LAKE VERDE DEBATING SOCIETY—The first debate of this society was held Wednesday evening Jan. 23rd. There was a very large attendance the school being filled to its capacity. The subject for discussion was, "Resolved that the United States is a better country to live in than Canada." Mr. Albert Dunphy occupied the chair, fulfilling the duties of that office in a very capable manner. Jas. Wood opened the discussion bringing in some very strong points in favor of the United States. Owen Callaghan took up the defence. The subject was well discussed and lively arguments were brought in on both sides by the following speakers, Messrs. William Coady, Daniel J. Hughes, John Boylan, Joseph Smith, Joseph D. Hughes, Mark Brazil, Aneas Curran, and Henry Weatherbie. The decision was given by the chairman in favor of the United States. It was decided to hold the debate on Tuesday evening of each week hereafter.

P. W. C. DEBATE.—One of the most interesting debates of the term was held on Tuesday, Jan. 29, on the subject "Resolved that the fear of punishment has more influence on human conduct than the hope of Reward." The pro side under the leadership of Mr. Andrew Leslie divided the topic into two parts viz, punishment in regard to the average citizen and punishment in regard to criminals. Mr. Leslie contended that it was the fear of punishment in the olden time that kept the human race in subjection. There was no material reward from law or order, but there was martial punishment for the violation of law. Children brought up by the fear of punishment make better prepared persons for place in the world than do the children pampered with reward. Miss Gertrude Vaughan in upholding the resolution stated that fear of nature leads to a more moral regard for living. Fear of punishment has a wonderful effect on scholars. Mr. Elmer MacPherson in a very persuasive manner gave his support to the resolution. To prove his statements he quoted many biblical references. Martyrs endured punishment to receive a reward. Fear of punishment influences the child so that it has the same effect when he grows up. Miss Vivian Woodside advanced many strong points in favor of the resolution. The Con side, under their capable leader, Mr. Wm. Darby stated that college professors and teachers, teach for the hope of reward, not for the fear of punishment. The reward of scholarships influences conduct; a statesman's influential motive is the hope or reward not the fear of punishment. He also had the Bible at his command to prove many of his statements. Miss Jean MacLaren advanced many arguments for her side, chiefly from history. When prison reforms were introduced, conduct was somewhat changed because the people knew they were being treated better and they tried to live accordingly. Miss MacDonald stated that the Apostles' fear of punishment did not hinder them from going on with their good work. Professional men work hard with the idea that they will be rewarded in the end. After a spirited rebuttal the vote was taken and resulted in a victory for the "Con" side. The Critic, Mr. Leigh Crozier, gave excellent praise to the speakers for the interest they had taken and the preparation they had made in order that the debate would be a success. The Honorary President briefly reviewed the debate. Self-preservation and acquisition are the foundation of human beings, one is the complement of the other.

which costs the people of Prince Edward Island half a million a year. Something has got to be done! We have to pay this half million yearly in cash. We can't trade it out in oats, or potatoes, butter or cheese as we might at a store. Cash is the word at Ottawa! And we must go on paying that half million yearly till something is done at Ottawa.

Things must be pretty bad when even Liberal newspapers feel compelled to speak of this rampant extravagance while a Liberal Government is in power. They are wise in their generation, these Liberal editors. They see very clearly that if something is not done and promptly done by the Government and Parliament at Ottawa in the way of real economy the King Government's doom is sealed. In hard times like these and with taxes far beyond what they ever were before the people will not submit to a Fifty Million Civil Service and Four Thousand Dollar Members of Parliament. Not the rankest partisan dares to publicly defend that sort of think. Something must be done to end it.

The demand for restrenchment is the voice of the country. It is proclaimed from the housetops in every Province of Canada. It has been formulated in resolutions adopted by political conventions, by municipal councils, by boards of trade. It has formed the subject for hundreds of articles in the public journals of the day throughout Canada and the United States. The vital question is, will the Government and Parliament of Canada give heed to the demand and provide a prompt and effectual remedy?

The Public Forum

trusts and historic continuity at the command of political majorities.

