FRUIT GROWERS CLOSE INTERESTING MEETING

Yesterday Morning the Last Session Was Held and Proved Very Interesting. Prof. Macoun and Fruit Inspector Vroom Gave Excellent Addresses. Co-operative Work Established.

The last session of the Fruit Growers Association met in the Prince of Wales College yesterday morning with D. J. Stewart. The president immediately called on G. H. Vroom, Dominion Fruit Inspector, for an address on Packing and Packages. He said the apples could either be packed on their side or end with the larges apple in the middle so as to raise the bulk in the middle in order to keep the apples firmly packed. Regulation sizes of barrels for packing were thus given:—26½ inches from top to bottom, 18½ inches across bilge and 17 inches across the head. For boxes, 30 inches long, 11 inches wide and 10 inches deep. The above are all inside measurements. The width of the end boards should be ⅞ of an inch, the side boards ⅞ an inch and the top and bottom ⅞ of an inch.

Prof. Macoun was then called upon for a paper on "Judging Fruit at Exhibitions." He said all judges had different ideas about judging and the exhibitor did not know which way to arrange his exhibits best to suit the taste of the judge. He thought a circular should be given to judges before they went to work so that all might be done fair. He said there were four things looked for in judging:—1st large size, 2nd freedom from blemish, 3rd high color and 4th finish. He thought the stems ought to be left on for exhibition and better on for export. He said fruit highly polished and the best side up opened suspicion in the judge and the fruit was then probably judged stricter.

Question read:—Are model orchards as managed in Nova Scotia or anywhere else of any value. G. H. Vroom replied saying, yes; Out of 31 or 32 model orchards in Nova Scotia where they were properly cared for great benefit was derived. The variety suited to the different localities were thus found out and intending fruit planters were thus saved the necessity of experimenting. He said the people ought to be educated to grow enough fruit for their own use.

Question asked:—What six varieties would you plant in a commercial orchard. The following were voted on and passed. Wealthy, Wolf River, Stark, Duchess and Inkerman.

Question read:—How can a co-op-

FOR THE DESCENDANTS OF THE ISLE OF SKYE

HALIFAX, Dec. 7.—In the Montreal Star of the 5th inst. "Wattie," in his dry style, writes in the following manner respecting the Island of Skye:—A certain man has been writtin' a book an' in this book he says that atween 1780 an' 1830 the Island o' Skye raised 21 lieutenant and major-generals, 48 colonels, 600 commissioned officers, an' 10,000 soldiers, four governors o' colonies, one governon general, one chief Barons Engeland, an' one judge o' the Supreme Court o' England. I wonder if ony ither bit o' earth o' the same size can match this record o' the Isle o' Skye.

MEDICAL INSPECTION.

WINNIPEG, Dec. 9—Recent medical examination of five thousand school children revealed the fact that over ten per cent were suffering from enlarged tonsils, and a large number from defective vision, as well as hearing.

The result has been the deciding of the School Board to appoint a permanent Medical Inspector to examine the children and make reports to their parents with such recommendations as the condition of the children warrants.

A PROVINCIALIST VISITS CALIFORNIA

Rev. Dr. Wadman Talks Entertainingly of Hawai' Likes Salt River Valley and Says Taft's Election Means Much for the Pacific Trade.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 7—One of the most interesting visitors Phoenix has had in recent months was Rev. Dr. John Wadman, who has left Nov. 9 for Topeka, Kas., to attend the annual meeting of the Board of Home Missions of the Methodist Episcopal church. Dr. Wadman is in this country to interest the people in the work and opportunities of Hawaii, a group of islands in the Pacific about 2,666 miles west of Los Angeles These islands are under territorial government much like our own. The conditions there are in some respects similar to ours, as the land must be irrigated and the climate is mild and equable the year round. Honolulu, the capital, is a city of 50,000, many of whom are Americans and Europeans. Here ships from all the Pacific ports stop, and a great coaling station is being developed at this point. The inhabitants are Chinese, Koreans and Japanese. Dr. Wadman was fifteen years a missionary in Yokohoma, Japan, before taking up work in Hawaii. He was preceded at Honolulu by Rev. Dr. Pearson, formerly a pastor of the First Methodist church of this city.

Mr. Wadman shows at a glance the unfairness of the criticism that the globe-trotter sometimes makes of missionaries. He is an alive man, 50 years of age, with keen eyes, smiling face, quick wit, large outlook and the American nervous energy. No one would think of him as a visionary or as a recluse. He belongs to today. His addresses, three of them, were right to the point, racy, informing and heartening. His breadth of view was apparent when he said that a business man conducting his business in an honorable manner, every citizen living a wholesome clean life, every teacher is the public schools of the islands was a missionary of the best sort. He called Roosevelt a great missionary. The work of the missionary is not to renew the hearts of people that they may live devotional lives, but to give true ideals and sound motives for all work. It is a civilizing process not to be completed in a generation, though it is to be prosecuted vigorously at all points of contact.

