the ordinance branch of the Company.

Mrs. Gillespie had been 38 years with the Royal Arms Factory at Enfield, England, where Bren guns are now being made, Major Hahn said. He had studied production of the gun in Czechoslovakia and was a member of the British War Office committee which selected the Bren gun for use by the British Army. During the Great War he had been loaned to the United States to assist American factories in getting into production on machine guns and rifles.

started, Captain Steincke radioed to The Associated Press: "Fire under control." But it was 5 1-2 hours more before it was completely out.

Miss Sarah Elizabeth Pepper, 24, daughter of a Philadelphia attorney, gave this description of the scene in cabin class in a radio interview:

"Our first reaction was that we didn't think there was anything very serious because all the officers and stewards on board acted as though it weren't serious.

"We thought: Oh, well, it is just a small fire in the hold and they will take care of it, and that is exactly what happened.

"The first indication we had that anything was wrong came at dinner time when the ship suddenly stopped, and the lights were flashing for the captain which told us immediately that there was something serious the matter."

Fascist States

Sir Thomas Inskip, Minister for Defence Coordination, speaking before his constituents at Stubbington in Hampshire, warned that the settlement Prime Minister Chamberlain brought home from Munich had not secured peace for all time.

"Mr. Chamberlain's decision was a foundation, it was not an edifice," he said.

ASKS CO-OPERATION

Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, in a broadcast address to the United States that was part of the Herald-Tribune Forum, asked for American co-operation with Great Britain in establishing world peace.

He spoke of the crisis last month and of President Roosevelt's contribution in appeals for peace to Chancellor Hitler and President Benes of Czechoslovakia.

"Most deeply do we appreciate what the President and Cordell Hull (Secretary of State) have done and will, I am sure, continue to do in the cause of peace," he said.

There was bitter fighting on both Spanish and Chinese war fronts yesterday. The Japanese army, its occupation of Hankow and her sister cities completed, continued its march of conquest through China with renewed assault upon Teian which resulted in a break through along the north wall of that desperately defended town.

From Spain, Government dispatches said a counter-attack in the Aranjuez sector southeast of Madrid had resulted in the recapture of almost all positions lost to Insurgents two days ago in a surprise offensive.

In Memoriam

MR. JOHN KNEEBONE

There passed peacefully away on Sunday, July 31, 1938, at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Amos Gallant, Oyster Bed Bridge, Mr. John Kneebone, a very highly respected resident of this city at the age of 82 years. The deceased had been in failing health for the past three years and the end was not unexpected. He had a strong constitution, and never complained as his strength gradually grew weaker with the passing days and on the above mentioned date his spirit took its flight to Him who gave it. He was frequently visited by his pastor Rev. Fr. Peters who administered the last rites of the Holy Catholic Church.

The late Mr. Kneebone will be greatly missed by all who had the pleasure of knowing him. He was born in Fanning Brook, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Kneebone.

The deceased leaves to mourn his loss, his widow, six daughters and one son, namely, Ella, Mrs. Amos Gallant, Oyster Bed Bridge; Mamie, Mrs. George Peterson, City; Lena, wife of the late Mr. Jim Clark, Edmonton, Alta.; Lottie, Mrs. Ed Logan, Fort Augustus; Stella, Mrs. Henry McGuirk, Dromore; Beatrice, Mrs. Everett McNeill, City; and Thomas, Oyster Bed Bridge; also one brother Temple of Peake's Station, also 70 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

The funeral took place to St. Dunstan's Basilica where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Keefe, and service at the graveside by Rev. Fr. McMahon. The pall bearers were Messrs. John Connors, Mat McCourt, Frank Prunty, Dan McDonald, John Peterson, Philip Sinnott.

The following sent spiritual offerings:

Pillow, George, Mamie, Arthur, Winnie, Mass cards, Mr. and Mrs. Henry McGuirk, Mr and Mrs. Mat McCourt.

Letter of sympathy, Mrs. Lena Clark, Edmonton, Alta.

Dr. Bonnell Urges Unity Of Churches

The following is from the New York Times of Oct. 24:

The Rev. Dr. John Sutherland Bonnell urged support for the unity negotiations being carried on between the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States and the Presbyterian Church, in his sermon yesterday morning at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, Fifth Avenue and Fifty-fifth Street.

