MAINE BOY KILLS HIS FATHER IN MISTAKE FOR DEER

MILO, Me., Dec. 4.—Leverett Dyer aged 41 years, was shot and killed by his 14-year-old son, Frank, while hunting on Sunday morning. They started out in the vicinity of Highland Quarry, a distance of two miles from Lake Umbagog, and after being in the woods a short time, the father told the boy to go in one direction and he would take another, but the father took a different course from the one he mentioned, and the boy unexpectedly seeing what he took to be a deer, fired the fatal shot. The bullet from his gun hit the father in the hip, passing through his body and coming out of the abdomen. They falling the boy he was badly hurt and that he had better get help, as they were then about one and one-half miles from settlement, the boy hastened to the home of Daniel Hughes and got assistance. They hurried to the scene and found Mr. Dyer in a very bad condition. He was taken to the home of Mr. Lathrop, and Dr. McFadyen, of Milo, was summoned, and later Dr. Ford, but there was no hope, he living only about six hours. He leaves his wife, two daughters and a son, besides parents and other relatives.

GOVERNMENT'S NAVY POLICY ANNOUNCED BY PREMIER BORDEN YESTERDAY

GREECE STILL STANDS OUT

(Canadian Press) LONDON, Dec. 5.—Greece is still standing out from armistice but it is explained both from Sofia and Athens that this separate action is undertaken to comply with the agreement and other allies in order to prevent Turkey from profiting from the armistice to improve the military position. An unconfirmed report from Athens says that the Greeks are continuing operations against Janina but elsewhere orders have been received to cease hostilities.

200 REBELS WERE CAPTURED

(Canadian Press) MEXICO, CITY, Dec. 5.—200 rebels have been captured in the town of San Juan Del Rio after defeating a force of 300 men. It is believed that general Orozco is again directing an organized campaign.

AMHERST HAS BIG FACTORY

AMHERST, Dec. 4.—The big main factory of the Nova Scotia Carriage and Motor Car company, limited, is now practically completed so far as the walls and roof are concerned, and attention is being concentrated on the heating and lighting and installation of shafting machinery. Over one and a half million bricks were used in this great building, which is 340 x 60 feet, and four stories in height. In addition the stairs and elevators are placed in towers outside the main walls and connected with the building by fireproof doors. In this way there is unbroken floor space from end to end. Part of the first floor is now being fitted up for automobile work, and it is expected to commence moving the motor car stock and machines from Kentville about the first of January.

STRANGE STATEMENT

LONDON, Dec. 5.—Premier Asquith last night in parliament, replying to a question whether a minister representing Ireland at Westminster under the Home Rule Bill will be in cabinet said, "I cannot bind succeeding governments but so far as I am concerned (I dare say I shall have nothing to do with it) I certainly think he ought to have a cabinet rank. The Unionist papers construe words in brackets as possible indicating the Premier's retirement, or that he thinks the Unionists will be in power when the Bill becomes law."

SOCIETY GIRLS QUEER NECKLACE

GREELEY, Colo., Dec. 4.—Two four-foot long snakes may be slightly more cumbersome and hideous to the multitude as a necklace than charnel-corn or lizard, but Miss Bessie Patterson, leader of the younger set won thirty pounds of candy by wearing the unusual necklace adorning on the street.

35,000,000 to Build Three Powerful Battleships—Ships to be at Disposal of King for Defence of Empire and May be Recalled if Desired to Establish Canadian Unit

