BIG CROWDS AT HALIFAX RACES

Fast Time in 2.25 Trot. Orwell Bell Wins 3rd Place—Other Events

Special to The Guardian.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 5—In the 2.25 trot today Billy C., a son of Brazilian's, got the change belonging to the first money after a hard battle for the place with Briar Queen who forced him to a mark of 2.18¾.

It took five heats to decide the race and there was much speculation as to which might win and no doubt some were hurt badly in the pools as the Queen was the favorite.

Orwell Bell got third money, was well bunched throughout the race and showed much gameness; possessing the qualities of a classy trotter.

In the 2.35 trot Protein a Moncton entry won the big end of the purse. Bottom, a Fredericton entry, got second. Best time 2.23¼.

The track was fast and good and there was nothing to it in this race except Protein.

The attendance was good today.

Monday almost nineteen thousand people viewed the splendid racing.

The cattle parade in front of the grand stand looked good.

There will be a battle tomorrow in the free-for-all between Mary Cromwell, King Arion and Queen Marie.

SAILS IN SMALL SLOOP FOR PANAMA

BOSTON, Sept. 4—William F. Fraser, once a minister, and previously master of a coasting schooner, set sail here today in a 32-foot sloop for Panama. With him were Mrs. Fraser and their nineteen year old son. Mr. Fraser says he doesn't know what fear is, and Mrs. Fraser declared the long and dangerous voyage held no terrors for her either.

On board the little craft were most of the Fraser's household goods. It is the intention of the pilgrims not to return to this part of the country, but to find a congenial home somewhere in the south. "I am willing to go anywhere so long as it means being out on the sea," said Mrs. Fraser.

GIANT SONS KEPT BEDFAST YEARS BY MOTHERS HYPNOSIS

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y., Sept. 2—Hypnotized by their mother into the belief that they are suffering from hereditary heart disease in an aggravated form, three grown men have been lying in bed for years in their home on the road running from Northville, Fulton county, to Wells, Hamilton county. Physicians have examined the three men and declare they are in as sound physical trim as can be three six footers, who have remained in bed such a length of time.

The men are sons of John Bennett, farmer. The mother is a robust woman, intelligent in appearance, about sixty years old. The sons are George, thirty-two years old, Ward, twenty-nine, and Frank, twenty-seven years. They are under the impression that the slightest shock will result in sudden death. George has been in bed for eight years, Ward ten years, and Frank six years.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bennett insist the men are awful sufferers. They had trouble this summer with a firm of contractors putting through a state highway near their home because the blasting had a serious effect on their sons' condition.

The three men are types of Hamilton county residents—hardy, robust men, somewhat pale from their long lack of exercise and sunshine, but all sound as a dollar, according to competent medical men. This verdict has no effect on the parents or the sons, who persist in declaring themselves very ill men.

Neighbors and visitors to the many summer camping resorts in the Adirondacks have heard of the case and called on the men.

The authorities of Hope, in which town the Bennets reside, have offered to send the men to a hospital, but Mrs. Bennett insists upon a guarantee for safe return of her boys, and protests that to move them would bring on an attack of their trouble and cause death. The authorities abandoned the plan some time ago.

THE TELEPHONE CO. SUFFERS BY FIRE

Yesterday morning about nine o'clock a fire in the P. E. I. Telephone Co. Office destroyed their valuable local switch board, worth about $8,000 besides damaging to a certain extent certain parts of the building by fire, water and smoke.

Outside of the damage a result which will be keenly felt throughout the entire City will be the loss of the use of their phones by 560 patrons, this being caused by the destruction of the central energy switch board installed three years ago.

Shortly before nine o'clock when the young lady operators were busy at their work, smoke issued from the board. Geo. Brady, one of the employees rushed behind, tore away a panel and immediately flames and smoke burst forth. How the fire originated is not known but once started, it spread with great rapidity, as the hundreds of wires connected with the board are coated with lacquer and other inflamable material.

The firemen responded quicvly and soon drowned out the flames. Immediately after this steps were taken to get the long distance lines into commission and at noon this was done. Mr. Grant, the manager, immediately wired for a temporary switchboard but it will probably be two weeks before this can be put into use.

The loss was partly covered by insurance.

Owing to the accident to the switch-board at the Telephone Office, alarms for fire cannot be rung in from there at present, and it will be necessary to send all alarms in to the fire station, City Building. Until satisfactory arrangements are made special watchmen have been engaged to patrol different sections of the city all night in order that some one might be on hand to send in the alarm in the event of a fire taking place.

