PROCEEDINGS OF THE PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD

Overture on Church Union Sent to General Assembly.

HALIFAX, Sept. 16.— There was a full house in Fort Massey at 2.30 yesterday when the Synod was constituted for the afternoon session. The first order of the day was known to be the matter in connection with Church Union, and that settled the point in the matter of attendance.

Mr. J. H. Cavanagh had charge of the presentation of the overture but being absent Rev. Robert Johnston took his place supporting the following overture:

"Whereas the General Assembly at its last meeting took a very definite step towards the consummation of the Union of the three churches and in doing so refused again to consult the people, and,

"Whereas this refusal is causing great dissatisfaction amongst many of our people, creating an atmosphere not conducive to the highest spiritual welfare of our Church, throwing an obstancle in the way of liberality, and threatening the ultimate disruption of the Church. Therefore be it resolved that this Synod humbly overture the General Assembly at its next meeting in the City of Winnipeg to refer once more the question to the people of the Presbyterian Church for their vote."

ROBERT JOHNSTON,
F. SCOTT MACKENZIE.

To Bridge the Gulf.

Mr. Johnston proceeded to support his overture in a calm and clear speech. He claimed that there is a serious gulf between two parties in the Church and that the present overture may, if passed, constitute a bridge uniting conflicting opinions. He claimed that there was a much larger body of opinion in the Synod in favor of this overture than many suppose.

Mr. Ronald McVicar, a Sydney lawyer, followed Mr. Johnston arguing at length against the policy of centralization of power and of authority, which is at the heart of the Church Union question. He appealed to history as illustrating the folly of casting minorities aside.

Judge Forbes questioned the competency of the Synod overturning the General Assembly on a question on which it has made a decisive deliverance, but proposed that the overture be sent to the Assembly simpliciter. Dr. Pringle moved to this effect as an amendment that the overture be sent to the General Assembly simpliciter and the motion was seconded by Dr. Rogers. This amendment means that the Synod, without expressing approval of the overture, agree to the presentation of it to the Assembly, sembly on its own merits, without note or comment.

Mr. John MacKeen warmly supported the overture and strongly appealed to the Synod to be just with the minority and send the overture with approval to the Assembly.

Dr. Scott McKenzie, of Sydney Mines, who is one of the signatories of the overture and a new member of the Synod was cordially received as he came forward to support the overture, and he made a good impression in the Sysod.

Mr. Johnston then summed up the case in support of the overture in a happy little speech and the matter went to vote. The amendment was lost, the vote being as follows: For the amendment 147, and against it 39. The Moderator remarked amid applause that the Synod should be thankful to God for the fine spirit manifested in the discussion.

Famous Training Ship To be Broken Up

LONDON, Sept. 16—The last and greatest of her line of battleships, though she never sailed the seas or engaged an enemy, left her moorings at Devonport, where she had been tied up for sixty years and was towed up the Thames this week to be broken up in the shipyards there. Without smelling powder for all these sixty years, she bore the name of Impregnable, but last year she became known officially as the Bulwark, because an unsentimental Admiralty wanted her name for something that was more impregnable.

Tens of thousands of seamen have as boys undergone preliminary training aboard here, but few of them , and much less the British public, know she has made only two trips in all her history. Even on thise trips she merely hugged the coast and was in charge of tugs.

The first was just after her launching at the Pembroke dock, when she was towed to Devonport The second trip she has just completed around the south coast. She never had her sails fully spread, and she never fired a shot in battle. And yet when her keel was laid in 1856 she was intended to be the greatest and stoutest ship in the whole British navy, having been designed to rule the waves.

But she lapsed into a "show ship" and stories have been handed down of how some European disputes of long ago, when she was building were settled immediately when visiting representatives of the countries concerned saw her. Her majestic proportions, they say, were in those days sufficient to put a quietus on quarrelsome neighbors.

LLOYD GEORE CANCELS CONFERENCE WITH SINN FEIN

DeValera's Delegates Would Attend Conference Only as Representatives of a Free Sovereign State. This Lloyd George Declared Impossible

LONDON, Sept. 13.— Prime Minister Lloyd George tonight cancelled the arrangements and conference of Sinn Fein delegates with himself and members of his cabinet at Inverness on September 20.

Mr. Lloyd George cancelled the conference in his reply to the communication of Eamonn De Valera, made public today. The prime minister said he must now consult with his colleagues on the course of action the new situation necessitated.

