The Festival will be held this year in May, starting May 26.

The 40-page booklet which includes 169 classes for vocal, instrumental and band entries, is better than ever this year and shows promise for a Bicenenary Festival year that could be larger than ever before. Through the work of an extremely energetic executive committee headed by J. G. Farquhar as chairman, the Festival for 1949 should attract thousands of competitors from the three Maritime Provinces. Forty scholarships with a total value of $2500 will be given at the completion of the festival.

New classes included this year are folk songs and Sunday school and Junior Choirs.

A special feature of all the 1949 festivals across Canada will be the Dominion-wide competitions for the Lincoln Trophy which will be presented for the best choral performance at all the main festivals including the Halifax one. The Halifax Festival is the only one east of Montreal, which is qualified to accept entries for this competition. Choirs from all over the Maritimes can enter at the Halifax Festival for eligibility in the Trophy competition.

The adjudicators this year will be Herbert Wiseman, Cornelius Fisher and Helen Henschel, all of England.

The Halifax Musical Festival is under the Distinguished Patronage of His Excellency the Governor General of Canada, Field Marshal Viscount Alexander of Tunis; His Honor the Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia, Hon. J. A. D. McCurdy; The Chief Justice of Nova Scotia, Sir Joseph Ghisholm, the Premier of Nova Scotia, Hon. Angus L. Macdonald and the Mayor of Halifax, J. E. Ahern.

Dr. A. Stanley Walker is Honorary President with Mrs. G. Fred Pearson and W. A. Winfield as Honorary Vice-presidents.

Heading the executive committee is J. G. Farquhar as chairman and other members include: Government-Education, B. C. Silver; City Schools, Dr. F. G. Morehouse; Ladies' Musical Club, Miss Rhoda Inness, Mrs. F. R. MacAloney, Mrs. E. McC. Moir; Rotary Club, W. D. Mills; Gyro Club, D. A. Grant; Progressive Club, W. Roy Isnor; Kiwanis Club, J. F. TIMELY NOTES ON TOPICS CONNECTED WITH Silver Fox and Mink Farming

Forty-three breeders listed 548 entries in the annual live mink show of the Ontario Fur Breeders' Association which opened at Bridgeport, Ont. November 23rd. The manager, Robert Oswals, said the show from the standpoint of crowds and entries tops all previous exhibitions. This show brings together the winners of the smaller shows held in the province of Ontario prior to it. There were eight classes and each class had a male and female section. Dealers from most of the Canadian centres plus a number from the United States, inspected the mink for the latest color trend. The judges were Frank C. Gothier, Anthon, Ia., and William Newey, Toronto.

Fox prices were firm at the recent New York Auction Company's sale. About 6,000 of the 3,500 platinums were sold with a top of $31. About 90% of the goods purchased was for trimming purposes but some fur manufacturers also participated in the buying.

Chinchilla breeders are by no means discouraged although we have not noticed where any pelts have been sold at auction. In Colorado the National Chinhilla Breeders Association will hold its annual convention and show January 21st to 23rd, Denver being the city chosen. Most of the chinchilla is sold on a breeding plan which guarantees an increase, but the price asked in the first place is high enough to provide for that particular guarantee — and some more.

Chinese fur exports have been pretty well disrupted due to the civil war that has raged there for years. Jess Fish of Brenner Bros., New York, a principal importer of Chinese furs, said that as far as his firm is concerned the Chinese fur trade is dead for the next two or three years. He said no furs have come out of the areas dominated by the Chinese Communists and that they now control about 90% of the fur-bearing sections. To give you an idea of the amount of furs shipped out of China we may mention that in 1947, 700,000 weasel, 300,000 northern lamb, 500,000 Cheking lamb and 100,000 kolinsky were imported to the United States. Some kolinsky has found its way from Manchuria through Russia to the United States also. The fact that large numbers of Chinese furs will not be brought into the United States or Canada will be helpful to fox and mink breeders. It is the tremendous importation of all types of furs by New York fur brokers that has stuffed the markets so full that there is a big surplus of all kinds of furs in America, so it is an ill wind that blows nobody good, and while Chiang Kai Shek is having a heck of a time with the Communists, the American fur producers will have an easier time in the future.

Western Canadian Raw Fur Auction offered 20,000 mink December 2nd and will offer 30,000 December 9th. The sale will be held in Vancouver, B.C. That sale and a similar one in Montreal will pretty well settle the prices for mink for this season.

At the recent New York Auction Company's sale of mutation and standard mink about 1,300 mutations were offered and 90% sold. The top for Silverblu mink was $33. The Great Lakes Mink Association offered 7,600 standard mink which was 70% sold, and Independent Shippers offered 10,000 northern mink which was 50% sold. A top price of $16.50 was reached on the standards. The most strength was shown in the lots sold at from $9. to $13.50.

The Hudson's Bay Company, Ltd., London, will offer at auction next Monday, 5,000 silver fox, 1,000 platinums and 900 pearl platinums, and Anning, Chadwick and Klever, Ltd., offer 4,500 silver fox, 700 pearl platinums and 250 platinums the same date.

Fur retailers in New York City areas are ready to write off the month of November as one of the poorest Novembers in their experience. Current sales figures, they say, look sad not only in the light of the large figures of November a year ago but also in comparison with November totals of other poor years. The prolonged siege of unseasonable weather is blamed in greatest measure for the month's dismal showing. Other reasons cited are lack of "fur dollars" in today's rising cost of living, and some retailers blame the consumer publications and radio commentators for giving the public the impression that the bottom is dropping out of fur market prices and that it would be better to defer purchases until after January 1st.

Pelting is now general throughout the Province and despite the very mild fall, several ranchers we have spoken to claim the pelts they have taken off, particularly from adults, were prime or almost prime. They said they look good and the color is generally good too. Practically every fox farmer we have spoken to is cutting down and some are getting out of the business entirely. This is regrettable because our ranks are becoming more and more depleted and we cannot replace some of those who have discontinued, like our friend Mr. Raoul Reymond, who gave up fox farming last fall, but who has been happily employed during the summer with his hotel at Stanhope. Mr. and Mrs. Reymond have been ideal hosts and managers and had a fine season.
