Satisfied With Work Of First Weather Ship

OTTAWA, Dec. 18 — (CP) — Transport Department officials today expressed "complete satisfaction" with the technical results obtained by the St. Stephen, Canada's first weather ship which completed its first tour by landing at Halifax last night after a 26-day vigil.

The ship, which occupied position "Baker" at the entrance to Davis Strait midway between the southern tip of Greenland and Labrador, encountered heavy weather on its first trip with winds of 50 miles an hour almost continuous and sometimes hurricane blasts of 70 miles an hour.

L.B. Sobiski of Toronto, meteorological services technical adviser of the Transport Department, said that in order to release the huge weather balloons for weather observations in the stratosphere it was necessary for him to be fastened by a stout rope to prevent being blown overboard during balloon launchings.

As a result of this first experience, recommendations for improving facilities for releasing the balloons —six feet in diameter, are being studied.

During the 26-day vigil, the "St. Stephen" fulfilled two of her three basic purposes to which she was assigned. The first of these was the continued weather observations despite adverse conditions, secondly, the continual operation of a beacon service for trans-Atlantic aircraft. Ever on the alert, but not called upon for action, was the air-sea rescue unit.

Surface reports transmitted by the nautical weathermen permitted them to pinpoint accurately the location of storms.

Upper wind reports were obtained by radar up to heights of 47,000 feet while temperatures were measured up to 65,000 feet. Instruments used were designed and manufactured in Canada.

Preliminary upper air reports from this initial venture indicate that trans-ocean aircraft may profitably use the northern route to maintain schedules, the aircraft being directed to the helping facilities of the easterly winds on Europe-Canada bound trips.

The new international system of weather reporting was put into operation after studies made by the Meteorological Committee of the International Civil Aviation Organization, which recommended the "floating" observation station system as a supplement to the weather reporting stations existing on land, in addition to reports provided by ships at sea.

Reveal Cost Of 100-Day Coal Strike

GLACE BAY, N.S., Dec. 18 — (CP) — Striking miners in last spring's 100-day Maritime coal walkout ran up a $928,905 grocery bill, of which $299,085 still is outstanding, it was disclosed officially tonight.

Although unofficial estimates of the cost of the strike hovered close to the $900,000 mark, the statement released by Adam Scott, United Mine Workers (C.C.L.) district 26 secretary-treasurer, was the first official disclosure of the amount.

The Union's international headquarters has already paid $485,000, with Trade Unions in Canada and the United States and other organizations adding another $144,820.

International headquarters will chip in another $150,000 to help liquidate the outstanding debt, owed mostly to Nova Scotia merchants holding Union strike relief chits, with the district paying $74,085 from general funds and the district's 13,000 membership being levied 25 cents weekly to pay the remaining $75,000.

ICKENHAM, Middlesex, Eng.—(CP) — Fifty birds' nests were found in a village pump when it was cleaned for the first time since 1857.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to the electors of First Queens for the splendid support which you gave us on December 11th. We are at your service whenever you feel we can be of assistance in any way and we promise to work in the best interests of the Province and the First District of Queens.

We owe an especial debt of gratitude to those many workers who so generously worked in our behalf. As a small measure of appreciation we extend an invitation to all Liberal workers and committee men of the First District (and, of course, their wives) to attend at Bradalbane Hall this Saturday night, December 20th, at 8.30 p.m. when we will have a Social Evening.

TANKER "BRUCE HUDSON"

The disabled Canadian oil tanker Bruce Hudson reached Toledo, Ohio, harbor after two vessels reached the ship in a snowstorm when she was towed in by the U. S. tanker Rocket. Bound for Toledo from Port Stanley with a crew of 15, under Capt. Howard Drinkwater, the Hudson sent out distress calls after developing engine trouble. She was also running short of fuel.

No Mother's Allowance For Widow Of Murdered Taxi Driver

Widow of Ralph Margeson, Mount Dennis, Ont., taxi driver murdered four weeks ago, will receive no mother's allowance, the Ontario Government has revealed. Mount Dennis business men have collected $18,000 as a gift for the mother and her five children, and the government refuses the allowance on the grounds that Mrs. Margeson is not "in need." Mrs. Margeson is shown with Bobby, Kenneth, Richard, Muriel and Betty. A sixth child is expected.
