The young couple who were unattended took their places beneath a beautiful arch of snow balls and spring flowers, to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. D. F. Hoddinott. The bride made a charming picture in her wedding dress of white satin with bridal veil held in place with a wreath of white carnations, and carrying a bouquet of pink and crimson roses and maiden hair fern, tied with crimson ribbon. The chief witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Reeves, sister and brother-in-law of the bride. A few days previous to her marriage the bride's home was filled to overflowing when upwards of two hundred of her friends relatives, and acquaintances gathered there, to shower her with good wishes and many beautiful and costly presents. On this occasion the bride accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Florence Reeves, was ushered to her seat of honor beneath a prettily decorated arch, by little Jean Reeves, and Waldron Heffel, a charming little bride and groom and their attendants little Merna Heffel, and Dallas Reeves. Following brief remarks by the chairman, Mr. D. O. Stewart the Principal, Miss Georgie L. MacLean, gave a report of the year's work. She gave a brief history of the work of the Institution since its foundation in 1932 in which she recalled the pace set by former students naming several who have already distinguished themselves. She reviewed the academic, athletic and social activities carried on during the year. His Worship Mayor Campbell in his remarks complimented both Staff and Students on their fine showing.

In his address to the Graduates, Rev. William Verwolf reminded them that this was but their High School Graduation and should be to them but one of several Graduations marking various steps in the acquisition of knowledge. He stressed the necessity of Perservance on their part in order to attain their goal. Once they have decided on a vocation, nothing should deter them from the path they have chosen. He exhorted them to sow Christian Ideals in their souls, for those only who have these Ideals in their souls can put christianity in our Civilization.

Mr. Chairman, members of the School Board members of the Faculty, Fellow Students, Ladies and Gentleman:

On this important occasion for the Summerside Academy we are initiating our annual convocation Day. Although the world is in the throes of a terrific conflict which makes itself forcibly and tragically felt on this side of the Atlantic, yet we must, at all costs, maintain our educational ideals and uphold the banner of democracy. For this past year the regular student activities have been carried out, and we hope that we have maintained a high standard of academic achievement in our studies, despite the many distracting influences of a country at war.

Our plans for the future are imbued, first of all, with a call to duty in defence of Canada and the Motherland. To those of our fellow students who will answer that call, and also to our former students who are now in the various fighting forces we express our undying admiration for their courage and self sacrifice.

In professional and vocational fields we have followed with interest the success of former students and point with pride to their accomplishments. In our turn it is our ambition to do honor to the Summerside Academy and to reflect credit on our conscientious staff of teachers who have endeavored to mould our characters for worthy citizenship in Canada.

In the athletic field we have proved ourselves worthy opponents of our traditional rivals and succeeded in winning laurels in the Hockey Series with West Kent High School. But the true success of this extra-curricular activity we attained by extending its influence to include pupils of many grades who were encouraged to participate in Hockey, Sports Day Competitions, and indoors Badminton. Our grateful appreciation is extended to Mr. Lidstone, our director for his keen interest and able coaching of our athletic activities. Under his supervision also our cadet corps was able to demonstrate marked efficiency at the annual inspection. For the coming year the Academy expects to see the cadets parade in uniform and train with rifles issued by the Department of Defence. This added incentive to smart appearance as well as to smart performance should build up a strong "esprit de corps".

Our social services have been well maintained. The students enjoy keenly the various church and club activities, such as entertainments, play production in which they are invited to participate. Academy sponsored student dances are a source of enjoyment to many and also of value in a practical way as they furnish an opportunity for the budding interior decorator to develop his talents. This year has brought to light a genuis in artistic display, Douglas Downing. The well-harmonized patiotic decoration scheme for the convocation closing is largely due to his planning.

The students acquire some practical training, also, in the economic field as they themselves raise the necessary funds to finance the athletic and social activities. Thus we learn by experience how to budget our income under the watchful eye of Professor Spindle that we may secure the greatest value for the lowest prices and emerge triumphant to pass on to our successors a substantial surplus each year. During the last two years it has been a source of pleasure and pride to us that we have been in a position to make worthy contributions to war services. This year that special contribution was in the form of a fifty dollar donation to the Queen's Canadian Fund. In addition our class members have purchased a substantial amount in War Savings Certificates. How extremely fortunate are we to live in comparative safety far removed from the active war zone! What a catastrophe that a highly trained intelligent nation should destroy the historic symbols of our past, the magnificent mouments of present day human skill, and, worst crime of all, should annihilate nations with inhuman cruelty. Let us fervently pray that such talent as ours youthful generation may possess will be devoted to make such senseless greed and destruction impossible; rather to make this world a better place for all nations to enjoy higher standards of living.

