Montrose Church Reopens Sunday

The worship on the Montrose pastoral charge this coming Sabbath is of especial interest to the people of West Prince as a new church will be formally opened and dedicated with services in the morning, afternoon and evening.

The new building, which has among other features a fellowship hall for through-the-week activities, a session room and choir room presents an attractive appearance and is a credit to its builders.

The original building, which consisted of a church auditorium alone, was rectangular in design and was also impressive in appearance, situated as is the new one, in a lovely grove of trees and surrounded by one of the most beautiful landscapes in the Province with the peaceful waters of Montrose river reflecting the beauty of tree and sky.

The new church will be dedicated on the 60th anniversary of the opening of the first church. As the dedication falls on Remembrance Day, the congregation realises anew that this religious freedom they enjoy was made possible by the bravest and best, many of whom died that "we at home in Canada might live in peace and freedom, with none to make us afraid."

The services are as follows:
11.00 a.m.—Speaker, Rev. M. D MacLeod. Communion.
3.00 p.m.—Rev Joseph Nowe, Rev. Dr. MacKenzie. Remembrance.
7.00 p.m.—Rev. Emanuel Lockhart. Dedication.

RE-OPENING OF KENSINGTON PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The newly renovated and redecorated Presbyterian Church, Kensington, was re-opened on Sunday, Oct. 14th, with two services. Many handsome bouquets of autumn flowers and two impressive ferns tastefully arranged on the front of pulpit platform and communion table, given by members of the congregation, added color and beauty to the charming church.

In the morning at 11 a.m., an unusually large morning congregation assembled to participate in the re-opening of the church, regardless of the inclement weather. Rev. J. A. McGowan officially reopened the church. The minister preached a suitable sermon for the occasion, taking as his text Acts 4:12, "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved." His theme was: "The purpose of the church according to the history of the church of the first century." The choir fittingly sang "For Christ and the Church" as an anthem.

The evening service was conducted by Rev. Charles Carnegy, minister of Summerside Presbyterian Church. Mr. Carnegy also preached a very forceful sermon, stressing the duties of Christian in the reconstruction of the world order. The Auditorium of the church was filled and several had to be accommodated in the Church Hall. The Brooklyn trio, Messrs. John Bears, Willard Bruce and Malcolm Munroe, rendered beautifully "Christ Receiveth Sinful Men." "Just Outside the Door", and "Wonderful Love."

The choir sang an anthem "Sing On Joyful Pilgrims" Mrs. James Jardine, organist. During the evening service messages of congratulations were read to the congregation from Rev. T. W. Goodwill, B.A., a former popular minister of the church and also the Rev. Lloyd Henderson, M.A., a friend of the congregation who also supplied the pulpit while he was studying for the ministry by Rev. Charles Carnegy. Mr. Carnegy also expressed his congratulations to the congregation for the excellent job done on the church. The church looks beautiful inside and outside.

MEDICAL ASS'N—

000. However, on the basis of the 1944 income, the subsidy would be increased to $1,570,000. That amount would go into general revenue and would not be used to defray any expenses of health insurance, Dr. Archer explained.

Health grants by the Federal Government would include (a) planning and organization, $9,800; (b) general public health at 35 cts. per capita, $33,000; (c) tuberculosis, $25,500; (d) mental health, $33,000; (e) venereal disease, $2,500; (f) crippled children, $4,200; (g) professional training and public health research, on demand; (h) civilian blind, $19,500. Those grants amount to $127,800.

Health Insurance Grant

The health insurance grant, proper, is based on a contribution of 60 per cent of $21.60 per capita and amounts to $1,232,000.

The estimated cost of health inl surance for Prince Edward Island was broken up by Dr. Archer as follows:

General practitioner services (allowing for 48 general practitioners, 1 to 1960 persons) at $6 per capita would amount to $570,000.

Hospital care, 3 beds for 1000, (Canadian averag 4.8) at $3.60 per capita would amount to $332,664.

Visiting nursing service at 50 cts. per capita amounts to $57,028.

In the later stages, the cost of Health Insurance would involve, Dr. Archer said, other medical care such as the services of surgical consultants and other specialialists. The cost of this service is estimated at $332,664.

