—The death occurred on Monday morning last after an illness of about two months of Walter Stavert, one of the oldest and most respected residents of Kelvin. The deceased was a successful farmer and a worthy citizen. He was for many years an elder in the Presbyterian Church, first at North Bedeque and later at Kensington, which position he worthily filled until his death. He leaves to mourn four sons and three daughters, Thomas, Mabon and Henry, California, and John, at home. The daughters are Mrs. Thomas Humphrey, North Bedeque; Mrs. Robert Bowness, Norboro, and Mrs. Jas. Jardine, Kelvin. Of a large family of brothers and sisters, one only survives, Thomas, of Wilmot. The funeral takes place this afternoon at two o'clock.

—There passed away from earth at his home in Fortune Cove, P. E. Island, on Feb. 26th, 1910, J. Young Leard, at the age of 61 years. Although in rather delicate health for some years our brother kept about his work up to a few weeks before his death. A severe attack of la grippe left him very weak and he gradually sank until the end came and he passed peacefully to his heavenly rest. His death has bereft his family of a tender and loving husband and father, the community of a very useful citizen and the Methodist Church of one of her most devoted supporters and tireless workers. For a great many years Bro. Leard filled two or three important offices in his church, and was always among the leaders of every good work in church and community. The high regard in which he was held in the district was manifested by the immense throng that came out to attend his funeral and by the marks of sorrow exhibited by so many, in some cases strong men weeping as if for a brother or father. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. E. A. Westmoreland and the brethren of Court Onaway I. O. F., of which Mr. Leard was a member.—Wesleyan.

On Wednesday morning the sixteenth of March there peacefully passed away the oldest resident of Point Prim in the person of Captain Archibald Finlayson who was in the eighty-fifth year of his age. Mr Finlayson was a man who has had much experience. He had sailed with the late Admiral Bayfield on the old Gulnare when she was but a topsail schooner. After which he sailed on the Margaretta Stevenson also in the surveying service. Later he took the position of Pilot on the Princess of Wales; and leaving this ship after a long and faithful service of upwards of twenty years, he took the position of pilot on the old winter steamer "Northern Light" and afterwards on the S. S. Stanley then plying between Pictou, Georgetown and Charlottetown. It is not to be forgotten that the deceased Captain was sent by the late Captain Orlebar to pilot the Royal squadron into Charlottetown Harbor with his Majesty the King on board then Prince of Wales in the year 1860. The late Captain Finlayson was a man of tender affections and good nature. The poor outcast was as welcome to sit at his table as the wealthy. A Good Medicine For the Spring

Do Not Dose With Purgatives — A Tonic is All You Need.

Not exactly sick—but not feeling quite well. That's the way most people feel in the spring. Easily tired, appetite fickle, sometimes headaches and a feeling of depression Pimples or eruptions may appear on the skin, or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order; that the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you, and may easily develop into more serious trouble. Don't dose yourself with purgatives as many people do, in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken instead of giving strength. Any doctor will tell you this is true. What you what you need in the spring is a tonic that will make new blood ... and build up the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the only medicine that can do this speedily, safely and surely. Every dose of this medicine helps make new blood, which clears the skin, strengthens the appetite, and makes tired, depressed men and women bright, active and strong. Miss Mary Baker, Tancook, N. S., says: "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been a great blessing to me. Last year while I was attending school I became so weak and completely run down that I thought I would have to give up going to school. I was effected with dizzy spells and would fall down at any time. I got half a dozen boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and before they were half gone I felt my strength returning. By the time I had used them all, the dizzy spells were completely gone, and I was again enjoying good health.

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Mock parliament of S. D. C. met as usual last night and discussed questions of great importance. The attendance of the members and their interest in the debate continues strong and last night's session was marked by speeches of a high order. Hon. S. J. McDonald and Hon. J. E. Hughes dealt chiefly with woman Suffrage and some very plausible arguments were advanced in favor of extending the franchise to women. Shortly before ten o'clock the House went into a committee of the whole to consider the draft address. Hon. L. Herell was speaking when the house adjourned.

—What might have proved a serious accident was narrowly averted at Linkletter, on Sunday evening. A number of young ladies of St Eleanor's accompanied by a party of young men started for church. Being a trifle later leaving than usual they decided to take a short cut, across the fields, no sooner had they entered the field, than an animal who unseen by any of the party had been gazing near, started in pursuit. The ladies decided to escape in the shortest way possible which happened to be over a six rail fence when in their haste, was cleared in a manner that clearly indicated the girls are athletes of no mean order. Instead of following the girls' example a young gallant of Linkletter secured a stake from the fence and with the aid of the other young men the intruder was soon put to flight.—Com.