Dr. Bonnell stressed the rich heritage that these churches would bring into a united church. Emphasizing especially the traditions of worship of the Episcopal Church in its book of common prayer, he praised the Episcopal Churches for the fact that invariably their doors are open every day of the week for people who desire to pray.

"Unfortunately," said Dr. Bonnell, "this is not true of some other denominations. Some of these keep their churches carefully locked like a kind of a mummy-house for six days in the week and then open them twice on the seventh day. This practice appears to be a kind of 'visitors' day' for the people."

Dr. Bonnell declared for the present at least attention must be centered on the reunion of Protestant Churches. Conversatons between the Church of England and the Church of Rome at Malines, Belgium, demonstrated the utter futility of seeking reconciliation with Rome. The Episcopal Churches of the world are today turning to the distinctly Protestant Churches in the hope of obtaining a greater unity of Christendom, he said.

In explaining the importance of a united church to the world, Dr. Bonnell said:

"We are living today in a divided world. Barriers have been erected separating men from man, class barriers, racial antagonisms and barriers of nationality. The forces of greed, hate and fear let loose in the world are tearing the human family apart. Three ideologies have arisen calling themselves by different names, but having much in common—fascism, nazism and communism.

"All these isms claim that State is everything and the individual merely its servant. All three despise the Christian religion and if they could, would destroy it root and branch. All three employ force as a means of insuring their ends.

"Fundamentally they are divisive and can not unite mankind. They set nation against nation, race against race. Towering above the wrecks of time in a discordant and belligerent world stands Jesus Christ, the one personality great enough to claim the allegiance of all mankind, for He transcends the barriers of race and nationality and class.

"It is nothing short of tragic that in the presence of a broken and bleeding world the Church of Christ is itself divided, unable to speak that word that shall minister to the healing of the nations."

She Quit Vienna As Hitler Came

MONTREAL, Oct. 26—(CP)—Lili Darvas, blonde star of the Budapest and Vienna stage, believes that "art has no politics," but politics entered her life last March when Hitler seized Vienna.

"I am Hungarian," she said "but I played in Dr. Rheinhardt's theatre. Always I've played with Dr. Rheinhardt—Max Rheinhardt. Well, he was Jewish, and when Hitler came to Vienna I did not wait to see whether the Nazis liked me or not. I went to Switzerland."

Here to study English, Miss Darvas said she hoped to be able to act in English as well as in Hungarian and German. "I study the language. I study it hard. But ie is difficult to learn it when one is an adult. I do not fell the music of the tongue as yet. It does not come."

She is the wife of the dramatist Ferenc Molnar, who "just now is travelling between Paris and Switzerland, busily writing a book."

Presides At Opening

Sessions opened yesterday with Mrs. Reay, Provincial Commissioner explaining the difference between the Provincial Council and the Charlottetown Association.

Mrs. J. A. Lawson, president of the local association followed with a brief report. Mrs. Noel DeBlois, secretary treasurer gave the financial statement while Mrs. W. M. Rowe read the report of retiring commissioner Miss Mary McNutt.

"It is with great pleasure I report an increase in the number of Guiders, Guides and Brownies for this district," Miss McNutt said in her report. She then went on to mention outstanding events in local Guide history during the year.

A report of the nominating committee concluded the business of the local organization.

Provincial Council Session

The Provincial Council meeting was presided over by Mrs. J. Y. Reay, Commissioner. Miss Mona Wilson, secretary treasurer, read the financial statement while Miss Jessie Fullerton, Provincial Camp Adviser, told of camping in the province during the past year.

"Total number of campers was 196, an increase of 40 over last year," Miss Fullerton said in her report.

"Owing to the continuous increase in the number of camps and campers it was found necessary to have more camp advisers. Consequently three District Advisers were appointed, Mrs. Harry Cudmore in the District of Queens; Miss Dorothy Bentley in the Summerside District and Miss Fry, now Mrs. Patterson, in West Prince. All are fully qualified, being first class Guides, holders of campers licenses and have had a great deal of camping experience. Their services have already proved to be of great value," the report said.

"The aid of extension Guiding is to bring the blind, the crippled, the deaf and the mentally defective girl into closer touch with normal life by giving her more friends, new interests and ideals that lift her out of herself," Mrs. James E. Harris, secretary of extension work said in her review of the year. The report was read by Miss Mary Gordon.

A report of the Marshfield-Dunstaffnage Ranger Company was given by Mrs. Munn.

