evidence should induce every woman suffering from ent peculiar to her sex to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegepound and see if she can't be one of the 98. The Pinkham Medicine Co., Cobourg, Ontario.

Of course we know that our medicine does benefit the large majority of women who take it. But that only two out of 100 received no benefit is most astonishing.

It only goes to prove, however, that a medicine specialized for certain definite ailments—not a cure all—one that is made by the most scientific process; not from drugs, but from a combination of nature's roots and herbs, can and does do more good than hastily prepared prescriptions.

You see, we have been making, improving and refining this medicine for over 50 years until it is so perfect and so well adapted to women's needs that it actually has the virtue to benefit 98 out of every 100 women who take it.

Its reliability and recognized efficiency has gained for it a sale in almost every country in the world—leading all others.

MUST TAKE LONGER REST.—It is learned with genuine regret that George C. Taylor's health is not improving as rapidly as was anticipated. In his message to his congregation as set forth in the Sabbath Day Bulletin Mr. Taylor wrote: "I had fully expected to have been able to resume my ministry among you today, with a strong hope of overtaking, in some measure, the more important lines of our Church work which have necessarily been held up owing to my illness. It is with deepest regret, therefore, that I have to announce my enforced absence for yet a longer time, from the actual work of the Church. The brethren of Presbytery have loyally come forward to assist us in our time of need and with the concurrence of Session have arranged for pulpit supply until I am able to take up my work once more." It is generally hoped that before long Mr. Taylor may be fully restored to his wonted health and vigor and able to again take up his responsible duties in Zion Church and this community. Since his return from the war Mr. Taylor has not enjoyed a real rest or holiday, but has been giving himself to his work with all that is in him. No doubt complete rest will soon bring back his usual energy.

SERVICE OF SONG.—The Baptist Church was thronged Sunday evening and many turned away at the musical service held at 7 o'clock. The service, which was unique, consisted of the "Story of the Prodigal Son," told in song, and was the first time a service of this nature, which consisted of thirteen numbers, was held in the city. The musical arrangement was by Prof. Hiram Ball, organist and musical director, who had his excellent choir under perfect control, the solos, duets and choruses, mostly all old familiar tunes, being rendered with much feeling and expression. Interspersed between the musical numbers were Scripture readings, the large congregation sat enthralled throughout. After the service many complimentary remarks were heard, evincing the fact that the efforts of Prof. Ball are being appreciated. In a service of this nature, where all the numbers were so admirably rendered, it is perhaps unfair to particularize, but the duet "Drifting" by Miss Bovyer and Mr. Quigley; "Where is My Wandering Boy," Mr. Dingwell; "Wandering Child O Come Home"; Male Quartette, "Lord, I'm Coming Home," Mrs. Leigh Warren, "Home, Sweet Home," Mrs. H. S. Henderson and "Sweeter as the Years Go By," Mrs. Henderson and Mr. Dingwell were exceptionally well rendered as was also a solo by Miss Hattie Tarbush. The service throughout was closely followed by the large congregation. This inspiring service of song was put on at the suggestion of Rev. Mr. Eaton, who must feel highly gratified at the admirable manner in which the programme was carried out.

::Cause of Asthma. No one can say with certainty exactly what causes the establishing of asthmatic conditions. Dust from the street, from flowers, from grain and various other irritants may set up a trouble impossible to irradicate except through a sure preparation such as Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. Uncertainty may exist as to cause, but there can be no uncertainty regarding a remedy which has freed a generation of asthmatic victims from this scourge of the bronchial tubes. It is sold everywhere.

TREASURES FROM THE SUN TEMPLE

Relics from the great Maya semi-civilization which flourished in Central America in the first century of the present era, comprising the Maudslay collection of plaster casts and originals have just been shown to the public at the British Museum in London.

The collection, which occupies one of the Asiatic saloons, consists in the main of plaster casts, of monumental columns and symbolic figures, and of base relief decorations from the walls of the Maya Temples in Guatemala.

The most striking object to be seen on entering the room is the plaster cast of a monolithic animal found at Quirigua. The estimated weight of the orginal block of volcanic stone from which it was fashioned is more than three tons. It represents the Earth Monster holding in its gaping jaws the Sun God, while at the opposite side the monster's second head is carved. The whole of this great mass is overlaid with other ornamentation so complex as to confuse somewhat the original design.

The most beautiful example of Maya art is contained in the triple slab which formed the principal ornament in the Temple of the Sun at Palenque. It consists of a shield supported on either side by two figures carved in profile in bas relief.