Mr. Lloyd George told the Sinn Fein leaders that he would communicate the result of such consultation as soon as possible, but that he must make it absolutely clear that the British government could not reconsider its position as stated by him.

Text to Reply

The text of Mr. Lloyd George's reply which was telegraphed tonight, says: "I informed your emissaries who came to me here Tuesday that reiteration of your claim to negotiate with His Majesty's government as the representative of an independent and sovereign state would make a conference between us impossible.

"They brought me a letter from you in which you specifically reaffirm that claim, stating that your nation "has formally declared its independence and recognizes itself as a sovereign state," and it is only, you added, "as representatives of that state, and as its chosen guardians, that we have any authority or powers to act on behalf of our people."

"I asked them to warn you of the very serious effect of such a paragraph and offered to regard the letter as not delivered to me in order that you might have time to reconsider it. Despite this intimation you have now published the letter in its original form. I must accordingly cancel the arrangements for the conference next week at Inverness and must consult my colleagues on the course of action this new situation necessitates. I will communicate this to you as soon as posible, but as I am for the moment laid up here a few days' delay is inevitable. Meanwhile, I must make it absolutely clear that His Majesty's government cannot reconsider its position, which I have stated to you.

Cannot Recognize Republic

"If we accepted a conference with your delegates on the formal statement of the claim which you have reaffirmed, it would constitute an official recognition by His Majesty's government of the severance of Ireland from the empire and of its existence as an independent republic.

"It would, moreover, entitle you to declare as a right acknowledged by us, that in preference to association with closer association by a treaty with some other foreign powers. There is only one answer possible to such a claim as that.

"That great concessions which Mis Majesty's government made to the feeling of your people in order to secure a lasting settlement deserved, in my opinion, some more generous response, but so far every advance has been made by us.

"On your part you have not come to meet us by a single step, but have merely reiteratd in phrases if emphatic challenge the letter and the spirit of your original claim.

" I am yours faithfully,
"LLOYD GEORGE."

DR. CLARK SPEAKS OUT

EDMONTON, Sept 16—The outstanding event of the National Progressive Conference at Edmonton yesterday attended by Premier Greenfield, Mr Crerar and Mr H. H Wood, President U. F. of A and other heads of Farmers movements is the definite split between the Agrarians and Dr Clark, Red Deer. Dr Clark declares the idea of group government as distasteful to him and he will not stand for dictation. Dr Clark's letter to Mr Crerar is as follows: "After our recent conversations it will not greatly surprise you to learn you cannot count on me as a candidate in Alberta for the forthcoming Dominion election. Mr Wood, whose organizing ability is great and admirable seems to think he has found something new in the idea of group government. It is as old as the hills. True Liberals fought it in Britain and Canada alike under restricted franchise and as people rightly struggle to be free.

"The House of Lords, Manufacturers Association and Junkers Militarists of Germany are all examples of group Government and the progress of humanity has been proportional to its ability to free itself from the domination of these groups. Class consciousness is none the less class-selfishness, therefore doomed to die because it suddenly appears in the Farmer and Labor parties. After all there seems to be only one method of working out human affairs in a political sphere.

Apostles of progress must unite principles of sincerity and help resist reaction which is ever present like a dead weight to drag down the aspirations of race for freedom, justice and democracy. These were the things for which sixty thousand Canadians died in the recent war but they will not be attained by putting one form of class consciousness in power in place of another. I have been fighting class for forty years. It would be quite impossible for me to turn my back on my past and fight in this election Dr. Clark would not say whether he would be a candidate at all in the coming election.

OTTAWA, Sept. 16.— Dr. Michael Clark's announcement that he will not undertake to be a candidate of the farmer's party in Alberta at the approaching federal election and his denunciation of the party's appeal to class prejudice as a political factor, has caused much comment. The members for Red Deer, has been Hon. T. A. Crear's first lieutenant in the House of Commons for the past two years and has been the most eloquent spokesman of the agrarian group. He acquiesced in the fiscal policy propounded by the Farmers or National progressive party, because he has realized that its logical outcome is complete free trade, which he has advocated since he entered parliament in 1908. Dr. Clark's latest declaration will be explained by his former nomination in Red Deer. It will also be argued that he has sat in parliament as a supporter of the Grain Growers party for two sessions. His objection to group government and to appeals to class which were loudest in the recent elections in Alberta, however, may have helped to make it difficult for him on the other hand to secure the Grain Growers nomination in Red Deer. He has spoken strongly against group government asserting that class consciousness, is none the less class selfishness. He has taken position very similar to that of Premier Meighen and his deflection from the Grain Grower's party is regarded as likely to be helpful to the Meighen government in the coming election.

