During the evening the meeting heard an interesting address by Lieut. Col. K. S. Rogers on "democracy". The speaker upheld the principle fio democratic government but criticized the system of governmental machinery set up in the Dominion to carry out public services.

"At last I can breathe freely again . . . relieved from the clutches of CATARRH"

This is quoted from just one of thousands of earnest testimonials praising Mentholatum. All over the world millions of men and women are grateful to this time-proved family remedy. Mentholatum is a simple, direct way of treating nasal catarrh. This healing balm is no sooner inserted in the nostrils than the antiseptic vapours begin to penetrate to the farthest nasal passages . . . relieve congestion . . . fight germs . . . retard gathering of mucus . . . clear your nose and help keep it clear. Get a 30 cent tube or jar today. Apply it regularly. Mentholatum should bring you relief . . . as it has relieved millions . . . or your money will be refunded. A4

I. O. D. E. Reports

The following reports were submitted at Monday's annual meeting of the Royal Edward Chapter, I. O. D. E.

REPORT OF ACTING SECRETARY OF EDUCATION FOR PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

February, 1939

Madam Regent and Ladies:

A joint meeting of the members of the Abegweit and Royal Edward Chapters held last October was a pleasant as well as a profitable gathering. At that time the work of the War Memorial of the Order was reviewed by your Acting Provincial Educational Secretary. I will not burden you with the whole story again.

The Bursaries which, as you know, were the awards given to children of men who were either killed or totally disabled in the Great War, to enable them to secure a University education in Canada were discontinued last year. When the War Memorial was instituted in 1919 it was decided by the Commitee, that the children born at that time, who were to profit by the Bursaries would be past college age in 1938 and consequently the money set aside for this purpose was so arranged that both interest and principle would be all expended by 1938. Our Bursary holders were Mae Gardiner, Launching, Marie Clark, Georgetown, Allison Rogers, Charlottetown, Richard McQuarrie, Victoria and Keith Kennedy, Southport.

Our present scholarship holder is Miss Helen Champion, O'Leary, who is now attending London University. Miss Champion expects to secure her Doctor's degree this spring. Mr. Alfred Linkletter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Linkletter, Northam, was awarded the scholarship for 1939-40 and will proceed to London next autumn. Mr. Linkletter is taking post-graduate work at Dalhousie University this year.

There are still a number of War Memorial pictures on hand and any suggestions to aid in their distribution will be gladly received.

The patriotic calendars have been a feature of the work of the Order again this year. These calendars are very appropriate gifts for schools as they have helpful quotations for each month which make splendid memory gems and the anniversaries of special interest to Canadians are clearly marked. Last year the Royal Edward Chapter ordered one hundred calendars from Head Office and the Abegweit Chapter ordered forty.

The Sarah Maxwell Prize Essay competitions were conducted as usual in the public schools of the capital cities of the Dominion. Our Chapter Educational Secretary will give the details of the Charlottetown competition.

The National Educational Committee is preparing a pamphlet to be used in conjunction with the Departments of Education in the several provinces so that a uniform text-book may be in the hands of the teachers from coast to coast for the instilling into our Canadian youth the highest ideals of citizenship. On request we have forwarded some suggestions which may prove helpful in the compiling of the booklet.

The usual distribution of literature and notices from the Head Office has been attended to and your Secretary has sent out fifty-three pieces of mail.

Faithfully submitted
HAZEL MACMILLAN
Acting Educational Secretary for Prince Edward Island.

3rd Lilian McPhee West Kent School.

Dr. Howard Smith kindly read and placed these essays.

The subject of the 1939 essay is Current Events Within the Empire (from Sept 1 —Dec. 31, 1938) The schools have received the subjects and are now preparing to write the essay.

The usual prizes for encouragement in the study of History were awarded in Prince Street and West Kent Schools.

The chapter bought one hundred calendars, eighty-four of which were sold the remaining sixteen given as follows: I. O. D. E room, Red Cross, Legion, Women's Institute, Library and City Schools.

