combat the magnetic mine peril and that it was proving "very satisfactory."

Neutral experts said it was feasible to drag metal nets between two wooden trawlers to detonate the mines.

Reports reaching Washington last week said Britons had discovered they could explode magnetic mines by sound waves.

Two vessels were reported today as victims of mines. The 3,829-ton British freighter Eskdene went down and her crew of 29 was landed in Scotland. It was disclosed the 2,169-ton Swedish freighter Rudolf was sunk yesterday off the British coast. Her crew of 23 escaped in lifeboats.

Nazi Minelayer (A German minelayer was reported sunk off the Danish coast after striking a mine only two days after the crew believed to have numbered 50 were found.)

A British mission headed by Ronald H. Cross, an economic warfare, arrived in Paris by airplane and conferred with French officials on means of applying the allied embargo on communications.

Meanwhile, it was announced that the number of unemployed had dropped for the first time since war began, by 28,050 to 1,402,588.

The Imperial Government was seeking to purchase the Seabrook, prior to her transfer to the Canadian government, Mr. Mutch said.

PLANE SERVICE DELAYED

Mechanical trouble with a twin motorized dragon plane of Canadian Airways at Upton airport at noon yesterday prior to the noon take-off on the Charlottetown-Summerside - Moncton run delayed the service and led to a curtailed schedule on the evening flight. A plane from the mainland came in here and picked up outgoing mail about 3 p. m. On the east bound trip the call at Summerside was cancelled because of gathering darkness, it was said. The plane arrived here at 5:20 about twenty minutes behind the regular schedule. It was not known whether the regular plane would resume service today.

After the ceremony the bridal party motored to the home of the bride where wedding breakfast was served to close relatives, the young couple leaving immediately afterwards for a honeymoon trip to Boston, Mass. On Monday the bride will reside in Middleton, where Mr. McIvor is a popular farmer. A host of friends wish them every happiness.

Large Hog Consumption—More than half the hogs raised in Canada are consumed in the Dominion. Recent years' figures indicate that the bulk of hogs raised in Canada and marketed through regular channels went to the export trade.

Accurate figures are available for these but it is estimated that if they were available for the whole country, the bulk of hogs raised in Canada would be marketed through regular channels, and that 25 per cent of Canada's total hog production is shipped out of the country.

The bulk of pork exports goes in one form of White Star side, which is a recognized trade term being used by the Canadian hog raisers. As to whether Canada will have to export out on their own bacon consumption in order to step up the export in the next months no comment was available.

The Dominion government probably will set up a hog marketing board with work in close cooperation with the packers. The latter claim on the packers for sufficient White Star sides to fulfill the terms of the agreement, and what is left will supply the domestic market.

"Fine Thing" Believes—LAWRENCE TOWN, N. S., Dec. 4.—Great Britain's decision to take a heavy quota of Canadian bacon and ham at a fixed price is "a very fine thing for the Canadian bacon industry," Roy Grant, secretary of the Canadian Livestock Co-operative at Moncton, N. B., said tonight.

"It looks as though we are assured of reasonably satisfactory prices for all we can produce," Mr. Grant said. While he pointed out that the price would not be expanded overnight, he believed the arrangement would lead to a deep amount of expansion in the Canadian industry.

"It is a thing pleasing to all concerned," he added.

Nova Scotia Minister Pleas—HALIFAX, Dec. 4.—(CP)—Announcement of guaranteed price and quota for Canadian bacon on the British market was described by Agriculture Minister Hon. A. McDonald tonight as "good news for Nova Scotia hog producers."

Mr. McDonald's statement: Dispatches indicated readiness of Britain to take Canadian bacon up to a quota of 5,000,000 pounds weekly on a guaranteed price basis of nine cents a pound live weight at the present time.

Mostly on the ground, warm weight basis, this figures out at about 12 cents, compared with recent prices of 10 1/2 to 11 cents.