Where spiritual issues are involved majorities do not coun. And we dare any political party to interfere with the religious liberty of Canadian citizens. The Presbyterian Church is going to continue in Canada; and I question now if those opposed to this form of union are in the minority. The way to ascertain if they are is clear, even counting union charges as for "union". How but by a vote of the people can the so-called "majority" know who the "minority" with whom they are to confer really are? In any case, sacrifices imposed upon us will only make us stand together the more firmly, and are calculated to develop, as always, deeper spirituality of life. From the idea of the "big machine" we turn away to the idea of personal devotion. Not the unwieldiness of an organization but the untedness of a church is our aim. Not a commercial merger of organisations is our ideal of Christian unity, but the growth of that spirit which, loyal to the faith, and charitable to all churches, seeks to keep the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace.

I am Sir, etc.,

The above and a great many more from the provinces took part in the Grand March at Midnight, which made a spectacular showing, as they marched in columns of sixteen abreast up the center of the Hall, receiving a generous applause followed immediately by a waltz and three encores; with hall lights turned out and a powerful spot light behind a revolving wheel with its many colored sections turned on from the stage, known as Moon Light Waltz, showing the entire ball room one mass of moving humanity; a sight that will linger in the minds of many 'till they see as spectacular a dance again.

The March was directed in a masterly manner by Daniel J. MacIsaac, who was in full dress, buttoned patent leather shoes and white kid gloves; who stands a good six feet tall and has the straight military appearance that only his long service and training on the New York City Police Dept. could give; now retired pensioner. This Society was the outcome of a gathering on the well known three decker power boat VENIDA last spring, which was graced by the presence of his Reverence Bishop Alexander MacDonald, who unexpectedly arrived in the city on his way to Rome, and honored his Country Folks by his presence, to their delight, where he heard the old famaliar tunes played on the bag pipes by the famous player, Malcolm Morrison, who played for Queen Victoria a number of years.

The first annual ball proved such a success that the Society has already engaged the same Hall for their 1924 affair, which will be held on election eve, first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. The Society meets twice a month in Holleywood Hall, 41 West 124th St., busines meeting on the second Thursday of the month and Social Night the fourth Thursday. Free dancing for the Members and their friends which is largely attended and fills a long felt want by bringing about a meeting of a great many Canadians who have never met before, who were scattered throughout the great City and found it hard to meet Canadian friends. Any new arrivals in the city who will attend any of these Socials will be made welcome and made to feel at home by the Officers and Members of the Society.—An Observer.

To All Who Ask

This new way to prettier teeth

A delightful test

This offers you a new way to clean teeth. A way which millions now employ. Leading dentists of some 50 nations are advising it today.

Wherever you look you see the results in whiter, cleaner teeth. Now learn what they mean to you.

Film ruins teeth

Teeth are clouded by a film—that viscous film you feel. Under old-way brushing, much of it clings and stays. It becomes discolored, forms dingy coats, and hides the beauty of the teeth.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Under old methods, these film-caused troubles became alarming in extent.

Modern science has found ways to combat them. One way disintegrates the film, one removes it without harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods effective. A new-type tooth paste has been created to apply them daily. The name is Pepsodent.

To homes the world over that tooth paste is bringing a new dental era.

New protections

Pepsodent also multiplies the tooth-protecting agents in saliva. One is the alkalinity, one the factor which digests starch deposits.

These combined results will be a revelation to you. Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth become whiter as the film-coats disappear.

Don't go longer without knowing what these things mean to you and yours. Cut out coupon now.

Protect the Enamel

Pepsodent disintegrates the film, then removes it with an agent far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

Eye Sight and Production Costs

Defective Vision amongst employees, is responsible for a serious increase in Production Costs.

A blinded machinist would be a drug on the market; no employer would want him, and yet there are thousands of PARTIALLY blind workers, whose productive efficiency is cut in half, by some correctable form of eye defect.

Industrialists are becoming alive to the serious loss thus incurred, and as a result, Eye Clinics are now conducted in many large shops and factories throughout the land.