He says Taft's election will mean much for our country, as Taft knows the orient and the possibilities of the trade of the Pacific, where now the Japs are masters. Large government appropriations have already been made for the development of harbors and the people are asking for appropriations similar to those made here on the mainland for irrigation. The completion of the Panama canal will be of the utmost importance to Honolulu as a coaling station.

Mr. Wadman showed also the reality of the work being carried forward by the missionaries, as it touches the springs of life and changes character. He told of a faithful convert who was living with a non-Christian wife and both wanted to go back to Korea. The wife wished to increase their funds for return by selling whiskey and beer. For a time she did so in spite of her husband's protest, but at last she was prevailed upon, gave up her dishonorable work, and was happily converted. His story of how Princess Gopiolani destroyed the fire worship of Madame Pailee sounded like the story of Boniface and the sacred tree that held our own ancestors in miserable superstition. As all the children are under American school teachers, it is clear that a few generations hence these orientals will be worthy citizens of the flag they now salute day by day.

Mr. Wadman was delightfully impressed with the Salt River valley, at least as much of it as he could see in his drives while here. He said he had never tasted better oranges, grape fruit, or olives than those of Arizona.

(Mr. Wadman referred to above is a native of this Province and a recent pastor of Grace Church and sailed on return to his far away home on Dec. 1st. His trip was a most enjoyable and profitable one, as Mr. Wadman succeeded during his three months tour of the larger cities of the Pacific Coast in securing $1000 to aid him in his work in the mission field.

GOLD COINAGE BEGINS THIS WEEK

MONTREAL, Dec. 8.—Lieut. Rogers, of Ottawa, who was in the city yesterday made the interesting announcement that the Canadian mint would begin the coinage of gold this week. As the Canadian dies are not ready the permission of the British government has been secured to use the British dies until the end of the year, when the Canadian will be ready. Each of the canadian minted coins will have a letter "C" engraved beneath the head of the King. Only about 250 will be minted so that they will be valuable from a numismatic point of view.

EDUCATION BILL HAS BEEN DROPPED

LONDON, Dec. 7.—"What will Mr. Asquith do now?" is the question on every tongue when the announcement was made that the Government had decided to drop the education bill. When the Licensing Bill rejected by the House of Lords and the Education Bill dropped because it pleased nobody, the Asquith Cabinet remains with its old-age pension act and nothing else worth speaking of to its credit. In some quarters it is suggested that the Government will revive the campaign against the Lords; in other words that it will seek electoral safety by fresh Radical and Socialistic legislation. But the best opinion is that Mr. Asquith will take refuge in the tratiditional policy of filling up the cup. That the Lord's cup will be filled from now on more rapidly than the most sanguine Tory could have hoped for a few months ago is a pretty general impression.

ROBBERS GOT AWAY WITH A BIG SUM

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec., 8.—The East Side bank was robbed last night by three masked men of $16,000. The president of the bank, Henry H. Newhall, and his son Roger, were just about to leave the bank for home when two men armed with pistols entered. President Newhall and his son were ordered to hold up their hands, and while they were thus under cover of one robber's revolvers, the other man crawled through the cashier's window, passed out the money and crawled back. A third robber guarded the entrance. The three men escaped.

TH L OF MAYOR KELLY

SYDNEY, December 8—The hearing in the case against Mayor Kelly, of North Sydney, charged with illegal selling of liquor, was up today before Stipendiary Archbald. The papers state that Kelly is guilty of selling liquor to steamers at that port. A number of witnesses were examined, chief of whom were Customs Officer Joseph McPherson and Preventive Officer A. Gammon. The latter said that any man could sell liquor to a ship's captain, such being allowed by the customs regulations. Mr. Gammon swore that Mr. Kelly had told him he positively would have nothing to do with supplying liquor to any ship. The case was adjourned until Thursday.

THE LAYMEN'S MISSIONARY MOVEMENT MASS MEETING

A Large and Very Enthusiastic Mass Meeting Held in the First Methodist Church Last Evening—Three Excellent Addresses Given by Laymen. Resolutions Passed.

Last evening a mass meeting of all the churches in the City was held in the First Methodist Church. T. C. James acted as chairman. The first speaker Mr. Moriarty very ably introduced the subject quoting the Bible for his authority. His remarks were along general lines and showed that the Laymen's Missionary Movement had a God-given work to do and with His help they were going forward.