Miss Kathleen McMahon

"Guiding has had a sound growth along good lines in this province", Miss Kathleen McMahon, Dominion Field Secretary said in the course of a very interesting address which concluded the business sessions.

In the midst of these very trying times it was sometimes difficult to forsee what the child would be called on to face and that it should be taught, the speaker pointed out. However, if high ideals and health of mind and body were taught, coupled with practical instruction and training in how to do for themselves and the whole course of instruction aimed at developing a feeling of friendliness for other girls not only in Canada but throughout the world Guiding would have accomplished its aim, Miss McMahon thought, and have equipped girls to face life with confidence.

Guiding could open up new vistas for girls everywhere, the Dominion Secretary declared. She gave interesting descriptions of her visits to Guide companies all across the Dominion. In the course of her travels she met not only English and French Companies but Indian, Japanese, Chinese, Negro, Polish, Finnish, Russian, German and other nationalities which make up the new Canadian population of the Dominion.

A very hearty vote of thanks was tendered the speaker. The meeting also expressed its deep appreciation to Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. DeBlois for their kindness in providing Government House for the meeting.

Following the joint session afternoon tea was served.

THE PROVINCIAL COMMISSIONER REPORT

I beg to submit the 4th Annual Provincial Report of the Girl Guides Association for the year ending October, 1938.

Last year I reported a pleasing increase in our members and gave as our objective 1,000 Guides of all ranks. While we have not reached that number we are steadily climbing. Our present enrolment is 842 divided among 37 units, of this Prince County contributes over 200.

In Queens County we welcome the following new units—a Guide Company in the Baptist Church to be know as the 9th Charlottetown, and 2nd Ranger Company in Trinity Church, and the 1st East Royalty Company, a small but enthusiastic group on the Union Road. In Prince County the projected St. Eleanor's Company has become an accomplished fact.

Four new Brownie Packs have come into being, in Charlottetown a Pack in the Parish of the Most Holy Redeemer takes its number from the Company previously organized and becomes the 5th Charlottetown Pack. The 1st Sunbeam Brownies have made their appearance, these Brownies are sponsored by the Salvation Army which is a kindred Society of the Girl Guides Association. In Queens, Mt. Stewart, and in Prince County Summerside have started flourishing Packs. The former Ranger Patrol in Summerside has expanded into a full-fledged Company.

The 2nd Ranger Company in Trinity Church, Charlottetown, became necessary to fill the needs of older Guides from two Companies. There is a District Ranger Company under Miss Fullerton, but it is overcrowded and there is a long waiting list. There are still a number of older Guides from St. Peter's, St. Pauls, St. James' and the two Roman Catholic Companies who would like to become Rangers and I do make an appeal for Guiders for these girls of the important ages of 15 and over.

I recall rather pessimistic note in my last year's report about our lack of Division Commissioners. I am now happy to report that we are fully named. Miss Gillan, our old stand-by, still holds the fort in Queens and she is supported by Miss Carrie Holman in Prince County and Mrs. Allison MacLean in Kings. Miss Holman's name is known throughout the province and I do not need to tell you what an asset she is with her wonderful enthusiasm and experience. Mrs. Allison MacLean, the former Miss Jean Rodd, Supervisor of Women's Institutes, is also well known to many of you and we are fortunate indeed to be able to use her talents in Guiding. Mrs. Hart-Davies, our former Prince County Commissioner has been a most valuable helper in spite of a very young Brownie in her home.

Coming to Charlottetown — we are sorry indeed that Miss Mary McNutt feels she cannot act as District Commissioner any longer. However, she has promised to assist one of the Charlottetown Guide Companies whenever possible. Our best wishes are with her in her nursing career. Miss McNutt's place as District Commissioner will be taken by Mrs. William Rowe. Mrs. Rowe has had a vast experience in girls' work and we feel will be invaluable as a Commissioner.

You will hear the report on Post Guides,—the note on Handicraft for Posts is especially interesting and I hope in the future we may have a depot for the sale of their Handicraft in our own province. I would like to make a further appeal for someone to take over Lone Guides. I am sure Mrs. Harris would give very helpful hints.

Miss Fullerton will present the Provincial Camp Report.

This year in order to raise funds for organizing, the Provincial Council and Local Association jointly held a Telephone Bridge, the results of which you will hear in the financial statement. Our funds were further augmented by a most generous gift of $100.00 from Mrs. J. C. McLeod, a member of the Canadian Council and a former resident of this province. The cheque which arrived on New Year's Day was a most delightful surprise to all of us.

