Constipated? You Should Get at the Cause!

Lots of people think they can't be "regular" without frequent trips to the medicine chest. "I just dose up and get it over," they tell you. But doctors know they don't "get it over" at all—until they get at the cause of the trouble!

Chances are it's simple to find the cause if you eat only what most people do—meat, bread, potatoes. It's likely you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If that fits you, your ticket is a crunchy breakfast cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran. It contains the "bulk" you need plus the great intestinal tonic, vitamin B_1.

Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and just watch the old world grow brighter! Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

my pockets, and you will benefit also.'"

Senator Hughes returned to the statements prepared by Mr. Gordon and read by Senator Dandurand in the Senate, wherein it was said a good proportion of the P. E. I. farmer's debts were to merchants who had taken local mortgages. The farmers turned in their supplies to them, and therein lay the main causes of hardship. The merchants, according to the statements, took cattle, grain and other produce and allowed the farmers only one-half of the value of the stock.

Charges "Falsehood"

The Senator vigorously protested this as a "slander on a large class of respectable people in Prince Edward Island." "I say the man who says that is uttering a wholesale falsehood," he said.

He cited how the farm produce of the Island was marketed and showed the percentage handled by various co-operatives and other group agencies. He resented the implications cast against the Island merchants who, like other merchants, could exist only by building up and maintaining the goodwill of their clients.

The storm eventually subsided, and the Senate went through the bill clause by clause. An amendment by Hon. C. P. Beaubien, (Lib. Montarville) which would set Dec. 31, 1938, as the final date on which applications might be received, excepting only in the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, was adopted.

The Agony Of Eczema

Eczema, or salt rheum, is one of the most torturing of itching skin diseases. The principal cause is bad blood, aided by inactive skin and inflammation. It manifests itself in small, round pimples or blisters which later on break and form crusts or scales, and the intense burning, itching and smarting are almost unbearable.

To eradicate eczema from the system it is necessary to give the blood a thorough cleansing, and for this purpose we would highly recommend Burdock Blood Bitters.

MRS. JOSEPH R. Berger, Millbank, Ont., writes:—"Several months ago I was troubled with eczema on my hands. I could not help with the milking my hands were so sore and itching, and could hardly put them in water.

After I had taken two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters I found my hands were healing very quickly. I have never found a remedy to compare with B.B.B. for purifying the blood."

FIREMEN ANSWER FALSE ALARM—City firemen today were called to 165 Water Street but no trace of fire could be found. They are also used in fast freight service, hauling huge trains on passenger train schedules. The "6100" type engines are rated at 2900 horsepower. The model, operated on a short track is run by electricity but can also be operated by steam power. It was constructed by Mr. T. Thompson, machinist, Fort Rouge.

The letter read: "Dear comrade Heath, further to our letter of the 26th. March last I have to inform you that the certificate relating to comrade August Sawjerucha sent by you on the 18th. Revisits Ch'town After 26 Years

In the records of the local press in 1912 we find the following criticism:

"The name Grossmith is evidently a name to conjour with, for the opera house was packed to the doors last night to hear Leslie Grossmith, the famous musical entertainer from London, England."

Shortly after Mr. and Mrs. Grossmith and their daughter Gladys returned to Charlottetown and they produced a musical comedy "Tom, Tom, the Piper's Son" assisted by local talent in aid of the General Hospital.

Dr. Grossmith made such a brilliant impression as a high class musician that several authorities in the city tried to persuade him to locate here and develop the musical and dramatic talent of the Island.

But fate decreed otherwise.

Following a performance of "Tom, Tom, the Piper's Son" at Summerside, the family departed for St. John, Boston, New York, Chicago, Denver, Salt Lake City, and on to Seattle. Gladys married in Colorado where she is still residing with her husband and three children. Madame and Doctor Grossmith crossed back to Canada, remaining several years in Victoria and Vancouver, and yesterday they arrived in Charlottetown from Pictou, completing a tour across the continent with the Doctor's educational lecture "Character Building and the Power of Music" with practical demonstrations on the piano. This inspirational and educational feature throughout the colleges and schools has been accorded the highest commendation from many noted educationists.

