Poetry.

MY BOY.

"There is even a happiness
That makes the heart afraid."—Hood.

One more new claimant for human fraternity;
Swelling the flood that sweeps on to eternity.
I who have filled the cup tremble to think of it;
For be it what it may, I must drink of it.

Room for him in the ranks of humanity;
Give him a place in your kingdom of vanity!
Welcome the stranger with kindly emotion!
Hopefully, trustfully, but with devotion.

See, in his waywardness, how his fat doubles;
Thus pugilistical, during life's troubles.
Strange that the neophyte enters existence
In such an attitude, feigning resistance.

Could he but have a glimpse into futurity,
Well might he fight against further maturity;
Yet does it seem to me, as if his gerity
Were against sinfulness ample security.

Innonprehensible, budding immortal,
Trust all implicitly under life's portal!
Born to a destiny clouded in mystery,
Wisdom itself cannot guess at its history.

Something too much of this Timon-like croaking;
See his face wrinkle now, laughter-provoking.
Now he cries lustily—brave, my hearty one!
Lungs like an orator cheering his party on.

Look now, his merry eyes turn to me pleadingly!
Can we help loving him—loving exceedingly?
Partly with hopefulness, partly with fears,
Mine, as I look at him, moisten with tears.

Now then to find a name;—where shall we search for it?
Turn to his ancestry, or to the church for it?
Shall we endow him with title heroic,
After some warrior, poet or stoic?

One aunty says, he will soon "lisp in numbers,"
Turning his thoughts to rhyme e'en in his slumbers;
Watts rhymed in babyhood, no blemish spots his fame
Christen him even so; young Mr. Watts his name.

NO NIGHT BUT HATH ITS MORN."

BY D. C. CAMPBELL.

There are times of deepest sorrow,
When the heart feels alone and sad,
Times when Memory's spells of magic
Have in gloom the spirit clad.
Would'st thou have a wand all-potent
To illume life's deepest night?
This the thought, that e'er in nature
Darkest hours precede the light.

When the world, cold, dark, and selfish,
Frowns upon the feeble flame,
Lighted from the torch of genius,
Worth has kindled round thy name,
When thy fondest hopes are blighted,
And thy dearest prospects fade,
Think, O, lone one, scorned and slighted,
Sunshine ever follows shade.

Varieties.

A FOX'S REVENGE.—An old and respectable son of Montgomery recently related an anecdote of the circumstance which he saw. In his youth, he resided on the banks of the Hudson. One day he went to a bay on the river, and saw six geese beyond shot. He determined to wait for them to approach the shore. While sitting here, he saw a fox come down to the shore and stand some time and observe the geese. At length he turned and went into the woods, and came out with a large bunch of moss in his mouth. He then entered the water very silently, sank himself, and then, keeping the moss above water, himself once aled. floated among the geese. Suddenly one of them was drawn under the water, and the fox soon appeared on the shore with the goose on his back. He accinded the hill and found a hollow tree, he saw a hollow tree. This hole he cleared; placed in the goose, and covered it with great care, strewing leaves over it. The fox then left; and while he was away, the hunter unburied the goose, cleared the hole, and proceeded to await the issue. In about an hour the fox returned, with another fox in his company. They went directly to the place where the goose had been buried, and threw out the earth. The goose could not be found. They stood regarding each other for some time, when suddenly the second fox attacked the other most furiously, as if offended by the trick of his friend. During the battle, the hunter shot them both.—Murray's Creation.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Many persons appear sensible of the fact that advertising liberally is worth more to them than any plan they can resort to, to dispose of their goods rapidly, and as rapidly to make a fortune. Others again do not appear to be aware of the fact, and drag along at a slow, snail like pace, selling to a few particular friends, or happily catching a customer occasionally by the "standing advertisement," the sign over the door.