Nursing service, dental care, pharmaceutical, and laboratory services for the Island's population would involve another $750,821.

Of this total cost of $2,054,014, the Provincial share would be $821,605, or $8.64 per capita.

Dr. Archer said the proposals did not specify how this amou it could be raised but stated that a per capita contribution of $1.00 per month would more than furnish it.

P. E. I. Ass'n. Proposals

In a brief signed by the president and secretary of the P. E. Island Medical Association the following points were outlined.

1. It is out understanding that the first grant which would become available in the health field under the proposals, is the grant for planning and organization. If your Government accepts this grant, this Association offers its assistance in formulating a plan to provide a high standard of health service for the residents of this Province.

2. To this end, they respectfully suggest that representatives from this Association, as well as from the other professions and institutions rendering health services, together with representatives of the public receiving services, be invited to sit in on a committee to assist in drawing up plans to meet the needs of the people.

3. We would further suggest that your Government request the Federal Government to alter their proposals re health in the following respects:—

(a) That the amount allocated to this Province as a grant to carry out the work proposed under planning and organization, is totally inadequate and should be at least doubled.

(b) That it should be possible to use this grant without restrictions in developing the whole health plan for the Province. To this end, the grant might usefully be made unconditional in order that the whole health services of the Province might be studied, without the decision to formulate any particular plan to meet the needs, being agreed to in advance.

(c) That the proposed "first stage" for the introduction of health insurance be made less rigid as to the services included. It should be possible for any Province to introduce the benefits provided under health insurance by whatever stages may be considered advisable by the Provincial Planning Committee, subject to a reasonable time limit.

(d) Inasmuch as the proposed costs for health insurance and the various benefits included are not accurately determined but are estimates, we suggest that provisions be made in the Federal Provincial agreement to ensure that:—in the event that the cost of any services given exceeded the estimate, the Federal Government would, in addition to its ordinary grant, pay one half the amount by which the actual cost had exceeded the estimate.

The Medical Association was told by Premier Jones that his Government would give careful consideration to the requests and suggestions embodied in the Association's presentation of the case for Provincial Health Insurance.

MANY VARIATIONS

For conveniences, versatility and ration value it is pretty hard to beat ground meat and it rates especially high with the small family who can't easily cope with the larger cuts of meat. There are a dozen ways in which ground meat maye be used and even hash can be given style if served as short-cake over split baking powder biscuits There are two schools of thought on meat loaves. Some like a brown, crusty loaf and others a soft, moist loaf. The same meat mixture can produce either type of loaf, the Agriculture Department consumer section tells us. For a brown crusty loaf they suggest that the meat be moulded lightly and baked in a shallow roasting pan. When they want a moist loaf they line a deep loaf pan with wax paper and pack the meat more solidly into the pan.

P. E. I. Members On Committees Of Parliament

OTTAWA, Nov. 9 — (Special) —The Prince Edward Island members this session can score full marks for winning some solid provincial representation on the 15 special committees of the House of Commons.

Personnel of all 15 committees has been announced following completion of their compiling, and the Island province has representation on eight, more than in any other session.

True, Prince Edward Island is lacking members on the other seven committees, but these are seven of lesser importance.

Here is the Island representation on the committees:

On Banking and Commerce, J. W. MacNaught, Liberal member for Prince.

On Railways, Canals and Telegraph lines, Dr. T. V. Grant, Liberal member for King's.

On Public Accounts, Mr. MacNaught.

On Agriculture and Colonization, J. L. Douglas, Liberal member for Queen's, and W. Chester S. McLure, Progressive Conservative member for Queen's.

On Marine and Fisheries, Mr. McLure and Mr. MacNaught.

On Public Printing, Mr. McLure and Mr. MacNaught.

On the Library of Parliament, Mr. Douglas.

On Railways and Shipping, Mr. McLure.

So far, since personnel of the committees first was darfted, there have been two changes, Mr. McLure replacing Joseph Harris Progressive Conservative member for Toronto-Danforth on the Railway Committee, and Mr. MacNaught replacing Dr. Grant on the Public Accounts Committee.

Except for the Railway Committee, few others have started work.

Much of the heavy work of preparation for new legislation is done in committee, and it is there that representatives of various sections of Canada may best look out for the interests of their constituents.