Dr. Michael Clark's severance of his connection with the United Farmers party has directed attention to dissentions in that party in Western Canada. There is said to be a share divergence in the views of Hon. T. A. Crerar, the leader of the agrarian group in the commons, and those of the radical Henry Wise Wood the Missourian, who is at the head of the United Farmers of Alberta.

Circumnavigating World In New Type Airship

(Special to The Guardian)

OTTAWA, Sept. 16.—The first round the world trip by aeroplane is contemplated by Sir Ross Smith, the British airman, who last summer successfully negotiated the flight from England to Australia. The starting date is not yet announced but it is understood that the trip is to be made before the winter sets in. He will use a special type of machine of amphibious design allowing for a lighting with equal facility on land or water. The route is to take in Canada from British Columbia to Cape Breton, starting from England. The line of flight will probably be middle Europe. Mesopotamia, India, China, and Japan, thence northward across the Behring Sea to Alaska. Sir Ross will come into Canada from Wrangel, Alaska, on the northern boundary of British Columbia. In this connection the Canadian Air Board has mapped out at the request of Sir Ross Smith a combined seaplane and aeroplane route to St. John's Newfoundland.

THE LIBERAL CONFERENCE WHICH MET AT OTTAWA

Had Serious Problems to Discuss. United Farmer Movement Eating into Liberal Prospects Situation in Prairie Provinces.

With reference to the Liberal conference the other day in Ottawa, the Montreal Gazette says:

"The chiefs of the Liberal party have been in consultation at Ottawa, and though nothing of import was given out, as to the doings of the gathering, nobody is likely to make mistakes about its purpose. The parliamentary Opposition, as well as the Government has much to think about as well as much to do if a good record is to be made on polling day, which is now not far away. The Liberals have troubles to meet, quite as awkward as have the members of the Government party. The new parties have so far done the Opposition at Ottawa most harm. The United Farmers' or Progressive movement has had its most pronounced development in the prairie provinces. The Stewart Liberal Government in Alberta has recently been replaced by a United Farmer ministry after a provincial contest that gave the public a new idea of the extent to which U. F. ideas had taken hold. In Saskatchewan the Liberal Martin Government escaped defeat because it accepted United Farmer ideas and took to its membership United Farmer professors. In Manitoba the Liberal Norris Government was left in a minority as the result of the late elections in the province, and now seems to have accepted the position of an adjunct to the United Farmer machine. In each of these provinces the chief gains of the new organization were at the expense of the Liberals. In Ontario, Liberals and Conservatives suffered in the measure from the revolt that put Mr. Drury at the head of a Farmer-Labor Government. This province appears to be immune from United Farmer attack, and nobody is likely to here any losses the presently dominant party will sustain when polling day arrives will be to the Conservatives. In the maritime provinces the situation is much as it is in the west. The Liberals are in power locally, and whatever disturbs conditions threatens them more than it does the local oppositions Such a state of affairs is the more awkward because the United Farmer chiefs show no inclination to accept the suggestion of a union of forces to upset protection that the Liberals have frequently made. Indeed, the U.F. party is more than ever inclined to play a lone hand. It has just been declared that in Alberta the can be no general combination of Progressives and Laborites, who got together in Ontario, and that, whatever may be done in particular constituencies, there is no provincial understanding. It is not likely that the attitude of the Progressives will be different in dealing with the Liberals; and if it is not there will be large sections of the country where the Liberals will have as little chance of success as, seemingly, have the Conservatives in Quebec. The thoughts of the participants in the Ottawa Liberal conference could not have been all happy."

U. S. Republicans Oppose German Peace

(Special to The Guardian)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Opposition to the Harding treaty of peace with Germany was understood today to have developed in Republican senatorial ranks on the ground that the pact endangers the United States in European affairs almost as much as the League of Nations convenant. How far this opposition will be reflected in votes of Republican senators is uncertain. Criticism of the pact is not confined to senators who were irreconciliables of the Versailles treaty. However senators have been studying the new streaty for several weeks. In several instances they have consulted their colleagues about its provisions. A number are convinced that the treaty ties the United States into the Versailles treaty as surely as though the Senate had ratified that instrument. It is significant however that no Republic senator irreconcibale or moderate is ready at this time to state his opposition publicly. Strong party considerations may keep the number of Republican votes against the treaty to allow party leaders to feel Democratic opposition, which is considered as a matter of course.