A Provincial Handicraft Competition was held this year. While the number of entries was small we were delighted to see some from Post Guides. This year the Bessborough Challenge Shield for nature work was won by the 1st Ellerslie Company with a very excellent Nature Log. The Shield was presented to Miss Roberta Hayes, Lieutenant of the Company, who accepted it on behalf of the Ellerslie Guides. The presentation was made at a supper given by the Local Association to the Guiders of Charlottetown and vicinity.

On Thinking Day, the joint birthday of the Chief Scout and Chief Guide, Guides and Brownies wore uniforms all day and Guiders and Local Association members attended a joint Scouters' and Guiders' dinner. It was unanimously decided to make this an annual celebration.

You have heard the report of the District of Charlottetown. Out of town units comprise — in Queens— the Marshfield-Dunstaffnage Rangers whose Captain, Mrs. Munn, will give her own report and the Melville Company, winners last year of the Bessborough Shield, who sent in a very good Nature Log this year also.

In Prince County a most successful Guiders' Club has been formed and well attended meetings were held at different centres, at which Guiders from Summerside, Kensington, Bedeque, Borden, Tyne Valley and Ellerslie were present. The Guides of Summerside put on an excellent concert in which they were assisted by Guides from the 3rd Charlottetown Company. At Christmas they sold Christmas wreaths and Transparencies and were able to buy hats and belts for the Company. In January, a flag presented by Miss Holman, was dedicated at an impressive Church Parade and Service.

Tyne Valley and Ellerslie have done good Badge work. Such badges as Farm-Worker and Horsewoman have been passed by these Guides. Mrs. Hart-Davies, with her characteristic energy has had classes in Folk Dancing for the Guides and they are ready to be examined for this Badge. To raise funds for Company equipment these two Companies held a very successful Ice Cream Social. Ellerslie, of course, has covered itself with glory by winning the Bessborough Shield.

The Alberton Guides had a booth at the Prince County Exhibition at which they managed a Fish Pond and sold candy and spruce cushions made by themselves. They realized -12.50 for uniforms.

In Kings, Montague which had not been functioning owing to lack of Guiders has now been reorganized under a new Captain and two new Lieutenants. The Montague Brownie Pack was sorry to lose both its Brown Owl and Tawny but we have two others to take their places. Montague therefore is starting its year's Guide activities with five brand-new Guiders. The Montague Local Association has been of great assistance in finding these Guiders and in getting our new Commissioner.

During the year Charlottetown had visits from Adjutant Bloss, representative of the Salvation Army Co-operating Society, and more recently from Miss Elsa Riepert, Secretary of the Canadian Girl Guides Association. Miss Bloss visited the new Sunbeam Brownie Pack and expressed a hope that a Company of Girl Guards would soon be formed.

Miss Riepert's visit was all too short. She spoke to the Guiders at a Guiders' Club meeting and she also addressed a number of Council and Local Association members at afternoon tea at the Canadian National Hotel. Miss Riepert also spoke of the all Canada Guide Camp next summer which is to be held at Rothesay, N. B. As this camp is to be so near our own province it is hoped that as many Guides as can be accommodated will attend.

Miss Riepert also made the welcome announcement that Miss McMahon, Dominion Field Secretary, would be able to give us two weeks' training and organizing. Our Guiders from all over the province will testify as to the value of these two weeks which have just come to an end. Charlottetown and Summerside were the two training centres and besides these Miss McMahon visited Alberton, Montague, Georgetown and Souris in the interests of Guiding. Souris was most enthusiastic and we expect soon to have a Guide Company started there. Two prospective Guiders in Charlottetown and one in Kensington, having attended the classes are now about to start a Guide Company and a Brownie Pack. The Guide Company is the second one in the Holy Redeemer Parish and will be known as the 10th Charlottetown Company. The Brownie Pack will be the 1st Kensington Pack.

Miss McMahon will be our guest speaker this afternoon and we are all looking forward with much pleasurable anticipation to what she has to say to us.

Before ending this report, I wish on behalf of the Provincial Council to thank His Honour the Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. DeBlois, for the interest they have always shown in Guiding and especially for allowing us the use of Government House for this meeting.

