Fans See Tough Shotton As Dodgers Begin Last Drive

BROOKLYN, Sept. 1 — (AP) — A new and tough Burt Shotton emerged today as Brooklyn Dodger as they started their September drive for the National League pennant by knocking down Pittsburgh Pirates 11-8.

The usually-quiet Brooklyn manager first delivered a fighting talk to his team, telling them caustically that "You can't win a pennant sitting on the bench." Then he practised what he preached, and was thrown out of the ball park for the first time in three seasons as Brooklyn field boss.

The explosion that resulted in his banishment came in the ninth inning when he protested against a base on balls that walked in a run.

Firing up his team for the battle to overtake St. Louis Cardinals, Shotton made it clear that his regulars will have to get out there and play regularly.

In the course of his stern discourse to his team, Shotton indicated that the supposed depth of the Dodgers is something of a myth. The substitutes just aren't as good as the first-string men, he said flatly.

Shotton's unexpected inspirational talk came on the heels of a four-game winning streak, and in view of that his words were taken as a warning of what might happen unless the team plays the game up to the hilt, rather than as a rebuke for something that had happened.

Open Tournament At Green Gables

Everything is "all set" for the big 2nd annual Senior and Junior Invitational Track and Field Meet which will be held at Memorial Field this Monday, Labor Day, when leading amateur athletic clubs from all over the Maritime will compete in this last major meet of the season.

This year's programme includes 8 plowing classes with high money totaling one hundred dollars in the big tractor classes. Last year, these tractor classes drew record entries of some two dozen plowmen—indeed, the judge, W.W. Baird, superintendent of the Experimental Farm, Nappan, N.S. said he had never judged such large and outstanding tractor classes. Entries must be in and plows ready to start at 12 noon for the seniors.

Boys under 16 years will again have an opportunity to show their skill in the single furrow and tractor class and with the gang plow. They must be ready to start plowing at 10 a.m.

Horse Show

Judging of the horses starts at 1 p.m., and entries must be in by 12 noon on the day of the fair. There are 23 classes for carriage and draft horses, saddle and roadster stock, general purpose animals, plow and draft teams.

Sports Events

Boys and girls under sixteen will be able to compete in the eight events on their card. The seniors have eleven events which include the Tag-of-War Island Championship.

Step dancing competitions for girls, men and boys and bag-pipe and violin playing will add to the gaiety of the occasion.

Junior Calf Clubs Show

Following the successful calf show last year, the same three Ayrshire clubs will compete again this year, the Hopeful Farmers, St. Peter's and St. George.

Mr. E. C. Wright, agricultural representative in charge of Junior Club Work with the Provincial Department of Agriculture, points out that the calves of last year will be shown as this year's yearlings. Along with the new calves, this should swell the entries considerably as well as the interest.

Ayrshire breeder will be on hand to judge.

It may be that in order to give the Junior Club members a chance to see the plowing and with a chance to see the calves of last year, the fair, the judging of the Ayrshires will be held earlier in the morning.

Prize List Issued For Plowing Match & Fair

The prize list has been issued for the Prince Edward Island Plowing Match and Agricultural Fair Association's annual event at Dundas on September 21, no doubt, causing a rustle of interest in Island plowing circles. L. S. Hunter, Bridgeport is president and Albert Acorn, Cardigan, Secretary.

This meeting in past years was popularly known as the Dundas Plowing Match and King's County Fair. Because of its growth and the interest shown from near and far, it was given a provincial status at the last sitting of the Legislature.

This year's programme includes 8 plowing classes with high money totaling one hundred dollars in the big tractor classes. Last year, these tractor classes drew record entries of some two dozen plowmen—indeed, the judge, W.W. Baird, superintendent of the Experimental Farm, Nappan, N.S. said he had never judged such large and outstanding tractor classes. Entries must be in and plows ready to start at 12 noon for the seniors.

In addition to the regular prizes to be awarded at the meet, a fine trophy for annual competition as an award to the best all-round senior athlete, has been donated by the family of the late Samuel F. Doyle, as a memorial to the former outstanding Island athlete. The new trophy, as well as being a fitting tribute to the memory of a great athlete, sportsman, gentleman and prominent citizen, should also serve to spur on many a young athlete to the same effort, sportsmanship and interest in athletics that the late S. F. "Sammy" Doyle could always be depended upon to do.

In the three major track and field meets held so far this year in Maritime athletic circles, the competition has been of the keenest calibre, and has developed into a more or less three-cornered battle between Wanderers, Antigonish and Abbies, with the Antigonish team being the top point winner at their own Highland Games with Wanderers third, while the positions were reversed at the Invitation Meet at Halifax and reverted again to the original status at the Maritime championships at Amherst, while the Abbies came through with a consistent second place runner-up position in all three meets.

So it can easily be seen that anything can happen at Monday's meet, with the Abbies in particular, striving hard for the first place spot that has been eluding them all season, and with the best possible group of experienced, competent local officials lined up to preside at the meet to assure that everything is run off smoothly and efficiently, it should prove to be one of outstanding athletic endeavour and worthy of the patronage of the most ardent sporting fans.

Quoits Title Play Will Open Tonight

With the regular schedule completed, the playoffs for the singles quoit-pitching championship of the Parkdale Quoit Club will get underway at the quoit grounds tonight at eight o'clock, it was announced by Club officials last night.

The playoffs will be run off in semi-final and final play with the six leading members of the regular schedule being eligible for the competitions.

Harold Newson and Price Thompson, who were the two top point-winners in regular play will play a best of two game total point series in semi-final play. The other four leading contenders, George Carson, Earl Higgins, Gordon Gannum and Bill Warren, will also play off in a separate semi-final round of one game elimination competition, with the winners of the two divisions meeting in the final round for the club championship and the Hawley Crockett trophy.

Vessey and Doyle Win Tourney

The team of Roy Vessey and Ambrose Doyle captured the Island Open Doubles in Horseshoe pitching championship last evening at the Brighton Horseshoe Club when they defeated Jack McCourt and Earl Brown in the third game of the playoff finals by a score of 50-47, to make it a straight game victory after taking the first two games last Tuesday 50-47, 50-35.

Following the match, the two trophies donated by Hawley Crockett

Holy Redeemer Tennis Tourney Now Underway

Three matches in the men's singles competitions were run off yesterday in first round play of the Holy Redeemer Tennis Club annual tournament which got underway there earlier this week, under the sponsorship of the Ligonian Youth Club of Holy Redeemer Parish.

All three matches proved keenly contested encounters, and although the tourney is only in its early stages, some really smart tennis is expected to be witnessed before the finals have been reached.

In the first match Walter Duffy defeated Carl Proude 6-4, 6-2, while in the second match Melvin Martin took the measure of Joe Duncan 6-2, 6-1, with the final encounter being won by Lorne Henessey over Francis Villard 6-2, 6-1.

Officials of the Brighton Club announced last night that they will hold a meeting at the club house on Sunday night at eight o'clock to make arrangements for a club tournament, and all members and others interested are invited to attend.
