GASPIAN TOWED TO PICTOU.—The Cartery arrived at Pictou at 9 o'clock last night with the steamer Gaspeian in tow. It will be remembered that the steamer Gaspeian was adrift off St. Peters Island some days ago and that two of her crew walked ashore at Canoe Cove. Those men are still in Charlottetown and will rejoin their ship at Pictou.

DRIVING ACCIDENT.—There was considerable rain driving along Great George Street yesterday, which resulted in an accident at the horse fountain, near Easton street. Here two teams in jockeying for a good position preparatory to a dash down the street, collided, one sleigh overturned and a young woman who was an occupant had her nose and forehead injured. No other damage resulted and the frightened horses were soon quieted.

Brother of Bolo Pasha Makes Statement

(Canadian Press Despatch) PARIS, Jan. 11.—Now that the preliminary investigation has been finished in the case of Bolo Pasha, who is accused of having been at the head of an organization for German propaganda in France, and his appearance before a court martial has been set for February 4th, his brother, Mgr. Bolo has published a long letter which apparently foreshadows the line of defence which may be taken. Mgr. Bolo says his brother has been accused only by two Germans—Herr Haddit, in Switzerland, and Adolph Pavenstedt, former head of a New York banking house, who gave testimony in New York regarding Bolo Pasha, which involved the former German Ambassador at Washington, Count von Bernstorff. The letter says: "The German press denies the existence of the telegrams reported to have been sent from the United States, on the strength of which Bolo Pasha was arrested. The sum of 1,000,000 francs paid by the ex-Khedive of Egypt to Bolo Pasha, the letter says, was in liquidation of a debt.

"Several years before the war," Mgr. Bolo writes, "I placed with the Behrens, Antwerp bankers, 10,000,000 francs which I drew in New York. When the Germans entered Antwerp I asked a neutral bank to prevent the seizure of this sum by the Germans. It thus passed from Antwerp to Hamburg, thence to the Deutsche bank, thence to the Pavenstedt bank." Mgr. Bolo concludes by saying that his brother established the reputation in Switzerland, Spain and America of being an ardent patriot.

URGES FARMERS IN PROVINCE TO GET RID OF POTATOES

FREDERICTON, Jan. 11.—Dr. W.C. Kierstead, of this city, who has been in Ottawa on business connected with his duties as assistant to the food controller, strongly urges the farmers of New Brunswick to market their potatoes without further delay. He says that from data available in the food controller's office it appears that there is a still larger surplus of two million bushels of potatoes in New Brunswick and a still larger surplus in Prince Edward Island. Those potatoes are being held by the farmers with the hope that they may get higher prices.

There is a strong agitation among consumers in Ontario and Quebec for fixed prices for potatoes which would be the means of the farmers opening up and selling their stock. It is argued that if something is not done there will be fewer potatoes used during the winter months by the consumers and when the potatoes are eventually thrown on the market there will be a slump and the farmers will realize little more than the feeding value. Dr. Kierstead says that the chief objection to having the price fixed by the food controller comes from New Brunswick. It is urged that it costs more to produce potatoes in this province than in any other and that the farmers should not be compelled to sell for less than the cost price to them.

At the present time there is a very good demand for potatoes in the outside markets and those in a position to judge say that there is no likelihood of the price going any higher. Any marked increase over present prices would probably result in the food controller taking some action in the interest of the consumers. Council Co-operates.

The municipal council of York county yesterday afternoon by unanimous resolution, decided to adopt the proposition of the provincial department of agriculture concerning the distribution of seed wheat and examined by the teacher, Miss Laura MacAdam, assisted by Miss MacGilligan, of Monticello school, and Mr. Michael McIntyre of Solking. The children acquitted themselves in a highly satisfactory manner, giving evidence of painstaking work and thorough training. The schoolhouse was tastefully decorated in the national colors, intermingled with Christmas greenery. This with the "Tree" all glittering in lights and sparkling tinsel, and its load of gifts for every pupil, as well as several for the teacher also, presented a scene of unusual cheer and beauty.

The gramophone selections under the direction of Mr. John A. McIntyre were particularly entertaining; the special vocal and instrumental selections by Miss Lizzie and Mr. Michael McIntyre measured up to their usual high standard, and the rendering of "The Auld Scotch Songs," by Private Gillespie, here on furlough from England with Private Emmanuel McDonald, proved an immensely popular feature.

In the midst of the proceedings the merry jingle of bells announced the approach of Santa Claus. Soon he arrived upon the scene, and the distribution of his gifts began forthwith. Which the children had been anticipated to, the most eager recipients, he then had a number of them assist him in distributing a generous supply of confectionery and fruit to everyone present. On his disappearance the program was resumed, and an evening of great enjoyment came to a close with the National Anthem.
