BABY'S AWFUL ITCHING ECZEMA

Bores and Scales All Over Face and Body—Could Not Tell What She Looked Like—Unable to Sleep—Grew Worse Under Doctors.

CURED BY CUTICURA IN ONE MONTH

A grateful mother, in the following letter, tells of another of those marvellous cures by Cuticura: "When my baby was four months old her skin broke out with a humour. I took her to a doctor, who treated her for eczema, but she kept getting worse. Her little face and body were so covered with sores and large scales you could not tell what the honest like. She could ever had a worse case. Her face was being eaten away, and even her finger nails fell off. It itched so she could not sleep, and for many weary nights we could get no rest. At last we got Cuticura Soap and Ointment, first bathing her in warm water with the Soap, and then spreading on the Ointment with soft cloths. I saw a change in a week. The sores began to heal, and she could sleep at night, and in one month she had not one sore on her face or body. Any mother having children with eczema or humours will find a friend in Cuticura Soap and Ointment. (signed) Mrs. Mary Sanders, 719 Spring Street, Camden, N. J., Aug. 14, 1904."

INSTANT RELIEF

For Baby and Rest for Tired, and Fretted Mothers

The foregoing statement justifies the oft-repeated assertion that Cuticura Soap and Ointment afford instant relief, and permit sleep, for baby and rest for tired mothers, and point to speedy, permanent, and economical cure in the most torturing, disfiguring, itching, bleeding, scaly, and crusted skin and scalp humours of infancy and age, when all else fails.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp. Sole Prop., Boston. How to Cure Skin Diseases, mailed free.

BOLD PREACHING.

It is bold preaching to which the average church goer is somewhat unused, when she is sent from the pulpit that Moses caused the wife among the goods and chattels of her husband. And yet we have a higher authority than the erudite pastor of the Brick Church for the statement that some things in the law were written because of the hard hearts of the Hebrew people of olden time. It is also bold preaching to point out that the system of theology and the creeds of the Christian churches were wholly formed by men and somewhat colored by their essential masculinity, so the white light of an electric lamp may be coloured by a red or blue glass through which it is transmitted; and that our ancestors would never have pictured a God such as that portrayed by Bunyan, Milton or Dante. And yet who shall say that this is not true? And if it be true who shall say that it may not be lawfully spoken from the pulpit? And if it may be lawfully spoken, who shall say that it is not expedient?

There is an undoubted essential difference between the masculine and feminine mind. Many things in both the natural and spiritual domain impress very differently the minds of mankind and the minds of womankind. Which of these classes of impressions comes nearest to the clear image of white unsullied truth we may never know. We may guess that the pure impression is neither that of the masculine nor the feminine mind, but lies between the two, or is made up as a composite picture of the two blended in one. We may guess, but we cannot know. Shall we therefore suspend our judgment, and with Burns stand mute before the wavering balance, confessing that "we never can adjust it?" We think a strong plea can be made, has been made, for giving more weight than has hitherto been accorded to the feminine judgment in many matters upon which from time immemorial man has had his way and settled things according to his own sense of fitness. But where shall we stop if we begin by relegating Moses to a back seat and impeaching Solomon and Paul with having spoken or left on record sentiments out of the fullness of their masculine minds which were not just as between men and women?

If we unlock this gate, closed and barred from time immemorial, and set it ajar, we must bear in mind that it will almost inevitably swing wide open, and then what will issue? We cannot stop with Moses and Paul. Almost all the sacred writers were masculine. Prophets spoke from bearded mouths and warriors and husbandmen wrote with horny hands that had wielded the sword, or held the plough, or fished in troubled waters. Paul was frank enough sometimes to say, "I speak as a man." Shall we then go through the canon and say that in this and this, Joshua, Samuel or Solomon, Jeremiah, or Micah, Matthew, Peter, or Jude also wrote as men and that we must here allow for the swerving and variation of the masculine compass? Would not this be substituting a lower criticism more destructive and dangerous for that which has been so greatly feared and fiercely condemned as the higher criticism? We shall not pause to defend the creeds, but we ought all to be jealous of the authority of the Book. There are conditions which confront us, too, that are as well worth considering as the most original and captivating theories. A glance by the pastor over his Sunday morning congregation will usually show five women present for every three men. Evidently if there is a preponderant note of masculinity in Scripture or hymn-book, or creed or in the sermon itself, it has not called the men from their homes in undue numbers, nor has it wholly prevented the mothers, sisters and daughters from attending the place of worship.

