The Prince of all Pianos IS THE

Heintzman & Co. Piano

Its record through all the years is one of unparalleled success

Canadian-Made Piano Chosen By Tetrazzini

BEAUTIFULLY FINISHED IN IVORY, WHITE AND GOLD.

(Toronto Globe.)

Large interest at the Exhibition is centering around the really superb piano built by Ye Olde Firme Heintzman & Co., Limited, and sold to Madame Tetrazzini, the world's great singer. The instrument is a Grand piano, beautifully finished in ivory white and gold, at a cost of $3,000—probably the most luxurious piano built in any factory. Tetrazzini has travelled the world over and made use of the world's greatest pianos, but when she came to select an instrument for her own use, in her magnificant castle at Rome, Italy, she chose this piano. It has been designed, under her directions, after the appointments and furnishings of her castle in Rome—in Florentine design. It is very natural that much curiosity is excited over this piano, and its purchase by Tetrazzini is a pleasing compliment to this long-established Canadian piano firm.

In our own land—in all the Provinces—its nobility of tone has made the Heintzman Piano the choice of those most exacting in their demands. You find it in the leading Conservatories of Music everywhere, measuring up to the largest reqiurements of these institutions.

..Throughout the British Empire—in Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa—and abroad in France, China and the Argentine Republic, it has established a place for itself because of its recognized superiority and merits—and above all, for its beautiful tone.

At home and abroad it has become the standard by which other pianos are judged.

THRONE OF ABYSSINIA AT STAKE IN BATTLE

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 12—A new war for the possession of the throne of Abyssinia is scheduled for this summer or fall after the rainy reason and the war will be fought out on sporting lines, according to Dr. Barmun Brown, curator and geologist of the American Museum of Natural History, New York City, who has just completed a long prospecting trip there.

"Their fighting custom is to agree to meet at a given time and place and let the contending armies have it out. They fire one round, with rifles and then use knives. When one side or the other is victorious the dead are buried, the wounded disposed of in some manner and then everybody goes home quite satisfied," explains Dr. Brown.

"Since the death of King Menelik, the throne has been jointly occupied by Queen Waizeru Zauditu (daughter of the late Emperor Menelik) and Prince Ras Taffari Makonnen, a son of a brother-in-law to Menelik. The throne was occupied for a time in 1916 by Prince Lijasso, who appears to be a jolly fellow.

"But he got in trouble by catering to his Mohammedan subjects on the Red Sea. The Coptic Christians, who form the majority of the people and who are said by some to be the lost tribes of Israel, objected and a battle was fought wherein the Prince was defeated.

"The Abyssinians are the only wholly independent people in Africa, and they let you know it," said Dr Brown. "Since they defeated the Italians in the nineties, they have gone around with their heads in the air. Anybody who has a killed a white man enjoys special honors. The country is rich in possibilities but they don't wish to have it exploited."

South American Nations Active

Seeking to Obtain Four Judges in International Court

GENEVA, Sept 13.—Electioneering for the eleven judges of the international court, created by the League of Nations, already has begun and is developing considerable ardor. This is particularly true among the South American delegations, which, basing their claims on their numerical strength in the League, are asking for four judges.

The four principal powers—Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan—are conceded one each by election forecasters. It is also generally conceded that one of them will come from the United States and one from Holland. The difficulty of placing the other five in order to satisfy all aspirations is becoming apparent.

League leaders aim to give all-round satisfaction to the nations of the world, which raises the difficulty in their object of giving one seat to Scandinavia, one to the Slav countries, one to the British Dominions and one to German-speaking countries. This leaves only one for South America. John Bassett Moore, who is now in America, is most often named as the United States representative.

The method of election is now being studied and probably will be public. The assembly and council, it is understood will hold elections consecutively, after which the lists chosen by each body will be compared and a new election held for the seats not provided for by both bodies at the first election.

ADJUSTABLE ..COVER ..FOR.. ..HANDBAG

A new hand bag, which has not yet been given a name, has been designed by Beulah Louise Henry, who will be remembered for her other recent invention, the "snap-pon" Henry umbrella.

The frame fork, of metal is so designed as to permit various separate covers to be snapped on, leather, for street use, suede for more dressy wear and brocade and beaded covers for formal and evening use.

The frame is so designed as to lend itself to various uses. On one side, which might be called the desk, there are a small pad, pencil and stamps, along with a space for one's personal cards. On the other, which is the "dresing" table there are mirror, powder, rouge and lipstick. The silk or leather outer covering has only to be opened like an envelope to give access to those conveniences. There is the regulation inner section for bills and change, entirely separate from these outer portions.

The metal frame, with gold, silver and similar finish, has a filigree clasp resembling a crown, and a stiff bracelet handle, likewise of the metal.

Reconstruction Coming Soon

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—The result of the cabinet reconstruction will be announced by Premier Meighen early this week, probably before Wednesday, according to well informed circles in Ottawa. Those in close touch with the political situation are putting forward this opinion adding that Premier Meighen will issue his manifesto within a few days of the announcement of the new cabinet, and that the issue of election writs follow immediately. Orientals Have Right To Work

British Columbia Restrained From Forbidding Their Employment

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13.—Until the constitutionality of the Oriental Order in Council Validation Act is passed upon by the Supreme Court of Canada, the Government of British Columbia is restrained by injunction granted today in Supreme Court by Mr. Justice Murphy from prohibiting the employment of Japanese and Chinese by the holders of timber licenses in this province. Attorney-General J. W. deB. Farris explained that hearing of the case will be sought in the Supreme Court of Canada, probably in October. The Minister of Justice Right Hon. C. J. Doherty, in view of representations from the Japanese consul-general at Ottawa, seeking disallowance of the act, decided to refer the whole matter to the Supreme Court and the case previously heard here by the Court of Appeals and litigation concerning the present act will be heard at the same time.

Decision will turn on the constitutionality of the Act and whether it is an infringement of the Japanest Treaty provisions, and discriminates against Japanese residents of British Columbia.

The case ultimately will be carried to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, it is stated.