WELFARE WORK

Madame Regent and Ladies:

The needs of Service and Ex-Service men and their dependents are very specially recommended to the consideration of Daughters of the Empire, all over Canada, as a patriotic duty. The Canadian Legion, and the Auxiliary of the B. E. S. L. function pretty thoroughly as far as the city is concerned and veterans in the city are helped by various organizations. We have tried to make our contributions do the greatest possible good by attending to the needs of families in rural districts, where there is less chance of over-lapping. Boots and clothes were bought at a rummage sale to meet one request for help; a warm winter coat was contributed by one of our members to meet another request; the committee received a letter of thanks from the mother in one of our families, for a parcel containing warm clothes which she said were a perfect fit. She didn't know who sent the parcel, but we did, so we readdressed her letter to 181 Fitzroy Street.

The special Christmas work, while it often seems more than we can put through, at the very busiest season of the year, yet brings its own satisfaction in the sense of having done something worthwhile when we read the letters of thanks which come in. The work this year was helped by more members than usual under a committee consisting of Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. Horne, Miss Rose Longworth, Miss Mary Haszard, Mrs. C. H. B. Longworth and Mrs. Blanchard served as bargain hunters, and the committee are confident that not much escaped them. We are indebted to the Toy Shop of the Boy Scout Association for a generous gift of over 75 toys and books in excellent condition. This cooperation made it possible for us to spread our fund to include the purchase of warm stockings, bloomers and underwear. Special mention should be made of the generous contributions of puddings from members, and puddings that were contributed by friends who are not members. Warmest thanks were extended to Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Simpson for the puddings sent in to take the place of those formerly sent by Mrs. Hodgson and Miss Rosa DeBrisay. The response to the appeal was more generous than ever, and the quality must have been excellent.

Parcels were mailed to 33 families; 13 parcels were for families near enough to city to be called for; the contents surpassed those of last year. Worthy of special mention, perhaps because they were unexpected, were donations from Mr. Wonnacott of 5 pairs of warm woollen stockings and 2 pairs of mittens from Mrs. Thacker, Brada bane. The donations of our own members were so varied, and so generous that it is impossible to enumerate them. 218 children of 12 or under 12 received special consideration, and those over 12, as well as fathers and mothers were remembered as well as our resources permitted. Financial statement has already been read.

Respectfully submitted
MARY BREHAUT,
for Committee in Charge of Christmas Work.

FALSE ZEAL

By Rev. Dr. Ward Ayers

By Rev. D. Ward Ayers

Much of modern church activity is based upon false zeal, a desire for the praise of men instead of God, and thereby loses much of its effectiveness.

Instead of calling people to the cross and salvation, they are being called to participation in a multitude of activities which keep them busy in an ecclesiastical treadmill, upon which all are urged to tramp to make the wheels of church machinery whir with gratifying activity.

Yet the church should ask itself: What are we aiming at? For whose glory are we working? Are we building a solid foundation? Are our works acceptable to God? Can He reward us for what we are doing?

Much really Christian effort receives little worldly praise and often criticism instead. This will be the testing time of the Christian's service. His attitude at this time will show whether he is a genuine servant of his Lord or whether he labors for the praise of men. A consistent Christian persists in his endeavours to do good whether or not the world approves. Not by battalions but singly, individually is the Kingdom of Christ won, though one man's leadership may attract many to the fold.

Britain Meets Expansion Of German Fleet

LONDON, Feb. 28—(CP)—With nine battleships and nearly 200 other warships building or planned, Great Britain has met German fleet expansion with her largest peacetime naval program and a hint that next year's would be even bigger.

Naval estimates for 1939 made public today called for expenditure of £135,666,681 (about $768,333,405) and the authorization of two new battleships, expected to be sister ships to the 40,000-ton, 16-inch gun Lion and Temeraire ordered in 1938. For the fiscal year ending March 31 this year the figure was £123,707,000.

The new naval program, forming a part of the 1939 estimate of $580,000,000 for all branches of defence will give the Empire 28 capital ships by 1942.

Dominion Defence

Earl Stanhope, First Lord of the Admiralty, spoke briefly about defence in the Dominions. He said Canada is considering purchase of a flotilla leader from the Admiralty. The Canadian Navy consists at present of six destroyers.