The fire alarm connecting the firemen is working all right, and citizens can be assured that prompt response will be given to all alarms sent in to the fire station.

APPOINTMENTS TO-DAY

A meeting of the Executive Council of the P. E. I. Local Government will be held today at noon.

A number of appointment will come up before the Council.

These include the appointment of a Stipendiary Magistrate for Charlottetown and also a Stipendiary for Queen's County. These two offices were held by the late Major J. A. Macdonald but the two do not necessarily go together.

While the Premier was not communicative yesterday as to the names of the applicants The Guardian learns from outside sources that Ex Gov' McKinnon, J. J. Johnston, K. C., K. J. Martin and D. Edgar Shaw, City, are either in the running or frequently mentioned in this connection.

A professor will have to be appointed for the Prince of Wales College to take the place of Prof. E. E. Jordan, who is on a year's leave of absence; Miss Seaman is also on a year's leave of absence and a temporary appointment will be made for her position. Miss McIntyre of the Normal school will be absent until the last of the year and a substitute will also be appointed in her place.

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND MAY BE DROWNED

Awful Flood Reported in China. People Perished and Crops Were Destroyed.

Special to The Guardian.

HANKOW, China, Sept. 5 — The American mission at Wuhu has received a report that 100,000 persons have been drowned by floods caused by water flowing over the banks of the Yangtse-Kiang river.

The floods are the worst that have been experienced in many years.

The province of Anhwei is submerged to a greater depth than ever before.

It is estimated that 95 per cent of the crops have been destroyed.

PEKING, Sept. 4—Summer floods along the Yagetse-Kiang and its tributaries, and also other great rivers, are repeating in various provinces the conditions in Anhwei and Wiangsu, which have not yet been relieved.

In the province of Anhwei early in August, hundreds of thousands of acres of rice were destroyed by the floods and half a million persons were rendered homeless.

Many thousands of square miles are now submerged and the bodies of hundreds of people lie unburied. The Chinese government, as well as special committees, is subscribing relief funds which is a new departure from the administration and shows the advancement toward modern ways for attacking the root of the evil.

WOULD EXPORT CHILDLESS WOMEN

WINONA LAKE, Ind., Sept. 4.—Women and lap dogs do not make a country; it takes fathers and mothers and children," said Rev. George R. Stewart, of Cleveland, Tenn., who preached before an audience today at the Winona Bible Conference.

"You can, with immense advantage to the country," declared Dr. Stewart, "load up about 5,000 of these giddy, godless, childless women and ship them out of the country and bring in an equal number of good old-fashioned mothers.

"This country needs obedience to authority. Anarchy is not born in Chicago's Haymarket Square, but in the slums. If a boy does not obey his father or mother it is incipient anarchy. I do not blame the sixteen-year-old girls for the way they dress. There is not a girl of that age who knows enough to dress as she ought. That is the reason she needs a mother.

"I asked a successful dog trainer how he did his work and he replied: "I take the dogs when they are pups and then I get complete control over them and keep them doing the same thing over and over again until it becomes second nature.'

"This is the secret of bringing up children. God gives them to us when they are absolutely helpless in our hands, and He expects us to train them until goodness becomes a second nature. The man who said he raised his boys on prayers and hickory had the secret. Never lie to your children. It is lying parents who most quickly break down their children's integrity."

The indifference of Christian people is the greatest barrier to a complete union of the churches, according to Rev. T. H. Lewis, of Westminster, Md., president of the General Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, who spoke on "The Union of Christ's Disciples."

"We paint the picture of lambs in our cathedral windows and carve them in marble, but the real sheep of the Christian sheep fold we keep in walls so high they can't get out," said Dr. Lewis. "The din of our controlersy is so loud the sheep cannot hear the Shepherd's voice."

PRESIDENT TAFT SPEAKS FOR PEACE

NEW YORK, Sept. 4—President Taft and a number of others prominent in public and civic life contribute articles on the subject of peace which the Christian Herald will issue this week. President Taft says:

"I yield to no one in my love of peace, in my hatred of war, and in my earnest desire to avoid war. I believe that we have made great strides toward peace within the last decade. No one that I know of goes further in favor of settling international controversies by arbitration than I do, and if I have my way and am able to secure the assent of other powers. I shall submit to the senate arbitration treaties broader in their terms than any that body has heretofore ratified, and broader than any that now exist between the nations. In laying down my office, I could leave no greater claim to the gratitude of my countrymen than to have secured such treaties."