Those who realize the truth of the commercial maxim—"Advertising is the lever of trade," profit by it to an extent little known to those who do not advertise. Those who do not realize the truth of the maxim, have any quantity of time to rest and to count over the little money they chance to take in. These remarks are made in reference to those who have libearly sustained the advertising columns of this paper. In looking around among them, we see smiling faces and every evidence of prosperity. And they continue to advertise and continue to prosper. If they continue wise, they will be sure to do the one, and cannot fail of the other.

SLEEP.—There is no better description given of the approach of sleep than that which we find in one of Leigh Hunt's papers:

"It is a delicious movement certainly, that of being well nestled in bed, and feeling that you shall drop gently to sleep. The good is to come, not past; the limbs have been just tired enough to render the remaining in one posture delightful; the labor of the day is done. A gentle failure of the perceptions comes creeping over; the spirit of consciousness disengages itself more, and with slow and hushing degrees, like a mother detaching her hand from that of her sleeping child, the mind seems to have its balmy bed closing over it; 'its more closing—'tis closed. The mysterious spirit has gone to take its airy rounds."

REMOVING A GRIEVANCE.—In his memoirs of the reign of George III., Walpole tells the following: Lord A——, being his wife, she said, "How much happier is that woman (pointing to a beasmaid) than I am." He immediately kicked the maid down the stairs, and then said, "Well, there is at least one grievance removed."

HUSBANDS, TAKE WARNING!—A woman, in Hampshire, who had been ill-used by her husband, on finding him sound asleep, one day, quietly sewed him up in the bed clothes, and then gave him a tremendous thrashing!

A number of physicians were once disputing as to who would best sharpen the sight. Some recommended one thing and some another; till at last, one said that there was nothing that would do it like envy, for it magnifies and multiplies all the errors of man.

MRS. PARTINGTON'S LAST.—Reading the newspaper praises of Jenny Lind's benevolent disposition, Mrs. Partington came to the complimentary expression in regard to the "fellow feeling in her bosom," which the Swedish nightingale cherished towards the unfortunate and needy. Involuntarily raising her spectacles, and looking the very personification of amusement, "the good old lady repeated—"A fellor feeling in her bosom! La me, if that aint just the way the fellers used to do, when I was a girl!" And then she re-adjusted her spectacles and kept on reading.

To Emigrants and Others.

TO BE SOLD in small Tracts, or in one Farm, as may suit purchasers, the Leasehold Interest, for the residue of the Term of 999 years, in that Eligible property called Curtisdale, five miles and a half Distant from Charlottetown, on the Princetown Road. There are 350 acres of good Land, about 190 acres of which are cultivated. On it there is a Grist Mill, four Dwelling Houses, Barns and other Buildings.

The water power would admit of more Mills to be erected on the premises. The Land is well watered, and may be divided into four or more convenient Farms. The Mill may be bought with little, or much of the Land.

The publicity of the place, and the water communication from the Spot to Town, and elsewhere, makes it the best situation any where, within many miles from Charlottetown, for the Establishment of a Mercantile concern.

A part of the purchase money may remain on Security.

PATENT ARTIFICIAL SLATE, And Unchangeable Metallic Paints: PROOF AGAINST FIRE & WATER!

Manufactured by the Patentee, in Colchester, Nova Scotia.

THE ARTIFICIAL SLATE is the product of a mixture of mineral substances known to be the best non-conductors of heat as well as the most indestructible the Chemical affinity of which converts the surface of materials covered, into a Coating of Actual Slate—Proof against FIRE and WATER. Thus the laws of nature are made to accomplish results as surprising as they are useful, by render ng Wooden fabrics as durable as brick or Stone, and less pervious to moisture, and consequently preventing decay and destruction from corroding influences hitherto supposed unattainable.

The principal ingredients are Alumina, Silica and the Oxides of Iron. The Adhesive quality of the latter not only holds and covers the particles together, but the substance covered also. The longer exposed to the weather the more powerful the attraction, and consequently the harder the Slate. As various shades of colour are obtained, Brick buildings can be made supervious to outside paint, and the fashionable colours of either Free Stone or Granite. The oil must be evaporated by the action of the weather before it is Fire proof, which will take from nine to twelve months.

