Farewell Presentation

On Tuesday evening, April 19 last, a large number of friend and neighbours met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Darke for the purpose of bidding them farewell prior to their removal to their new home at Hunter River.

Mr. F. C. Dollar was appointed chairman and after a few well-chosen opening remarks called upon Charles E. McDuff to read the following address:

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Darke,

Dear Friends, — Learning that you have disposed of your farm and intend in the near future to move to another locality, we, your friends and neighbours, are here assembled to express our regret at losing you and to offer some little recognition of our esteem and respect for you both.

We are indeed sorry to see you go and shall sorely miss you as kind friends and associates; you have been ever ready to help in any effort made for the good of the community or the cause of Christianity—the church and Sabbath school especially shall suffer a severe loss by your departure.

We are very sorry, Mr. Darke, that ill-health has caused you, one of the most progressive dairy farmers of the province, to give up your chosen avocation, yet are happy to know that you are not going far away and we expect to meet you frequently again.

Please accept these little gifts and wishing you many happy years in your well-earned retirement, we remain.

Yours in behalf of all.

Archibald Johnston, W. B. Wood and Elipholet Howatt then presented Mr. and Mrs. Darke with an electric reading lamp, a mantel clock and an electric iron donated by the friends assembled.

Mr. Darke, in behalf of himself and his wife, thanked their friends for these experiences of their good will and gave some interesting reminiscences of past events in the history of the community in which he spent the greater part of his life. He spoke very highly of his successor on the old homestead, Parker Horne, and asked his old friends to welcome Mr. Horne and his wife as neighbours and friends.

Remarks were also made by the chairman, Messrs E. Howatt, Clifford Carew, C. E. McDuff and others.

The ladies then took charge and served a dainty lunch which was much enjoyed and appreciated.

The rest of the evening was whiled away with music and singing, in which Miss Beatrice Matheson, Lila Howatt and the young "uns", Hope and Billy MacLeod, took an active part.

After singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again", "Auld Lang Syne" and the National Anthem and after bidding au revoir to Mr. and Mrs. Darke and wishing them the best of happiness in their new home, all departed after having spent a very pleasant evening.

SINGAPORE BASE HELD IMPREGNABLE

(By JAMES A. MILLS
Associated Press Foreign Staff)

SINGAPORE, Straits Settlements, May 8 —(AP)—Japan's military commitments in China, her losses in men and money, and the economic burdens imposed upon the Japanese people by war, have convinced British defence authorities here that militarists in Japan must abandon whatever plan they have had of attacking Great Britain's mighty naval base and fortress in Singapore.

During the early months of the Sino-Japanese hostilities, naval and military officers entrusted with defence of Hong Kong, and Singapore were frankly worried over Japan's aims of expansion in the south Pacific.

Today, however, due to virtual completion of the great naval station and fortifications here, and also to Japan's military demands in China, these authorities no longer show any real concern over Japan as a possible aggressor.

Recent naval manoeuvres, gunnery practice and aerial operations have convinced defence authorities Singapore now is virtually impregnable.

During recent tests it was found John Bull's thundering 16-inch and 18-inch guns, which vomit forth tons of shattering steel and then disappear behind concrete emplacements, could shoot with the accuracy almost of machine-guns at a range of from 20 to 30 miles.

No Japanese battleship of today could get within firing range of Singapore in the face of such deadly defence guns, gunnery experts contend.

In spite of this confidence, however, the British Government in the Straits Settlements zone is taking no chances against a possible invasion. All Japanese already in the Straits district and in the Malay States are carefully registered and closely watched.

Apart from the Japanese residents of whom there are several thousand in Sngapore alone, all foreign visitors are closely checked up when they enter and leave the country as well as during the time they are actually there.

The greatest secrecy is observed by the British officials regarding the naval base at Singapore. The fact that not a single gun, fortification, battleship, airbase or observation post is visible to the visitor to Singapore, adds to this mystery.

Some of the more skeptical foreign visitors, having no visual evidence, have doubted whether such a tremendous navalbase exists. The fact such a fortress is there, however, and that it it visibly outwardly except from the air, is a tribute to the efficiency and secrecy with which the British constructors have carried out their work.

Government Control Of Industry Urged

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, May 6—Government supervision of the farm implement industry by a board like the board of railway commissioners, was suggested in the House of Commons today by Malcolm McLean (Lib. Melfort).

A full afternoon was devoted to considering a report, presented last session, of a committee which investigated the implement industry. During the discussion, J. J. Duffus (Lib. Peterborough West) suggested parts and raw materials for farm machines be placed on the free list.

The supervisory board suggested by the Saskatchewan Liberal would have authority to check wages, prices and costs in the industry "and be ready to take necessary steps to see the farmers are able to meet their needs with implements produced, distributed and sold in the most efficient manner. This board would see the waste and high costs at present prevailing were eliminated to a great degree."

Seeding Slow In Canadian West

ing rather slowly but under much better conditions than have prevailed for some years. Weather has been cool and cloudy in practically all sections, widespread showers and snowflurries of ten days ago followed by general light to heavy rains on the opening days of May delayed seeding where occurring. Increased use of tractors is reported from many points in Saskatchewan and agents estimate a decrease in wheat and coarse grain acreage from ten of the thirteen subdivisions in that province.

The reduction ranges from 10 percent to 30 percent according to districts, the cause being attributed to shortage of seed or feed or to porly conditioned horses. None indicate lateness of the season as a factor though weather may ultimately determine the actual acreage decrease in some districts. Practically no soil drifting has occurred at any point in Canadian National territory, according to the first weekly crop report of the Department of Agriculture, Canadian National Railways.
