Plot to Assaniate Ex Premier Venizelos

(Canadian Press Despatch)

NEW YORK, Sept. 21—The Journal has the following from Rome today:—

Despatches received here from Saloniki state that the German military attache at Athens organized a conspiracy to assassinate former Premier Venizelos and that the attempt to end the pro-Ally statesman was actually made. Friends of the former Premier succeeded in frustrating the plot.

The advices from Saloniki also state that King Constantine's palace at Tatoi is now protected by lines of trenches occupied by the King's Palace Guard.

WANTS THE GUARDIAN.

"Please send the Guardian sure" is the interesting postscript to a soldier's letter sent by the family to this paper today. Many hundreds of soldiers have written similarly.. Better send The Guardian along to YOUR boy.

GUNNER DEBLOIS REMEMBERED.—DeBlois Brothers' office on Water street, on Friday evening, was the scene of a noteworthy function, when, prior to his departure on overseas service, the members of the office and warehouse staff waited on Gunner Noel H. DeBlois and presented him with an address and handsome pipe. The address was read by Mr. C. W. Hyndman. Mr. DeBlois, though quite taken by surprise, made a very feeling and touching reply in which he heartily thanked the donors for their kindness. Mr. DeBlois who has been in the wholesale and insurance business with his brother, Mr. George D. DeBlois, since May, 1915, has been very successful and his decision to give up an excellent position to enlist as a gunner in No. 5 Siege Battery shows he is made of the right stuff and possesses the true patriotic spirit. He takes with him the best wishes of a host of friends.

Special Features for this week only

JESSE L. LASKEY, Presents CLEO RIDGELY and WALLACE REID in a Five Part Western Drama, entitled

"The Love Mask"

The story of "The Love Mask" has to do with the adventures of a young woman who on the death of her parents through the mad rush for California gold in 1849, was forced to seek out a claim and eke out her own existence by panning gold. How she strikes a mother lode, only to have it taken away from her—how she disguises herself as "Silver Spurs"—a notorious bandit—and how the sheriff, in love with her, is torn betwixt conflicting emotions and how it is all finally straightened out, is told in one of the most novel stories the Lasky company has ever offered to the public.

"The Living Dead" CHAPTER TEN OF "The Iron Claw"

FROM THE FIRING LINE

The following is a letter received by Mrs. John J. Bruce, of Milltown Cross, from her brother Hugh S. MacDonald, who enlisted in British Columbia over two years ago along with Willie A. MacQueen, D. C. M., and a number of other Islanders, and went to France with the first Canadian contingent. He has been through many a big battle, and come out safe and sound so far.

France, Aug. 22nd, 1916.

My dear sister,—I received your letter last night, and as I have a little chance to write now, I will try and answer it. I was glad to know that you and your family are quite well again after your spell of the measles and whooping cough.

The weather is quite nice here now, just about right for fighting, and you may bet there is lots of it going on through here. The Germans are getting the worst of it all through, but there is an awful slaughter on both sides. I get the Guardian quite often, and it seems that there are quite a lot of our Island boys among the fallen. Our artillery and aeroplanes are doing great work now and they destroy lots of Fritzs'. I saw them bring a German plane down in flames the other day. I like to watch them fight up in the air, but I wouldn't like to be up in their place. However, I am not adapted for that kind of work, although I could run a wheelbarrow or mowing machine, or a rig of that kind. I think if I got on a machine that started to go up in the air it would be all off with me. I didn't get any mail from home for quite a while till last night, but got a bunch of letters when the mail came. I guess they have been delayed somewhere. Have you seen any of the McQueen boys lately? How are they getting along?

I see that the 105th are in England. I hope I'll have a chance to see Johnnie MacLeod when they come to France. This is about all I can write at present. Give my love to all the family. From your loving brother,

HUGHIE.

GOLF

Perfect weather and the course in splendid condition made things very pleasant for the record attendance of golfers at Belvidere on Saturday. Tea was served by Mrs. E. G. Coombs, and Mrs. W. E. Hyndman. There was great interest taken in the different matches all of which were closely contested. In the first half (18 holes) of the finals of the men's championship, A. W. Weeks finished two up on A. A. McLean. The last 18 holes will be played this afternoon. In the finals of the ladies' championship Miss Edith Rogers won from Mrs. Bagnall two up. The greatest interest, however, centered in ladies' amateur match, mixed doubles, handicap, match play for which a very handsome prize for the winner was presented by Percy Pope and a prize for the runner up by H. W. Longworth. The match resulted as follows:— Judge Stewart and Pauline Rogers won from W. A. O. Morson, and Miss Nora Dalton. Capt. Stewart, and Mrs. B. Rogers, won from Mr. Jepson and Miss Olga Warburton. W. K. Rogers and Mrs. Nash won from Percy Pope and Miss Dorothy Weeks. W. W. Clark and Miss Dutcher won from D. B. Stewart and Miss Zita Dalton. A. A. Alley and Miss Rosa Longworth won from J. M. Hunter and Miss Evelyn Haszard. G. W. Harrison and Miss Elaine Woodman won from H. W. Longworth and Miss Constance Warburton. The next match must be played off before Thursday next as the third match is to be played that day. The drawing for the second match is Judge Stewart and Pauline Rogers against D. B. Stewart and Miss Jean Aitken. W. W. Clark and Miss Dutcher vs. G. W. Harrison and Miss Woodman. W. K. Rogers and Mrs. Nash vs. A. A. Alley and Miss Longworth. H. W. Longworth and Mrs. Rogers vs. J. M. Hunter and Miss Elaine Aitken.

MRS. HAMILTON GAULT APPLYING FOR DIVORCE.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 22.—The Canada Gazette tomorrow will contain the required official notice of application by Mrs. Hamilton Gault, of Montreal, nee Marguerite Claire Stephens, for a divorce from her husband, Major Hamilton Gault, of the Princess Patricias, on the usual statutory grounds. It will be recalled that at the last session Major Gault sought to divorce his wife, but the petition was rejected by the Senate committee hearing the evidence. It was then intimated that, this year, Mrs. Gault will be reverse the proceedings and apply divorce from her husband. Formal petitions for divorce can be presented only when parliament is in session, but three months notice is called for before the case can be considered by the committee. This notice is now being given.

When You Hear The Willis— You Hear Canada's Best Piano

There are some Pianos which are made to sell. They look good on a stage or in a store, but their quality is all in their appearance.

In the Willis Piano you get an instrument that is made to stand up under the steady strain of continual use by each and evey member of the Canadian family. The Willis is a piano that will stand under the strain of the continuous strumming and fingering of the average student, and yet be ready to display the finest skill of the expert master musician.

The Willis is the Favorite of H. R. H. The Duke of Connaught and Strathern

His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught and Strathern could select the best Piano in the world today for his own private use. The Piano used by himself and family at Rideau Hall is the Willis.

The Piano selected by the Montreal Grand Opera Company was the Willis.

The Piano used in the large majority of the homes of culture and refinement throughout Canada is the Willis.

The most popular Piano for home use in Canada is the Willis Piano.

The men in the Willis factory have been employed for many years—each takes a pride in his work—they are master artisans—not merely laborers working for a weekly wage.

The fine skill put into every part of the Willis Piano by these workmen is the one big reason why the Willis is as good as it is today.

The tone of the Willis is delightful, rich, singing, sonorous and mellow; the touch is light, elastic and sympathetic: the action is beyond all fault, and the beautiful case makes it a decided improvement in the furnishing of any home.

See the Willis Piano today at our booth in the Exhibition Building.
