IN MEMORIAM

MISS MARY HYNES.

There passed calmly and peacefully away at her home in Spring Valley on Sunday, July 22nd, Miss Mary Hynes, a well known and highly esteemed resident of that place at the advanced age of 73 years. Deceased although not enjoying the best of health for some time was feeling apparently as well as usual until five days previous to her death when she was stricken with pyralysis. Best medical attention and tender nursing proved to be of no avail and she gradually grew worse until her soul fortified by the last consoling rites of the Holy Catholic Church soared forth to meet it's Maker. She was an ideal christian lady possessing the highest sterling qualities and will be greatly missed not only in the home, but also in the community in which she spent practically all her life. Her last illness was born with true resignation to the divine will of her Redeemer, and she calmly bore her sufferings with that heroic fortitude so characteristic of the noble christian personality. Her funeral was held on Tuesday morning July 24th to St. Mary's Church Indian River, where High Mass of Requiem was sung by her beloved pastor, Mgr. D. J. Gillis, after which her mortal remains were laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery, there to await the resurrection of the just. The pall bearers were, Joseph Connick, Kenneth Champion, Cornelius Morrison Linus Brennan, Hiram Harrington and Wilbert Delaney. May her soul rest in peace.

GOVERNMENT SEEKS NAVAL FUEL SUPPLY IN NOTHERN WASTES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The last "mystery land under" the American flag, a vast stretch of mountain and plain in nothwest Alaska, now is undeer exploration by the federal government.

The tract comprises some 35,000 square miles, and was set aside last February by President Harding as a naval oil reserve. Some traces of oil have been found on its borders, but for the most part its qualities and resources are a matter of speculation. The exploration recently begun is under the direction of six scientists of the Interion Department whose primary task will be to investigate oil mining possibilities, but who in addition will make the first maps of the region ever drawn on scientific lines.

Four or five summers are to be consumed before the exploration is complete, but during the present season it is hoped to complete a preliminary reconnaisance and determine the location of the most promising oil fields. For this purpose the geologists and topographers and their camp hands have divided into three parties, in the hope that by this means most of the tract can be covered before winter begins.

The few facts konwn about the district are that it consists mainly of a flat and barren land near the seacoast, a narrow strip of which has been visited by the white men, and the in the south it includes a high barren range of mountains. It is bounded on the north and west by the Arctic Ocean, on the south by the Endicott Range, and on the east by the Colville River.

Whalers and a few other hardy adventurers have visited the coast and several small posts have been organized. Several oil companies have sent prospectors to look over the many oil seeps to be seen near the coast but no legal claims of permits for expolitation of the resources have been granted. In places the surface oil is said to have been collected in small ponds and puddles and semisolid tar residues have been reported.

Wether the federal government will undertake the development of the territory will be determined later. The working season would be so short however, and the difficulties of drilling, storing and transportation so immense, that unless oil is discovered in great quantity leases will be granted to private firms.

Since the area is situated entirely within the Arctic Circle, not only would transportation distances be great, but the cold would prevent a working season of more than a few months each year. The departments men were unable to work until July because of ice conditions, and they will hardly be able to continue later than the middle of September.

CITIZEN POLICE OF IOWA CLEAR STATE OF OUTLAW BANDS

DES MOINES, Aug. 11.—Iowa, which for many years was the stamping ground for bank robbers, apparently has become the "No-man's land" for bandits and outlaws, as a result of the activities of 3,800 trained vigilantes.

The state bankers' association, which is responsible for the organization of the vigilantes recently reported that during the six months ending July 1 there was not a bank robbery in Iowa—a record unsurpassed in recent years in the Hawkeye state.

Losses sustained by banks and customers in 56 robberies during 1921, before the vigilantes were organized totaled 228,973.84; During the following year, when the vigilantes were just getting under way there were 30 robberies and losses of $54,941.85. But $30,000 was obtained in the year past ended.

The record of Iowa, the only state having such an organization, has attracted the attention of bankers and authorities throughtout the states and a number have visited here and obtained a working knowledge of the system with a view of having it introduced in their own states.

