HAVE REACHED A COMPROMISE.

Members Over Sixty-five Years of Age May Pay Half Assessment, Balance to Be Deducted.

PUT-IN-BAY, Ohio, Sept. 4.—The following statement concerning the final determination of the Royal Arcanum convention was authorized today by Supreme Secretary Robson: The laws were amended, striking out option D by a very decided vote. We also made options B and C applicable to the present membership only, and restricted new members to a selection between the regular rates and option A. An amendment was also adopted for the reinstatement, without new medical examination, of members suspended since June 1, if they apply for reinstatement before November 1. The proposition to create a fraternal fund by annual contributions of twenty cents from each member, to be used as payments of assessments of aged members, was referred to an executive committee, with power to procure the necessary State legislation, the proposition being contrary to the laws of the state of Massachusetts. An amendment was adopted providing that members over 65 years of age may pay only one half of their assessments, and the remainder may be charged against their certificates deduction to be made when the benefits are paid.

The Supreme Regent, was directed to act upon the reading of unauthorized circulars in the councils.

AN ENGINEER'S WARNING

The Ticking on a Window Pane That He Read as a Signal to Stop.

"The other evening," said the fat engineer, "I was called to make a particularly fast run. We weren't to run on any schedule, 'cause when you're goin' to make a fast run a schedule is just about as much as a water tax in Hoboken. They ran us extra—extra fast.

"Leavin' the yards I moved careful, but after we got clear I just let her out.

"When I first began to carve out my railroad career I intended to be a telegraph operator, and a smattering of the Morse characters still clings to me so I can read words of four letters or under if they come slow over wire.

"Right aroun' the end of Miller's Ten Degree curve there's a facin' sidin' which is projected by a semaphore signal at the beginnin' of a curve. The semaphore showed a white light when we whizzed by it, lettin' me know everything was all right down at the switch.

"Just as we were takin' the curve I thought I heard the faint tickin' of a telegraph instrument. At first I thought it was imagination, but listenin' more intently I found that I was not mistaken. Someone with a not too steady hand was tryin to make Morse characters.

"I could get the first two letters all right. They were 's-t.' After that it was a jumble. Finally the word came to me like a flash complete. It was 's-t-o-p.' After I made out what the word was it was repeated again and again. Finally that 's-t-o-p' business grated so on my nerves that I just shut off, and as we came out on the straight track at the end of the curve we had slowed down to about fifteen miles an hour.

"Just as I got the sight again we came on the switch, 'n' there was the switch ball showin' red. Well, I sanded her 'n' we came to a stop right at the point of the siding. If we'd a come aroun' there at full speed we'd a been into the string of cars on that switch before you could have winked.

"I started up once more feelin' about as limp as a man with a wooden leg, 'n' we'd no more'n got shakin' 'em up when the tickin' started again. The sound seemed to come from inside the cab, so I looked there. What do you suppose it was? When we started out it was so warm I took off my jumper 'n' hung it up on a peg in the cab. It swung loose 'n' when we got goin' fast on the turns one of the metal buttons would tap against the window pane. Mebbe I imagined that 's-t-o-p' business, but anyway, it saved my life.

"The company investigated the white light in the semaphore 'n' found that the heat had expanded a wire just enough to make the mistake in the signal."—New York Sun.

HE WON HIS BRIDE OUT OF A CONVENT

Boston Man Follows Montreal Girl to Manitoba, and Steals Her From Church.

MONTREAL, Sept. 5—News comes from Winnipeg of another illustration that Cupid is something more powerful than even Mother Church. The dramatis personae in the romance are J. H. Powell, Cambridge, Mass., and Miss Fraser, formerly of Montreal, but who, for the past month, has been staying at the Convent in St. Boniface.

The poet sings that true love never did run smooth, and so it happened in this case. Miss Fraser, having met Mr. Powell, a student at Harvard University, the two became enamored. But there was the inevitable quarrel. She took it badly, and bought a ticket for Winnipeg to find a nun formerly in a Montreal convent, to whom she might unburden her sorrow. This was over a month ago, and since then has been staying at the St. Boniface Convent, where she announced her intention of taking the veil.

Mr. Powell, meantime, learned of her retreat from the world, and immediately followed. His errand was not favorably received at first, but still "from the maiden's eyes he did receive fair speechless messages," which told him that the old passion was not entirely cold. It soon rekindled and an immediate wedding was planned. A hack drove up to the St. Boniface Convent in the evening, the maiden slipped inside it, and shortly they were in the presence of a local clergyman, a lawyer, who saw that everything was properly arranged, and a college chum of the groom, who signed the document as witness, and in less than an hour they were speeding to the south.

HOW CONSUMPTION STARTS

Tired When You Wake—Languid All Day—Nerves Worn Out—Snap All Gone.

Your limbs feel "draggy" and excessively weak. A night's sleep seldom brings satisfying rest. Continuous headaches, exhaustion and nervous sensations destroy your health. Soon every spark of vitality is used up. Then you catch tuberculosis.

Start to-day. Build up, get new nerve force, and overcome this process of decay. Use Ferrozone, which physicians consider the most vitalizing, uplifting tonic ever made.

Ferrozone cures because it can furnish the body with sufficient nutriment and building material.

Think of the instant effect—at once the appetite increases, delightful color in the cheeks proves that rich, red blood is being circulated. Tired muscles are invigorated, flesh and weight are added. Nerve force develops, and bounding, joyous health is firmly established.

This is certain—Ferrozone restores failing strength from any cause. The experience of Mr. Thos. Dowd, of Schreiber, Ont., proves this:

"Household worries and cares had about exhausted my strength. I was weak and miserable. My cheeks lacked the color of health, and occasionally I had spells of rheumatism. Then my appetite fell off, and nothing could tempt me to eat. Worn-out feelings, chills and despondency filled my very being. I became anaemic and dwindled down to a shadow. Consumption was very near. Ferrozone put strength in my body with a rush. It built me up strong, virile and happy, and I have been well ever since."

Ferrozone cures sickness by curing the real cause—lack of blood and nerve tone. It keeps people at their best—fit, ready and anxious for work. In 50c. boxes only, six for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.