Kinsmen Hear Vets' Affairs Administrator

LT.-COL CONRAD

Decent homes, decent jobs and a decent living in this post-war world for all returned service men or women was the key-note of an address delivered last night by the newly-appointed District Administrator of Veterans Affairs and Rehabilitation, Lieut.-Col. F. B. Conrad, M.M., a veteran of both world wars.

The maiden address of the new Administrator was made before a full turnout of members of the Kinsmen Club and 22 guests, all returned men, for it was "Veteran's Night" for the clubs all across Canada.

Col. Conrad spoke at some length regarding plans of his department for rehabilitation work and stated the objective was to provide jobs, if at all possible, for every returned service man or woman in the Province.

The newly-formed District "W" with headquarters in Charlottetown was announced from Ottawa late yesterday by Veterans Minister MacKenzie. Previously Prince Edward Island was a sub-district administered by the district office located at Halifax. Col. Conrad's office will be located in the former Y.M.C.A. building on Richmond Strest.

Prizes Presented

A special feature of the Kinsman's gathering was the announcement and presentation of prizes to the winners of the club's Victory Bond Slogan Contest for children of the four city schools and pupils of Spring Park and Parkdale schools. Mr. Ewen MacKinnon, chairman of the Provincial War Finance Committee, introduced Mr. Neil Higgins, Club president, who made the presentations.

First prize went to Miss Connie Stacey, a pupil of grade nine, West Kent School. Miss Stacey was presented with a $50 bond. Her slogan was "Instead of spending try lending."

A special second prize, awarded by the Victory Loan Committee, was won by Miss Barbara England, grade seven, Prince Street School. Miss England received a reproduction of surrender documents of World War Two. Her slogan was: "Build a better home front."

District Governor George Sinclair spoke words of welcome to the guests on behalf of the Kinsman organization.

Reference was made to the "Shell-Out Campaign" recently conducted by the club. It was disclosed that sufficient funds had been received to insure the installation of radios in the four city schools.

Chairman for the evening was Major L. I. Duffy.

Vocal selections, during the evening, were rendered by Mr. Roy Smallman. Mr. Walter MacNutt was accompanist.

A grandson of the Hon. Mr. Jones' famous world record 305 day producer, Abegweit Milady, sold for the Canadian Record price for a bull of $14,500. He is the two-months-old calf, Glenafton Historian, who was jointly purchased by Hays Limited and H.J. McFarlane, Picton, Ont. His consignor was J. J.E. McCague, Alliston, Ont.

A new Canadian record price for a cow of $17,600 was paid to J.J.E. McCague, by S.H. Cashman, Hopewell Junction, N.R., for Glenafton Laurel Brownie, a three-year-old heifer. Washington Spotlight

BY C.R BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 —(CP)— There was a lesson for the planners of every large city on the continent in Washington this week. Overnight strike-bound tram cars and busses disappeared from the streets as completely as if they never existed.

Immediately every car in running order was pressed into service and the traffic jamed in the downtown streets during the rush hours presented a frightening picture of things to come.

If new cars and tires were available to all who want and can afford to buy them, probably there would be twice as many automobiles in Washington and any other city its size as now are in use. And this week's traffic jams were brought about without the aid of trams or busses.

The situation here gave a great boost to those preaching the need for immediately starting work on subways and high-speed traffic arteries to relieve the present—to say nothing of potential - traffic requirements. But the new cars are certain to get here first and the prospect is a glommy one for policemen and motorists.

Most dramatic local newspicture of the week was that of bush-browed John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president, puganaciously striding into the current labor-management conference past a picket from the independent unions carrying a sign which read:

"We challenge Green, Murray and Lewis to cross this picket line."

The picketing unions were not invited to the conference. Lewis passed unmolested but Philip Murray C.I.O. chief, and president William Green of the A.F L. used a rear door.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King will be the senior statesman at the Anglo - United States - Canadian conference opening here this week-end among himself, Prime Minister Attlee and President Truman. Probably he never will have a better opportunity of changing his policy of hiding from the public on his visits to Washington.

Local correspondents will be watching with interest to see if the Canadian Prime Minister will come out of his shell and let them put him on the front pages.