Such a price guarantee should prove a considerable stimulus to hog production in the province. Nova Scotia has the advantage of being closest to the British market, and should be in a position to reap the full benefit from the new agreement.

Production has been on the upgrade in recent years, and recent years, are in three years ago, operative shipments have increased 10 times in volume, with quality increasing from 35 to 70 per cent, and more in the top grades.

Offer of a definite price basis is another attractive feature to farmers, who can plan their production with some assurance of what returns will be. It would be gratifying for this action on the part of Britain and we hope such a definite price basis may be applied to other products of the farm.

Sees Feed As Problem—The attractiveness to Island farmers of the new agreement between the Canadian and United Kingdom is to supply 4,000,000 pounds of bacon and ham to Britain weekly, until October 1940, would depend entirely on feed prices, J. A. Gillies, secretary manager of the Prince Edward Island Co-operative Livestock Marketing Board said here tonight.

If he understood the agreement the price was nine cents per pound and would be the same for more. For Prince Edward Island farmers that would be slightly less than the present price of 12.30 per cwt. at Montreal on dressed warm weight basis. The agreed price would amount to only about $12 per cwt. at seaboard, he believed.

That would make the scheme only barely profitable with present feed prices, he claimed. And feed prices are expected to rise. The situation is a far cry from the west last week and already the price had advanced so the same grain would cost 16 cents per cwt. now.

As he saw it, Mr. Gillies said, the agreement did not promise much in the way of profits. Farmers would be maintaining or increasing hog production from a patriotic standpoint and not from any profit motive.

Unless, he added, some supplementary plan was evolved to hold feed prices constant to correspond with the hog price.

Nova Scotia farmers at present view this lot of birds and the feelings that will thrill you will be much too strong for words.

And you'll wander through the great Hall with your heart Attuned to the bliss.

Wondering how the officials stand and raise the litters to maturity.

CANADA TO

5,000,000 pounds weekly if Canada is able to export that amount.

In the last 12 months ended Oct. 31, Canada exported 1,672,290, 700 pounds and in the next 12 months will be required to provide 23,000,000 pounds. This figure is below the maximum quota of 280,000,000 pounds fixed in the Ottawa agreement of 1927, which Canada never has been able to reach.

In October Canada exported 17,204,100 pounds of bacon and ham to Britain and likely sent over an equal amount last month so it would not require much effort to provide the 4,000,000 pounds weekly in the next few months.

The exports were only 10,501,100 so they will have to be almost doubled next April to fulfill the agreement.

Since it is not possible to produce hogs to the ready for the market in the fall than in the late winter and spring it will be necessary for the Canadian authority which will have control of the marketing to vary the rates of pay for live hogs in order to encourage winter feeding.

More than half the hogs raised in Canada are consumed in the Dominion. Recent years' figures indicate that the bulk of hogs raised in Canada and marketed through regular channels went to the export trade.

Premier Is Guest Speaker At Gyro Club

"The glorifying of force and the breaking of promises were two features of Hitler, which made war inevitable," Premier "Thane" A. Campbell said in an address to the Charlottetown Gyro Club at the regular meeting held last night at the Charlottetown Hotel.

Mr. R. D. Scott presided and conducted the business of the evening. Mr. Earl Taylor led the singing during the luncheon period with O. K. Presby at the piano.

Premier Campbell discussed Canada's war aims and her reason for discussion on this subject must be academic rather than practical, he said. It was suggested that an Empire conference should be held to discuss the subject.

He was inclined to think that Mr. Gratton O'Leary had the right idea when he suggested in an editorial that Hitler should be beaten first and then a conference to clarify matters held.

"The present war will be one of nerves and morale therefore a clarification of the issues involved is being made from time to time and this should be done in our country," the Premier stated.

Speaking of some of the historic developments which led up to the war, Campbell stated that it was impossible for this country to remain neutral because the issues involved concerned the security of our Dominion.