THE METALLIC PAIN S, Purple and Red, are offered as Weather and Water Proof solely. Their base being Iron, secures them from Galvanic action so fatal to lead and other Paints on Iron work—and their chemical combination makes it impossible, that any change should take place from atmospheric influence or the action of Salt Water and Sulphureted hydrogen so prevalent in Sea Ports and Tidal Rivers. They supersede all Paints yet discovered in Cheapness and Durability, which render them pre-eminently adapted to the covering of all kinds of Iron work, such as Shipping, Mills Bridges, Steam Machinery, Railway Cars, and Iron Railing. The METALLIC PAINTS have been analyzed by Professor Hays of Boston. The following is an extract from his Certificate:—"As a permanent pigment, this mineral must rank with the most indestructible and unchangeable hues. For covering Metallic Ware, its composition shows that it is eminently fitted.

(Signed) AUGT. A. HAYS, State Assayer."

Directions—Artificial Slate. Mix the powder with pure Boiled Linseed Oil and a little Spirits Turpentine to the consistency of a thick Paint, and apply with a common Brush, being careful to keep the mixture well stirred while putting it on. One pound will cover ten square feet with two Coats.

If Shingles have been on for years, it will be necessary to sweep off the moss and lint with a stiff broom; two or three coats of this material will make a perfect Slate Roof, proof against Fire and Water.

FREDERICTON, N. B., Nov. 13, 1850.

Mr. J. W. IRISH.

DEAR SIR,—Please send us two more barrels of your Artificial Slate. We have seen some of the good effects of it at the last fire. Some of the Roofs covered with it did not catch at all, and when the nails were burnt some of the roofs came down in one piece, and others were burnt off leaving the buildings perfectly whole one roof alongside of the Bank B. N. A., which also was one means of saving the Bank.

Please see that it is on board of the first boat, as it might be neglected and stored.

Your obedient Servants,
STEWART & NEILL.

ST. JOHN, N. B., July 20, 1850.

JOHN ROSS, Esq., Patentee of the Purple Metallic Iron Paint.

SIR,—I have just painted a new Ship with your Metallic Iron Paint, and I have much pleasure in stating that I never painted a Ship with any other, and a quantity of Paint and Oil, and look as well from its adhesive qualities and the manner it covers the wood, I have no doubt but it will be more durable and much cheaper than any other paint used for such purposes, and would recommend it to the public generally.

Yours, &c.,
ROBERT G. MORAN.

ROSS' METALLIC PAINTS.—We have already called public attention to the high estimation in which the Metallic Paints, manufactured by John Ross, Esq., Truro, are held by those who have had occasion to use them. Certificates of a highly satisfactory character in praise of these articles of Provincial manufacture appear elsewhere, in this issue, and from information afforded by parties who have similarly applied them, we can safely endorse the opinions therein contained.—Halifax Sun.

☞ The METALLIC PAINTS are mixed and put on like an ordinary paint.

Mills for Sale.

THE Subscriber offers for Sale a GRIST MILL erected nearly 2 years ago, with the Leasehold Interest of fifty-five acres of excellent LAND, 999 years Lease at 1s. per acre. Also—adjoining the above, the Leasehold Interest of 24½ acres of LAND, together with one-half of a SAW MILL, a very convenient and comfortable DWELLING HOUSE 30 × 17, a BARN 24 × 26, all nearly new, and a Well of Water near the door. The whole of this property is well wooded and watered, and situated near the Anderson Road, on Lot 26, in the midst of new and very extensive settlements. From the past few years, it is reasonable to conclude, that in a few years hence the whole surrounding country will be settled, when it will be well worthy the attention of the holder of this property to erect such other mills as the necessities of the county demand; and particularly so, as there is sufficient water power and other convenience to do so. This Property may be sold in one, two or three Lots, to suit purchasers. One-half of the purchase money may remain for two or three years unpaid, on approved Security being given on the property or otherwise. For further particulars, apply to J. Weatherbe, Esq., at Charlottetown, or to the Subscriber at New London.