The time has arrived when we must depart from Summerside Academy to follow our individual paths in life's great adventures. Before embarking on our careers we wish to bid a fond farewell to all those things we have held so dear in our Academy sojourn.

First to our Principal, Miss MacLean, to Professor Spindle, and to Professor Pineau, members of the faculty, we express our hearty appreciation for their kindly interest in our welfare and hope they will excuse any shortcomings in our behaviour. Their advice and inspiration inside the classroom and without has been of great material benefit to us. We hope, therefore, that our future lives will fully justify their faith in us. As we say good-bye our earnest prayer is that they will still continue their close contact with and strong interest in us as we take up our stations in life.

To the citizens of Summerside and the vicinity and especially to the Board of School Trustees we owe a debt of gratitude for establishing an efficient Academy in the town. Many of our number through lack of finances would never have been able to secure an Academy Graduation Certificate without its establishment in 1932.

Throughout the years of our existence as an Educational Institution of a high order we have experienced delightful cooperation and unstinted aid in our educational and social projects from these bodies.

Now we come to the most difficult task of all. Alas we must bid farewell to our intimate associates of the Graduating class and the other Academy Students. As we look back in after years no greater pleasure will be ours than to recall the enduring fellowships with students of Summerside Academy.

Annual Meeting Of P. E. I. Presbyterial

The annual meeting of the Prince Edward Island Presbyterial of the Women's Missionary Societies of the Presbyterian Church in Canada was held in the Presbyterian Church in Kensington. The president, Mrs. Mary McLean, was in the chair.

The worship period was conducted by members of the Kensington and Freetown societies. Mrs. John Thompson, Mrs. Andrew Jardine and Mrs. Hiltz.

In the absence of Dr. Rhoad, the greetings of the Kensington congregation were brought by Rev. H. B. Buntain.

A brief memorial service was held in memory of departed members.

The nominating committee was called as follows: Mrs. W. A. Stewart, Charlottetown; Mrs. Brewer Linkletter, Summerside; Mrs. L. H. D. Foster, Marshfield; Mrs. Andrew Jardine, Freetown; Mrs. Creaser, Tyne Valley. Miss Wilma Toombs, and Miss Wilna Delaney of Kensington were appointed as credential committee. Mrs. William Verwolfe of Summerside and Mrs. G. C. Webster of Charlottetown were appointed a committee for resolutions and courtesies.

The reports were as follows: The Corresponding Secretary, Mrs C. J. MacLure; Literature Secretary, Mrs. J. F. Lafferty; Home Mission Secretary, Mrs. A. M. Green; Historical Secretary, Mrs. E. G. Saunders; Home Helpers' Secretary, Mrs. Wm. H. Ellis; Vice Presidents, Miss Katie MacEachern, Mrs. William Verwolfe, and Mrs. A. O. Thompson; and the Treasurer, Mrs. James Jardine.

Brief addresses on their work were given by Miss Margaret Webster, Secretary for Girls' Work for the Presbyterian Church in Canada, and by Miss Isabel MacDonald, graduate deaconess, who is at present working in connection with the P. E. I. Presbytery.

Afternoon Session

Mrs. G. C. Webster, conducting the worship period, read portions of St. Paul's epistle to the Corinthians and led in prayer.

The first part of the afternoon session was devoted to young people's and mission band work. The report of girls' organizations was brought by the Secretary, Mrs. George P. MacLeod and that of Mission Bands by the Secretary, Miss Margaret MacDougall. The Kensington Mission Band presented a pageant and gave two musical numbers.