The Australian Government has progressed considerably toward completing "naval and seaward defences for main ports in order to secure them against attacks by submarines and minelayers," Lord Stanhope stated. Coast defences and mnuitions productions also have been improved in Australia.

As a result of conferences last fall with Oswald Pirow, South African Defence Minister, defence bases there are to be modernized.

In the last year six new torpedo boats have been moved to Hong Kong.

New Royal Yacht

The estimates also included provision for construction of a new Royal yacht to replace the 40-year-old Victoria and Albert. The Victoria and Albert, although still serviceable, is antiquated and requires a large crew of 363 officers and men. An error in construction left her topheavy and today she carries 600 tons of concrete aboard as ballast.

A high naval source disclosed that during the 1939-40 fiscal year a total of £11,800,000 would be spent on the naval air corps. The peak in naval rearmament, the source said, would be reached next year.

One provision of the estimates was for 20 new-type high speed escort vessels, designed especially to operate with fast liners and freighters in the convoy system which the Admiralty plans to use extensively should war come.

Britain was described as leading the world in aircraft carriers, with six building in addition to seven already in service. The fleet's wartime fuel reserve was said to be complete.

MARTHA ELLA SMITH

Martha Ella Smith was born at New Glasgow, P. E. I., Nov., 1859, and departed this life February 6, 1939. She was one of a large family, whose father came from England, and on her mother's side she was a grandchild of Elder John Stevenson, who came from Scotland, and was among the early founders of the Church of Christ in New Glasgow.

She lived most of her life at New Glasgow, and was much loved and respected, and a favorite with the young. She became a Christian in early life, and united with the church at New Glasgow, and was a consistent member till her death. Many beautiful floral tributes testified to the love and esteem of relatives and friends.

She leaves one brother, Cyrus Smith of New Glasgow, to whom much sympathy is extended. She was pre-deceased by four sisters and three brothers, two of whom Hammond and John Stevenson Smith were preachers of the gospel.

A short service was held at the home of her niece Mrs. Harold Bagnall, Hazel Grove, who cared for her in her last illness; and a service at the church at New Glasgow, conducted by Rev. J. W. Hayter of Hazelbrook, assisted by Rev. W.J. MacLeod of New Glasgow, who read the Scripture and offered prayer. The text of the sermon was I Corinthians 15:20. The hymns were "Abide With Me", Sweet bye-and-bye." Mr. Ritchie Dickieson and Mrs. George Dickieson sang very feelingly "Some Day We'll Understand."

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Geo. H. Stevenson, Horace Ling, Ernest Houston, J. Brenton Dickieson, Watson Semple and Frank Nicholson. Interment was in the family plot in the New Glasgow cemetery.

KELVIN GROVE

The heartfelt sympathy of the many friends to Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Forbes of Kelvin on the death of their youngest child, Kenneth Harold, at the tender age of only seven weeks and one day. Although very young this little lily of God's garden showed every promise of a lovely child up to a day before the Angels sent wings for his little soul to fly away. Here we are reminded of the blessed words: "And the city shall be filled with boys and girls playing in the streets thereof." But what a great comfort it is to the sorrowing family when they realize that their little treasure is waiting for them on that beautiful shore, guarded and watched by the Angels of the Most High. To those who mourn we would remind them of the words of Jesus: "Suffer little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of God". The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon from the home of its parents, the house being filled with sympathetic friends of the family. Rev. B. C. Salter brought a message of comfort and inspiration to all, taking for his text Solomon 6-2: "My beloved is gone down into his garden, to feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies." Hymns sung were, "By Cool Silvan's Shady Mill", and "When He Cometh." Besides sorrowing parents there are three brothers, Sydney, Jimmie and Wilfred, four sisters, Lillian, Barbara and Mary at home, and Helen of N.B. Interment was in the People's Cemetery.

The Kelvin Myrtle Rhoad W.M.S. met at the home of Mrs. John Walker with a large attendance. Mrs. John S. McKay, president, presided. Next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. John R. Stavert. A dainty lunch was served by the hostess.