MR. HERMAN DYING OF STONE IN THE BLADDER

Gin Pills passed the Stone

513 James St., Hamilton.

"Four years ago I was taken down with what the doctors called Inflammation of the Bladder—intense pains in the back and loins, great pain and difficulty in urinating. The pain was greatest in the region of the bladder, and the attacks, which became more frequent, amounted to unbearable agony, and I became so weak that I could not walk across the floor. Doctors could do nothing to help me. My wife read in the paper about Gin Pills and sent for a box.

From the very first I felt that Gin Pills were doing me good. The pain was relieved at once, and the attacks were less frequent. In six weeks the Stone in the Bladder came away and the pain stopped entirely. I have had no return of the trouble and have not lost a day's work on account of it. I cannot express myself strong enough when I speak of what Gin Pills have done for me. When I remember how I suffered, and how now I am healthy and well and strong and able to do a full day's work, I feel I should speak and tell other sufferers of my experience and of the wonderful merits of Gin Pills."

JOHN HERMAN.

The announcement was made on Saturday last that H. A. Fleming, at present manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia Branch in Halifax, was transferred to Toronto, succeeding H. A. Richardson, the new general manager of that bank.

Following this came the intimation that Mr. Fleming would be succeeded in Halifax by R. G. Wallace, City, manager of the branch here and it is now learned that Mr. Wallace has received his appointment as secretary of the Halifax Board of Directors and Manager of the Branch in that city succeeding the officials as before named.

Mr. Wallace is to be congratulated on his promotion while in him this city will lose one of the most popular business men in the banking profession.

He came here in 1901 succeeding Mr. Ross who had accepted the general managership of the Metropolitan Bank.

He received his banking experience in Montreal, his native city, and Toronto, and previous to accepting the managership of the branch here was in turn accountant at Toronto and Montreal.

Mr. Wallace will probably leave the latter part of next week for Halifax.

The manager and staff of the Canadian Bank of Commerce Branch in this city are now occupying their new banking building on the corner of Queen and Grafton Streets.

The building is assuredly an acquisition to Charlottetown's increasing number of splendid office blocks and is perhaps the most artistically modelled business building yet constructed here.

The exterior is specially attractive and does justice to the prominent corner occupied by the bank. The building is constructed of red pressed brick and terra cotta pillars regularly placed give an idea of stability to the building carrying out one of the main characteristics of the bank itself as a commercial institution. The three story building has a splendid exterior appearance and the contractors Rhodes Curry & Co, Amherst, through their superintendent, B. A. Bent, have executed their contract to the entire satisfaction of the officials of the bank, and one which reflects more than the ordinary amount of credit for the skilful and expeditious manner in which they carried on the work of construction and completed the building. They started work in June 1909 and the building was ready for occupancy on Easter Monday last.

Turning to refer to the interior of the building the first thing noticeable is the entrance just on the corner. Two swinging green oak and plate glass doors with artistic brass and iron fittings enclose the first entrance while another door of lighter though equally attractive construction affords admittance to the banking room.

This room, which takes up floor space measuring 32x58 feet, is divided into three sections, the customers' room, the banking office and the manager's office. The first two mentioned are most elegantly finished and furnished in green oak made up in mission style. The outside space for customers is luxuriously supplied with seats, desks and necessary writing materials usually found in a banking office.

The staff work behind wide desks all free from the usual caging with the exception of the teller. The manager's office, which is situated to the right of the entrance, is furnished with tasteful mahogany office fittings and the wall is finished in green oak and burlap with a cozy fireplace in one corner. The floor here is of hardwood on which is laid a rug of rich oriental design.

The flooring in the main room is of Tennessee marble tiling laid on concrete and in the banking office is of hardwood on which is laid a noiseless cork carpet.

The lighting throughout is excellent, the large windows on both end and side giving ample light by day and electric wall brackets in the main office and suspended lights in the manager's office shedding sufficient brilliancy after daylight hours. The building is heated throughout by steam and has all modern plumbing fittings.

