H. B. McLean is still engaged in the teaching profession and has an excellent position. His brother, Archibald, is proprietor of a large store in Raymore, Sask., and is meeting with much success. He was formerly in charge of John McLean & Co's branch store at Bridgetown. Both are very popular and excellent young men and upon entering their new sphere of life will have the best wishes of many friends in this Province.

A very pretty home wedding took place on June 29th at the residence of the bride's parents, R. W. and Mrs. Carson, Bonshaw, when their third daughter, Gertrude, was united in marriage to Harry Melvin Hyde of Cornwall. The ceremony was performed in the presence of about fifty invited guests, by the Rev. Hugh Miller of Cornwall, assisted by the Rev. Wm. Field of Tryon. At the hour of 8.30, the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, entered the prettily decorated parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, beautifully rendered by Miss Helen Smith of Hampton. The bride was prettily gowned in a semi-princess dress of ocean blue silk and wore a sunburst of pearls, the gift of the groom. The bride and groom were unattended. The numerous beautiful presents received testify to the popularity of the happy young couple, who left in the wee sma' hours of the morning for their future home in Cornwall, followed by the best wishes of their many friends. The Guardian extends hearty congratulations.