Greetings were brought by Mrs Hammond Toombs of the Women's Missionary Society of the Kensington United Church and by Mrs. Lloyd Howard of St. Mark's Anglican Church. Mrs. G. C. Webster replied to the greetings. In the absence of the Moderator, Rev. G. C. Webster brought the greetings of the P. E. I. Presbytery

Dr. A. O. Thompson brought "gleanings from the General Assembly." He told of the Home Mission work in the Peace River country, where Miss Todd, deaconess in charge is doing a splendid work; of the work among the Chimese on the Pacific Coast and in Toronto and Montreal; and of the work among French Canadians who have left their own church. He closed with Christ's command "Go" and His promise "Lo! I am with you always."

Rev. John Murchison, Maritime Secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, spoke of the work of that society. In the last year nearly eight million copies of the Bible in seven hundred and forty-seven languages have been sent out. Since the beginning of its work 550,000,000 copies have been sent to all parts of the world. He stressed the need for the Bible in all lands both Christian and heathen.

Dr. L. L. Young, returned missionary from Japan told of his work among the Koreans for twenty-one years in Korea and aftewards fifteen years among the Koreans in Japan. The Korean Christian, he said, always carried his New Testament and hymn book, and has the word of God written in his heart and stamped in his memory. The Christian church among the Koreans has started on a very small scale and has grown to a goodly number of self-supporting congregations. He has been frequently asked: Will the Christian church in Korea continue to exist now that the missionaries are gone? His answer is: "Yes! It has been twice born is on its own feet, self-governing, forming new congregations and sending the word of God to its own people." He appeals to all to pray that they may be strong in the Lord regardless of the cost.

The report of the nominating committee was read by Mrs. W. A. Stewart and the officers elected as follows:—

President, Mrs. Mary MacLean, re-elected, Charlottetown.

1st Vice-President, Miss K. MacEachern, Eldon.

Rev. William Verwolfe offered the prayer for the dedication of officers.

Rev. G. C. Webster spoke of the deaconess, Miss Isabel MacDonald, who has begun work for the P. E. I. Presbytery and asked that auxiliaries wishing her services communicate with him or the Home Mission Secretary, Mrs. A. M. Green of New London.

The meeting closed with singing and the Benediction by Dr. L. L. Young.

Mrs. William Verwolf read the report of the committee for resolutions and courtesies and moved its adoption.

Evening Session

The evening session opened with the singing of the Doxology while Rev. H.B. Buntain led the devotional period. Music was rendered by members of Kensington choir. Rev. Mr. Creamer of Tyne Valley led in prayer.

Mrs. MacLean, the president took charge of the business session. Minutes of the afternoon session were read and adopted. A beautiful anthem "I Will Lift Mine Eyes Unto the Hills" was given by the Kensington choir, assisted by several members of the Summerside Choir.

The credentials report was given by Miss Wilna Delaney of Kensington.

Mrs. Ellis of Tyne Valley then gave a most interesting report of the Tyne Valley Auxiliary. She stated that their auxiliary was this year celebrating its 50th anniversary. They were thankful to say she continued, that four of the charter members were still active in the society.

The place of the meeting next year was left open after a suggestion by Mrs. Webster following some discussion.

Mrs. MacLean then introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. Luther Young, D.D., returned missionary from Korea.

His address centered around the text "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel."

He earnestly stated that it was time "we stopped, looked and listened" when the enemy of "our spiritual lives is closing in on all sides." He referred to the splendid life of Martin Luther and expressed his belief that despite religious persecution in Germany the faith of Luther still lived in many hearts.

The evolution theory was responsible for much of the chaos in the world today, the speaker said. He was glad to say the ministers of today are getting back to evangelical preaching.

He looked forward to the day, Dr. Young said, when the last rays of evolution will have disappeared.

He mentioned the pagan belief of the Japanese Empire and strongly condemned the doctrine which the German schools of theology have spread over the world.

His advice was not to look too far ahead. God will "guide us step by step as He sees fit," the speaker declared.

Dr. Young put forth a strong plea for support for foreign missions and for work with young people at home.

He concluded his splendid address by quoting John Wesley's last words "God is with us."

At the conclusion of Dr. Young's address Mrs. William Verwolfe brought in the report of courtesies and resolutions was adopted on motion. Rev. Mr. Buntain thanked the presbyterial.

The singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers" was followed by benediction by Mr. Buntain.

The meeting closed with The King.