The second floor is divided into four office rooms, two of which will be occupied by Haszard, Gaudet and Haszard and the other two by Col. O'Gilvie. They are neatly finished in quartered oak and have hardwood floors.

The third story is one large hall and is suitable for use as an assembly room or Lodge Hall and is as yet unoccupied.

The heating and plumbing was done by Bruce Stewart & Co., the painting and decorating by P. H. Trainor & Son and the electric lighting and electric fittings were supplied and placed by W. P. Doull, and to all these much credit is due for their efficient workmanship.

The building is supplied with two of the latest approved pattern of standpipe with hose connections as well as patent fire extinguishers and these coupled with the construction of the building make it practically fireproof.

The adjoining building, occupied by McLellan Bros. is also the property of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

The case of Martin vs. Whiteway occupied the attention of the Vice-Chancellor on Wednesday and was concluded yesterday morning. The Vice-Chancellor gave judgment declining to set aside the judgment as asked for and dismissed the bill with costs. A. A. McLean, K. C., and D. McKinnon for complainants; Aeneas A. McDonald, Chas. R. Smallwood and Kenneth Martin for defendants.

The pictures were loaned by Mrs Hogg, manager of New Wonderland, who is to be congratulated on being able to secure such high-class pictures. The Institution is very grateful to Mrs Hogg for this extreme kindness.

Rev W. McLeod concluded a short series of services in Bonshaw on night of 25th. During the winter he conducted Evangelistic meetings seven weeks in the entire field. Although because the attendance, the keen hearty interest expected of all professedly God's children and the general honest believing effort required by the master was below what was quite possible "showers of blessings" were not realized, believers were evidently made more hopeful, faithful and surely a few others led to "Behold the Lamb of God."

An Oyster Bed Bridge correspondent writes: Thomas Carr is doing a rushing business in and around New Glasgow with his gasoline outfit. —Patrick Walsh has returned to Oyster Bed after spending his Easter holidays at his home in Hope River. —Vincent Carr, has returned to Charlottetown where he is taking a course in the Charlottetown Business College.—Misses Reta and Winnie Cudmore paid a short visit to Oyster Bed recently. H. M. Robertson, son of Peter Robertson, Marshfield, left Wednesday morning for Western Canada, where a good position awaits him. Mr Robertson is particularly well known in athletic circles having figured so prominently in the road races last year. On the eve of his departure his fellow boarders at the Morell Hotel, City, presented him with a beautiful travelling dressing case and an appropriate address expressing regret at his departure and hope for his future success. Mr Robertson made a suitable reply. Supper was served by Mrs Seller in her usual capable manner. His many friends wish him the best of success in his future home.

At her fathers residence Graham Road, New London, on Friday, March the 25th, Rebecca Bell, beloved wife of William Glover of Mill Valley, and third daughter of George W. McKinnon, aged thirty one years and ten months. She leaves besides a sorrowing husband, three little children, the eldest scarce five years old and the youngest only ten months, to mourn their sad and irreparable loss. Her remains were followed on Sunday, March 27th, by a very large concourse of people to Clifton Cemetery where interment took place. The services at the house were conducted by the Rev John Murray. The pallbearers were Isaac M. Brown and John A. Whitehead, John W. McLeod and Harold McLeod, Heath Bowness and Harry Bowness.

—On Easter morn the pastor of St Malachi's, Kinkora, had the satisfaction of offering the season's greetings to the congregation from the beautiful new pulpit just installed in the church. He spoke in complimentary terms of the generosity of the donors of this magnificent piece of furniture and thanked them on behalf of the congregationf or their forethought and liberality in enabling him to fill this long felt want and to do so without regard to cost. The new pulpit as it stands is one of the richest pieces of church furniture in the diocese, and is a fitting companion to the magnificent altars which adorn the sanctuary of St Malachi's. The work was put out of hand by the master mechanic, Clovis Arsenault, of Summerside, and speaks in loud terms of his skill and taste. Fred Farrant's artistic brush brought into relief the elegant design and natural beauty of the quartered oak gothics and clustered pillars. A gold plate planted on the base bears the inscription; "Donated by M. H. McCabe and family" The pastor and congregation of Kinkora feel justly proud of the pulpit and wish to express acknowledgment of the generosity of the donors.

COLD FEET AND HANDS

TELLS HOW TO CURE.

