This office is centrally located, has good light, and has a fire proof vault. Every attention is given each shipment. An individual record is kept of each skin. It will pay the fur farmers to co-operate with the Fur Sales Board. The phone number is 25.

THE POULTRY MARKET—Mr. W. W. Paynter, of North Rustico, was in the City Saturday. Mr. Paynter has been purchasing poultry for some time past for Peter McNutt & Son, Malpeque, and in many cases has had some exceptionally fine samples. One lot comprising 12 chickens purchased from Mr. George R. McNeill of Cavendish, weighed 69 pounds for which he received 24 cents per pound. Mrs. Robert McKenzie of the same place sold Mr. Paynter eight geese, for which she received a check for over $25. This speaks well for poultry prices and output in this province. Mr. Paynter has already handled over three tons of poultry so far this season.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC.—The Christmas music at the Baptist Church yesterday was of the high order of excellence that characterizes the work of this fine choir. At the morning service the anthem "O little Town of Bethlehem" was the leading feature. Miss Alma Yeo was the soloist. At the evening service there were rendered the anthems "O Night of Holy Memory" Miss Blanche Bovyer taking the solo and "Sing O Hearers" in which Mrs. C. R. Freeman was the solist. The quintette "Bethlehem" from Gounod, was beautifully rendered by Miss Currie, Mrs Henderson, Messrs. Quigley, Duffy and Dr. Yeo. Mrs. H. S. Henderson's beautiful solo "The New Born King" was given in fine voice. Two items of special attraction were the violin and organ numbers, in both of which Mr. M. Davison exhibited a wonderful skill and mastery of the violin. The choir and their organist, Prof. Tanton are to be congratulated on the balanced excellence of their work.