Resolutions

The committee on resolutions and courtesies in its report "thanked our Heavenly Father for all spiritual and material blessings and for His guidance throughout the past year" and prayed for "His continued blessing and favor. . . during the coming year."

Another resolution pledged sincere loyalty to King and country.

Resolutions also urged members to pray for missionary work and for the triumph of "our armed forces."

The deep sympathy of the organization was extended to members who lost loved ones during the year.

The organization also decided to "take a strong stand against intemperance in all its forms", while another resolution urged members to re-consecrate themselves to the service of the King of Kings.

The thanks of the meeting were extended to those who assisted in making the meeting a success.

URGE NEW

J. Tweedy and W. L. Higgins, the following resolution was unanimously passed.

"Whereas, the sinking of the S. S. Charlottetown has created a serious situation in the transportation service between this province and the mainland;

"And whereas, in winter this province will be dependent on one aged steamer to handle all traffic, including railway cars, and in case of accident to her a very disastrous situation would develop;

"And whereas ships which previously carried freight to and from this province are not now available, the tonnage to be moved via Borden-Tormentine will be greatly increased;

"Therefore be it resolved, that the Charlottetown Board of Trade urge our Federal and Provincial Government to use every effort to provide a suitable new steamer for the Borden-Tormentine route at the earliest possible date;

"Be it further resolved, that until such new steamer be provided one or more of the most powerful cargo-carrying ice breakers available be kept in readiness during the winter months to augment the service if required;

"And be it further resolved, that copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Prime Minister, the Leader of the Opposition, and the Minister of Transport in the Federal Government, the Premier and the Minister of Public Works and Highways in the Provincial Government, the Federal Members and Senators for Prince Edward Island and the President and Vice-Presidents of the Canadian National Railways."

It was moved by Lt.-Col. G. E. Full and seconded by Mr. E. T Higgs.

HANSON URGES

a proposed conference of Empire leaders, and review the position of the Government with respect to the National Resources and the Mobilization Act.

Mr. Hanson said his month's tour of Western Canada and the Yukon is for the purpose of finding out what the pepole are thinking on issues of the day, including conscription and the wheat problem.

"Public opinion is crystalizing in favor of conscription," he said, and a failure of the voluntary recruiting plan or some tragic happening in Great Britain would bring the realization that there must be an all-out war effort.

"If necessity and safety of the nation demand it, the Government will have to bring in conscription," he said. "It is the government's responsibility and it should assume it." Mr. Hanson said he did not think the issue would be decided either by a general election or by referendum.

Mr. Hanson was accompanied by A. C. Casselman, member of Parliament for Grenville-Dundas and chief party whip, J. L. O'Brien, member of Parliament for Northumberland; A. M. Gibson of Fredericton, N. B., and his secretary, Richard Bell. P. C. Black, member of Parliament for Cumberland may join the party at Vancouver.

Mr. Hanson conferred with executives of the Manitoba Wheat Pool and Winnipeg Grain Exchange but declined to comment on the discussions.

Interpreting The War

cut to less than a third of its former 3,000 miles span from the Canadian east coast to ports in England. British naval and air forces affording protection to convoys bound for Britain can be very largely concentrated eastward of the southern tip of Iceland. That would mean a potential tripling of the effectiveness of every British battleship, cruiser, destroyer or corvette assigned to North Atlantic convoy duty.

And presumably it does mean substantially that, if United States naval patrols are to "insure safety of communications in the approaches between Iceland and the United States" as the President has directed. He has informed Congress—and the world—that as Commander-in-Chief he has ordered the navy to take all necessary steps to that end.

It is a blunt warning of what Nazi U-boats, surface raiders or aircraft may expect if sighted by American sea patrols west of Iceland. It also implies that the turn-around of British sea escorts for shipping convoys can be made far at sea.

Based in Iceland, American sea and air patrols also would be more effective for the same reason. They would not have to return to bases in the United States for refuelling. The present American patrol forces operating in the crucial area of which Iceland is the strategic key would be tripled in effectiveness and scope of action without adding a ship or plane to the force.

Thus American use of the Iceland defensive base may go far to help Britain through to winter and beyond. It could insure her American planes and other war weapons next year on a scale to guarantee her ultimate victory over her Axis foes.