The vigilantes armed with army pistols and rifles or sawed-off shotguns and the authority of deputy sheriffs, are for most part, ex-service men, trained in the use of guns. They are subject to call 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. Their names and telephone numbers are on a special switchboard in the telephone office of their home town and the operator, calling them out is allowed a bonus of $25.00 to encourage speedy service.

The vigilantes operate in 800 of the 1,000 towns in the state which have banks. The organization is spreading and probably will be in operation in the other 200 towns before the year is ended.

Banks in each of the 99 counties of the state have pledged the payment of at least $1,000 for the capture or information leading to the arrest and conviction of robbers or burglars attempting to rob or burglarize a bank. The reward is paid immediately upon the capture, dead or alive, of robbers or burglars taken while in the act of committing the crime.

Several counties have equipped their vigilantes with armored automobiles. One county has barricades erected at intersecting roads from behind which the banits are due for a rain of lead, should they pass that way. Another county has colored lights for night pursuit, that the vigilantes may identify each other. The same county has provided spiked belts, which are stretched across the highways to puncture the tires of the automobiles of the fleeing bandits. In counties where there are airplanes, arrangements have been completed for their use in case of emergency.

Just Phone Your Grocer

HE'S the Carnation Milkman. He'll send you a supply of sweet, fresh milk you can keep on your pantry shelves in perfect safety—even through the heat of summer!

Then you have it always on hand. No running out, no waste, no inconvenience! Carnation Milk is just pure "whole" milk with about 60% of the natural water content removed by evaporation. For tea or coffee use it as it comes from the can; for cooking or drinking reduce its richness by adding water as desired.

Order several tall (16 oz.) cans or a case of 48 cans with your groceries.

The Carnation Cook Book contains 100 delightful tested recipes. Here's one. Try it—and write to-day for the Cook Book.

FROZEN CUSTARD

2-3 cup sugar, 1¼ cups water, 1¼ cups Carnation Milk, 2 eggs, ⅛ teaspoonful salt, 1 teaspoonful vanilla. Scald the milk. Beat the eggs slightly; add sugar and salt. Add the scalded milk mixed with the water and stir constantly. Put in double boiler and stir until the mixtures thickens and a coating is formed on spoon. Cool, add flavoring and freeze. This recipe makes one quart, enough to serve six people.

FIRE CAUSES DAMAGE OF $250,000 AT NELSON, B. C.

(Canadian Press)

NELSON, N. S., Aug 10—Damage estimated as high as $250,000 was done here late yesterday by a fire which originated in the planing mill of W Sullivan Limited and fanned by a hurricane swept several buildings out of existence and destroyed from 5,000,000 to 9,000,000 feet of lumber

At one stage of wind and fire the adjoining villages of Nowlansville and Craigsville appeared doomed to destruction, but a sudden change in the wind worked their salvation

Fire fighters from Chatham and Newcastle, aided by streams from two powerful tugs, the Newcastle engine and a host of frantically working millmen proved practically helpless in the face of the gale The men concentrated their efforts mainly and successfully upon saving the big Sullivan mill. Last night the flames were still burning along a frontage of half a mile, but the worst of the danger was believed to be past. There is said to be about $80,000 insurance on the lumber.

Among the buildings destroyed were: The Sullivan planing mill office, boarding house, and cookhouse, a dwelling and two barns. One of the barns had taken fire earlier in the day but the flames had been extinguished. Only a few men will be thrown out of employment as the big lumber mill will continue to operate.

RAISE OF PAY FOR MONTREAL STREET RAILWAY WORKERS

MONTREAL, Aug. 12.—Unanimously deciding on an award which would give employees of the Montreal light hea tand power consolidated outside of the main offices, an increase in wages of approximately 8 per cent the board of arbitration appointed to investigate the demands of the employees for a restoration to the 1920 wage rates and working conditions, concluded sittings today. The suggestion was also made that an agreement on this basis be drawn up to last for two years.

About two thousand men are effected.
