A VERY pretty but quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. Geo. Seller, Hillsboro street at 6 o'clock yesterday evening, when Miss Louisa Seller was united in marriage to Mr. Robert Frizzle, of Cornwall. Rev. J. W. McConnell pastor of Grace Church performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Selena Seller, Charlottetown while Mr. Geo. McCallum of Cornwall, supported the groom. The bride's popularity was attested by the large number of beautiful presents, among which was a valuable marble clock from her co-workers.

INSURANCE NOTES. Recent decisions of the Courts have made it plain that where fire occurs and the premium is unpaid, the Company is not liable, notwithstanding that a policy or receipt has been issued.

Also that where combustible matter is stored in excess of the permission given in the policy, the Company is not liable; but if the storage of such is in excess of of what is allowed by City bye-laws, the City may be held liable to the losers in consequence thereof, as the City authorities' duty is to see that their bye-laws are enforced.

These are matters affecting policy-holders and City officials which should be attended to. Large quantities of oil are stored in Charlottetown contrary to the law, and some day the City may be called on to pay heavily for damages in in consequence.

TAXPAYER.

DAVID GARRICK.—It may not be Mr D'Oize's good fortune to reap adequate financial return from this visit but of this he may rest assured we shall not forget the merit of the performances given nor shall we be slow on another occasion to show how we appreciate his courteous act in closing the doors of the theatre Tuesday evening. We are all smarting under a loss irreparable and unique in any nation's history. The sympathy shown by the company will on a future visit merit our gratitude and the excellen presentations now given will live in our memories and reap the reward of standard drama presented by clever performers. "David Garrick" was excellently given last night. The title role received a forceful but not overdone interpretation at Mr. D'Oize's hands. The support was capable. Miss Erle had a part with emotional opportunities and was equal to them all. The more we see of her the more she gains on us. Sydney Grundy's beautiful one act play "In Honour Bound" is a gem and special notice is due Mr. Leland Webb, Mr. J. Harry Proctor and Miss Thompson for their clever handling of the parts assigned them. The performers of the Edouard D'Oize Company are certainly above the average.