Extracts from some of the other contributors are as follows:

Simeon E. Baldwin, governor of Connecticut: "I think it a fair question whether the judgments of an international court, when one is set up, should be made enforceable through methods of preventing commercial intercourse, or by seizures of territory, or left to the effect of public opinion. I should incline to favor trying the latter than first."

Woodrow Wilson, governor of New Jersey: "I consider the present agitation for international arbitration and world peace a deep-seated and permanent thing, representing the fixed and universal desire of the human heart."

Joseph M. Carey, governor of Wyvming: "I scarcely think that we are now in the beginning of the era of world peace, but I do believe that we are in the beginning of an era when wars will be less frequent than they have been heretofore."

GREAT PRACTICAL GOOD.

Chas. S. Osborn, governor of Michigan: "If an international court were able to enforce its judgments by the guarantee of the signatory powers to an international arbitration treaty, the effect would be of great practical good. We are possibly nearing peace in the Christian world."

Herbert S. Hadley, governor of Missouri: "The time will come, possibly within the life time of those now living, when it will seem inexplicable that nations should go to war over questions that could be settled with honor by submitting the same for settlement to an international court of arbitration."

John Sharp Williams, senator from Mississippi: "No greater folly was ever indulged in than 'the tremendous armament of the leading nations. It would be better for the mass of mankind to have a general war and be done with it and find out who is the strongest and let the strongest power exert its tremendous power by disarming everybody else. Quick death in a universal war would be preferable to slow death by universal taxation."

Richard Wainwright, rear-admiral U. S. N.: "At this period of the world's history to reduce our army or navy would be in advance of its present stage of evolution. The president is now showing the best course to take in the interest of furthering international peace."

Henry Clews: "I believe that the proposition of Mr. Speyer relative to the withholding of funds by nations, to be used for war loans, would be a good idea provided the nations so acting are banded together to prevent war and insure international peace."

UNREST GROWS IN PORTUGAL

LIBSON, Sept. 4—(Via the Frontier,) Sept. 3—The Royalist movement in North seems to be gaining ground. There have been several cases of flagrant insubordination, but none more pronounced than that on the part of the Eleventh Infantry, a report of which has just been received here. The 11th, has been quartered at Braga, a town noted for its Royalist leanings. Recently this regiment was ordered transferred to Setubal, to the south, and when the men entrained they burst into thunderous cheers for the Monarchy and Capt. Couciere, the Royalist leader. The authorities summoned the Eighteenth Regiment, which surrounded and seized the insurbordinate infantrymen.

The strikers are causing the gradest injury to trade, especially those in which the lightermen and dockers are engaged. It is now announced that theses strikes have been settled, but it is likely that some time will elapse before all the men return to work, iIn the meantime many foreign ships have been forced to leave Lisbon without discharging their cargoes. Business men who much indignation over the situation, for the cork cutters' strike is growing steadily worse. The strikers crowd the streets in groups, and hundreds of cavalrymen are patrolling day and night. There are frequent collisions, and many persons have been injured by cavalry charges. Eight strikers have been arrested on the charge of burning a cork factory on the south bank of the Tagus.

THE JURY'S VERDICT IN THE LING CASE

The Coroner's inquest into the death of the late George Ling, whose body was found on the Falconwood Hospital Marsh some time ago, concluded its sessions yesterday.

The verdict arrived at, after but a comparatively short deliberation, was to the effect that the deceased came to his death by suicide. blame was attached to any one.

The only witnesses examined at yesterday's session were Jack and and Harry Ling, fellow countrymen of the deceased Chinaman. The letter written by the deceased in which he contemplated suicide was produced and admitted as evidence.

SEASONABLE THOUGHTS.

All day he scans the far horizon,
blue
And asks: Will Earth and Heaven
ever meet?
While all around- deep dyed with Heaven's blue.
The flowers are blooming at his feet.
The world puts on its robes of glory
now.
The very flowers are tinged with deeper dyes,
The waves are bluer, and the angels pitch
Their shining tents along the sunset skies.

The distant hills are crowned with purple mist,
The days are mellow, and the long,
calm nights
To wandering eyes, like weird magicians, show
The shifting splendors of the northern lights.
The generous earth spreads out her fruitful store.
And all the fields are decked with
ripened sheaves;
While in the woods, at autumn's
rustling step,
The maples blush through all their trembling leaves.
