Double Wedding At Summerside

A pretty double wedding of considerable interest was solemnized on Wednesday afternoon at Trinity Parsonage, Summerside, when Rev. L. E. G. Davies, united in marriage Lucy Mary Pickering to Fred Heber Paynter, and her cousin, Gladys Irene Thomas, to Walter Ivan Paynter. The groomsmen were brothers.

Miss Lucy was very charmingly gowned in a pale blue sheer organdy dress, with puff sleeves and bolero, trimmed with dainty shirring of the same material, white hat and accessories and a bouquet of orange blossoms, baby breath and fern. She was attended by her sister, Miss Ethel, who wore a flowered chiffon dress with white accessories. Mr. Wyman Yeo acted as groomsman.

Miss Gladys was very winsome in a powder blue sheer chiffon wedding dress in jacket effect, with smocking on the yoke, neck, sleeves and waist. She wore a large white hat and bouquet to match her cousins.

Miss Ethel Yeo was her bridesmaid, and was dressed in flowered chiffon. Mr. Horace Paynter, brother of the groom, was best man.

After the ceremony the bridal party drove to Charlottetown, returning in the evening to the bride's home at Sherbrooke where Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Pickering gave a reception for their daughter and their niece. The spacious rooms were prettily decorated in pink and white for the occasion. Over two hundred invited guests sat down to a most delicious wedding supper later in the evening a crowd of charivarers called and serenaded the young couples, who received them very graciously. During the evening music was furnished by Professor Tanton of Charlottetown. Miss Coombs, also of Charlottetown, sang very sweetly for the entertainment of the guests.

Previous to their marriage the brides were given a shower at their home when the people of the surrounding districts presented them with some very lovely gifts.

The young ladies as they entered the room were preceded by little Master Joe Callbeck and little Miss June Chappell, as little bride and groom. Miss Dorothy Cannon was a little flower girl. The presents were carried in by Ethel and Sadie Pickering in decorated carriages. The brides sat under a pink and white arch, with large white bell, and a background of fern.

The presents were unwrapped by Miss Minnie Boswell and Miss Pauline Callbeck, while Miss Margaret Townsend and Mrs. Eric Madson read the verses. Miss Muriel Pickering and Miss Wanda Yeo presented the gifts.

Miss Lucy and Miss Gladys replied very graciously to the kind expressions of good will and the remainder of the evening was spent in music and social chat. Refreshments were served during the evening.

After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paynter will make their home at Kelvin where the groom has a prosperous farm. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Paynter will reside at the Paynter homestead at Freetown. The groomsmen are the sons of Mr. George Paynter of Freetown.

Their many friends wish the young couples every happiness.—S.

Jackie Cooper In "Boy of the Streets" At Capitol Theatre

Jackie Cooper rises to new triumph in "Boy of the Streets", which was presented last night at the Capitol Theatre, Summerside, to a capacity house.

In this picture which depicts life in the city slums, Jackie establishes himself as an adult star. His moving characterization of Chuck, the tenement tough endears him to the audience. It is a drama full of pathos, laughter and dramatic action.

Jackie as "Chuck" gets his experiences of life through a hard school. Disillusioned about his father, and then a greater disillusion of his hero, a gangster, he learns discipline, honour, courage and success when he returns to his home after a period with Blackie, a public enemy.

Through it all he is encouraged by Maureen O'Connor, who makes her debut in "Boy of the Streets," co-starring with Jackie as the little Irish lass who sings divinely and stands beside Jackie in all his trials and his fight to conquer his environment. This charming young actress captivated the hearts of the audience.

Marjorie Main, New York stage star, won spontaneous applause as Chuck's mother; Guy Usher is a pathetic "Tax Him" Brennan, and George Cleveland is delightful as "Tim Farley", political stooge. Kathleen Burke and Gordon Elliot supply the love interest. You will like this picture, which is from the original story by Roland Brown, with screen play by Gilson Brown and Scott Darling and directed by William Nigh.

