Gleanings Here And There

Mr. Reg. Dixon of North Tryon and Ham. Gamble of Albany have secured the contract for the road work on the section from Hampton to Trueman's Corner, Searletown. This will pass through Crapaud, Tryon, North Tryon and Albany to Searletown ,a distince of fourteen miles. Work will begin in a couple of weeks' time and pushed to completion. The men in charge may be counted on to do a first-class job.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jay of Borden were visitors to Summerside on Tuesday the twenty-seventh.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lang has returned to her home in North Tryon after spending the winter in Summerside with her sister, Mrs. Waite.

Mrs. Ralph C. Hutchison, of Harcourt, New Brunswick is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy of Borden. Her husband is employed by the C. N. R. and they may reside in Borden permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. John MacQuarrie of Moncton motored to the Island last Saturday and are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacQuarrie of Borden. They are always welcome visitors.

The new Protestant Hall at Borden is now completed. Messrs Finlay and Crane of Vernon River last week finished varnishing the interior. The douglas fir wood-work in the interior of the Hall looks well and the whole building presents a very pleasing appearance. Many visitors have said that it is one of the finest halls in the Province. It is sixty-five feet in length and thirty-in width. It is a wooden structure, one story in height, built upon a two-foot cement foundation. It has a pipeless furnace which was installed by Holman Co., of Summerside. Gasoline bracket lamps of strong candlepower give sufficient light at night and the building is well designed.

About fifteen feet from the platform, there is an incline in the floor which has an elevation of nearly two feet at the back so that those sitting near the rear of the building can easily see down toward the front. Comfortable seats have been placed which with the addition of some extra chairs would give a seating capacity of more than three hundred. There is a large well-built platform extending across the building the full width of thirty feet and about fifteen in depth. The hall is well lighted there being four double windows on each side and two on the end facing the street.

There is also an outside porch or entrance leading to the main building.

The trustees are to be complimented on the up-to-date hall which they have erected with the co-operation of the people.

The following are the trustees;—Capt. John Read, chairman; Wallie Field, Treasurer, Robert MacPherson, John MacLeod, Mr. Carruthers. Special opening services will be held on June 1st, when Rev. E. MacDougall will preach at 11 a.m. and Rev. Mr. Whiteman at 7.30 p. m. On June 8th, Rev. Edward Morris will preach at 11 a. m. and Rev. Mr. Fitzpatrick at 7.30 p.m. Special offerings for the building fund of the new hall which cost in the vicinity of $4,500.

Mr. Fred Waite and Dr. Bowness of Summerside were visitors to Cape Traverse on Saturday last.

Miss Louise McQuarrie, trained nurse from Providence R. I., arrived home on Saturday on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W .A. MacQuarrie, Hampton.

It is reported that Mr. Herbert Nelson, mechanic and auto repairer of Hampton is contemplating moving to the western states in the near future. Mr. Nelson is a first-class tradesman, one of the best in his line on the Island and his many friends hope he may not move away from the Province. He has a good garage and blacksmith trade.

Mr. Ready Thompson, merchant of Tryon, who died at his home on Friday, the twenty-third was buried on Sunday afternoon interment being at Westmoreland. Rev. Mr. Daggett Baptist minister officiated, assisted by Rev. Mr. Somers of the Methodist Church. Mr. Thompson was seventy-two years of age. He came to Tryon from Mill Valley where he had charge of the electric light plant for the town of Kensington.

Mr. Ernest Howatt has rented his store and will continue the business. Mr. Howatt was recently married to Miss Waugh of Kensington, Miss Waugh formerly lived in Lower Tryon.

Mr. I. Jay of Mount Stewart who was very badly burned from the explosion of gasoline was able to leave the P. E. I. Hospital on Monday. He had a close call and his many friends rejoice in his recovery.—T.

"It is absurd, however, to think that we intend by force of arms to alter the map of Europe, and in particular, the map of the Balkans. The peoples in whom national and social consciousness has awakened are now less ready to tolerate foreign oppression, and will themselves settle their fate.

Nine Drowned

seas but by persistent efforts the rescues were made. One man, W. Simpson, succumbed after being taken aboard the Ocean Eagle. The Mikado struck about two miles off Forchu at 12 o'clock Sunday night and was soon broken up. Navigating Captain William Saxby, two engineers and the cook were washed overboard soon after the ship struck. A. Hendry, after holding on to the rigging for several hours became insane and went down. Fishing Captain B. Ebenezersen was saved but is suffering severely from exposure. All of the survivors are being taken care of by the Maritime Fish Corporation here, which had chartered the craft. The bodies of the drowned men were taken ashore at Forchu and will be brought to Canso in the morning.

One man, name unknown, a ministerial student, from Digby, who was going as a passenger, was saved and landed at Forchu. The Milado left Canso Friday morning for England and after trawling for fish on the banks was making for Louisburg for water when the accident occurred. She was built in England in 1905, owned by Godwin and Sleight, was under charter to the Maritime Fish Corporation, was 235 tons gross, 130 feet long and regarded as one of the fastest trawlers out of England.

ISLAND HOME, MY ISLAND HOME

By Dr. James Henry McLaren

Tune "My Maryland!"

I'll sing thy praise on land and sea,
Island home! my Island home!
No place on earth so dear to me,
Island home! my Island home!
I love thy woods, thy dells and rills,
thy sacred soil that honor tills
With thought of thee my spirit thrills,
Island home! my Island home!

It matters not to where I sail,
Island home! my Island home!
Be this my pride from thee I hail,
Island home! my Island home!
Thy heroes numbered with the dead, who sleep afar 'neath poppies red,
No braver boys for right e're bled,
Island home! my Island home!

My love for thee shall never wane,
Island home! my Island home!
Though I may see thee ne'er again,
Island home! my Island home!
Oh, loved ones dear so kind and just, in right their might in God their trust,
Who slumber now in kindred dust,
Island home! my Island home!

Farewell you brave and kind and true,
Island home! my Island home!
My heart can never say adieu,
Island home! my Island home!
God keep his vigils over thee, thy sons in union strong and free,
And guard thee to eternity,
Island home! my Island home!

London Papers Heavily Fined

(British United Press)

LONDON, May 26—The London Evening Standard was yesterday fined £1,000, Daily Press £300, Manchester Guardian £300, with costs for contempt of court. The offence arises through these papers being too enterprising in following up the sensational tragedy at Eastbourn, involving the murder of Miss Emily Kaye, London stenograher and the subsequent arrest of Patrick Mahon a London businessman.

Challenge

We the Pioneers basketball team do accept the offer of Mr. Fred Kelly, Mgr. of the St. Pats, basketball team to play the best out of three games in the Prince of Wales College Hall. As we haven't lost any games this season, and as the St. Pats are champions of their league, it would be a good plan to make these games for the Provincial Championship, proceeds to help the boys for their Olympic expenses.
