CHARLOTTETOWN

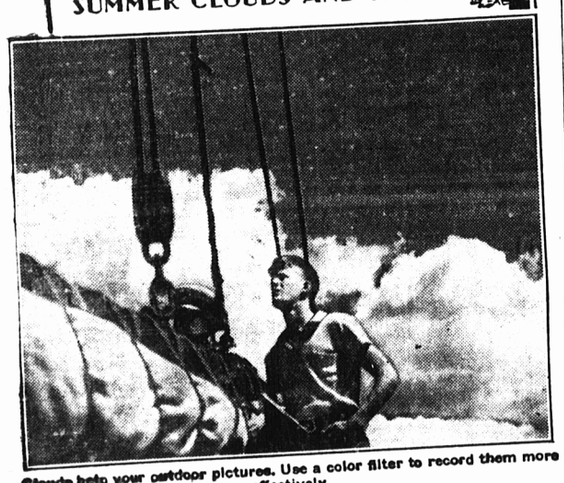
CHICKEN SALAD

Four cups diced chicken, free of skin and gristle
1 cup diced tart apples
1-2 cup chopped celery
3-4 cup mayonnaise
1-2 cup heavy cream
2 hard cooked eggs, chopped
1 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon pepper.

Beat cream slightly, then combine with mayonnaise and beat until of the right consistency. Combine with all the other ingredients. Season delicately but enough to give character. Chill and serve in your grandmother's best Dresden salad bowl.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

SUMMER CLOUDS AND SKIES



Clouds help your outdoor pictures. Use a color filter to record them more effectively.

SUMMER is the outdoor season, and one of the season's chief picture charms is its wonderfully rich blue skies against which cloud masses stand out in magnificent fullness and contrast. Given two pictures of identical subjects in which the sky appears, it's a safe wager that your attention will be held by the one effectively showing the clouds against a gray sky and not the one with the unnatural and unattractive flat, white firmament.

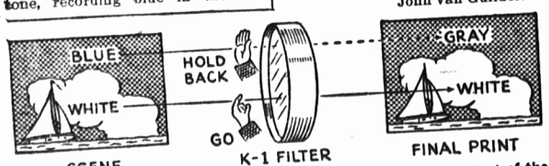
Here is the way to picture clouds and skies as your eye sees them: Load your camera with chrome type or panchromatic film, and slip a yellow color-filter on your lens. The diagram below shows how a yellow filter works—it preserves the sky tone, recording blue in the corresponding shade of gray instead of white. Thus, the clouds and sky are more dramatically recorded and much is added to the appeal of your picture.

Summer clouds and skies are pictorial studies in themselves. Try picturing clouds alone—the different types of cirrus and cumulus; fair-day clouds and stormy-weather clouds. Use the sky and clouds as background for your pictures of people. Work them into your landscape views. They give your pictures reality, and a warm, summery feel. Use your filter for all such pictures, increasing exposure according to the instructions that come with the filter or with the film you use.

Such practice pays rich snapshot dividends.

194

John van Guilder.



Color filters are traffic cops. A yellow filter (K-1 or K-2) stops part of the blue light, so that in the print, blue shows up as gray. Filters come in several colors, but a yellow K-1 or K-2 is what you want for general use.

Paul P. Harris

Paul P. Harris, founder and president emeritus of Rotary International, Chicago, Illinois — founded the first Rotary Club in the world, in Chicago, February 23, 1905, suggesting the form of organization to three friends who, with him, instituted the first club.

A national association was formed by a convention of the first sixteen clubs in August, 1910, at Chicago. Paul Harris was elected first president. The second convention was held at Portland, Oregon, August, 1911. An international association was formed in August, 1912, at Duluth, Minnesota, to provide for a charter for Winnipeg, Canada, and London, England. Rotary International became the name of the organization by the adoption of a revised constitution at the Los Angeles convention June, 1922.

Although Harris has devoted much of his time to Rotary he has also been a leader in civic and professional work. He is honorary vice president of the International Society for Crippled Children and has served as chairman of the Committee on Professional Ethics and member of the board of managers of the Chicago Bar Association and representative of the Chicago Bar Association at the International Congress of Law at The Hague. He has also served as a member of the International Committee of the American Bar Association. He was one of the two recipients in 1934 of the Silver Buffalo Award of the Boy Scouts of America.

SOCIAL GATHERING

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russel MacKay, Kensington, on Monday, July 18th, when upwards of twenty members and visitors of the Kensington A. Y. P. A. assembled to express to Mrs MacKay and Glennie their appreciation for the help given in the Young People's Play. Mr. Reagh Sudsbury called the meeting to order and an appropriate address was read and presentations including a beautifully decorated cake were made by Miss Wanda Mill and Mrs. Reagh Sudsbury. Although taken by surprise Mrs. MacKay made a very suitable reply thanking her friends in words well chosen. Special features of the evening were solos by Messrs. Russel MacKay, Norman MacDonald and Instrumental Music by Mrs. Cecil Mill. Mrs. Russel MacKay and Mr Ferdie Kilbride A dainty lunch was then served and the remainder of the evening was spent in Sing-Song. The singing of the National Anthem brought a most enjoyable evening to a close.

Following is the address:

Dear Mamie and Glenn: —The members of the A. Y. P. A. have gathered here this evening to express to you our appreciation of your help in our play, "The Rage of Pine Grove." You have always given devotedly of your time and talent on our behalf and we feel we could not let this opportunity pass, without expressing our gratitude. We ask you to please accept these gifts as small token of our appreciation and with all good wishes for your health and happiness.

Signed on behalf of the Kensington A. Y. P. A.

THIS CARPET SQUARE WORTH NEARLY $13,000

The Waldorf-Astoria laid a new rug in its Park Avenue lobby late one evening recently and we happened to be in on it. We will quickly jot down the statistics we gathered. The rug is 48 feet 11 inches by 46 feet 11 inches, and therefore measures 2,295 square feet. It has a pile a little over an inch thick and 69 shades of yarn are sprinkled into its 15,000,000 tufts. It took 16 weavers eight months to make it. We got it from a man in the rug trade that the monster must have cost about $50 a square yard, which would come to $12,750.

It isn't the biggest rug in the country; the biggest is of 3,946 square feet, and is in the Nebraska State Capitol, but that one is monochromatic, and consequently less exciting to rug people. The Waldorf's is bigger than the rug in the Roxy Theatre, from which 2,000 pieces of chewing gum are removed yearly. The Waldorf anticipates no trouble along these lines. —New Yorker.