(Special to the Guardian.) OTTAWA, Dec. 5.—Premier Borden, this afternoon in the presence of a crowded house announced the naval policy of the government. He read the statement of the British government as to what form temporary and immediate aid could best be given by Canada at this juncture. The answer from the British government was very definite and as follows: "It is desirable that such aid should include the provision of a certain number of the largest and strongest ships of war which science can build or money supply." Continuing Mr. Borden said: Upon inquiry as to the cost of each such battleship, we are informed by the Admiralty that it is approximately two million three hundred and fifty thousand pounds, including armament or first outfit of ordnance stores and ammunition. "The total cost of three such battleships when launched will be the most powerful in the world would be approximately thirty five million dollars and we ask the people of Canada, through the parliament, to grant that sum to His Majesty, in order to increase the effective naval forces of the Empire, to safeguard our shores, our seaborne commerce, and to make secure the common heritage of all who owe allegiance to the King. These ships will be at the disposal of His Majesty the King for the common defence of the Empire. They will be maintained and controlled as part of the Royal Navy and we have the assurance that, if at any time in the future, it should be the will of the Canadian people to establish a Canadian unit of the British navy these vessels can be recalled by the Canadian government to form part of that navy, in which case, of course, they would be maintained by Canada and not by Great Britain. In that event there would necessarily be reasonable notice and indeed Canada would not desire to suggest the sudden withdrawal of so powerful a contingent from any important theatre in which the naval forces of the Empire might be exposed to severe and sudden attack. In the meantime I am assured that special arrangements will be made to give Canadians an opportunity of serving as officers on these ships. As to Canadian participation in the councils of Imperial defence, Mr. Borden said that he had an assurance from the British government that a Canadian minister would be welcomed in London for six months each year, or permanently, such minister to be a permanent member of the Imperial defence council. The Premier stated that the ships would be built in Britain under Admiralty supervision as there are no adequate building facilities in Canada. If built here the additional cost would be twelve millions. He intimated that the ships would be given to the establishment of shipbuilding in Canada and that the Admiralty was willing to place orders here for small vessels at first. "Canada," he said, is sending these three ships to range themselves in the battle line of the Empire with those of the mother country, of Australia and New Zealand. They will be three of the most powerful battleships in the world and they will bear historic names associated with this country."

BUYING A HORSE IN NEW YORK

The annual November Horse sale conducted by the Fazio Tipton Co. is an event of great importance to horsemen throughout the world, because through it have passed most of the famous horses that have occupied a prominent place in the making of our history and also because it provides a ready market for surplus stock from the breeding establishments of the United States. Buyers attend from all parts of Europe, the United States and Canada, and the greatest interest is taken in the result of the sale and prices fetched, as it is a pretty true indication of the market value of the harness horse. Madison Square Garden, the scene of the big auction, is an immense building occupying half of a city block. In the basement is accommodation for the five hundred horses which are kept there in readiness to answer the auctioneer's call. A miniature track about one-eighth of a mile in circuit is made for the occasion; on this the horses are shown, speeded to cart or in front of a running pony. Almost all the "showing" is done by Al Thomas who has been on this job for over twenty-five years. He is known as the "Iron man" from the wonderful endurance he displays. In showing the horses he rides over a hundred miles a day; he doesn't take time even to sit down to eat, all his food being partaken of while on horseback. He smokes about fifty cigars a day, and does other stunts not approved by a physical culturist, but it does not seem to injure his marvellous constitution. It almost sets one dizzy to see him ride around the ring on his "broncho" picking some fast trotter or pacer. His voice and the good horse who can be heard from morning till night in an effort to prospective purchasers of the merits of the steeds. All the horses are auctioned off to the highest bidder and the sales are made quickly. Before one realizes it he is an owner and is hustled off to the cashier's desk to "pay up." Buying a horse there is a big lottery, some good horses are sold cheap, but a great many which are sold with bombastic eulogies never realize the expectations of the purchasers. Horses are got ready specially to "pass along" are "feed up" doctored and "fixed up" so as to deceive the most astute purchaser. As a rule the only after one has his purchase home to show that he can tell whether he has been "stung" or got a "bar- gain." The sale is attended by all the big men and all the famous drivers and owners of horses. It is the great meeting place where acquaintances are renewed and new ones formed. The writer had the pleasure of a long conversation with John Splan, the most famous horseman in America, a thorough gentleman, and enjoyed an hour's entertaining conversation with him. Mr. Splan was at the sale making purchases for customers in Austria where he has a large connection. Buying a horse is fun compared with the work of getting him in home if you are an Islander. "We set off gaily with our purchases to the train ignoring it would be an easy trip, but before we got through we had no such illusion. Making one's way through six miles of autos, street cars and other vehicles is a trying job leading to a merry horse. On the train to Boston is the next step. The landing is made seven miles from shipping pier and this long lead has to be made through the same obstacles as in New York. One of our horses got frightened away by it, but fortunately escaped injury. The trip down in the steamer Halifax from Boston to Halifax was calm and pleasant, and the horses did not mind it a particle. From there home the journey was by I. C. R., to Pictou, and by boat to Charlottetown." In the above no mention has been made of the hundreds of details necessary to complete with in getting a horse from the American side. They are such as to try the patience and endurance to the utmost. In conclusion I can recommend the trip as an educator as it certainly broadens one's horizon in regard to the horse world."