The ladies of the National Women's Council the other day in accepting a donation of Tonnel stamps not only returned their hearty thanks by a standing vote but also endorsed the Tunnel project. We regard this as a most auspicious omen. We hope yet to see the Parliament of Canada equally unanimous with the National Council of Women in this vital matter.

Before building a new chimney, whether of brick, stone, or iron for the Market Building would it not be worth while to remove the obstruction from the present chimney? Report has it that the fire is open down to the top of the large window and is there choked. The architect, or the building contractor, should know whether this is true or not. If there is a simple obstruction it can be found and removed. It ought to worth while for those who have the chimney in hand to let the people know precisely what the trouble is. There are a thousand people who want to know, have a right to know and yet can get no satisfactory information on the subject.

THE RUSSIAN BATTLESHIP.

The Russian battleship Kniaz Potemkin now in possession of her own of mutineers is still at large but within a week she is in the Black Sea, from which it is no outlet except by way of the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles through which the passage of warships is prohibited. But for mutineers have still ample scope for the Black Sea is 700 miles long by 250 broad. And moreover not more than half this Sea belongs as territorial water to Russia, the other half belonging to Turkey, Bulgaria and Roumania. It is believed that before this the ship has passed outside of Russian waters. Moreover it appears that Admiral Kruger, in command of the Russian Black Sea fleet, is too distrustful of his crews to venture in pursuit of the mutinied ship. But the way of the mutineers will still be hard. They cannot escape from the Black Sea; Turkish or Bulgarian ports must not give them shelter for fear of offending Russia, and if they attempt hereafter to raise food or supplies from other ships or on shore they add the crime of piracy to those of mutiny and murder already committed. The situation is thus in several points unprecedented. Their best chance would be to raise the Japanese flag and become as near as may be lawful belligerents.

The Maritime Merchant, a very ably conducted trade serial, is doing summer's service for the Tunnel project, treating this great work in its true light as of prime importance to all the Maritime Provinces and of value to the entire Dominion. We believe the good words of our Halifax contemporary are highly prized and appreciated by all our Island people.

WHAT CAUSES APPENDICITIS.

The common cause of appendicitis is constipation. When you require physic don't use cheap drastic pills; get Dr. Hamilton's Pills which strengthen the stomach, regulate the bowels and prevents any tendency to appendicitis. In one day you'll feel the tremendous benefit of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. By purifying the blood and cleansing the system they prevent headache, lift depression and drive away weariness. No medicine so successful as Dr. Hamilton's Pills, sold everywhere in 25c. boxes with yellow cover; get the genuine.

W. M. S. CONVENTION

The W. M. S. Convention held at York on Thursday last was in every way a success. Miss Robertson, returned missionary from Japan, who is at present on furlough, was warmly welcomed by the Convention and her addresses added greatly to the interest of the meetings. The Extension Fund was her chief topic at the morning session, and she very forcibly showed the need of this Fund in order to successfully carry on the work. The reports from Auxiliaries and Mission Bands were most encouraging, showing increased interest to this important work.

The pastor, Rev. G. F. Dawson presided at the evening meeting. Miss Robertson gave a very interesting address on the life, characteristics, and customs of the Japanese and showed the necessity of Christian education for this people.

During the evening a solo was very sweetly sung by Miss Snelgrove of Charlottetown. A bright chorus was given by the boys and girls of York Mission Band and a pleasing recitation by Lillian Carter. A duet by Mr. and Mrs Dawson was greatly enjoyed by all. The kindness and hospitality of the York Auxiliary was much appreciated by delegates and visitors.

CHILLS PROVE FATAL!

If warmth and circulation are not promptly restored, chills result, fatal pneumonia. This necessitates keeping Nerviline on hand. Takes in hot water it breaks up a chill in two minutes. By rubbing freely cures throat and chest it prevents colds. No liniment so strong, so penetrating, so swift to kill pain and inflammation. Nearly fifty years' record has proved the value of Dobson's Nerviline. You should get a bottle to-day.

BIG BATTLESHIPS BEST.

BERLINE, June 30 - The German Naval League, in a regular news bulletin, says the lesson of the battle of the Sea of Japan is that the best type of warship is the battleship of the large displacement, equipped with the heaviest possible guns and armor. The League notes that the Japanese torpedo boats attacked after the Russian fleet had been weakened.