"My circulation was so weak that in summer both hands and feet were almost constantly cold, and in colder weather I suffered intolerable discomfort." This is the way Mrs R. J. Pennington describes one of the more common symptoms of lowered nerve energy. She proceeds to say: "It took me so long to get warm on retiring that sleep was delayed, and this coldness I am sure was the cause of my early waking.

"Before I began to take Ferrozone I was getting nervous. Little things would make me start. My hands would grow moist, and I had flashes of heat and annoying twitches in various parts of the body. I was bloodless—if I even scratched my finger it would bleed and bleed, so my blood must have been watery indeed. But Ferrozone put life into me quickly. I became stronger and stronger, and my color came back. I soon could take long walks, and this seemed to help the medicine do me good. Ferrozone was my "life preserver"—that is what I call it. I gained nearly forty pounds. Ferrozone has made me so well I do not need to take any medicines, and I enjoy perfect, robust health."

No other tonic will so surely brace you up, bring back your vigor and youthful looks. Ferrozone is the ideal remedy for all sick and weak men, women and children. Try it. 50c per box, six for $2.50. All dealers or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

Hill is again able to resume his duties after being confined to his house for some time with a severe attack of La grippe.— Miss Myrtle Weeks who has been visiting Misses Annie and Ethel Bell Alberton has returned home.—Newton McLeod, student of the C. B. C. Charlottetown, spent his Easter holidays the guest of Stanley Sharp, Pleasant Valley.

A young man named Roderick McKay, belonging to Bradalbane, was brought to this city yesterday morning to enter the P. E. Island Hospital for treatment.

Mr McKay was sawing wood at his place in Bradalbane on Wednesday afternoon where he had a gasoline engine as the motive power.

In some manner his clothing caught in the fly wheel and as a result he is suffering from a broken ankle and a badly torn knee cap.

On his arrival at the hospital yesterday the wounds were dressed and he is now doing very well.

At Belleview, Lot 58, on the 19th of March, a shock which cast a gloom over the whole vicinity was experienced when it was unexpectedly made known that Hugh McDonald breathed his last, at the age of fifty-five years, after one week of intense suffering through a severe attack of pneumonia. Though medical aid, and all that tender care could do were promptly at hand, all proved of no avail when the inevitable did come. Mr McDonald was a man of whom it might be truly said, that he left many friends, but no enemy. His amiable disposition always won for him the esteem and good will of both young and old, while his unasuming manner, industry, and diligent attention to duty, were clearly manifest to all who knew him. As a generous and obliging neighbor, his good action would often proceed, and even exceed his word which in itself was always a reliable bond. To his hospitable home the stranger was ever welcome while with ready hand and willing heart, it was his delight to relieve the wants of those in any need as far as within his power. Besides many relatives, who shall ever miss him, he leaves a sorrowing widow, to whom each and all in the community thus convey their heartfelt sympathy and condolence in her sad bereavement. Though roads were in bad condition on the 21st of March his funeral was largely attended to show the last tribute of love and respect to the departed. Divine service on the occasion was held by Rev A. S. Stewart of Valleyfield. Other papers please copy.

—On Monday evening, March 28th an Agricultural meeting was held at Bloomfield Station for the purpose of forming a Farmers' Institute. Fabian Peters was appointed Chairman and Hon. Benj. Gallant, Sec. Mr Peters, after speaking of the object of the meeting, said that the reason the Institute which had formerly been organized in this and the neighboring lot had gone down was that the people were not quite prepared for Institute work and that the territory was almost too large. He hoped now that as they had seen what others were doing they would organize an Institute in this smaller territory and trusted that eventually they would have one of the most successful Organizations in the Province. He then called upon Hon. Benj Gallant who spoke on the importance of Farmers' Institutes and on the benefits that other sections were deriving from such organizations and trusted that the people of Bloomfield Station and the neighboring districts would soon have a successful organization. Prof Ross was then called upon. He spoke on the importance of Farmers' Organizations and referred to the organizations that existed among other classes of people, singling out the Woolen Manufacturers' as an example of the organization of pushing men. After he had finished his address, it was moved by John McCarthy and seconded by Robert G. Horne that a Farmers' Institute be formed. The motion was carried unanimously, and the name of Bloomfield adapted for the new Institute. Those present who were anxious to form an Institute were then asked to come forward and sign their names and addresses. Thirty of those present came forward and enroled, so that the required number of members having been obtained the meeting at once proceeded to elect officers, after which a vote of thanks was moved to Prof. Ross and the meeting adjourned.