LONDON, Dec. 5.—A St. Petersburg despatch to The Daily Mail says the Czarevitch is still confined to his bed and a doctor is in continual attendance. An apparatus for the support of the boy's left thigh and leg is being made for the journey to Georgy on the Black Sea, where the doctors insist that he must go. It is uncertain as yet whether the young Crown Prince will ever recover the use of the leg. The Czarevitch is attached to Dr. Derevenka, one of his physicians. This name happens to be also that of his sailor bodyguard, of whom he is very fond. The Czar and Czarina did not believe the illness of the boy was a grave one for some time and were not convinced until Dr. Fedoroff, a specialist saw the young Prince at the castle at Spala. TURKISH FLEET IN DARDANELLES

Ordered to Engage the Greek Fleet But Naval Battle is Doubtful

(Canadian Press) CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 5.—The Turkish fleet is concentrating in the Dardanelles. The Government has decided to order it to engage the Greek fleet but there is much skepticism regarding the probability of a navy battle.

CAMERON WINS RACE

AMHERST, Dec. 4.—Freddie Cameron, the little Amherst distance crack, has turned the trick. He showed the way to Hans Holmer of Halifax, in the first match race in their careers here to-night, in the very commendable time, considering conditions, of 55 minutes, 59 seconds. It was a grueling contest from flag fall to finish and the very large crowd of spectators who attended in the enclosure were well paid for their time and trouble. These two kinglys of The Herald and The Mail's road race fame, have made names for themselves that have been heralded to the four corners of the race world, and the interest centering in this event was sufficient to bring crowds of people to town who certainly would not have attended had the attraction been the winter fair alone. As before stated this was their first meeting in a match race, they have many times before come together with other contestants, but never before in a two-man duel.

ACCIDENT CAUSED DEATH YESTERDAY

Sad indeed are the circumstances surrounding the death yesterday of Miss Bridget Callaghan. The deceased, who was employed at the Revere hotel, Charlottetown, when engaged in playful sport with Jerry Gallant on Wednesday afternoon dared him to open the cellar hatch after he had gone down for some coal. She stood partly on the hatch and partly on the hatch support and when he responded to the dare and raised the hatch Miss Callaghan slipped and fell. The sharp edge of the hatch catching her in the pit of the stomach. A doctor was at once called and she was removed to the Charlottetown hospital, where she gradually sank until the end came yesterday at noon. Death was due to internal laceration of the stomach and liver. She leaves to mourn the loss of a loving sister the following brothers and sisters: Jack, who arrived home from the Canadian west Saturday night last, and is at present at St. Theresa, Minnie, Margaret, Lena, Annie, Charlottetown; Lucy, of Summersville, P. E. I., Joseph, of Montague, and Theresa at St. Theresa, to all of whom the Guardian extends sincere sympathy. The funeral will take place this afternoon to Vernon River by the 3.10 train. I will appear for her. She is a good woman, Dr. Phelan told the court. His appearance and statement that he would be the defendant's counsel caused much discussion throughout the four Courts Building. I shall be very glad to have Fr. Phelan appear in the case, said Judge Taylor, before whom it will be heard. He is eminent as an attorney, and I would be glad to have him appear, if only as a friend of the court.