The grasp of the principal of portraiture in profil shown in this exhibit is very remarkable and is a great advance on anything produced in this way by the Egyptians, who never mastered, as the Maya have done, the art of portraying a shoulder or an eye in profile.

When it is realized that the whole of this work was carried out by people who knew no other method of working in stone than with stone implements, the fine quality of much of the work is the more to be wondered at.

A sidelight on the difficulties with which Mr. Maudslay had to contend in this densely forested country is given by the records of a United States party who visited the scenes of his previous successes. This party, although provided with the maps and plans that had been prepared on the spot by Mr. Maudslay, found the greatest difficulty in refinding it, and though only 18 months had elapsed since all the ground in the vicinity of the temples had been cleared of wood, they found it necessary to proceed from one temple to another a distance of a few hundred yards, by means of compass bearings.

Lack Of Appetite

When Due to Indigestion, Acid Sour, Bloated Stomach, is Restored By a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet After Meals

When there is indigestion and the stomach does not seem to relish food it is a great mistake to starve or to use stimulants to force appetite. The best way is to woo the stomach back to health by giving it the help it needs, the alkaline effect that arrests acidity, prevents gasiness, belching, sour risings, flatulence, pressure that seems to crowd the heart and such distresses due to indigestion. Chew one or two of the large, white tablets after eating, no water needed, and the stomach settles down to restful indigestion, you feel eased and comfortable and you get the good of food. You now tackle pie, cheese, pickles, sausage or anything you like without fear as you have the means to prevent the distresses arising from indigestion. Get a 60 cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets today of any druggist.

MARRIED MANY MEN TO FEED THEM POISON

CHICAGO, March 13.—Stoically and with no show of emotion, Mrs. Tillie Kliment and Mrs. Nellie Sturmer-Koulik, alleged "female Bluebeards," sat in the court room today, as efforts were made to secure a jury to try them on a charge of having murdered a number of persons by poison. The specific case upon which they are to be tried this time is the murder of Frank Kupczyk, third husband of Mrs. Kliment, in whose stomach large quantities of arsenic were found.

Trial on numerous similar charges will depend upon the outcome of the first case. The State is asking the death penalty for both women.

The State charges that the women married a number of men, all of whom were carrying life insurance, and then poisoned them. It is charged against Mrs. Koulik that she poisoned seven-months-old twin girls because their crying annoyed her. The bodies of several men and the twins have been exhumed and poison was found in every case.

VIGOROUS VITAMINES

"Have you any fresh vitamines?" asked the young bride.

"Yes, mum," said the veracious dealer. "We've some that was caught on the coast yesterday."

"A pound, please."

She got shrimps.

Syrup Pepsin Loved By Hosts of Babies

Half a teaspoonful will make a fretful youngster happy and playful

THE mother has her choice of many remedies for her baby's minor ills, but she should be careful which remedy she selects lest she do the child harm. What might be safe for herself may do injury to an infant. You will find that if the little one cries and doesn't want to play that its bowels are constipated. First look carefully to the diet and give the child one-half teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin. You will then see results in a few hours. You will not have to force it on babies or children: they actually ask for it, it is so pleasant-tasting and free from griping.

Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is a compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with agreeable aromatics. The ingredients are stated on the package. It is a mild, gentle vegetable laxative that everyone finds effective and pleasant. It is better for you and yours than purgatives, coal-tar drugs, or salt waters and powders, which may concentrate the blood and dry up the skin; or mercurial calomel, which may salivate and loosen the teeth.

Use a safe laxative like Syrup Pepsin, and especially for the children, for invalids, growing girls, nursing mothers, elderly people, and persons recently operated upon who need bowel action with the least strain. Mrs. H. Lefever of Medicine Hat, Alberta, always gives her little girl Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, and Mrs. May Stephen Sharpe of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., is never without it in her home. Your druggist will supply you, and it costs only a cent a dose. Try it in constipation, colic, biliousness, flatulency, headaches, and to break up fevers and colds.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try my Laxative Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 23 Caldwell Building, Toronto, Ont. Do it now!

underpriced printing is a hazardous practice. It has a skimp in it somewhere—it's not "all wool." Argue as you please, the advantage can hardly be in the paper, the ink, or the labour. These all figure according to known values. So it must be in the character of the workmanship; therefore, is it not best to be sure?

Price here is a matter of understanding and appreciation—your dollar buys full value.

The quality of the job and the satisfaction resulting from work well done continue to linger after the price is long forgotten.

Cheap printing failing of purpose must be expensive; thus not economical. Bargaining and price comparison is an old-world device and decidedly not a counterpart of "doing best what many do well."