His musical background includes the study of the piano from the age of four, violin from the age of six, and composition from the age of ten. His recitals have received the patronage of many notables in various countries and his orchestral conducting in London and more recently over the radio in Ottawa created considerable attention.

In the near future it is his intention to visit New York again for the purpose of presenting over the radio and on the stage his new grand opera "The Immortal Slave". The opera is founded on one of the most popular stories in literature and drama, namely, Harriett Beecher-Stowes human dramatic epic "Uncle Tom's Cabin" which has never been set in serious opera form, and contains a number of Southern American melodies and many original dramatic effects. Dr. Grossmith is arranging to speak at the Charlottetown schools and also the service clubs.

Application Of U. S. Student Is Rejected By Church Assembly

(By The Canadian Press)

TORONTO, June 7—The Presbyterian Church in Canada, in annual session here today, instructed its budget committee to explore all means of increasing annual income. A number of schemes for a financial drive to reduce the church's accumulated deficit were defeated.

TORONTO, June 7—Annual assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada rejected an application today from Rev. Frank Albert Lawrence, graduate of Westminster College, Philadelphia, now working at East River, Nova Scotia, for admission to the Canadian Church.

Pictou Presbytery sponsored the application but the Board of Education recommended against granting it. Speakers supporting the Board said some ministers coming from the United States have proven disloyal to the Canadian Church.

Rev. Sam Farley, Regina, said some United States ministers "have left behind them a trail of ruin." Mr. Farley said ministers coming from the United States should have a course in the Canadian colleges.

"These lads are banded together and they publish a paper of their own," Farley said. "It is a disgrace that they should come into competition with the Record, (official organ of the church)."

Dr. Hugh Munroe, New Glasgow, N.S., retiring moderator said Lawrence was doing good work in a difficult area in a post the church had found difficulty in filling.

emarkable achievement in the film art, which is scarcely likely to be surpassed for many years to come.

The Disney picture, Mr. Spencer stated, is one of three of the most popular films ever produced, which will be seen at the Pirnce Edward within the next two weeks. "Snow White" will be followed immediately by "Mad About Music", featuring Diana Durbin, and Goldwyn's sensational feature "Hurricane." Never before in Mr. Spencer's experience have three such outstanding attractions been offered anywhere in such close succession, and he is anticipating that Prince Edward patrons will appreciate this unique opportunity in high class entertainment.

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" will be shown during the balance of the week, with two matinees on Thursday.

FINE PROGRAM AT 3RD NIGHT OF BAZAAR

Growing interest and enthusiasm marked the third night of the grand 7-day bazaar in aid of the Charlottetown Hospital yesterday. Booths were well patronized and many spent an enjoyable evening playing games, including the ever popular bingo. Last night everything was being put in readiness for a record attendance tonight and for the remaining days of this week.

Dr. Harvey Doney is fast amassing a wealth of admirers through his pleasing personality and exceptionally fine baritone voice. Singing at the bazaar last night he opened with "That's Why Darkies Are Born," and his rendition of this number made one like it even if they did not have a taste for negro music. Singing as his second number "Annie Laurie" in a special arrangement he demonstrated his extraordinary technique to please all Scotchmen and others. The 'Veteran Song" was his masterpiece of the evening. Singing it in his own distinctive way, with forceful and well controlled declamation, powerful tone with mellow temper this song as rendered by Dr. Doney could not fail to impress and really "got to" the audience.

In direct contrast was his encore and concluding number, "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" which brought out the beautiful tenor like tones of the singer's middle register. It was a sweet song, sweetly sung and certainly reached into the hearts of the audience.

In all his numbers, while Dr. Doney impresses one with his vocal ability, his selections are so arranged and his interpretations so personal that one cannot help but enjoy his singing. He is one of the finest baritones ever to visit Charlottetown and his singing is sure to draw more and more patrons to the bazaar with each succeeding performance.

The low boy Willis piano, grand prize at the bazaar, was used by the accompanist for Dr. Doney's songs. The beautiful tones of the instrument evoked considerable comment from the audience. This Piano is of a size which will fit into any modern apartment but it has the full key board.

There is a specially arranged booth at the bazaar showing the beautiful bedroom suite which is of dual tone walnut inlaid with imitation pearl. The suite is complete with matress, spring, pillows, and rayon satin counterpane. Some people expressed the opinion that this suite would be too elaborate for their homes should they be the holder of the lucky ticket but the committee explained that any other furniture of equal value would be substituted.

The electric refrigerator and large range, other prizes were also much admired.

Winner of last night's door prize was Mrs. James Hickey, 174 Sydney Street. The prize was a beautiful walnut mantle clock donated by ex-mayor P. W. Turner.

It was announced that through the courtesy of Mr. Ivan McInnis, baker and those associated with him that the bingo party advertised for the I. O. O. F. hall Thursday had been postponed on account of the bazaar.

A pleasing feature of last nights program was music supplied by the Prince Edward Island Highland Pipe Band.

King Replies To Loyal Greetings From British Legion

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, England, June 6—(CP Havas) A message of loyalty to the King and his reply were read before the annual congress of the British Legion today by the chairman, Major-General Sir Frederick Maurice.

The Legion message:-

"The British Legion, assembled in annual conference, desire to express to His Majesty their grateful thanks for his continued and unfailing interest in all that concerns the welfare the service community and beg to convey the heartfelt devotion of the entire legion to His Majesty's house and person and trust that His Majesty's reign may long continue in health, prosperity and peace."

The King replied:-

"I sincerely thank you for your kind and loyal message sent on behalf of the British legion assembled in annual conference at Newcastle-On-Tyne."

General Maurice announced plans for an official visit of British ex-servicemen to Germany and a pilgrimage to Great War battlefields next year had been abandoned. The current international situation makes such visits inopportune he said.

Cleveland To Close All Relief Offices

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

CLEVELAND, June 6 — Mayor Harold H. Burton forecast tonight a complete shutdown of all Cleveland relief offices by the end of this week unless the legislature pumps state funds into this northern Ohio industrial sector.

"The situation is very serious and will require action by the legislature this week," Burton informed Gov. Martin L. Davey, here to address a convention.

'We are doing all we can," Davey replied.

Both Burton and Clark L. Mock, city relief commissioner, reported increased tension among the city's 75,000 direct relief recipients. Cleveland was doling out emergency food orders which Mock said would expire in "two or three days."

For two months, Cleveland's relief orders have been on a hand-to-mouth basis and state funds have become exhausted. The city has dipped into several municipal funds, and laid off its street cleaning department for a week.

Arrangements Complete For Veteran's Funeral

Arrangements were completed last night for the funeral Thursday of Matron Georgina Fane Pope, a veteran of the South African and Great Wars and the first Canadian to be honored by the King with the decoration of the Royal Red Cross, who died Monday at the age of 75 years.

The remains, which had been resting at the home of Mrs. R. N. Tomlins, were transferred to Government House yesterday where they will rest until Thursday at 10 a.m. when they will be accompanied by military detachments to St. Dunstan's Basilica. Requiem High Mass will be celebrated by Rev. P. McMahon, D.D., and the militia will be joined at the Basilica by the mourners and general public.

There will be the same order of procession from the Basilica to the Roman Catholic Cemetery with mourners and the general public.

LEGISLATION RE TRANSPORT SENT TO SENATE

Opposition Voiced By Bennett And Stevens As Bill Passes Commons.

(By The Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, June 7—Over objections raised by Opposition Leader Bennett and Hon. H. H. Stevens, (Recon. Kootenay East) the Government's Transport Commission measure passed all stages in the House of Commons today and was sent to the Senate.

The legislation, which took weeks to get through a House committee, is designed to create a board of transport commissioners with regulatory powers over inland water and air as well as rail transportation.

While Mr. Bennett questioned the "agreed charges" clause of the bill which empowers the railways to enter upon special low rate agreements with shippers, he did not attempt to defeat the measure.

Amendment Defeated

Mr. Stevens presented an amendment that would have the effect of restricting operation of the agreed charges section to those areas in which highway trucking offered competition. He said it was apparent the clause was designed to assist the railways in meeting high truck competition.