NO WAR FOR HIM

ing up a sharp attack on Southampton Monday night. However, an announcement said the daylight raid was limited to two planes which approached the Isle of Wight (near the Portsmouth naval base). One of the planes was destroyed by R.A.F. fighters and the other damaged.

The night attack on Southampton did considerable damage and killed and wounded a number of persons. The Germans not only showered down high explosive and incendiaries, but used dive-bombing tactics still comparatively rare in the battle of Britain. One hit was made on a public air-raid shelter, with undisclosed results. British night fighters, operating in bright moonlight, destroyed four attackers.

A bomber force officially described as in "large numbers" raided numerous west German targets overnight, a communique announced, and subsequent pilots' reports said bright trails of flame were left in five industrial cities.

The main objectives were Cologne, Osnabruck, Frankfurt, Munchen-Gladbach and Munster.

Warehouses were seen to collapse and the main railroad station was hit at Munster; railway tracks were ripped up and locomotive sheds and freight cars fired at Osmabruck, the air ministry related. The fires started on both banks of the river at Cologne were described at innumerable, and the raiders left a pall of smoke over the city, the official account said.

The air ministry's news service said the fires started in the five cities were so great they were visible for many miles and were not dimmed by the light of the near full moon.

RUSSIANS LAUNCH

Russian forces battled especially fiercely, stubbornly repulsing a large German offensive by tank units, the Soviet statement said.

Fierce fighting continued on into Wednesday in the area about Polotsk near the Latvia border, with the Germans trying to entrench themselves on the northern banks of the Dvinu River which flows into the Baltic and forms a main Russian defence barrier.

This attack was centred at Borkovichi, which lies 20 miles northwest of Polotsk.

Vessels of the Russian northern fleet, with air force co-operation, "made a successful landing for cooperation with the red army," the communique said, without stating where the landing was made.

Mention was made, however, of fighting in the district of Hanko, Soviet-leased naval base on a Finnish peninsula guarding the northern entrance to the Gulf of Finland. Here two companies which were trying to attack Russian units "were annihilated by mortar and artillery fire," the communique said.

Fighting also was reported in the Murmansk region, in the Soviet Arctic near the Finnish frontier, and on the central and southern Finnish borders.

The red air force was reported active throughout Tuesday, successfully attacking enemy aircraft in airdromes and striking at enemy tanks and motorized units. The day's plane score was reported as 56 German planes destroyed to four Russian.

SEES ENEMY AIR

The stand made by the British flying men had marked a turning point in the war's progress "but the time has not yet arrived when we can be confident there will be no air attacks upon this continent," Mr. King said.

He spoke of the action taken by the United States in extending its patrols far out over the Atlantic and its occupation of Iceland as indicative of the belief of that country that attempted attacks upon this continent might be expected.

Because of the Commonwealth Air Training Plan Canada now "has a place in the world which she never held before in all her history," said Mr. King.

The Prime Minister arrived here this morning from Prince Albert, Sask., and opened a full day's program with an hour's inspection of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police headquarters.

There, under guidance of Superintendent T. V. Sandyswunsch and assistant commissioner C. D. Lenauze, Mr. King was taken through the crime laboratory, the museum which contains many interesting exhibits of Western crimes, and the swimming pool where all recruits are taught proficiency in swimming and life-saving.

Next stopping place was no. 4 training command where the Prime Minister, after inspecting the guard of honor, delivered a brief address. He was conducted by Air Commodore A. T. Cowley, officer commanding.

He then closely inspected the class rooms, located in Regina College and Normal School, and met many distinguished flying men including Flt. Lt. F. R. McCall, D. F. C., second ranking Canadian ace now in the Dominion.

The Prime Minister showed great endurance as he walked about under a blazing sun and climbed numerous flights of stairs.

From the training depot he went to the airport to inspect No. 15 Elementary Flying School and No. 3 Air Observer School. He lunched with air force officers in their mess.

The Prime Minister spent the afternoon with the military forces at the Regina training centre.

Mr. King left his car this morning, after receiving Lieut. Governor Archibald McNab, Premier W. J. Patterson and others, in his private car. He was welcomed on the station platform by Brigadier W. W. Foster, district officer commanding M. D. 12, who accompanied him throughout the Regina tour