HERE IS YOUR REMEDY!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

A MOST MIRACULOUS CURE OF BAD LEGS, AFTER 43 YEARS' SUFFERING.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. William Galpin, of 70, Saint Mary's Street, Weymouth, dated May 15, 1851.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

SIR,—At the age of 18 my wife (who is now 61) caught a violent cold, which settled in her legs, and ever since that time they have been more or less sore, and greatly inflamed. Her agonies were distracting, and for months together she was deprived entirely of rest and sleep. Every remedy that medical men advised was tried, but without effect; her health suffered severely, and the state of her legs was terrible. I had often read your Advertisement, and advised her to try your Pills and Ointment; and, as a last resource, after every other remedy had proved useless, she consented to do so. She commenced six weeks ago, and, strange to relate, is now in good health. Her legs are painless, without seam or scar, and her sleep sound and undisturbed. Could you have witnessed the suffering of my wife during the last 43 years, and continued them with her present enjoyment of health, you would indeed feel delighted to having been the means of so greatly alleviating the sufferings of a fellow creature.

(Signed) WILLIAM GALPIN.

A PERSON 70 YEARS OF AGE CURED OF A BAD LEG, OF THIRTY YEARS' STANDING.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Wm. Abbs, Builder of Gas Ovens, of Rushcliffe, near Huddersfield, dated May 31, 1851.

To Professor HOLLOWAY.

SIR,—I suffered for a period of thirty years from a bad leg, the result of two or three different accidents at Gas Works; accompanied by scorbutic symptoms. I had recourse to a variety of medical advice, without derriving any benefit, and was even told that the leg must be amputated; yet, in opposition to that opinion, your Pills and Ointment have effected a complete cure in so short a time, that few who had not witnessed it would credit the fact.

(Signed) WILLIAM ABBS.

The truth of this statement can be verified by Mr. W. P. England, Chemist, 13, Market Street, Huddersfield.

A DREADFUL BAD BREAST CURED IN ONE MONTH.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. Frederick Turner, of Penshurst, Kent, dated December 13, 1850.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

DEAR SIR,—My wife had suffered from Bad Breasts for more than six months, and during the whole period had the best medical attendance, but all to no use. Having before healed an awful wound in my own leg by your unrivalled medicine, I determined again to use your Pills and Ointment, and therefore gave them a trial in her case, and fortunate it was, I did so, for in less than a month a perfect cure was effected, and the benefit that various other branches of my family have derived from their use is really astonishing. I now strongly recommend them to all my friends.

(Signed) FREDRICK TURNER.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF A DANGEROUS SWELLING OF THE KNEE.

Copy of a letter from John Forfar, an Agriculturist, residing at Newborough, near Hexham, dated May 15, 1850.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

SIR,—I was afflicted with a swelling on each side of the leg, rather above the knee, for nearly two years, which increased to a great size. I had the advice of three eminent Surgeons here, and was an inmate of the Newcastle infirmary for four weeks. After various modes of treatment had been tried, I was discharged as incurable, having heard so much of your Pills and Ointment, I determined to try them, and in less than a month, I was completely cured. At but is more remarkable I was engaged twelve hours a day in the Hay Harvest, and although I have followed my laborious occupation throughout the winter, I have had no return whatever of my complaint.

(Signed) JOHN FORFAR.

AN INFLAMMATION IN THE SIDE PERFECTLY CURED.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Francis Arnod, of Broxbourne, Lothian Road, Edinbro', dated April 29th, 1851.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

SIR,—For more than twenty years my wife has been subject, from time to time to attacks of inflammation in the side, for which she was bled and blistered to a great extent; still the pain could not be removed. About four years ago, she saw in the papers, the wonderful cures effected by your Pills and Ointment, and thought she would give them a trial. To her great astonishment and delight, she got immediate relief from their use, and after persevering for three weeks, the pain in her side was completely cured, and she has enjoyed the best of health for the last four years.

(Signed) FRANCIS ARNOT.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:
