Resent attacks On Secretary, Directors say

At a meeting of the directors of the P.E.I. Livestock Marketing Board held last night in the Board's office, the following resolution was unanimously adopted: "Whereas during the past few weeks a number of public meetings have been held throughout the province concerning the public disussion of a scheme to co-operatively market hogs and lambs.

"And whereas at these meetings much of the discussion assumed a derogatory and personal nature levelled at the secretary-manager of the P.E.I. Livestock Marketing Board, who has been guided in his work by the directors of the Board.

"Therefore be it resolved that we as directors of the P.E.I. Livestock Marketing Board do resent such personal attacks and wish to emphatically state that our secretary-manager, Mr. John A. Gillies, has been guided in his work by the unanimous direction of the directors at all times."

It was moved by Mr. Milton Furness, Vernon, and seconded by Mr. E. N. Easter, North Wiltshire.

The various directors present expressed strong resentment to the action taken by the Executive Council of the Provincial Government in disallowing the plan to regulate the marketing of sheep and swine in the province known as "The Prince Edward Island Sheep and Swine Marketing Act."

The main discussion occupying the attention of the directors was the action taken by the Government in disallowing this shemo which directors said, had been prepared by a committee of producers acting on instructions issued at a general meeting of the Livestock Marketing Board in 1939. Later the plan was placed before the Provincial Marketing Board and approved, they said. When it came up before the Executive Council, however, it was disallowed, they added.

The possibility of the Board acting on a resolution passed at a meeting held last October was discussed. This resolution authorized the Board of Directors to wind up at their own discretion if the scheme was not put into effect.

However, the Board of Directors issued instructions to Mr. Gillies, Manager to continue as before with the assurance that "appropriate action would be taken at a later date."

During the meeting Mr. Gillies presented a report on the business activities of the organization for the past seven months. The manager stated that business transacted in this period compared favorably with the corresponding months of the previous year. He said that the most "notable improvement was shown at the Hunter River shipping point where 1034 hogs were shipped as compared with the 537 for the corresponding seven months of last year.

Mr. W. J. Reid, Middleton, presided and the following directors were present: Messrs. P. A. MacIsaac, M.L.A., Souris; Alex Hamilton, New Perth; Vernon Craig, Middleton; Milton Furness, Vernon; E N. Easter, North Wiltshire; E. Howatt, North Wiltshire and the manager.

The meeting passed a resolution of sympathy to Mr. Craig, a director in his recent loss of buildings by fire.

Fire destroys Farm residence

The large farm residence of Peter McQuaid at Bedford Station, along with its entire contents was entirely destroyed by fire late Thursday night. The loss is estimated at $5,000 and it is believed that the blaze was caused by a defective flue.

Mr. McQuaid and his two sons were attending a meeting nearby when the fire originated. Mr. William McDonald was first to notice the fire when he was leaving the meeting at 11 o'clock. He saw flames shooting from the flue of the McQuaid home and immediately gave the alarm. The men rushed to the scene of the fire but flames had spread so rapidly that nothing could be done to save the doomed building.

The outbuildings, about 20 feet away were saved through the efforts of a bucket brigade which was hurriedly formed. Another group of volunteer workers shovelled snow on the ground floor of the burning structure in the hope of saving the season's entire crop of potatoes stored in the cellar. It is understood, however, they will be a total loss.

The building is valued at about $3,000 and furnishings $2,000 which are partially covered by insurance.

Interpreting The War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Greek capture of Klisura in East-Central Albania opens a new chapter in the Greek-Italian war, fraught with possibilities of greater military disasters for Italy.

That tiny Albanian village drew its name from the tremendous gorge of the Voiussa River at the eastern threshold of which it stands, commanding three vitally important roads. The word Klisura means in English "gorge" or "defile." The Voiussa river gorge has figured in the history of the Balkan peninsula since classical times.

Greek capture of Klisura means the fall or encirclement of that powerful Italian defensive bastion formed by the gorge. The Greeks are already reported surging northeastward up the Klisura-Berati road outflanking the Italian forces in all southern Albania. Fascist evacuation of the much-bombed port of Valona, seems inevitable. The whole right wing on the Italian army in Albania may have to fight a back-to-the-sea battle against surrender unless it escapes the closing Greek trap.

Nor is that the only menace confronting the Italians as a result on the Greek break-through at Klisura. It leaves the left flank of the Fascist forces to the north defending Elbasani and Tirana, Albanian capital up in the air. The Greeks have cracked the Italian line almost at the centre.

Given sufficient man-power and battle equipment, the Greeks well might expand the Klisura breakthrough into a complete and crushing Italian defeat in Albania. Whether they have that strength after weeks of bitter fighting, however high their battle ardor, is open to doubt.

Italian mechanization is apt to come more effectively into play in flatter country, although snow and swollen streams impede its use as well as lack of roads strategically located. It appears possible that the Greek high command and British advisers might be content with knifing through the Klisura gap only far enough to outflank and roll up Italian defenders of Valona.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Aubrey Hiltz who departed this life January 11, 1940.

The golden gates were opened
A gentle voice said "come"
And with farewell unspoken
He calmly entered home.
Inserted by Wife and Family.
