BRITONS ESCHEW BY SYDNEY GRUSON

Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 19 -(CP)- Britons are buying more books than ever before and from the comment of booksellers and publishers, they don't care much what the books are about as long as they provide some escape from the war.

The boom has been on for some time. But there's no sign of it diminishing and the supply can't keep anywhere abreast of the demand. James Agate, London publisher, cites an example typical of what's happening throughout the industry.

"I published a book on a recent Monday," Agate said. "There were three reasons why it shouldn't sell. It was a book of reprinted articles. The articles consisted of dramatic criticism. And the drama criticized was Shakespeare.

"Yet in two days the book sold bigger than any previous book of mine.

"Has the public taken to caring more about Shakespeare, the theatre or me? No! Has the taste for reading increased? No. To what is the increase due? Simply the inability of people to get about. And that twiddling a book between the thumbs is less boring than just twiddling them."

Apart From War . . . . . .

One publisher advancing the theory that people are looking for escapism, said that probably explained a recent falling off in the sales of Tolstoy's "War and Peace." But other Russian novelists are selling as fast as the books can be printed. Escapism, too, accounts for the comparatively slow market for political pamphlets and political books.

The publishers have been cut to 37 1-2 per cent of their peacetime paper supply, but by conforming to the wartime economy book standard which results in narrower margins and little waste of paper anywhere in the book, they've managed to keep up their output.

Their output, however, doesn't meet the demand so the boom market has spread to second-hand books and their price has risen with the demand.

Books we would have thrown away four years ago now fetch two shillings each, said one dealer.

The classics of Dickens and Trollope are among best sellers.

"Trollope, especially," said a dealer, "is very soothing to minds troubled by the war."

De Marigny On Trial For Murder

By E. V. W. JONES
Associated Press Staff Writer

NASSAU, Bahamas, Oct. 18—(AP)—The Crown asked justice today for Alfred De Marigny, charging the dapper yachtsman with beating to death his father-in-law, Sir Harry Oakes, because he feared he would lose his chance for a share in the baronet's large fortune.

The setting was the Bahamas Supreme Court chamber, where the calm defendant sat in a cage-like prisoner's box and peered through the bars at robed and bewigged court officials and lawyers and the 12 white jurors who will decide whether he must die for murder.

Selection and swearing of the jury took less than an hour, then A.F. Adderley, special prosecutor and a negro, rose to tell the Crown's reasons for accusing De Marigny of entering Sir Harry's sumptuous estate, Westbourne, last July and savagely bludgeoning the 68-year-old millionaire before leaving him to die in a blazing bed.

The 105 persons who could find seats in the small room leaned forward to hear every word, while De Marigny sat unsmiling on a wooden bench, arms folded across his chest.

His 19-year-old wife, Nancy, Sir Harry's eldest daughter, was not present to flash an encouraging smile, as she had done throughout a lengthy preliminary hearing. She will take the stand later to testify in his defence, and thus cannot enter the courtroom

Mess Room Chatter

BY ALAN RANDAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WITH THE R.C.A.F. SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Oct. 19 -(CP)- Promotions come fast in Flighter Command, particularly in Canada's Wolf Squadron where 5Commanders have followed each other in amazing rapidity since last spring.

During the spring Chuck Magwood D.F.C., of Toronto was the Wolf's squadron leader. He completed his tour of operations and Flt. Lt. Hugh Godefroy, D.F.C., of Toronto, one of his flight leaders, soon moved up to lead the squadron. Godefroy's tour was completed soon after his promotion and for a time Dean Dover of Toronto who in the spring was a flying officer was leading the squadron as a flight lieutenant. Then Norman Fowlow of Windsor, N.S., a flying officer as recently as last July 10 took over squadron leadership with the rank of squadron leader.

On its first sweep into France under Fowlow's leadership the squadron bagged two German planes. They were shot down in flames by FO. Harry Dowding of Sarnia, Ont., and Flt. H.J. Southwood of Calgary.

Fowlow, whose squadron is at one of the better known flighter bases in the south of England, came overseas in May, 1941, about the same time as his father, Capt. R. Fowlow, a Church of England padre now stationed in Halifax.

The 22-year-old squadron leader was married this year to a Canadian nurse he met in England, the former Elsie Olgivie of Parrsboro, N.S., now a lieutenant nursing sister in No. 7 Canadian General Hospital in Britain.

He has four planes shot down to his credit, and one damaged. Once, while flying over Malta, he was shot down himself and was rescued from the sea where he floated in his dinghy.

Wing Cmdr. W.V. Crawford-Cotton, 26-year-old former R.A.F. mechanic from New Zealand who now leads one of Fight Commands top squadrons, has been awarded the D.S.O. The winco has destroyed 14 1-2 enemy planes.