The amendment was not feasible and would nullify the clause Transport Minister Howe said. He would have to oppose it. It was defeated without a vote.

Only two clauses remained to be passed when the bill came up today and they were quickly disposed of. Practically all the debate was on the agreed charges clause and the provision that high transportation operators would have no access to the commission when dealing with such agreements.

Mr. Stevens said the highway transport companies were being "blackballed" and it was a departure from ordinary principles to deny any citizen access to such a court as the transport commission would constitute.

Mr. Howe replied that any interested party would have access to the commission which would be open as any court. Always the interest of the party had to be established. Highway transportation was not to be regulated under this act and should not have anything to say with respect to treatment of those who were placed under licence.

Mr. Stevens described the agreed charges provisions of the bill as a "distinctly retrograde step."

HODZA VOICES PLEA ON BEHALF OF REPUBLIC

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

BRATISLAVA, Czechoslovakia, June 6—Premier Milan Hodza voiced a firm but polite stand today against the autonomy clamoring of Czechoslovakia's Slovak minority.

The Premier, himself a Slovak, unfolded his views in an earnest speech from the same balcony on which Father Andreas Hlinka, leader of the Slovak autonomous movement, stood yesterday and laid down the demands.

"This is a democracy and we have to listen to the complaints of the minority," Hodza told his cheering supporters at a rally in this heart of the nations Slovak region.

"But in spite of these complaints I am convinced all Slovaks are really loyal to the republic."

Rights Extended

After Hodza finished it was disclosed he had prepared not only a new nationalities statute which he hoped would satisfy the Sudeten Germans and other minorities, but also a new Czechslovak agreement granting more extensive rights of self-government to Slovakia.

The nationalities statute has been in preparation since the Sudeten Germans, led by Konrad Henlein, framed autonomy demands for the 3,500,000 population.

Calmly reviewing the program of the Hlinka movement, Hodza told the crowd which packed Bratislava's public square that he denied the aged Catholic Churchman's claims he and his followers spoke for the republic's Slovak minority of 2,300,000 persons.

Best Answer

"They can speak only for their party, and your presence here is the best answer to what was said here yesterday," Hodza said. "We are solid and unshakeable as a rock. We will not permit anyone to destroy our republic."

Far from showing ill-will toward the delegation of United States Slovaks which injected the Pittsburgh Treaty into the nation's already delicate minority problem, Hodza invited their leader, Peter Hletko of Chicago, to say a few words.

Hletko spoke briefly, expressing hope for continuance of the Czechoslovak republic. The Pittsburgh Treaty, between Czechs and Slovaks, which his delegation brought to Bratislava, embodies the principle of "cultural self-government" for the Slovaks.

Scout Concert At Eldon

Boy Scouts of Charlottetown, Montague, Belle River; Girl Guides of Melville, and others scored a success with the Scout concert at Eldon Saturday evening, June 4.

The concert opened with a campfire scene; spruce trees and wild cherry blossoms made a woodsy background for the boys gathered around the campfire singing Scout songs.

Then followed a trio by Herbert Worth, John McWilliams and Eddie Martin; a duet by two six-year-old girls, Louise West and Shirley McDonald with their plaids and Scotch caps was sweetly sung; a dialogue: "Taking The Census", by two members of the Girl Guide Company was amusing and well acted; a quartette of Eldon boys sang a group of three songs; a solo by Herbert Worth was sung in his usual pleasing manner; Eileen McMillan, accompanied by her father with the violin, danced a step-dance gracefully.

The Belle River Scouts put on a skit, original and amusing. The Montague Scouts gave an exhibition of first-aid work, and fire-making without matches; and a talk on woodcraft by a young Scout showing a collection of wood from local trees gathered by a Scout.

Archie Hume of Montague played a number of Scotch airs on his violin, receiving well merited and hearty applause.

Charlottetown Sea Scouts gave an amusing skit, well sung, followed by the Charlottetown Scouts in rope spinning and fire-making.

Three young girls from Melville, Lois Gillis, Blanch Holmes, and Mary Ross, dressed in Highland costume danced the "Highland Fling" beautifully, accompanied by Glen McKenzie on the mouth organ. The Melville Guides, in their usual finished manner sang a number of their songs.

Dan Ross, always popular with an Eldon audience, sang "Asleep In The Deep". The concert closed by all singing the Scout Vesper Song, and Taps by the Guides, and God Save the King.

Mr. Kenneth Martin of Charlottetown gave a ten-minute talk on Scouting, explaining the value of Scouting to the boy.

The Women's Institute of Eldon provided lunches which were sold during the intermission, the proceeds added to the funds. Mrs. A. G. Putnam had charge of the music and accompanied most of the numbers.

The Eldon Scouts and their Scoutmaster Donald McKenzie, wish to thank all those who so willingly helped to make the concert a success, and thus provide the newly organized troop with the necessary funds to carry on. H

McColl-Frontenac Dealers Convene

Last evening Red Indian dealers in this vicinity met at the Canadian National Hotel together with members of the staff of McColl Frontenac Oil Company, Limited, for one of the spring dealer meetings which are being held this year all across Canada. In the capacity of chairman for the evening, Mr. R. W. Cunningham, assistant divisional sales manager, welcomed the large number of dealers present, and outlined briefly a progressive program for the approaching summer season. The opinion was expressed that a large increase in tourist traffic could be expected due largely to the Provincial Government's progressive policy in the hard-surfacing of highways.

During the evening the Company's talking pictures were shown, illustrating proper merchandising methods and depicting the procedure found to be most successful in the merchandising of petroleum products.

One of the features of the meeting was an interesting address given by Mr. D. E. Young of the retail merchandising dept. for the Maritime division of McColl Frontenac Oil Company, Limited, who spoke on automotive lubrication. This proved to be of vital interest to dealers and was thoroughly enjoyed by all those present.

Mr. K. M. Kerr, of the retail merchandising department, spoke briefly on some of the phases of retail merchandising, particularly as applied to the retailing of petroleum products.

At the close of the business section, an informal get-together was enjoyed, during which a delightful buffet luncheon was served.

In addition to the above members of the McColl Frontenac staff, Mr. J. D. Stewart, salesman, and Mr. H. V. White, agent for the Company in Charlottetown were present and contributed to the success of the convention.

Kidney Acids Rob Your Rest

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—lie awake and count sheep. Often they blame it on "nerves" when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons from the blood. If they are faulty and fail, poisons stay in the system and sleeplessness, headache, backache often follow. If you don't sleep well, try Dodd's Kidney Pills—for half a century the favorite remedy. 103

Forest Fires Rage In British Columbia

VANCOUVER, June 6—(CP)—Between seven and eight million feet of piled cut timber at the Merrill Ring Wilson, Ltd., operation near Squamish, B.C., was destroyed by forest fire over the weekend, according to reports reaching the British Columbia forest branch here today.

Several donkey engines and other equipment were reported destroyed by the blaze which was confined chiefly to slash with little standing timber damaged.

Department officials said the woods were in "dangerous condition" and that 15 to 20 other fires had been reported over the week-end on Vancouver Island and the mainland.

UNITED FRONT

Mr. Gornall. "Repeated threatenings of way, the continued depression in business that we have sought to dignify with the name of recession, the constant problem of unemployment and consequent need, the encroachment of the world spirit upon all the spiritual areas of life, have borne heavily upon our moral and spiritual resources."

"The world must be won to a new idealism by infusion of a new spirit, the speaker continued. "It is very necessary that we should not lose our heads or allow ourselves to be blown about by every wind of social doctrine that blows, and they blow from a good many quarters. Our ideals must be related to things as they are if we are to lead the people with us to something better."

When the spirit of Christ became more active in the church "its influence will be felt throughout our social and political and international relations."

The retiring president expressed disappointment that 1937 giving to the missionary and maintenance fund fell below those of 1936 by some $50,000, of which the Maritime conference was responsible for nearly $4,500. Throughout the Dominion 1,428 charges increased their contributions by $53,000 but 1,292 charges showed a decrease of more than $103,600.

Church leaders were faced with the "necessity and the responsibility of making our people missionary conscious. As someone has said, we must restore the sense of urgency, for the nature of the times demands it," said Dr. Gornall.