After music by the choir the chairman called on U. S. Consul-General Wilbur. He gave a most pathetic and touching address. First he told how the Dominion had got its name. In England they were discussing what to call this broad fair land and during the discussion a chapter in Pslams was quoted containing this verse, "He shall have dominion over them" and so they got the word Dominion. His address contained facts and figures of which a few are given below. Last year $22,460,000 had been contributed by the world for the spread of the Gospel. Of this amount the United States and Canada contributed $9,459,000, Great Britain $9,361,000 and all other nations $3,640,000. It will be seen that 85 per cent for the spread of the Gospel has been contributed by the Anglo-Saxon race. There are 13,000 missionaries in the field and each missionary is supposed to preach the Gospel to about 25,000 people in his or her life time, so that the missionaries now in the field could reach only 375,000,000 but there are 1,500,000,000 people in the world, that leaves over 1,000,000,000 people who have never heard of the Christ.

There are 675,000,000 unprovided for and those need 27,000 missionaries to evangelize them. Last year it cost for a missionary including salary, employ of native teachers, new churches, repair of old ones, transportation etc about $1727 per missionary or district of 25,000 people. It will require $2,000 next year on account of the higher cost of living. Thus it will take $54,000,000 to evangelize the remaining 675,000,000 people. He gave his experience when in Singapore and while there he closely watched the missionaries and said that by experience he knew that missions were helpful and a paying investment both spiritually, commercially and philanthropically.

Mr. Wilcox was the next speaker and he took as his text, "Speak to the people that they go forward." He said the time is ripe to go forward. His discussion was chiefly along line of carrying on the movement. He said there are a few men who are capable of the work needed as a personal canvas etc., but those right men would be almost sure to refuse but he advised them to go forward and bear the cross that the success of the movement here depended on them. He advised the adoption of a weekly system say ten cents a week or thereabouts. Then he advised the people who would be called on to receive the canvaser hospitably and not pour cold water on the movement. He referred to the American Civil war when one out of every six volunteered surely he thought one out of a thousand church members could volunteer.

H. Aitken of Carvell Bros. read the following resolution:—

Recognizing the hand of God in the Laymen's Missionary Movement and believing that its aims are in line with the great commission given by our Lord, therefore resolved that in the opinion of this meeting of Christian men of Charlottetown, P. E. I., Canada should undertake the evangelization of her share of the world, including the evangelization of the immigrants now coming into Canada and that the Province of Prince Edward Island will do her share of this great work.

Further resolved that we pledge ourselves to support to the full extent of our ability our respective Mission Boards in undertaking this work. That this meeting earnestly requests each church in this city and Province to appoint a laymen's missionary committee to promote the work of the local church. That the churches of Charlottetown should contribute weekly an amount averaging not less than ten cents for each communicant which was seconded by R. H. Jenkins and supported by others. A standing vote was taken and practically everybody stood up. The meeting adjourned by singing the Doxology.

BOMB OUTRAGE IN NEW YORK

More Than Twenty Injured by Explosion in Italian Tenement House.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9—(Special)—More than a score of persons were injured, five seriously, when a bomb was hurled into a tenement house here today.

The house was badly wrecked.

Failure of the occupants of the house to comply with a demand for [illegible] Hand was the cause of the outrage.

The house was occupied exclusively by Italians and threatening letters had been received by them during the past few months.

Practically all the injured were asleep.

Plaster and bricks mixed with jagged pieces of glass from the shattered windows were hurled into the rooms with frightful force.

Some of the injured were found buried and unconscious under the debris piled upon their beds.

SPENDS HIS LIFE WASHING HIMSELF

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Dec. 7.—The curious mania of a youth for constant washing in puzzling physicians here. The patient who is suffering from the delusion that anything he touches soils his hands, is the son of wealthy parents.

The young man who spends most of his time over the wash basin cleansing his face and hands is being treated by Dr. Harry V. Hubbard, of 420 Central Avenue, who, in speaking of the case, said he believed he would be able to effect a cure.

"This is the third case of the kind that as come to my attention," Dr. Hubbard said, "but it is by far the most aggravated. My patient labors under the hallucination that everything he touches soils that part of the body with which it came in contact, and he at once rushes to the wash basin or bathtub, as the case may be.

PORT WADE FERRY ACROSS TO DIGBY

DIGBY, December 8—The enterprising citizens of Port Wade and vicinity have decided upon establishing a ferry service between that place and Digby. A syndicate has been formed to purchase a suitable boat.

The boat is to be fit for service on or before April first. It has not been decided as yet which is the most preferable, steam or gasoline, but she will be well fitted for the service in which she is to engage. She is expected to accommodate about twenty-five cabin passengers and nine months out of the year will preform a daily service running three times weekly the other three. Her winter headquarters will be on this side of the basin, but in summer she will remain over night at Port Wade. The local government will grant a subsidy and the boat will also have the mail contract from the federal government, besides connecting with the D. A. R. trains and steam boat. The commander is to be Capt. William McGrath, and manager, Capt. Edward Keans, the two principal owners.