To the Press for their ready co-operation, to the Red Cross Society for allowing us the use of their rooms as Provincial Headquarters and for meetings, to the Legion for the use of their room, to Hon. Mr. Dennis, Minister of Agriculture for making it possible to hold Cooking Classes in the Prince of Wales College, and to all who in any way helped with Guiding, I wish to express my thanks.

Dominion Headquarters have been most helpful and I appreciate it deeply, also the loyalty and co-operation of all the Guiders of the province, of my fellow Commissioners and of the Provincial Council.

I have reserved a special paragraph for Miss Mona Wilson. Her title, Provincial Secretary, does not begin to describe what she does in Guiding for Prince Edward Island. In a word she is the mainspring which keeps the whole province going.

We are going through a tragically anxious time which is making our work a difficut undertaking. The Chief Scout was thinking of the young when he started Scouting and Guiding. What are we handing on to them and expecting them to make of the future? I think the answer comes from the Chief Guide herself when she says "Women of different shades of opinion can agree when the greater welfare of their children is concerned, and this peaceful spirit is something which we can cherish and some day it will blossom and bear good fruit for the future."

Respectfully Submitted

Royal Visit Plans Not Yet Finalized

OTTAWA, Oct. 26 — (CP) — Steps to arrange a meeting of Canada's privy councillors at which the King would preside during his visit to Canada next summer will be on the initiative of the Canadian Government, if they are taken. It was learned officially today that the Government has so far taken no steps in this regard.

The Canadian Press was incorrect in indicating in its reports of yesterday and today that a decision has been reached to hold such a meeting of privy councillors, it was made clear in official quarters today. Similarly, it is officially stated that no steps have been taken to have Their Majesties visit the Dionne Quintuplets at Callander, Ont.

On the other hand, official circles agree it is quite possible both proposals, which have been discussed here, will be acted upon.

Job To Match Groom's Kilt

LONDON, Oct. 26—(CP)—Prunella Stack, leader of England's 140,000 women in the League of Health and Beauty is, at the moment, faced with problems other than those of an executive.

Busy making preparations for her marriage to Lord David Douglas Hamilton, she has to consider the briddegroom's dress colors when she chooses those for her bridesmaids. Lord David is wearing a vivid red and yellow tartan kilt.

Chief among Miss Stack's presents will be an imitation, ermine coat made of cotton and silk. It is the gift of the bridegroom's mother who is the leader of a society organized to oppose the killing of animals for the use of their fur.

Employment In Canada Down From '37 Figure

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, Oct. 26—Employment in Canada was at a higher level on Oct. 1 than on Sept. 1 but was lower than on Oct. 1, 1937, according to figures released today by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Ont Oct. 1 this year 10,933 reporting firms employed 1,119,291 persons compared with 1,104,865 the previous month while on the corresponding date last year the payroll of 10,398 firms aggregated 1,197,647 workers.

Compared with Sept. 1 considerable improvement was shown in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec, Ontario and Saskatchewan. In Alberta there was no general change while firms in Prince Edward Island, Manitoba and British Columbia reported reduced activity. In comparison with Oct. 1, 1937, employment was at a lower level except in Prince Edward Island and the three Prairie Provinces.

Manufacturing was quieter at Oct. 1 than in the preceding month, the greatest losses in employment being those of a seasonal character in lumber and food canning. On the other hand textiles showed further pronounced improvement.

Among the non-manufacturing industries, logging, mining, transportation, trade and services reported considerable increased activity while communications and services showed seasonal curtailment.

Further moderate improvement was indicated in the Maritime Provinces where the 799 co-operating employers enlarged their payrolls from 82,979 persons at Sept. 1 to 83,810 at Oct. 1.

Among the non-manufacturing groups, logging afforded more employment and there were larger gains in mining, transportation, trade and construction. The 179 firms furnishing data for Oct. 1, 1937, had employed 97,378 persons.

Defends Action Of Governor

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—President Roosevelt's vigorous defence of Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan against charges of "treasonable" conduct in handling the 1937 sit-down strike crisis created new factors today for political speculation.

The President was not content with laying those charges to "disgruntled" Republicans and attacking the House of Representatives Committee on un-American activities headed by representative Martin Dies, Texas Democrat and critic of many administration policies. Mr. Roosevelt's formal statement described the Murphy-Fitzgerald governorship race in Michigan as "vitally important." And it associated the President directly with the procedure Murphy followed during the strike.

"I received almost daily reports on the situation from the Governor," the President's statement said.
