CONCERNING BASKET BALL.

Some years ago when the maiden students at American colleges began to pine for athletics and muscle-developing games and pastimes—something that would stir their spirits as the foot-ball contests stirred and animated their brothers—one James Nasmyth invented the game of basket ball. His design, we are told, was to eliminate the roughness of foot-ball while preserving its less objectionable features, to enable the lion of ordinary foot-ball to roar gently as a sucking dove and so to adapt himself to the feminine temperament. Nasmyth succeeded so far as to produce a game which has since had extensive vogue in the women's colleges and high schools of the Republic.

Basket ball is described as a game resembling foot-ball, in which the object is to throw the ball into one of two baskets (the goals) placed at opposite ends of the field. It is played by any number of persons, five or nine on a side being preferred for championship games, upon a "field", out of doors or within, of any convenient size. It is thus easily adapted to all seasons and all weathers. Of course boys could play basket-ball as well as girls and do so, at times, but the praises of the game were sounded loud and long mainly because it furnished healthful, exhilarating and engaging exercise for girls in all sorts of weather.

Now comes the other side of the story. The gymnasium of the Cambridge Latin School for girls has been closed. The headmaster, Mr. Bradbury explains why this was done. He says:

"I have had some experience in Cambridge with basket-ball, and I find that it makes the girls rough, loud-voiced and bold.

"If the teachers can superintend the athletics and regulate them according to reason, I say also that I am in favor of a certain amount of athletics, but there is a big 'if' in the way.

"Basket-ball for girls, is rougher and more injurious than foot-ball for boys. One of the brightest girls in my school is now unable to attend school and her mother told me the other day the direct and sole cause of her illness was basket-ball. The girls knock each other down, push each other about, get their teeth bumped out of them, shout, growl, bite, in feeling and lose self-control. They seem less able to control themselves and keep within bounds than the boys.

"Last fall the different classes organized girls' basket-ball teams, and nothing I have known of in the school history has brought about such bitter feeling. The games were fierce. The result was that many parents complained, and at my appeal the committee voted to lock up the gymnasium entirely until such time as the City shall employ proper instructors or directors so we can control the exercise of the pupils."

So far basket-ball has not come into our Island pastimes, but there is danger that it may, and the above experiences are here set down on the principle that there is a ratio of 16 to 1 in favor of prevention. It is as good to silver when contrasted with cure. Probably tennis and golf possess most of the advantages as healthful sports, while free from the objectionable features of basket-ball.

It will be something new for Canada to ship iron to England, but it is now announced that a single English firm has contracted to take 150,000 tons of pig iron yearly from the Sydney works. The annual value of that quantity of "pig" at present prices is about three million dollars.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer estimates that the export duty of one shilling a ton on coal will produce £2,100,000. That is, he estimates that 42,000,000 tons of British coal will be exported notwithstanding the duty. In view of the possible exhaustion of the British coal supply within a century or two it might be a sound policy to check the exportation in some way even if no revenue were obtained from the operation.

That Old Pain Again.

It's an old enemy. You thought you had shaken it off, but the winter winds and the variable spring weather find the weak spot, and the old pain is back again—perhaps even worse than before.

If you have severe pains in the joints and the muscles—pains aggravated by cold and damp, so that you find it difficult to walk, or your shoulders ache so that it is a torture to get into your clothing, it is RHEUMATISM. Do not neglect it or your joints may grow so stiff that you will be permanently crippled. Liniments and outward applications are of no use.

Rheumatism is a disease of the blood and must be treated through the blood. There is only one always reliable, permanent cure for Rheumatism, and that is

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

These pills have repeatedly cured the most severe cases of Rheumatism—cured even after doctors and other medicines had failed. They go direct to the cause of the trouble, drive it from the system and thus make permanent cures.

HERE IS THE PROOF.

Mr. Moise Laframboise, St. Scholastique, Que., says:—"During the years 1897 and 1898 I suffered very much from rheumatism. The disease settled in my knees, and I often endured the greatest agony in going about. I tried several kinds of medicine, but did not find relief. In the spring of 1899 I decided to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and purchased six boxes. Before these were all gone the disease had disappeared. As a sort of preventive I took a few boxes more the following autumn, with the result that I have not since felt an ache or pain. I naturally think there is no medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for rheumatism."

Mrs. A. Huscroft, Pittston, Ont., says:—"For several years I was very much afflicted with rheumatism, which at last became so bad that I was unable to move about or do any household work. I was treated by one of the best doctors in this locality, but the results were far from satisfactory. A neighbor who had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with benefit urged me to try them, and after using four boxes I found myself restored to good health and have not since had the slightest return of the trouble. As my experience occurred over two years ago, I think I may safely say the cure is permanent, and that other rheumatic sufferers will do well to try this medicine."

Pink colored pills in glass jars, or in any loose form, or in boxes that do not bear the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," are not Dr. Williams'.

The genuine are put up in packages resembling the engraving on the left, with wrapper printed in red.

Sold by all dealers in medicine or direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.

LATE MISS DODD'S WILL.

The last will of the late Miss Jane Dodd was presented for Probate before Judge Reddin yesterday, and Probate granted to Simon W. Crabbe, Esq., the sole Executor. The will was drawn by Mr. William S. Stewart on the fifteenth of December last and by its terms, the Testatrix' grand niece, Miss Hortense Phillips, receives one thousand dollars, her two grand nephews, George Montague Phillips and Wendell Percy Phillips, five hundred dollars each. To Miss Dodd's sister, Mrs. David Small, there is a bequest of $2,000, and to her two children, William Dodd Small and Jean Small two thousand dollars each. Mr. David Small receives a bequest of $500. The poor fund in connection with the First Methodist Church is to receive $300, and a like sum is bequeathed to the Prince Edward Island Hospital. The rest, residue and remainder of the personal estate of the Testatrix and all her real estate are given to her nephew, Simon W. Crabbe and he is appointed sole executor.