The question arises to who are our enemies and what are a variety of answers to this query. The British people would be only too glad to live on friendly terms with the Germans, he said, but Hitler seems impossible to do this. The real enemy is Hitlerism and all it involves and as far as the German people are concerned, it is Hitlerism that they are necessarily the enemy, the speaker declared.

Hitler's Race Theory—Hitlerism implies in the historical background the theory of race purity and race dominance of the German peoples, the Premier stated. He said that Hitler was possessed with the theory that the Nordic race was the one great race and wished to make Germany the dominant and foremost nation in this respect.

The speaker went on to tell how Hitler leaned towards Great Britain and the other countries were partitioned while France on the other hand was a nation which was racially mixed. But the one who was the greatest danger to the world was Hitlerism and poisonous, the Jews, must be gotten rid of.

"While it is true that there is a Nordic type among the Scandinavians, yet the scientific existence of a Nordic race is a myth," the Premier stated, "and many of the commendable characteristics of the German people are traceable—not to Nordic—but to the Asiatic, Mediterranean and Jewish elements."

It was through the belief in this racial myth that the German people were able to shake off the shackles of inferiority which they possessed since the last war, and which enabled them to look forward to a greater future for their country.

Racial dominance, propaganda, force, regimentation and autocracy as practiced by Hitler, are the chief characteristics of the extreme freedom loving people of Democratic governments, the speaker said, and if the German people prefer the Hitler treatment, it is no concern of Canada. But Hitler has taken upon himself to consider it his duty to expand his territory by force and to conquer the world and therefore he must be stopped.

The ironical part of it is that the principal victim of Hitler's program was to be Soviet Russia, because the country was comprised of Slavs and Bolsheviks, and now he finds himself in a partial alliance with Russia. On the other hand the partially Nordic Country Great Britain is at war with him.

Annexation and Lies—The speaker declared that the annexation of small countries by the Dictator was only a stepping stone in his vast territorial expansion. He blasted this threat to smaller countries and the lies of the Dictator, the Premier said, as Canada's entry into the war.

"Whether United States and other neutral countries will be able to stay out of the war for any length of time has to be predicted, Premier Campbell stated.

The four objects to be kept in view during the war are the necessity of clearing up the institutions of democracy, the stabilizing effect of the solidarity of the British Empire; the stabilizing effect of the British-French alliance for the peace and security of Europe and the friendly relationship existing between Canada and the United States.

The Premier also discussed Russia's participation in the war and said that the country was more to blame than Germany because Stalin Government had professed to be champions of International peace and the rights of smaller nations.

"The ultimate decision will be based not on treaties but on how many dragons St. George can properly engage at once," the speaker concluded.

Guests at last night's meeting of the Gyros were: Messrs. E. S. Coffin and C. W. MacArthur.

would be no better off by being waster the board than Prince Edward Islanders, for their hogs would have to go to Moncton or Montreal to be processed as there were no large capacity packing plants in Nova Scotia.

From a year to eighteen months would be required to make any notable increase in hog production, Mr. Gillies said. It would take that long to produce breeding stock and raise the litters to maturity.

Quints Plan Contribution To Red Cross

NORTH BAY, Ont., Dec. 4.—The Canadian Red Cross war chest will be richer by $1,000 tomorrow when a donation from the Quints' Red Cross headquarters by the Quints' business manager, Keith Munro.

The Quints' guardians, on the motion of Dr. A. R. Dufco, their physician and Olga Dionne, their father, voted unanimously today to make such a donation, the first of a series which will be made during the war.

Regulations governing use of the Quints' fortune as laid down in the Quints' guardianship act, a provincial statute, were waived in order to allow the five little girls to help the Red Cross. According to the act, funds cannot be voted from the Quints' trust fund, now approaching the $1,000,000 mark, for any purpose except for the use of the children themselves.

"This is one time that we can overlook the act," said Percy Wilson, government representative on the board of guardians. "This is the exception which proves the rule."

The guardians instructed Mr. Munro to draft a formal motion concerning the donation, the form of which will make it clear that the $1,000 donation will not be the Quints' last.
