ADMIRALTY

er constant review the main factors in the strategical situation and progress of operations and make recommendations to the war cabinet on the general conduct of the war."

In addition to guiding the efforts of the admiralty, war and air ministries —the admiralty directly and the others through his new chairmanship—he will also have jurisdiction over the work of the ministry of supply, as the minister, Leslie Burgin, will be a member of the service ministers' committee.

Serving also in this group will be Oliver Stanley, the war secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, the new air secretary, their chiefs of staff and Mr. Churchill's first sea lord— Admiral Sir Dudley Pound.

It has been no secret that Mr. Churchill has desired authority of some sort over the other services since the start of the war. He is believed to have felt that the Gallipoli landing during the last war might not have failed if he then had direction over the land forces as well as the fleet.

Other Changes

Outside the war cabinet, the change that attracted the most attention was the appointment of Mr. Hudson who, at 54 is called one of the brightest minds of the Conservative party, to replace Sir John Gilmour, who died Saturday, as minister of shipping.

W. S. Morrison, food minister and chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster, gave up both those positions to become postmaster general. It was a step down for the former agriculture minister.

Lord Woolton, the former Sir Frederick Marquis, wealthy merchant and insurance company director, took over the food ministry and Major George C. Tryon moved from the postmaster generalship to the chancellorship of the duchy of Lancaster.

Other changes follow:—

Geoffrey Shakespeare, former parliamentary under- secretary to the admiralty, took Mr. Hudson's place as secretary to the overseas trade department.

Sir Victor Warrender, financial secretary to the war office, went to the admiralty under-secretaryship.

Herwald Ramsbotham, first commissioner of Works, replaced Earl De La Warr as president of the board of education.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

PRESIDENTS ADDRESS

"The month of April may well be termed by the members of the Catholic Women's League, as the month of accomplishment, and beginnings Mrs Frank Murray told fellow C. W. L. members in her address. 'Accomplishment," she continued, because it places before us the record of the achievements of the past year; and beginnings, for now, we must begin study, and consider plans for the coming year's activities. The only way to attain a fair measure of success in our work, is to ever keep in mind, the inspiring ideals of the motto of the League, which embodies the outstanding characteristic of Christianity, the spirit of self sacrifice.

"The year past has been fraught with many events, which shall mark it indelibly on history's page.

As part of a National organization, our Sub-division is vigilant when an opportunity for exercising patriotism presents itself. Our Secretary will have on record, the outstanding event, when history was made on June 14th and we played our part in welcoming our Sovereigns. Confederation week, outstandingly historic, marked another occasion to willingly aid the city in helping to make the celebration a success. A committee of C. W. L. members took care of the distribution of costumes for the Pageant and parades, and checked off returns. The joy that was experienced during the summer months, by our people saw a swift and saddening termination with the declaration of war.

"The record of our work of registration and organization will be given in our annual report. We have now available a complete list of the registration for Red Cross work, of all our women, with the address, and qualifications of each. This service is offered, to be applied in whatever manner is most needed by the Red Cross.

War Work

"It is of great interest to our women, who have worked so well and faithfully along these lines, to learn that 375 knitted garments socks, sweaters, mitts etc., as well as 344 pieces of sewing, hospital gowns, pneumonia jackets, masks, surgeons caps, pads etc., have been made for the comfort of our gallant soldiers and sailors.

"As representing the C. W. L. in Charlottetown I have had the honor and privilege of an interview with Mrs. W. R. Campbell of Windsor National Convener of War Work, in Canada and President of the Ontario Red Cross, on the occasion of her visit to Charlottetown. She paid tribute to the whole-hearted co-operation of the C.W.L. throughout the Dominion, and she has asked me to convey her appreciation to our women for the splendid work that they are doing for the Red Cross.

"It is at a time, such as the present, when the horizon is darkened with the grim shadow of war, that the value of organizations is realized, and the necessity of consolidated effort is foreseen. If we are to combat the direct challenge to Christianity which the present war carries. In an effort to support and put into effect, the resolution submitted to the National Convention last June, 'The Reconstruction of the Christian Family," our members have pledged themselves to observe a monthly Communion Sunday, and to encourage and revivify the beautiful custom of family prayer in unison, which the whole of modern life threatens to displace and disrupt. Let us, as individual members of society, exercise to the utmost, the inborn faculties of doing good in the life of the home and family, if we would fulfill our mission in the cause of Christianty and democracy.