Air Chief Marshall Lord Dowding who was commander in chief of Fighter Command during the Battle of Britain told veterans of that battle who attended an anniversary luncheon that "I always feel uncomfortable when I hear nice things said about me and the Battle of Britain for two reasons. I know that the people who won the battle were not sitting in headquarters operations rooms. They were at the stations...They fought and saved the country."

Discuss Plans For Statistics

OTTAWA, Oct. 18—(CP)—Improved methods of preparing and publishing provincial financial statistics on a comparable basis, in collaboration with the Dominion, were reviewed today at a Dominion-Provincial conference on provincial financial statistics.

Welcoming delegates from the various provinces, including Hon. Solon Low, provincial treasurer of Alberta, Trade Minister MacKinnon said financial statistics were of "extreme importance" as a source of information to all governments in connection with war and post-war policy.

S.A. Cudmore, Dominion statistician who was named chairman, said a scheme of uniform municipal statistics for the 4,000 municipalities throughout Canada had been approved and is in process of being implemented in the provinces. The work probably would not be completed before the end of the war.

First business of the meeting concerned the ending of the fiscal year of the various provinces. Variations have led to complications in reporting. The Prince Edward Island fiscal year ends Dec. 31, Nova Scotia Nov. 30, New Brunswick Oct. 31, Quebec, Ontario, Alberta, and British Columbia March 31, and Manitoba and Saskatchewan April 30.

J. H. Lowther assistant chief of the finance statistics branch of the bureau, said the main advantage in fiscal years ending on the same date would be in obtaining government expenditures covering a uniform period. This would assist comparability, he said

The report of the summer camp held in Brudenell was given by Mack Beck.

The newly eleced President, Keith Callbeck conducted the mizpah service. The singing of "God be with you till we meet again" and the benediction by Mr. Bilson brought the conference to a close.

Probe Padded Voters List In Quebec Riding

MONTREAL, Oct. 18 — (CP) — Photographs of an 18 months old boy and of a horse and stable were entered into the records as exhibits today as commissioner R. Forsyth continued his investigation of the voters lists in Montreal Cartier Riding in a federal by - election in the riding last August.

The 18 month old baby was entered on the voting list as a "spinster" of voting age, the commissioner was told. The horse was a voter, but its stable was down on the list as the home of three electors, acording to evidence given.

Lazarus Bavitch, returning officer for the riding, was among a dozen witnesses who testified during the morning session. He said that the electoral list in Cartier had compared well with those of previous years and that it had not been obvious that there were too many names entered on the lists.

Mr. Bavitch said that unusual proceeding in the riding had been to have candidates of the preceding election nominate the enumerators but that could not be done in August because Peter Bercovitch, the former Liberal member, had died and his opponent in the last election could not be located. Mr. Bavitch said that he had chosen the enumerators himself.

Questioned what he thought about a number of fictitious names on the list, he said it was possibly the "ineptitude on the part of some of the enumerators." He said he would like to explain that it was difficult to obtain competent enumerators in Cartier Riding, and the task had been more difficult by wartime demands for workers.

It was possible, he added, that the fact that enumerators were paid seven cents for each name they placed on the list was a factor in the adding of names.

U. S. Senators Views On Post-War Policy

WASHINGTON Oct. 18—(AP)—Fifty United States Senators—one more than a majority—find the Connally resolution on post-war foreign policy substantially acceptable to them and would support it on a showdown vote, an Associated Press poll disclosed today.

With a large bloc of senators declining to commit themselves because they want to write more specific language into the proposal, a canvas showed that only six of the 56 members willing to express their views are unalterably opposed to the Connally measure in its present form.

These six include Senators Burton K. Wheeler (Dem.-Mont.), Ellison Smith (Dem.-S.C.), Robert Reynolds (Dem.-N.C.), Raymond Willis (Rep.-Ind.), Hiram Johnson (Rep.-Calif.) and R. M. Lafollette (Prog.-Wis.)

Approved by a subcommittee, the resolution will be submitted to the full foreign relations committee tomorrow in this form:—

"Resolved by the Senate of the United States:—

"That the war against all our enemies be waged until complete victory is achieved;

"That the United States co-operate with its comrades-in-arms in securing a just and honorable peace;

"That the United States, acting through its constitutional processes, join with free and sovereign nations in the establishment and maintenance of international authority with power to prevent aggression and to preserve the peace of the world."

Almost every shade of viewpoint was represented among the 31 democrats and 19 republicans who found themselves in substantial agreement on the proposal.

URGES SERVICEMEN

OTTAWA, Oct 18—(CP)—Every victory bond bought by a Canadian soldier will not only help to "speed the victory" but will be a factor in saving the lives of his comrades on the war fronts, Lt.-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, chief of general staff, told an army Victory Loan rally here today. He urged men and women of the army to wear the loan insignia as a "badge of honor."