Be sure to go today if you did not see the picture last night. S

City Intermediates Whip Summerside Team 13-3

Playing a superior brand of ball to the local intermediates the Charlottetown All Stars defeated the Summerside team 13-3 at Summerside last evening. The visitors laid over their opponents in every department and took advantage of costly Summerside errors to run up a big score.

Running up nine runs in the first four innings the game was never in doubt although the losers pushed across three runs in their half of the fourth and filled the bases with none out in the fifth only to see MacCallum bear down brilliantly and leave the three stranded on the paths. This seemed to dishearten the locals and they made no further dangerous threats at scoring.

MacCallum pitched a lovely game of ball, allowing only eight hits which he kept well scattered. Daly started well for Summerside but weakened in the third and was replaced by Schurman who in turn was welcomed with a deluge of hits in the fourth which coupled with two costly errors gave the winners five runs. Rice and Currie led the batting assault for the visitors, the former getting a double and triple in four trips, the latter a triple and single in five trips. Casey and Millman each hit two for three for Summerside.

It is expected that a return game will be played in Charlottetown some time in the near future.

Indians Win At Summerside

Pete Kelly's Red Indians of Charlottetown administered a 21-10 beating to the Orioles, leaders of the Summerside Softball League, in an exhibition game yesterday afternoon. The locals obtained more hits than the visitors but could not seem to bunch them effectively and were not as snappy in the field. The game was the first in which a Charlottetown team has taken part and the Summerside team no doubt will profit by a game from their more experienced opponents.

The winners made big innings out of the fourth and eighth, scoring nine runs in each of these two frames to practically clinch the old ball game. D

NEW BIG LINER MAKING RECORD

Modern Mauretania Ready for Her Offic al Launching July 28

BIRKENHEAD, England(June 31—The new British 33,000 ton liner Mauretania has achieved a marine record without touching the water. Since her keel was laid a year ago nearly 17,000 tons of steel comprising her entire hull structure of seven decks has been added—a feat unprecedented in shipbuilding history.

Construction is ahead of schedule and she will be ready for launching before the selected date—July 28. Lady Bates, wife of Sir Percy Bates, chairman of the Cunard White Star Line, will perform the ceremony at the Cammell Laird Merseyside yard.

Biggest product of English shipyards and namesake of the famous Atlantic veteran which recently fell victim to the ship breakers, the Mauretania is destined to ply on the New York-London run. Her launching is expected to be spectacular. Seven tons of tallow will be used to grease her passage down the 760-foot slipways and no drag chains, generally used for big ships, will be brought into play.

Here are some of the tasks her construction involved: Preparing and putting in position 10,000 cubic feet of timber for keel blocks and shores; hoisting in position 60 miles of staging for workmen's platforms; forging and cutting thousands of steel plates 30 feet long and seven feet wide; transportation to Birkenhead from Birmingham by road and sea of two 85-ton gear wheels, biggest ever constructed for any liner, and 300 feet of steel shafting for the propellers, driving more than 100 miles of rivets in the plates.

Her two anchors weigh 10 tons each and are attached to 3,000 feet of chain cable; she has a fleet of 26 Diesel-engined lifeboats and more than 300 miles of cable distributes her electric energy.

A start has been made in applying 300 gallons of paint to her hull. Her upper deck will be white and the two funnels will be red with black tops and three black bands. She will have a black hull and red boot topping divided by a white water-line ribbon.

SELECTION OF CALVES

Those who have kept accurate records of the cost of raising a calf will find that it will probably cost more to raise a calf to a cow than an average cow is worth. There are two points to be considered here.

1st—Only raise as many as are absolutely necessary to use up feed that would otherwise go to waste.

2nd—Raise only calves that will be considerably better than an average cow.

Therefore selection of the calf to raise is important. Selection should be:

1st—Good sized, normal calf showing plenty of breed and dairy qualities.

2nd—Bright eye and wide bell-shaped muzzle, large nostrils, strong jaw.

3rd—Udder of good shape and standard equipment of teats.

4th—The size and dam should be of good type, size and health. The sire must of course be a registered male of the club breed.
