PUBLIC meeting of the Committee on Privileges this evening at 7.30 in the old Legislative Council Chamber.

A REPORT was current on the streets yesterday that a patron of the well known saloons had been fired at in the saloon by the proprietor but the bullet missed its mark and penetrated the wall. On investigation, however the story proved to be a canard, the invention of one who had told the story as a joke.

THE North End Wood Working Company, Ltd., of St. John, N. B., is nothing if not progressive. This enterprising firm, which is composed of thoroughly reliable men, in addition to their ordinary wood working have commenced the manufacture of portable houses for summer cottages, club houses, bathing houses, children's play houses, summer kitchens, army officers' quarters, photo galleries, golf link houses, railroad surveyors' houses, contractors' offices, etc. As they are desirous of meeting the growing demands everywhere for cheap and convenient summer cottages they are now making a specialty of this class of work, and have on exhibition at their premises a two room portable cottage which will undoubtedly meet with great demand. The size of the house is 15 ft 10 inches in length by 9 ft 6 inches in width and it can be enlarged or made smaller at will by adding or removing sections. It has two windows, two doors, one partition with door. The side walls are made in sections 3 ft 2 inches wide from ⅞ inch siding tongued and grooved each being a duplicate of the other and all being interchangeable. The solid sections are interchangeable with those containing windows and doors so that a purchaser can erect the house to suit his requirements. No nailing or carpenter work is necessary. A screw driver and a wrench are all the tools required. For shipment the sections are put up in crates or packages, convenient for handling. The house, when erected, is strong, durable wind and water proof, reasonable in price, saving the purchaser much in waste of time and materials, as well as all the annoyance of building. All interested should write for particulars.

AT ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL.—The celebration of the festival of Easter was begun at 5 o'clock on Easter eve, when Evensong was said in the Hodgson Memorial Chapel. On Easter day there were three celebrations of Holy Communion at 7, 8 and 11 o'clock respectively, the first two plain, the third fully choral. The Priest Incumbent, Rev. James Simpson, was celebraut at the earlier services, and Rev. Dr. Hunt at the last one, Mr. Simpson preaching from the text, "I am He that liveth, and was dead; and behold, I am alive for evermore." Cruickshank's setting of the office was sung effectively by a large choir, the organ music being "I know that my Redeemer liveth," (at the ablutions) and "The Heavens are telling" (at the close of the service.) Matins had been said at 10.30; Evensong was sung at 7, Tallis' music being used and Holloway's setting for the Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis. The Incumbent preached from the text, "Fear not, ye; for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified." After the procession the choir returned to the Sanctuary, where a Solemn TeDeum was sung to Dyke's music in C. Before the service the organist played Therese's March Jubilate, and Viriani's Silver Trumpets as the congregation left the church. The altar, the lectern and rood screen were decorated with flowers. In every particular the celebration of the great festival was hearty and appropriate, the rendition of the music reflecting credit upon those who had it preparation and performance in charge.

A pleasing event marked the conclusion of the 11 o'clock service when Mr. F. P. Carvell was presented by the clergy and congregation in the school-room with a pair of Trieder binocular field glasses and a set of ebony military brushes, etc., with silver relief monogram, in recognition of the services he has uninterruptedly rendered the church in his office of Precentor during the past eighteen years. Mr. Carvell has occupied a stall in the choir for thirty years. The presentation was opportune, as the day was the anniversary of his admission to the choir. A short presentation address was read by Rev. T. H. Hunt, D. D., to which the recipient made a feeling reply, after which he received the congratulations of the congregation who had assembled to witness the presentation.

LAST Night's Hospital Concert.—"The best musical entertainment ever given here." "One of the best I ever attended."—With the endorsation of the second speaker the scribe agrees. Limited space permits only a brief resume. The whole work of the orchestra was good, the music of interest to the executant as well as enjoyment to the hearer. Mrs. Byrne was in capital voice and was ably seconded in the Norma duet by Mr. Hermane, Miss Edith Weeks won a hearty recall for her excellently interpreted song. "The children's Kingdom." The concerted numbers, a male part song and a sextette for mixed voices showed careful preparation and merited the plaudits accorded. Prof. Vinnicombe's violin solo and later the duet with Mrs. McKenna gave general pleasure and received generous applause. Miss Nan Poole evinced dramatic ability of no mean order in her reading. She reads with feeling, throws herself with her work and into the audience's favor at one and the same time. The Terpsichorean number was a feature as scenically beautiful as delightfully executed. The little tots dance very cleverly and reflect credit on their able instructress, Miss Burris. Miss Vinnicombe deserves her meed of praise for well done if not often noticed and yet indispensable work. The concert reflects great credit, on its promoters,

DONT PAY TOO MUCH

Or too little when you are buying a vehicle. There are some local builders who claim, because they build a few jobs per season, that they should get very high prices. If you buy their vehicles at their prices, you would pay too much. Some factories without much reputation and using cheap called stock are willing to almost give their wagons at any price a purchaser would offer. That class of vehicles are no good at any price. To be safe and pay a FAIR PRICE buy from us.
