Bristol and Vicinity

The draw in the C.N. Railway long bridge across Morell River was opened recently by the railway men for the first time in years.

The large Government dredge working at St. Peters's Harbour all summer was taken up the river to Anderson's Cove and in order to get the dredge up, the bridge had to be opened. Railway men said it was quite a task as the machinery was rusted and the entire bridge had to be swung around on a table. In the spring the bridge will be reopened to allow the dredge to go down again.

Mrs Richard Cullen was in the city arranging for the sale of her large flock of geese at a good price.

Miss Mary Sinnott, was in the city along with many other teachers making plans for the coming Christmas season.

Friends here will regret to learn of the passing of Mr. Dan Grant, at his home, Peakes Station. Mr. Grant was a meat peddler on this route for many years and his passing is regretted.

It was first intended to the plans were to build the present all year entrance. Owing to ers and the size of the building the great increase in church-go- it is understood that plans are in the making for a new church building soon after the war.

Mr. and Mrs. George Phalen, were in the city last week on business.

This correspondent has had the pleasure of meeting the Rev. Mr. Boyce for the first time since he left here. Mr. Boyce was for several years Minister of the United Church here and to this day his leaving for another charge is still regretted not only by his congregation but by all who had the pleasure of knowing him. No finer man ever lived in Bristol, no matter what one's beliefs were, he was a friend to all.

Mr. Joseph McInnis section fore-man on the C.N.R. here was in the city last week on business.

Mr. Frank Tobin, who was called home from New York City owing to the illness and death of his father, Mike Tobins, left last week on return to his home.

The Bristol Mills at a standstill for months are starting to work again as the manager, Mr. Hooper is better again after a long lay-off with an infected hand.

Considerable coal has arrived at Morell in the last few weeks and many who burn all coal are resting more easy as their bins have at last been pretty well filled up.

PLYMOUTH MAN ASSISTS WITH MARINE MAIL

SOMEWHERE IN THE PACIFIC—(Delayed)—It's only a tent under a cocoanut tree, but it handles enough mail and writes out enough money orders to do credit to a small sized American town.

Marine Sgt. Samuel R. Gay of Dorchester, Mass., in charge of this island postoffice, averages 2000 incoming and outgoing airmail letters, and sometimes writes out $12,000 worth of money orders, in a single day.

V-mail increases the daily load. Parcel post travels slower, but he still averages 150 sacks a month. He also distributes about 2,000 home town newspapers for his outfit. The Marine write as well as receive letters. Sgt. Gay averages $3,000 a month in stamp and envelope sales.

He has one assistant, Cpl. Frederick L. Williamson of Plymouth. Their speed in handling mail is matched by the entire service postal system. They have often handed a Marine a letter only six days after it left his home town, 10,000 miles away.

Samuel R. Gay referred to above is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. V. Clow Gay and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Jay, 74 Cumberland street.