Faith, Beacon of Hope

"Our faith in the ultimate victory for right, may at times be sorely tried, but it still remains our beacon of hope, which ever 'springs eternal in the human heart.' Our prayer of Faith and Hope shall ever be directed that peace may soon return to our saddened and war-torn world.

Meanwhere we shall safeguard the home front in a continuance of our duties as loyal citizens, doing our part in assisting all educational and welfare work. You will realize what our Sub-division has done in bringing happiness to others, when you hear the report of the work done by the Committee on Social Service. To belong to one of our numerous Study Clubs is to appreciate this splendid means of adult education, while the value of the Handicraft workers as an asset to the Red Cross is not overestimated.

"When you entrusted me with the office of President of this sub-division, I accepted the trust realizing the responsibilities entailed, but ever keeping in mind, and drawing inspiration from our beautiful motto 'For God and Canada' which embraces the highest and noblest form of patriotism. There is ample room for work and for active service in the wide scope of endeavors covered by our organization, and the reports of conveners will be concrete proof that our sub-division is alive to its responsibilities, and is advancing steadily. I appreciate the opportunity given me to work and serve as your President for the past two years, and in thanking every loyal member for the courtesy and co-operation so faithfully accorded me, I would ask that you extend to the incoming President, the same loyalty.

"To His Excellency our Bishop the appreciation and loyalty of our Sub-division is gratefully offered, and to our Chaplain, Rev. Father Keefe gratitude is extended for his interest in our work and his wise counsel and guidance. Let our every endeavor be in keeping with the spirit embodied in our 'Motto,' and thus attain the perfection of our ideals, remembering that:

"There is a destiny that makes each and every one as members of one great family. No one can walk through life, alone. We reach out for the comfort and support of friends and let us not forget that 'all that we put into the lives of others, comes back into our own,'" Mrs. Murray concluded.

Sourdough Takes Up Old N. S. Romance

WEST CHEZZETCOOK, N. S. April 1—(CP)—A Nova Scotian who turned sourdough a quarter century ago is back in his native Halifax County village to take up an old romance where he left off 25 years ago.

Fred Roma, a former iron-worker, left for the West shortly after the Halifax disaster of 1917. He worked in the grain lands of the Prairie Provinces and then went to the Yukon to try his luck at panning gold. All the time he kept up his correspondence with Rose Bonang whom he "used to go with."

When he put his pick and pan away his luck changed for the better. Now he is a properous hotel-house operator in Dawson City and he intends to marry the sweetheart of his youth. Both are in their late forties.

No date has been set for the wedding but Roma intends to stay here for several weeks to catch up on his courting. Then he hopes to return to Dawson City to dispose of his hot-house interests because the northland "is not such a good place for a wife."

U. S. Holds Manoeuvres

SAN PEDRO Calif., April 1 — (AP) —The United States has a seven weeks' "war" on its hands today— that is, as much of war conditions as it is possible to simulate in time of peace.

The grand manoeuvre of 1940 in the Pacific got under way at midnight last night. Dawn found some of the 100 fighting ships that go into the first phase at sea. All of them will be under way by tomorrow.

Charles Edison, secretary of the navy is aboard the dreadnaught Pennsylvania, flagship of the fleet, tonight. He goes out to see what his ships can do under the most realistic war conditions the fleet has faced in peacetime. Whether the dreadnaughts go out under cover of darkness tonight or await the dawn is a naval secret.

The three naval bases involved in the departure of fighting units are San Pedro, San Diego and Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

Dollar Makes Slight Gain As Pound Slips

NEW YORK, April 3—(CP)—The pound sterling faltered today after three days of rising prices in relation to the United States dollar in the foreign exchange market.

Sterling closed 1 1-4 cents down at $3.56 1-2. The smallness of the decline taken in connection with the recent improvement led many traders to believe the British unit might have reached a new "normal" balance.

The Canadian dollar broke away from the trend of sterling to close 1-8 higher at a discount of 17 7-8 per cent.
