy and tired all day; some fussy and irritable; some skinny and bloodless, but all lack physical power and endurance. In such cases, it is worse than foolishness to take stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs, which only whip up your fagging vital powers for the moment, maybe at the expense of your life later on. No matter what any one tells you, if you are not strong and well you owe it to yourself to make the following test. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous run down people who were ailing all the time double, and even triple their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of their symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days time simply by taking iron in the proper form, and this, after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. You can talk as you please about all the wonders wrought by new remedies, but when you come down to hard facts there is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and good sound, healthy flesh on your bones. It is also a great nerve and stomach strengthener and the best blood builder in the world. The only trouble was that the old forms of inorganic iron like tincture of iron, iron acetate, etc., often ruined people's teeth, upset their stomachs and were not assimilated and for these reasons they frequently did more harm than good. But with the discovery of the newer forms of organic iron all this has been overcome. Nuxated Iron for example, is pleasant to take, does not injure the teeth and is almost immediately beneficial.

NOTE—The manufacturers of Nuxated Iron have such unbounded confidence in its potency that they authorize the announcement that they will forfeit $100.00 to any Charitable Institution if they cannot take any man or woman under sixty who lacks iron and increase their strength to 100 per cent or over in four week's time provided they have no serious organic trouble. Also they will refund your money in any case in which Nuxated Iron does not at least double your strength in ten days' time It is dispensed in this city by George E. Hughes, Apothecaries Hall, E. A. Foster, Central Drug Store, H. J. Mahon, (Montague), and all good druggists.
